Here come life lines of national defense

Additional telephone lines speed defense everywhere.

Army camps must have plenty of telephone lines.

On ship and shore the Navy relies on telephone lines.

Industry requires, and obtains, more telephone lines.

Telephone lines are life lines. They carry the communications so vital to our expanding defense program.

The photograph shows wires being made into a telephone cable. Such cable—containing billions of feet of this wire—is being rushed by Western Electric to meet the urgent telephone needs of the armed forces and of industry.

So too, in vastly increased quantities, are being sped telephones and switchboards—and radio apparatus for the air forces and the Signal Corps.

The efficiency of Bell Telephone service is more than ever essential to government and business, and now as always Western Electric can be counted on to supply the life lines.

ENGINEERING EXPANDS Meets New Responsibilities

Defense training undertaken last fall by the College of Engineering under sponsorship of the US Office of Education has been expanded this year to fifty-seven courses giving instruction to some 3,000 men engaged in defense industries or who wish to train themselves for such work.

Former courses in engineering have been augmented with instruction in industrial chemistry, engineering physics, cost control, sanitary engineering, kinematics, fluid mechanics, industrial management, and other new courses. These are now organized as a defense training program in engineering, science, and management, directed by Professor Arthur S. Adams, Assistant Dean of Engineering, and with a staff especially assigned to this teaching.

Teach in Nine Centers

Courses opened October 13, to continue until February 6, 1942, meeting evenings at the College of Engineering in Ithaca, at the University of Buffalo, Auburn West High School, Binghamton North High School, Corning High School, Elmira Southside High School, Endicott High School, Geneva Lewis Street School, and Sidney High School. Instruction is all of college grade, designed for high school graduates and former college students, with some courses requiring experience in industry and others, special college preparation. Tuition is free, and many industries in this area recommend selected men to prepare for supervisory and management jobs. Through the summer, employees of 247 companies were among the 1520 students enrolled in eighteen courses given in Ithaca, Buffalo, Binghamton, Elmira, and Geneva.

To assist with the enlarged program this fall, two new instructors have been appointed, both assigned to the Buffalo training center. They are Robert E. Osborn, former head of the department of electrical engineering, Indiana Technical College, Fort Wayne, Ind.; and Arnold E. Kaufman, graduate of the University of Illinois in 1939 and since testing fuel and lubricating oils in the research laboratory of the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

Train Navy Officers

A second detail of US Naval Reserve ensigns is now at the University taking a special course in Diesel engines to fit them as engineer officers on Naval patrol vessels, and the Navy Department will assign additional groups this year. This instruction is under direction of Professor A. C. Davis '14, Experimental Engineering. New member of the instructing staff is H. A. Marcoux, graduate of the US Naval Academy in 1934 and a retired lieutenant, junior grade, of the Naval Air Corps. Recently he has been a research lubrication engineer with a large oil company.

During the summer, a sixth Diesel engine was installed in the laboratories of the College of Engineering for this training of Naval Reserve officers. It is a nine-and-a-half-ton, 140-horsepower engine which powered a tug plying between New York City and Norfolk, Va.

Make New Appointments

Along with its special defense training courses, enrollment in regular undergraduate and graduate courses of the College of Engineering is now more than 1550, an increase of approximately 14 per cent from last year. This increase in students together with inroads made upon the teaching staff for national defense work, have made it necessary to recall to active service Professor Will M. Sawdon, MME '08, Experimental Engineering, who retired last June with emeritus rank, and brought appointment of three new assistant professors and nine instructors in the College of Engineering.

George H. Lee, PhD '40, who taught last year at Carnegie Institute of Technology, and William T. Thompson of Seattle, Wash., have joined the Department of Mechanics in the School of Mechanical Engineering. Howard M. Giff, a graduate of Iowa State College in 1932, becomes assistant professor of Mechanics and Concrete Structures in the School of Civil Engineering. Alexander B. Credle '30 is one of two new instructors in Electrical Engineering. Six have been appointed in Mechanical Engineering and one in Civil Engineering.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATES ELECT

Sponsors of Cornell Library Associates, organized to aid the University Library, have elected Professor Morris G. Bishop '14, Romance Languages, the first president. Nellis M. Crouse, PhD '24, of Ithaca is secretary. Walter J. Mueller, PhD '38, German, is treasurer.

Since announcement of the new organization last summer, several substantial gifts have been received for the Library, and a number of alumni and members of the Faculty have enrolled.

Cornellians who wish to assist the Library to acquire needed books and special collections are being invited to join the Library Associates. Minimum dues of five dollars a year will be used to purchase books, and the organization will also serve as a clearing house for locating desirable additions to the Library, both for possible purchase and as gifts or loans.

SENIOR SOCIETIES ELECT Sixteen '42 Men

Sphinx Head and Quill and Dagger, Senior honor societies, completed their chapters for this year by each electing eight additional members of the Class of '42. The new members, among whom are four sons of Cornellians, follow:

Sphinx Head

George B. Banister, Port Chester; Arts; 150-pound crew commodore; Phi Kappa Psi. T. Crouse Barnum, son of Jerome D. Barnum '12, Syracuse; Arts; Musical Clubs manager; Chi Psi.

Mario Cuniberti, California, Md.; Mechanical Engineering; rowing; Beta Theta Pi.

Albert Schmid, Peekskill; Hotel Administration; track; Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Harry L. Tredennick, Johnstown, Pa.; Electrical Engineering; football; basketball; Psi Upsilon.

J. Wilbur Wannop, Kingston; Hotel Administration; hockey captain; Phi Kappa Psi.

William B. Whiting, Radnor, Pa.; Administrative Engineering; soccer manager; Delta Kappa Epsilon.

Richard S. Young, son of Wallace S. Young '16 and Dorothy Maier '17, Waverly; Arts; swimming manager, Phi Beta Kappa; Phi Sigma Kappa.

