GRAND NATIONAL CUP
Made in England in 1763, this historic trophy was brought to America in 1930 and donated for an annual race over brush at Belmont Park, N. Y.

To the CHAMPION
goes the Trophy

If superlatively fine whiskies, like the champions of field and ring, were awarded trophies, today's superb Hunter would be so honored. For this finer prestige whiskey is truly Hunter's best—and Hunter has been distilling whiskies of rare distinction since 1860.

How you can provide that NEST EGG for a rainy day . . .

EASY WAY

Apply to protect YOUR War Bonds and other savings for the fair-weather plans you've made for them by creating an emergency or rainy-day nest egg with an investment of only a few cents a day in The Commercial Travelers of Utica.

Share with us the privilege of drawing accident, sickness or hospitalization benefits from a fund of $6,000,000 provided by and for our 210,000 prudent men who share their risks of disability this safe, economical way.

You Pay Only Your Share of the relatively low cost of protecting preferred risks like yourself if you qualify for membership as a salesman, lawyer, teacher, writer, doctor, businessman, merchant, office clerk (many kinds of store clerks, too), draftsman, superintendent, accountant, engineer, technician, inspector, or one of most other "white collar" groups.

Send No Money Now! As little as $2 pays until late next September—depending upon the plan. Succeeding quarterly charges as low as $2.50 for accident only—moderately higher for health and hospitalization.

Not a Limited Type Policy! This insurance covers you night and day, at home or on trips, at work and at play. No medical examination! No red tape! No jokers or trick clauses! We are licensed by the Insurance Departments of the State of New York and the Dominion of Canada.

Members entering the Armed Forces may continue this protection in the U.S. or Canada. Eligible former members who have let their protection lapse while in the Armed Services will be reinstated FREE within our continental limits, as in World War I.

for your Security and peace of mind

YOU GET . . .

$2,600.00 — $25.00 weekly, payable every 30 days for as many as 104 weeks for loss of time through injury by accidental means . . . as much as $2,600.00 for any one accident. $12.50 weekly for partial disability for 26 weeks.

$5,000.00 for loss of life, limbs or sight caused by violent and accidental means.

Double Accident Protection also available.

$1,300.00 — $25.00 weekly, payable every 30 days for as many as 52 weeks — up to $1,300.00 for any one confining sickness. $12.50 weekly for non-confining sickness for as many as 26 weeks.

Some words fool you:

BEAN

means...

but BALLANTINE Ale & Beer always means... Purity, Body, Flavor!

There are no two ways about the word "Ballantine." Just about everyone knows, it means PURITY, BODY, FLAVOR—the qualities that make Ballantine Ale and Beer so popular, we have a hard time keeping up with the demand. So please be patient. With shortages what they are, it isn't always easy to get to you on time—every time.

Six Candidates Nominated For Alumni Trustees

BALLOTS are being mailed to all degree holders for election of two Alumni Trustees to succeed Willis H. Carrier '01 and George R. Pfann '24 for five-year terms beginning July 1. The official ballots must be returned to the Treasurer of the University by noon, June 18, and results of the election will be announced at the annual meeting of the Cornell Alumni Association in Ithaca, June 23. Any degree holder who does not receive a ballot may obtain one by writing the University Treasurer, Morrill Hall, Ithaca.

Nominations of candidates closed at midnight, April 1. Biographies and pictures of the persons nominated follow.

Edward E. Anderson '17

Edward E. Anderson '17 is vice-president of the Discount Corp. of New York, 58 Pine Street, New York City.

He was born October 3, 1894, at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., the son of an Army officer, and entered Arts and Sciences in 1913 from St. Luke's School, receiving the AB in 1917. He played football four years and received the "C" three times as a Varsity guard. For two years from May, 1917, he was a first lieutenant in the 307th Field Artillery, 78th Division, and served in France in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives.

Anderson is 1917 Class representative for the Alumni Fund and since June, 1943, has been a member of the Alumni Fund Council executive committee. He is a member of Psi Upsilon, Quill and Dagger, Aleph Samach, and Majura, and of the Cornell Club of New York. He and Mrs. Anderson live in New York City and East Hampton. His brother is Clarence M. Anderson '31.

Willis H. Carrier '01

Willis H. Carrier '01 is chairman of the board of The Carrier Corp., Syracuse, and founded and was president of the Carrier Engineering Corp. which preceded it. He has been an Alumni Trustee since 1940; is a member of the audit committee of the Board.

He was born November 26, 1876, in Angola and entered Sibley College from Buffalo Central High School in 1897 with a State Scholarship, winning also a University Scholarship. At the end of his Junior year, he and William E. Chase '00 bought a laundry concession on the Campus and combined the services of two laundries, beginning the Student Laundry Agencies.