Quill and Dagger

Alfred M. Entenman, Crestwood, N. J.; Civil Engineering; 150-pound rowing, Pyramid president; Alpha Delta Phi.

Richard E. Forb, Chatham, N. J.; Engineering; soccer co-captain; Sigma Phi.

William D. Grams, Jr., Syracuse; Mechanical Engineering; Interfraternity Council president; Sigma Chi.

Arthur E. Hausner, son of Harold S. Hausner '20, Mohawk; Agriculture; Student Agencies president.

Wilbur F. Herbert, son of Frederick D. Herbert '97, Montclair, N. J.; Mechanical Engineering; 150-pound football; Alpha Delta Phi.

John B. Kernochen, Middletown; Hotel Administration; Willard Straight Hall board of managers; Sigma Nu.

Jay C. Miller, Jr., Bethlehem, Pa.; Administrative Engineering; swimming, Kappa Tau Chi president; Delta Phi.

Edmund Van Order, Jr., Ithaca; Civil Engineering; football.

RESTAURATEURS MEET

Joseph P. Binns '28, manager of the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, Ill., spoke to members of the National Restaurant Association on "Coordination of Food Services" at their meeting October 6-10 in Chicago. At the same meetings, Thomas A. McGoe, '31, director of dining rooms at Columbia University, was chairman of the university and college dining room operators' section. Frank J. Wiffler '15, executive director of the Association, has recently been elected a director of the American Trade Association Executives. Mrs. Anna F. Grace '10, University Manager of Residential Halls, and Professor Howard B. Meek, Hotel Administration, attended the Association meetings.

FROM FAR BELOW . . .
By Bob Bliss '30

The swing seems to be definitely away from techniques and scores as far as the Schoellkopf battleground is concerned this season. Local quarterbacks reported the opening of the season as featuring a small black spaniel who ran down the field for four touchdowns, after some cagey advancing from the 10 to the 5, going over in brisk spurts each time. Not much else. Some beefs about the weather being too hot for anything but tennis, and a little disunity about street construction in Ithaca. Seems bridges aren't turning up where they're supposed to be. Reminds us of when Conant Van Blarcom began his grand landscaping career at Ithaca. If you hadn't been back for a fortnight, you were apt to seek out the place where they used to open the keg Spring Day down in Willcox's woods, only to come smack bang up against a new blue stone wall bristling with conifers. Time marches, but on!

Glimmerings from the outlying territories and possessions seem to indicate that the homecoming efforts will make Yale and Dartmouth about 50-50 for an Ithaca doubleheader. It ought to be a good week in Tompkins County. Already Bob Causer down at the Ithaca Hotel is making curb reservations, and Emil Kohm will rent you space on his cutting tables where you used to have those svelte jobs tailored. No doubt Pinochle Wells's son will be turning them away from his joy emporium with his hackneyed sally, looking out through a crack in his crowded door: "Have you boys got reservations?" and when the inevitable "yes" is accompanied by your foot shoved in the crack, the standard comeback: "Well, then, get back on 'em!" It looks like Yale and Dartmouth, not Yale or.

SHORT SHOTS: Jansen Noyes '10 and a gang including John Collyer '17 in for lunch before the Series opener. . . . Bingo Wells '04 shepherding the boys at the Dutch Treat Table. . . . John Nell '33, major domo of the Fun Department, extolling the virtues of the Club's train to Baltimore for the Navy game. . . . Charlie Blair '97, starting his forty-eighth season of Cornell football, not counting the Ithaca High School years. . . . Walt Hearsley '30 and Emmet Murphy '22 down from Ithaca, selling something.

DISTINGUISHED STUDENT of the University this year is Count Charles Zanardi-Landi, former captain in the Royal Italian Navy and the father of Elissa Landi of stage and screen. He owns and operates a 125-acre truck and poultry farm near Kingston, is studying poultry flock management by mail through the Farm Study Course of the Agricultural Extension Service.

NOW IN MY TIME!
By Romeyn Berry

There is a table at the west end of the Willard Straight cafeteria to which repair each day at one o'clock a score of professors bearing as many metal trays. Whenever he can do it, which is too infrequently, your reporter joins this group for lunch and is always refreshed and amused by the talk that he hears.

There is a lightness of touch, a variety of topic, in the table talk of academic persons that is apt to be lacking in the conversation of business men during the refueling process. There is less dependence on the morning paper as a starting place, a much milder form of indignation over the shortcomings of government. Indeed, one frequently feels no sense of outrage at all—unless the talk should happen to turn to some detail of University policy.

The table talk at Willard Straight is apt to depend, of course, on who is carrying the ball at the moment. As you'd naturally expect, it is the recent instructor but lately risen to the academic priesthood who attempts vainly to elevate the conversation: the esoteric phases of the European situation, scholarly works published or on the fire! And it is the full professor, heavy with years and scholastic honors, who deftly thwarts the young by grimly holding her down to the Brooklyn Dodgers and the indelicate posture assumed by the center rush on the Syracuse football team.

It's a strangely persistent fallacy that makes the university teacher a person different in his human experiences from the man who earns his living in a more familiar manner. When your reporter came to college, not a few of the older Faculty were veterans of the Civil War. Hiram Corson had supped with Edgar Allen Poe and from the gallery of the Senate had reported the Webster-Hayne debate. Bobby Thurston, director of Sibley College, was said to have struck to the engines of a man-of-war through the battle of Mobile Bay while Farragut was damning the torpedoes without a thought to the probable results of a good torpedo to Bobby Thurston. Charles Mellen Tyler, before becoming Sage Professor of Christian Ethics, had served in order as lawyer, cavalry fighter, member of the Massachusetts General Court, and minister of the Gospel. And still another savant, who shall remain nameless, admitted in his more relaxed moments to having met his college bills by playing professional baseball in the summer vacations under the fictitious name of Sweeney.

Nor do I think the situation materially changed at the present time—certainly not among the older scholars. When the talk turns to the tactics of the current campaign in Russia, the speaker's comment now indicates pretty clearly that he derives his views not at all from the maxims of Napoleon, but almost entirely from personal observations in the Vosges under a full pack and a lot of nervous apprehension.

I reveal these matters in the hope of saving a valued subscriber from falling into a common Campus error. It's so pathetic when a bumptious alumnus returns to the Quadrangle and attempts to patronize an old teacher on the assumption that the latter's entire life has been lived behind the academic ivy. It's like finding out, after telling a strange young man how to pitch, that the stranger's name is Feller.

CLEVELAND TALKS FOOTBALL

Cornell Club of Cleveland, Ohio, devoted to football its first Thursday luncheon of the season, October 2. Meeting at the Mid-Day Club, members were enlightened about Cornell's prospects by Kirk Hershey '41, Varsity end last year, who had come from a week with the squad in Ithaca to join the Cleveland Rams, professional team. Tom Davies, new Coach at Western Reserve, explained this year's rule changes, with the title, "Collegiate Football Faces Disaster."

The Club plans to run special cars to Ithaca for the Yale game November 8. Arrangements are in charge of J. Bentley Forker '26.

BAILEY HALL CONCERTS

Sale of tickets for the 1941-42 University concert series again promises to tax the capacity of Bailey Hall, the Music Department says.

The Faculty committee on music has arranged six concerts for Bailey Hall, beginning with Gladys Swarthout, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, November 4. The National Symphony Orchestra, with Dr. Hans Kindler, conducting, will give a concert December 4, its second appearance in Ithaca, with Dr. Egon Petri, Music, the piano soloist in Beethoven's "Emperor Concerto." Dr. Petri, recently appointed pianist-in-residence at the University, will give the third concert, December 16. Fourth will be the Russian pianist, Arthur Rubinstein, making his first Ithaca appearance January 13. Return engagement of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra under Fabian Sevitsky, after their successful concert last winter, will be February 24. The series will be concluded with the Russian violinist, Nathan Milstein, March 17.

The music committee has announced also that Dr. Petri will play two concerts in Bailey Hall, November 25 and March 10, principally for students. Tickets will be offered first to students, and only later to members of the Faculty and others. A similar plan for a recital last winter proved extremely popular.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

By Chairman Roy B. Unger '43

Feeling that we should help the Freshmen adjust themselves to college life, the Student Council sponsored an "orientation program" from September 21 to 23 which the University made an official part of the registration days. The program, embracing both men and women students in all the Colleges, was the first of its kind attempted on the Cornell Campus.

Sunday evening, the night before Freshman registration, upwards of 1,000 men gathered in Barnes Hall for a CURW "Open House." The following evening, the entire Freshman Class, men and women, packed Bailey Hall for their Class Rally. President Day welcomed the group, and there were introductions by various student leaders and members of the University staff. Between talks, the hall rang as the Class of '45 tried out Cornell songs and cheers for the first time together.

Following the University psychological test Tuesday morning, all the Freshmen met in their respective College groups to meet their Deans and other Faculty men and students of their Colleges. The men were then divided into groups of six to ten to discuss questions of college life with an upperclass leader and to receive some friendly tips and helpful advice.

Tuesday evening, all the coaches, captains, and managers of the athletic teams and the student and Faculty leaders of activity groups came to Willard Straight Hall with exhibits and movies, to present the Freshmen with a living picture of Cornell's extra-curricular program, and to give them first-hand information about sports and activities.

The Freshmen's reaction to the whole program indicated that it was worthwhile and worth continuing and enlarging in future years. The Student Council felt that it not only aided the Freshmen but increased Class spirit, helped the extra-curricular groups, and showed Cornell undergraduates that the Council can, and will continue in the future, to undertake responsible jobs and accomplish things of a truly constructive nature.

VETERINARY OFFICIALS

President-elect of the American Veterinary Medical Association, chosen during the recent annual meeting in Indianapolis, Ind., is Dr. William W. Dimock '05. Dr. Jacob Traum '05 is second vice-president. Dr. Cassius Way '05 is a member of the committee on public relations, and Dean William A. Hagan, MS '17, of the Veterinary College, retired this year as president of the New York State Association, is a member of the national committee on education and chairman of the committee on rabies. Professor Raymond R. Birch '12, Veterinary, is chairman of the committee on Bang's disease, of which Dr. Hugh S. Cameron '31 is also a member. Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter '20 is chairman of the committee on poultry diseases; Dr. Laurence W. Goodman '26 is resident secretary of the Society for New York State; and Professor Donald W. Baker '29, Veterinary, is chairman of the committee on parasitology.

NEW YORK "KICKS OFF"

Three '41 players of last year's Varsity football team proved to 150 members and guests of the Cornell Club of New York that football was fun to them. They were Frank K. Finneran, Private First Class, Candidates' School, US Marine Corps, Quantico, Va.; Harold F. McCullough, and William J. Murphy.

The occasion was the "kick-off" smoker of the 1941 season, at the Club October 2. William W. McKeever '39 was master of ceremonies; George R. Pfann '24 told of this year's prospects; and motion pictures were shown of 1939 and 1940 games. A buffet supper preceded the smoker.

Every Saturday afternoon except of the Columbia and Pennsylvania games, the Club gives play-by-play gridgraph descriptions in the Campus Room.

LAW COURSES EXPAND

Hon. Leonard C. Crouch '89 of Syracuse, recently retired as Associate Judge of the New York Court of Appeals, has joined the Law School Faculty this fall as visiting professor of Law. This term he is giving a series of lectures on appellate practice and is conducting a problem course in written and oral presentation before appellate courts.

Dean Robert S. Stevens says that the course is "an experiment which offers the student not only the opportunity of learning law and of applying law to facts, but also the rare advantage of gaining from one who has had long experience on appellate courts a conception of what constitutes effective presentation of a case on appeal."