Carrier received the ME in 1901 and joined the Buffalo Forge Co. as a research engineer, becoming chief engineer in 1906. He founded Carrier Engineering Corp. in 1915, and his many inventions have been the basis of the modern air conditioning industry. He was awarded the John Scott Medal for his inventions of processes and apparatus for air conditioning and refrigeration, the F. Paul Anderson Gold Medal for distinguished scientific achievements in the same field, the 1934 Medal of the ASME, and the Brown Medal of the Franklin Institute in 1941. He received the honorary Doctor of Engineering at Lehigh University in 1935 and the DSc at Alfred in 1942. He has written extensively for professional engineering journals, and several papers on technical education; is a past-president of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers and the American Society of Refrigerating Engineers and represented these two organizations at the World Engineering Congress in Japan in 1929-30; was elected an honorary member of the ASME in 1940.

Carrier was president of the Cornell Society of Engineers in 1940 and vice-president of the Cornell Alumni Fund Council from 1938-41. He is a member of Sigma Xi, Tau Beta Pi, and Phi Kappa Phi, and of the Cornell

EDWARD E. GOODWILLIE '10

Clubs of Syracuse and New York. The late Mrs. Carrier was Jennie T. Martin '90.

Edward E. Goodwillie '10

Edward E. Goodwillie '10 has been for several years assistant to the vice-president of Bethlehem Steel Co. in charge of trade relations, in the sales department at Bethlehem, Pa. He has been in the steel industry since he received the BArch in 1910, for two years in the mills of Pennsylvania Steel Co. at Steelton, Pa., then in the sales department. He was put in charge of the Pittsburgh sales office and in 1921, after the company was taken over by Bethlehem Steel, he became manager of Bethlehem sales in Cleveland, Ohio. He was transferred to Chicago, Ill., as manager of sales in 1923, two years later was assigned to the Pacific Coast area, and in 1927 went to the home office in Bethlehem, Pa., as assistant manager of the structural and plate sales division.

He served three terms, 1941-44, as president of the Cornell Alumni Fund Council, during which time the annual Fund total increased from approximately $113,000 to more than $187,000. For five years previously, he was Class of '10 Fund representative.

As an undergraduate, Goodwillie won the "C" three years as Varsity baseball pitcher and was a substitute center on the basketball squad; was soloist of the Glee Club and president of the Musical Clubs. He is a member of Delta Phi and was president of the Delta Phi Association for five years; of Quill and Dagger, Savage Club, Mummy Club, and Gargoyle; and of the Cornell Clubs of New York, Philadelphia, and the Lehigh Valley. He and Mrs. Goodwillie have a daughter and son, Lieutenant James M. Goodwillie '42, AUS. They live at 1819 Kenmore Avenue, Bethlehem, Pa.

JOHN S. KNIGHT '18

John S. Knight '18

President of Knight Newspapers, Inc. and other publishing enterprises, John S. Knight '18 is editor of the Akron (Ohio) Beacon Journal, owner and publisher of the Miami (Fla.) Herald, publisher of the Detroit (Mich.) Free Press which he purchased in 1940, and editor and publisher of the Chicago (Ill.) Daily News, purchased last October. He writes a Sunday column on national affairs, "The Editor's Notebook," for his papers. He is president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, and in 1941 was chairman of a committee to redraft the by-laws of the Associated Press. From April, 1943, to May, 1944, he was director of the US Office of Censorship in London, acting as liaison between British and American censorship of war news.

Born in Bluefield, W. Va., October 26, 1894, Knight entered Arts and Sciences in 1914 from Tome School. He left for the Army in May, 1917, and served in France as a second lieutenant of Infantry and with the Air Service. Discharged in June, 1919, he became a reporter and succeeded his father as editor of the Akron Beacon Journal in 1933. He was editorial director of the Springfield (Ohio) Sun, 1925-27, and of the Massillon (Ohio) Independent, 1927-33, and president until 1937, when he bought the Miami Herald and then shortly the Miami Tribune, which he discontinued. In 1938, he bought the Akron Times Press and merged it with the Beacon Journal.

He is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Delta Chi, and of the Alumni News publishing committee of the Cornell Alumni Association. He has three sons and a daughter; he and Mrs. Knight live at 80 North Portage Path, Akron, Ohio.