New also this year among the problem courses is one in General Problems. Actual cases submitted by attorneys will be worked upon by students under direction of those members of the Faculty who teach the subjects which the major question of each problem involves. At the meeting in which the students' solution is presented for discussion, the attorney who submitted the problem will be present, to give students his own procedure in solving the specific problem of an actual client.

Professor Daniel G. Yorkey '35, who joined the Law School Faculty last fall after three years of law practice in Buffalo, has been appointed secretary of the Law School. He succeeds Professor William H. Farnham '18, who has been secretary since 1934 and who is on sabbatic leave this term.

About ATHLETICS

WIN CLOSE HARVARD GAME

Another victory by the margin of one touchdown was achieved by the football team in its 7-0 conquest of Harvard at Cambridge last Saturday. Cornell mixed its strong running game with improved forward passing to score after a drive of eighty-seven yards, with Kenneth L. Stofer '43 and Louis C. Bufalino '42, the halfbacks, covering most of the ground. Bufalino was held out of the opening game with Syracuse because of a knee injury.

The long scoring march started about the middle of the first period after a series of punts. One of these kicks Bufalino, playing in the safety position, returned seven yards to Cornell's 13. There Stofer, on a reverse, raced around right end to the Cornell 37. Joseph L. Martin '44, the fullback, picked up two yards at center. Bufalino cut inside left tackle and moved along the sideline to the Harvard 24-yard line, with Daniel C. Nehrer '43, quarterback, throwing a vital block. The next three plays, one a Stofer pass intended for Bufalino, netted not a yard. Stofer went back as if to punt, faked a kick, and threw a pass to Martin in the left flat. Martin ran to the 3-yard line for a much-needed first down. On the next play Stofer threw a center-alley pass to Bufalino for a touchdown.

Charles R. Sweeney '42 was sent in to try for the extra point. His placekick was accurate, and he stayed to kick off to Harvard.

More touchdowns appeared in the making from time to time, but they never materialized as both teams threw up stout defenses near their goals. Both teams showed flashes of offensive power and threatened constantly, making the outcome uncertain to the end. After Cornell's score, Harvard drove thirty-one yards to midfield, with Captain Lee, O'Donnell, and McNicol carrying the ball, as the first period ended.

McNicol took to the air, passing to Morgan for twenty-three yards and first down on Cornell's 27. There Cornell stopped two attacks at the line and forced a two-yard loss on a pass play. McNicol threw another pass on fourth down, but Nehrer came up with the ball and returned ten yards to the Cornell 28. Harvard came right back after Stofer punted to Captain Lee on the Harvard 36. O'Donnell and McNicol ran to the 48, and on a spread play MacKinney caught a pass from McNicol for another first down on Cornell's 36. Morgan took another pass from McNicol, and the ball was on Cornell's 25-yard line, first down.

Harvard missed another first down by inches as O'Donnell caught a nine-yard-plus pass. Raymond Jenkins '42, right end, threw O'Donnell on a reverse, and two passes were grounded, one by Stofer, Cornell taking the ball on the 20-yard mark. The half ended with an exchange of punts.

Martin broke into the clear on the second-half kickoff and almost ran away for a touchdown. He fielded the ball behind his own goal line and was thrown on Harvard's 42. A fumble and a penalty set Cornell back, the teams exchanged kicks, and Lee intercepted one of Stofer's passes after the ball bounced from Bufalino's hands, returning to Harvard's 46. Cornell forced a punt, then started rolling from its 35-yard line. Stofer swept left end on a reverse to reach Harvard's 39. Martin took up the passer's role and threw to Stofer who reached Harvard's 28 for another first down. On fourth down Stofer threw what appeared to be another first-down pass to Bufalino, but a man in motion nullified the gain. Harvard defenders knocked down Bufalino's pass to take the ball on the 24. Harvard punted and Johnson recovered Martin's fumble for Harvard on Cornell's 41. But Harvard handed the ball back in the same fashion, with J. Russell Geib, Jr. '44, right guard, recovering Lee's fumble on the Cornell 46. Martin and Bufalino picked up nine yards as the third period ended.

Cornell failed to make the first down, and Stofer punted to the Harvard 6. There Martin tackled McNicol behind the goal line, but the Harvard fullback fell with the ball six inches in front of the line to avert scoring a safety for Cornell. MacKinney kicked out, and the teams traded punts, with the Harvard kicker having the better of the duel. From the 8-yard line Cornell moved up on two long runs by Martin, the first for seventeen yards on a fake kick and the second for thirteen through the line. Martin and Stofer picked up seven more yards before Stofer finally punted, Lee returning to Harvard's 28. There McNicol threw to Pirnie, a substitute back, who was free and clear as two Cornell defenders ganged up on another potential receiver. Pirnie caught the ball off balance. Before he could regain his stride, he was nailed by Bufalino, who had cut across from the safety position. As Pirnie went down, he lost the ball, and Martin recovered on Cornell's 31. The play had looked like a certain Harvard touchdown as the pass hurtled down the field. That was Harvard's last real chance. Cornell punted, and Harvard threw three passes from its 40. On the third, the officials ruled interference, giving Harvard the ball at midfield. McNicol threw another last-minute pass, but Samuel R. Pierce '44 intercepted as the whistle blew.

The game was close throughout, each team registering eight first downs. Cornell had the edge in rushing, with a net 171 yards to Harvard's 70. Harvard

TO DEVELOP SKI CENTER

A new ski center on thirty acres of hill property in the Town of Caroline eight miles out East State Street from the Campus will be opened this winter and will be known as "Tar Young Hill." It is named for Professor Charles V. P. Young '99, Physical Education, who for thirty-seven years has fostered outdoor recreation for students. The University purchased the property last spring.

The Board of Physical Education and Athletics has appropriated funds for a ski tow, ski jump, and shelter house. Professor Young and members of the ski team are already at work directing the clearing of the three-quarter-mile slope which it is said will be one of the best ski-runs in the East.

The new facilities will be available to the Cornell Skiing Club and Varsity ski team of which Ernst Engel is coach, students, and the public.

BEAT SOCCER CHAMPIONS

The soccer team eked out a satisfying 1-0 victory on Alumni Field last Saturday, defeating Princeton, last year's titleholder in the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Soccer League.

The goal was scored in an extra period after eighty-eight minutes of futile play. Eduardo M. Ricaurte '43, center forward, kicked the ball from the sideline toward the goal, and William H. Starr '44 butted it into the net. Superior play by Robert C. Ochs '42, goal guard, stopped several Princeton scoring threats.

LIGHTWEIGHTS LOSE OPENER

The 150-pound football team lost to Princeton, 19-0, at Princeton last Friday in its first test in the Eastern Intercollegiate Lightweight Football League.

Standouts on the defense for Cornell were Captain William J. Greer '42, right guard, and Wallace R. Seeley '43, center. Other veterans in the Cornell lineup were Edward E. Ludwig, Jr. '43, blocking back; Arnold Rosenstein '43, left halfback; and Thomas R. Keene '42, right halfback. The starting fullback was Robert T. Finneran '43 of Harrison, brother of last year's Varsity center, Frank K. Finneran '41.

FRESHMEN START WELL
Football

Auspicious was the start of the Freshman football season on Schoellkopf Field last Saturday as Kiskiminetas School bowed, 33-2. Top scorer was Winfred B. Wright of Freeport who made touchdowns on runs of two and thirty-eight yards and added one point after touchdown with a placekick.

After Wright's first touchdown in the first period, Walter Tryka of Perry ran sixty-five yards for another score on a reverse play. George W. Armbruster of Glendale turned in a sixty-yard run for a touchdown to complete the first period scoring.

Wright scored his second touchdown in the second period and Thomas J. Madden of New Hartford registered the final score in the third period. Armbruster and John L. Goepfert, Jr. of Mahanoy City, Pa., also placekicked extra points.

Cross Country

Freshman cross country team turned in a perfect score in its first meet last Saturday, defeating Colgate 15-40. Only the first five runners counted for each team.

Over a course of approximately two miles around the University Heating Plant, William B. MacRea of Greenwich, Conn., placed first, timed in 10:59. David R. Bulk of Babylon, Frank C. Slovak of New York City, Henry J. DeNicola of the Bronx, Richard F. Schluederberg of Lakewood, Ohio, followed him across the line. Then came Briggs of Colgate, timed in 11:56 and followed by Charles W. Seelbach of Buffalo who did not count in the scoring. The other Cornell runners were Julian D. Cole of Brooklyn, James R. Cullen of Troy, William J. O'Brien of Buffalo, William D. Knauss of Poughkeepsie, and Charles K. Kerby, Jr. of Ridgewood, N. J.

Soccer

Freshman soccer team defeated the Ithaca College Freshmen, 3-0, on Alumni Field last Friday.

NEW STAFF MEMBER

Observant readers will have noticed this fall the name of Raymond F. Howes '24 added to our "masthead" as one of the ALUMNI NEWS contributors. Howes has written considerably for the NEWS since he came back to Ithaca five years ago to join the staff of the Cornellian Council.

After a year with the Council, he became assistant to Dean S. C. Hollister, Engineering, in charge of the publications and news of the College. He has acted also as editorial adviser to The Cornell Engineer, and last year started a course in Engineering Journalism and was appointed instructor in Engineering. He has now become assistant to University Provost H. W. Peters '14, with supervision of special publications of that office and other duties.

Receiving the AB in 1924, Howes was for two years instructor in English at the University of Pittsburgh, where he received the MA. Then for ten years he was instructor and assistant professor of English at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., there organizing the university news bureau and editing the Alumni Bulletin. He compiled and edited Our Cornell, is co-author of a textbook, Debating, and of Coleridge the Talker, published last year by the Cornell University Press, and has written for many professional and general publications. He was an editor of the Cornell Era and Literary Review; is a member of Scorpion (now Tau Kappa Epsilon); of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity; former national vice-president of Delta Sigma Rho, honor society in forensics; and member of the national associations of teachers of speech and teachers of journalism, of the Modern Language Association, and other professional and honorary societies.

TO PERFORM IN NEW YORK

"Repeat performance" by the Glee Club and Instrumental Club will be given at this year's banquet of the Interfraternity Conference, at the Hotel Commodore, New York City, November 28. The invitation followed the successful appearance of the Musical Clubs at this function last year. This year, they will supply the entire musical program. Besides seventy-five Musical Clubs members, the party of undergraduates from Ithaca will include a fife-and-drum corps from the ROTC Band and a color guard from the Pershing Rifles of the ROTC.

feated Lafayette, 41-2; Colgate lost, 18-6, to Dartmouth; Columbia defeated Princeton, 21-0; and Yale bowed to Pennsylvania, 28-13.

New assistant to Alfred B. Wolff, coach of the 150-pound football squad, is Wayne Palmer '41, who played tackle on the lightweight team the last two seasons. Palmer succeeds G. Craig Rankin '36, who has been commissioned ensign in the Naval Reserve and will be assigned as morale officer at the Submarine Base, New London, Conn.

Coach Blair Gullion has summoned the basketball squad to practices twice each week until mid-November when daily drills will be started. Letter winners who answered the first call were Captain Frank K. Burgess '42 of Aurora, Ill., Samuel W. Hunter '43 of Staten Island, William D. Stewart, Jr., '43 of Edgewood, Pa., George W. Bouton '42 of Ithaca, Milton D. Coe '43 of Oswego, John F. Harper '43 of Milwaukee, Wis., and Charles W. Jack '42 of Rochester. Assistant coach, until J. Russell Murphy finishes with football, will be Hugh N. Bennett '43 of Poland, Ohio, whose health no longer permits him to play the game. Bennett is the son of J. Eugene Bennett '11 and brother of James E. Bennett, Jr. '41, Varsity forward the last three seasons.