RANDALL J. LEBOEUF, JR. '19

Randall J. LeBoeuf, Jr. '19

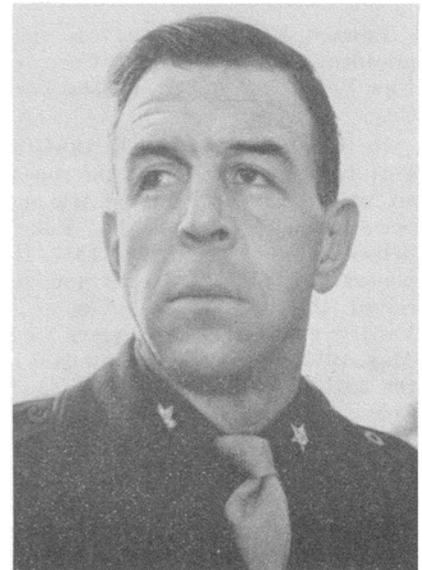

Randall J. LeBoeuf, Jr. '19 is senior partner of the law firm of LeBoeuf & Lamb, 15 Broad Street, New York City, with Horace R. Lamb '17. Since 1929, he has been general counsel of the Niagara Hudson System.

Son of the late Randall J. LeBoeuf '92, he was born in Albany July 22, 1897, and entered the Law School in 1915 from Albany Academy. He served as a second lieutenant of Infantry from May, 1918, to January, 1919, and returned to become student colonel of the ROTC and editor-in-chief of The Cornell Era, receiving the LLB in 1920. He entered law practice with his father in Albany; was Deputy Assistant Attorney General of New York State, 1925-27, and the next year was special counsel to the State, trying the Chicago diversion and other water-power cases. At the same time, Governor Alfred E. Smith appointed him a Moreland Act commissioner to investigate the conduct of the State census.

LeBoeuf is president of National Travelers Aid Association, vice-president and director of United Service Organizations, Inc., a trustee of The Masters School in Dobbs Ferry and of the National Health and Welfare Retirement Association, Inc., and member of several committees of the Welfare Council of New York City. He is a member of the New York City, State, and American Bar Associations and various committees of the Bar, of the Cornell Law Association, Delta Chi, and Sigma Delta Chi. Mrs. LeBoeuf is the former Harriet Ross '19; they have three daughters and live in Old Westbury.

George R. Pfann '24

Lieutenant Colonel George R. Pfann '24 has been overseas since

GEORGE R. PFANN '24

November, 1942. This year he completes his second five-year term as an Alumni Trustee of the University. From its organization in 1935, he was an alumnus member of the advisory board on Physical Education and Athletics, and was a member of the council and present board which supplanted it, from 1939 to 1942. He served also on the Trustee committee for the inauguration of President Day and on Board committees on relations with public authorities and on budget.

Before he was commissioned captain in the Corps of Military Police, May 8, 1942, Colonel Pfann was a member of the law firm of Edwards & Smith, 44 Wall Street, New York City, with Harold T. Edwards '10. From 1931-37, he was Assistant US Attorney for the Southern District of New York. After completing a course at the Investigators School, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., he was sent overseas as secretary of Lieutenant General George S. Patton's 7th Army general staff in North Africa. July 8, 1943, he was commended by General Patton for his contribution to plans for the landings on Sicily, and was promoted to major during that campaign. He was commended again September 27, 1943, for performing in superior manner his duties as secretary of the general staff during the entire Sicilian operation, and was promoted to lieutenant colonel, December 25, 1944.

Pfann was born in Marion, Ohio, October 6, 1902; entered Arts and Sciences in 1920 from the Columbia, Tenn., Military Academy, and received the AB in 1924. Entering the Law School, he received a Rhodes Scholarship in 1926 and completed the study of law in Brasenose College at Oxford. He won the Varsity football "C" three years, was captain in 1923, won the lacrosse "C" and was a member of the basketball squad, and for three years of the Student Council. While in the Law School, he was assistant football coach and coached Freshman basketball. At Oxford, he played on his College rugby team and the university lacrosse team, and from 1931-36 he coached football at Swarthmore College.

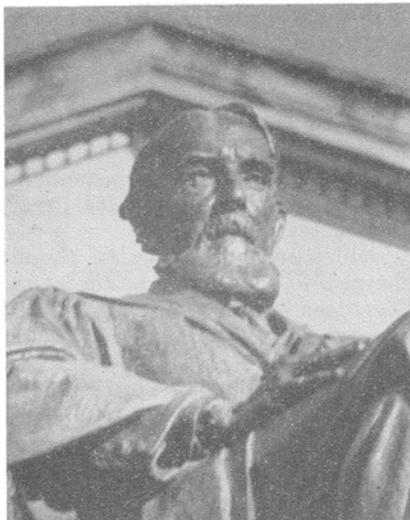

He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sphinx Head, Phi Delta Phi, Aleph Samach, and Mummy Club; of the New York State and Federal Bar; of the committee on regional scholarships of the Cornell Club of New York; and was the first president of the Cornell Football Association of Greater New York and honorary president of the Cornell Rugby Club. Mrs. Pfann is the former Betty Wycokoff '27; with their sons, George, Jr. and Bruce, she lives at 15 Inness Place, Manhasset.