Winner of the annual fall tennis tournament was John E. Slater, Jr., '43 of Yonkers, who defeated John R. Dingle '42 of Cleveland Heights, Ohio, 6-0, 6-2, in the final. Both were on the Varsity tennis squad last year. Slater, seeded No. 3, eliminated the No. 2 player, Captain Jerome I. Lieberthal '42 of Brooklyn. On his way to the finals, Dingle defeated John M. Hansen '42 of Litchfield, Conn., who defeated Robert O. Dame '42 of Garden City, the player who upset the No. 1 seeded player, Frederick V. McNair '44 of Annapolis, Md.

ON THE CAMPUS AND DOWN THE HILL

FOOTBALL GAME with Navy October 18 in Municipal Stadium, Baltimore, will be broadcast as the "game of the week" by at least one and perhaps two national chains. Word comes of this as the News goes to press.

ARCHITECTS cordially invited a passing Freshman engineer to sit with their own first-year men for the annual "Class picture" in front of White Hall last week. When the group was deluged with cold water from the upper windows, the engineer made tracks for Sibley.

VISITOR in Morrill Hall and about the Campus last week was George E. Waldo '72 of Pasadena, Cal. When he entered the University with the first Freshman Class, Morrill was the only finished building on the present Campus, and McGraw Hall was under construction. On a motor trip with his son, he came back to the building he had known; asked a friendly stenographer he met in the hall if any "old-timers" were about. She mentioned the names of several, but hit upon none who had been here since 1870 when Waldo left Ithaca to study law. But Treasurer George F. Rogalsky '07 greeted him and took him about the Campus. Former member of the State Assembly and Representative in Congress from New York State, Waldo has lived in California since 1913; still practices law in Pasadena.

CORNELLIAN BOARD for 1942 has elected Dorothy L. Dodds of Gouverneur and Madge L. Palmer of Rochester, Senior women co-editors; David J. Coons '43 of Woodmere, sports editor.

PROFESSOR PHILIP E. MOSELY, History, led a noon forum October 14, sponsored by Willard Straight Hall. He discussed "The Russian Theater of War." Professor Liberty Hyde Bailey, Agriculture, Emeritus, is guest reader at the Sunday evening reading hour October 19 in the Willard Straight library.

CHINESE STUDENTS' Club celebrated in Willard Straight Hall October 11 the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the Chinese Republic. In formal ceremony, members sang the Chinese national anthem and read again the will of Sun Yat-sen, founder of the Republic.

FRESHMEN are being given good advice this fall in four Thursday afternoon coffee hours arranged by Willard Straight Hall board of managers. For the first one last week, eighty-one men of the Class appeared. Subject for discussion was "On Advice to Freshmen: Take It or Leave It," by Donald H. Moyer, the new Counsellor of Men Students. This week, Professor Julian L. Woodward '22, Sociology, was to ask and answer "What About Co-eds?" James Lynah '05, Director of Physical Education and Athletics, speaks on "Discovering One's Aptitudes" October 23, and the series concludes with Professor Edward A. Tenney, PhD '32, in charge of Freshman English, on "Useful Curiosity."

BIGGEST NEWS of the week was attractive Virginia McWilliams, photographer for Reelife Motion Pictures, taking Campus movies in color. She was everywhere, photographing University officials, classroom and laboratory scenes, football practice, undergraduate committees and meetings, rooms in the dormitories, fraternities and sororities, at Sage Chapel, Willard Straight Hall, on the Quadrangle, in the Clock Tower. Arranged by Louis C. Boochever '12, University Director of Public Information, at request of Ithaca movie theaters, the film of Campus and town was to be shown at the Strand Theater October 16-18.

RECEPTION of foreign students at the Cosmopolitan Club October 10 brought a crowd of students, Faculty, and townspeople. President Edmund E. Day spoke, as did Professor E. Franklin Phillips, Apiculture, vice-president of the International Association; Donald C. Kerr '12, University Counsellor to Foreign Students; President Shigeo Kondo '43 of the Club; and Solomon Cook '42, American Indian from Hogansburg. Master of ceremonies was Raphael En-sui Ting '42 of Shanghai, China.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB'S new president is Shigeo Kondo '43, born in Japan and who has lived most of his life in New Jersey. He succeeds Francis W. Watlington '41, of Hamilton, Bermuda. Among the thirty-one members living in the Clubhouse this year are an American Indian, three natives of India, eleven citizens of the United States including residents of Hawaii and Puerto Rico, and nationals of Haiti, Costa Rica, Netherlands West Indies, Venezuela, China, Sweden, France, Jugoslavia, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Spain.

SAGE CHAPEL PREACHER October 19 is the Rev. Henry Sloane Coffin of Union Theological Seminary.

STATE STREET, slightly widened and smoothly paved with red brick, was opened to traffic from Aurora Street to the top of the Hill, October 12. It had been closed since summer for the repaving. With Thurston Avenue also repaved, the only trolley tracks now left on the Hill are along Eddy Street.

RADIO LISTENERS to the opening program of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra last Sunday afternoon heard the Sage Chapel Choir sing in the Chapel a new patriotic anthem, "Freedom's Land," by Roy Harris, composer-in-residence at the University. Dr. Harris wrote the music for a poem which Archibald MacLeish dedicated to him. The song and Choir were introduced by Deems Taylor, CBS commentator, and later Leopold Stokowski led the Orchestra in a folk-dance for strings and percussion from the "Folk Dance Symphony" recently composed by Harris.

WINTER COURSES in the College of Agriculture will start October 29. They will deal this year with general agriculture, dairy industry, poultry, and fruit growing.

THIRTY UNDERGRADUATES, organized by CURW, spent Saturday afternoon and over night at the University's outing lodge on Mount Pleasant with Dr. Hornell Hart, last Sunday's Sage Chapel preacher. They discussed "Religion and Social Concern."

E. ANN NASH '43 of Armonk has original designs for campus clothes and her photograph in the Fall number of Fashion Digest Magazine. She was the Cornell winner of an intercollegiate contest; as a prize received a six-weeks' summer course at the Traphagen School of Fashion in New York City.

SHOW WINDOW of the Veterinary College, exhibits of the work done there are being displayed in the main lobby of James Law Hall; will be changed weekly. First was a display on "The Life History of the Horse Botfly." This will be followed with "Retardation of Growth", "Diseases and Parasites of Local Fish", "The Ear of the Dog", "Poisonous Plants", "Disease-carrying Insects," and others.

CORNELL ORMSBY KAY, Holstein-Friesian cow in the College of Agriculture herd, has made a production record for her breed in New York State. She produced 1032.7 pounds of butterfat from 25,415 pounds of milk, leading all senior three-year-old Holsteins in the State milked four times daily in the yearly division.

TAGS sold on the Hill and downtown last week brought in more than $300 to finance a broadcast of the Cornell-Harvard football game through Station WHCU in Ithaca. Play-by-play account from the press box at Soldiers Field in Cambridge was by Sam Woodside and Lyman H. Smith, Jr. '40, former sports writer of the Sun now a Senior in Law.

DR. ALFRED M. S. PRIDHAM, PhD '33, has been advanced from instructor to assistant professor in the Department of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture.

GROUP PICTURE of the Extension staff of Animal Husbandry accompanies "Extension Answers the Call," appearing in a recent issue of The American Dairyman, a new farm publication. The article asserts that "much valuable research and . . . experimental evidence would never be put into practice on farms were it not for the extension forces, specialists, and county agents of land grant colleges."

It mentions particularly the work of Professor Stanley J. Brownell, in charge of Dairy Extension since 1929 during which time the number of cow-testing associations in the State has increased from 40 to 173.

JOHN I. LACEY '36, formerly of the Psychology Department, recently conducted experiments at Cornell indicating that emotional responses to situations are lessened by a foreknowledge of the approaching situation. This may be of use to victims of heart trouble, if they can thus consciously control emotions. Subjects subjected to itching shoulders reacted violently when they did not know of the approaching torture; took it very quietly when they were forewarned. In other experiments, Dr. Lacey found that eyesight is affected by emotion, the ability to discriminate visually lessening with the rise of emotion, and probably due to rising tension in eye muscles. Dr. Lacey is now instructor in Psychology at Queens College, Flushing.

ELIZABETH MONROE, Grad, and Fitzhugh W. Boggs, Grad, both of the Chemistry Department, were married September 21 in Manchester, Vt. Mrs. Boggs is a graduate of Bryn Mawr College and has studied at Cambridge University. Boggs was graduated at the University of Marseilles and at Columbia.

DR. WILLIAM T. MILLER, instructor in Chemistry since 1936, has been appointed assistant professor of Chemistry.

PHILADELPHIA WOMEN

Eleven members of the Cornell Women's Club of Philadelphia, Pa., attended the first meeting of the year, October 4 at the home of Helen Weidemann '14 in Mount Airy, Pa. Tea was served by the hostess and Mrs. Bernhard F. Koehling (Ruth DeGroat) '15.

UNIVERSITY DELEGATES

Roger Bailey '19 was the official delegate of Cornell University at exercises in Ann Arbor, Mich., October 15, celebrating the 100th anniversary of the first instruction given by the College of Literature, Science, and Arts in the University of Michigan. Bailey is a member of the faculty of the College of Architecture and Design at Michigan.

Professor Herbert S. Jackson '05 of the University of Toronto, Canada, represented Cornell at the inauguration of Walter T. Brown as chancellor and president of Victoria University, Toronto, October 15.

October 17 and 18, at the inauguration of John R. Cunningham as president of Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., official delegate of Cornell was David Clark '98. Clark is publisher of the Textile Bulletin, Charlotte, N. C.

Call of 1917

"C. U. —in '42"

*By Herbert R. Johnston, Class Secretary

During the last few months many offers of assistance have been received from members of the Class. They are most welcome and there will be work for all from now until June. Here are some of the fellows who have promised to help 1917 break all records at our Twenty-fifth:

WALTER E. (Hap) ROTH is located at U. S. Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa. He writes that he is "still thinking" regarding specific suggestions for a record breaking Reunion.

CHARLES H. (Spreck) SPRECKLES, JR., of 255 Bluff Road, Palisade, N. J. writes that he will take care of the 216 Cascadilla Park gang for the Reunion. He has a picture of fourteen 1917 fellows who were lucky enough to be present at the Commencement exercises in June 1917. He is loaning the picture for publication in one of the coming issues of "The Call of 1917." In this picture Spreck says he recognizes JAMES C. (Jim) CALDWELL (junior member of the famous Collyer and Caldwell firm), "TED" SPRONG and "SHUNG" VOLLRATH.

M. GRACEN (Greek) BRIGGS is with Briggs, Schaedle & Co., Inc., dealers in government securities, at 44 Wall Street, New York City.

ALBERT K. MITCHELL writes from his Tequesquite Ranch at Albert, N. M. that he is willing to serve on committees to make our Twenty-fifth the greatest but fears he is too far away to do any good. We need your help, Al, and will be calling upon you soon. No one is too far away.

A lot of notices have come in and I see that some of them bear such a date that they would hardly be considered "news items." However, let's start to catch up.

MARRIAGES: FRAN FOWLER to Julia Merchant, October 5, 1940. Fran is one of General Electric's crack young engineers. They are residing at 1726 Rugby Road, Schenectady.

BILL PARR to Doris Moore, March 1, 1941. Bill has been with the Soil Conservation Service since last December, cruising timber on lands to be purchased for a practice area for Camp Stewart. They are living in Hinesville, Ga.

BIRTHS: CHARLIE and DORIS (SMALLRIDGE '37) DYKES, a daughter, Susan, October 4.

PERRY EMERSON, a son.

WERRY WERRENATH, a daughter, Kirsten, March 18, 1941.

JOHN BABCOCK, a son, John Lloyd III, May 27, 1941.

1937 WOMEN

*By Carol H. Cline, Class Secretary
1053 Cumberland Avenue, Dayton, Ohio*

EXTRA! EXTRA! Read all about it! '37 Women announce super-special General Chairman for "Frisivolous Fifth" Reunion! ELEANOR RAYNOR goes to work on plans for successful '37 Reunion next June.

That's right, gals, El Raynor has accepted the big job of planning our Reunion and you all know what a bang-up job El does when she tackles anything. El is a busy lawyer (with legal department of Postal Telegraph, 253 Broadway, New York City) and she is active in Cornell Club work, but she graciously took on the responsibility involved in pepping up three hundred Classmates and organizing various Reunion Committees. She writes that she knows everyone is busy these days but she firmly believes that the more you do the more you can do. She will be calling on a lot of us for help during the winter, and I'm sure all of us will be ready to pitch in whenever El says the word.

'37 AB, '40 LLB; '37 AB, '39 LLB—EARLE B. HENLY, JR., is in the office of Mudge, Stern, Williams & Tucker, law firm at 20 Pine Street, New York City. Mrs. Henly is the former GRACE H. JONES '37.

There are still many members of the Class we have not heard from. Please send in all the news about yourselves as well as others. The best way to keep up with your Class and other Cornell friends is to read the ALUMNI NEWS and the only way the ALUMNI NEWS can be effective is for you all to send in information as often as possible. Just take a minute now and then and jot down any news you can think of on a penny post-card and send it to me in St. Davids or the ALUMNI NEWS at 3 East Avenue, Ithaca. We are looking forward to hearing from a great many of you this year.

CHARLIE SOWERWINE married Elma Van Nest August 9 in the Princeton University Chapel. Charlie is with the law firm of Chadbourne, Wallace, Parke & Whiteside in New York.

JIM MCKAY is still with the surplus commodities division of the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., and has just finished his first year of law school. Jim is doing this on the side at Georgetown University.

Listening to the Cornell-Syracuse game this afternoon made me a little ashamed of neglecting the column for the Class of 1939 for the past few months. It will not happen again. The most important things that have been happening to the members of the Class seem to be weddings so I will devote quite a space to them.

JUNE 14 EDWARD H. SWAZEY married Elizabeth Henning of Baltimore, Md., where Swazey is a sales engineer with the Bakelite Corp. On the same day, ED C. WANNER wedded Frances McCarthy of Ithaca. They are living in Niagara Falls, where Wanner is with the Dupont Co.

JUNE 26 ALBERT T. MAYLE, JR. and Alfreda Huff of Ithaca were married in Ithaca. Mayle is working for the Farnsworth Television and Radio Corp. in Fort Wayne, Ind. where they are living at 601 Stadium Drive.

JIM WILDER took Cornelia Schoonmaker of Campbell Hall, to wife June 28, and he is now stationed at Elgin Field, Florida as a 2nd Lt. Also in June AL BOSSON, our Ithaca Reunion chairman, married BETTY SHAFER '39.

I think Mrs. Jerome M. Cohen (LUCILLE BAUDER) is still at Tabitha Inn, Fairhaven, Mass., where her husband is a sergeant with the 198th at Camp Edwards.

MARION COLDEN, 107-72 110th Street, Richmond Hill, has been studying for a master's at NYU.

DOTTY COOPER is a foods demonstrator with the Rochester Gas and Electric Co.

We wonder if BETTY CRANE is teaching French in Palmyra High School again this year.

HELEN CRUM received her Master's in child development at Iowa State College last June and has gone to Berea College, Berea, Ky., as head of the nursery school.

Check This Against Perfection

Ideas about Hotels—like ideas about people—differ. Check this list of Grosvenor virtues against your standards of comfortable living . . .

Atmosphere Not too large, not too small, The Grosvenor is agreeably different . . . a trim, hospitable home on smart, tree-lined lower Fifth Avenue.

Modernity Wide-windowed rooms, larger than average, attractively appointed with running ice water and tub and shower.

Quiet No barnyard squawk of traffic at The Grosvenor. Quiet nights for refreshing sleep.

Convenience Three blocks (or less) to 3 subways and 3 major bus routes that take you anywhere, Fifth Avenue buses (Radio City, shops, museums, etc.) at the door.

Economy Large single rooms from $3.50. Twin beds from $5.00. Attractive suites from $8.00. Lower rates for seasonal occupancy.

This unusual combination of living advantages brings many seasoned visitors—and many native New Yorkers—to live at

THE "BIG RED" GRID STARS DRINK KNOX GELATINE

As Part of Training to Help Keep in Condition!

Many Coaches
Are Using Knox as a Supplementary Protein

The Knox Gelatine Drink is on the "Big Red" training table again for the third successive year! And although Knox can't make a team win, many trainers report that when athletes receive Knox Gelatine regularly, they seem to keep in better condition.

This report is echoed among trainers and coaches in many colleges where athletes drink Knox regularly to help supplement other proteins in their diet.

KNOX GELATINE

IS PLAIN, UNFLAVORED GELATINE
ALL PROTEIN . . . NO SUGAR

TRY DRINKING KNOX YOURSELF!

If you seem to be slowing down, maybe you aren't getting enough of the right kind of proteins. Try drinking Knox Gelatine. Knox is a pure, wholesome protein . . . contains seven of the ten essential protein parts.

Get Knox Gelatine today from your grocer . . . in the regular 4-envelope package or the money-saving 32-envelope package. But don't accept substitutes. Be sure it's Knox!

Just off the press! The Knox Build-Up Plan. Menus and suggestions for better living. Explains protein foods, and drinking Knox. Easy to try. Send for your free copy today. Write Knox Gelatine, Dept. 89, Johnstown, N. Y.