Letters

Subject to the usual restrictions of space and good taste, we shall print letters from subscribers on any side of any subject of interest to Cornellians. The ALUMNI NEWS often may not agree with the sentiments expressed, and disclaims any responsibility beyond that of fostering interest in the University.

Impostor?

TO THE EDITOR:

On the cover of the March 15 ALUMNI NEWS was a photograph of the statue of Andrew Dickson White. One of my associates here called my attention to the fact that there was apparently someone behind President White, looking out to the left.

I do not know who the person may be, but certainly it does not look like a Cornellian. If you will examine the picture carefully [See above.—Ed.], you will see at half a glance that Mr. White's hair certainly produces a profile of some lowbrow; possibly a Syracuse or Pennsylvania graduate!

Club Presents Plays

DRAMATIC Club presented five one-act plays March 31, to a near-capacity audience in the Willard Straight Theater.

"Little Immortal," based none too securely on the childhood of Harriet Beecher Stowe ("I want to be a great writer!"), offered stage practice to four Freshman women, who remembered their lines very well.

"Overtones" had only two characters but each was flanked by her "real self," rendered invisible by mosquito netting. The two women exchange hypocritical amenities over tea while their alter egos bandy frank opinions of each other. Dorothy A. Tatle '46 of New York City was best of another all-girl cast.

In "The Power of Fate," Ruth L. Bayless '46 of Ventnor, N. J., livened things up by stabbing Herbert J. Hawley '46 of Perry. Moved by her remorse, Fate turns the action amusingly backwards, giving her another chance. And she kills him all over again!

Hit of the evening was "Sparkin'," a farce in dialect admirably played by W. Barlow Ware '47 of New York City, a hayseed with amorous bent, Lea E. Shampanier '48 of Jamaica, the shy object of his lubberly affection, and Rose P. Gimondo '48 of Fulton, her tobacco-chewing granny.

In "The Square Triangle," Robert D. Asher '47 of Leominster, Mass., persuades Ann E. Shively '45 of Hamilton and her stage husband, Apprentice Seaman Sawyer Thompson, US-NR, that he has no adulterous designs on their happy home. He points out that wives frequently create an imaginary lover to make their husbands jealous. "Jealousy," he says, "is love with a sore toe."

New Jersey Women

CORNELL Women's Club of Northern New Jersey, meeting March 21 at the Racquets Club in Short Hills, N. J., had seventeen to hear Clara S. Hires '28 of Milburn describe how she raises difficult seedlings, including orchids, ferns, and cinchona, on chemicals without soil.

Mrs. Louis A. Winkelman (Helen Kinney) '22, president of the Club, presided, and Mrs. Martin A. Goerges (Frankie Culpepper) '30, secondary schools chairman, told of plans for the annual secondary school tea, April 21.

Calcutta Dinner

EIGHT Cornellians in Calcutta, India, were recent dinner guests of Leonard K. Elmhirst '21, who was shortly to return to England, having advised the Bengal government on food problems. They were Colonel Claire W. Hardy '11, Harold C. Reed '17, Hsien-Chiang Hsia, MCE '28, Major Bruce A. Parlette '32, Captain Irvine A. Harned '35, Frank J. Meyers '39 and Clifford Bull '42 of the China National Airways, and Dallas M. Coors '40, American vice-consul in Calcutta.

Invited but unable to attend because they were temporarily away were Colonel William C. Kinsolving '23, Captain Edward J. Mintz '31, Jacob S. Fassett, 3d '36, China National Airways, Sergeant Robert F. Cushman '40, AAF, Major Teh-Chiang Koo '40, Chinese National Army, Lieutenant Robert M. Coors '42, AAF, Corporal Kermit Kruse '42, Corps of Engineers, and Lieutenant Gere Kruse '43, AAF.

Hold Football Drills

SPRING sports teams moved over a bit April 2 to make room for football practice, and the introduction of the modern "T" formation to Cornell.

The weather that week kept some of the squads indoors, but up to seventy football candidates cavorted on Lower Alumni Field. April 7, the new head coach, Edward C. McKeever, gave four teams a taste of scrimmage.

Coach McKeever called candidates into meeting in Schoellkopf March 29, and said his objective was an energetic, spirited football team. He asked strict adherence to training rules and pointed out the social sacrifices the players would have to make. In return, he offered guidance and assistance to those who would meet his demands for interest and enthusiasm.

"I only hope," he said, "I will be able to do as well as those coaches who have made Cornell teams a tradition in the past quarter-century. "The most important thing in football to me," he said, "is your reaction under pressure. I don't want boys out there who aren't determined to go through the season. It's what's in your hearts that counts with me."

At the first practice session, McKeever played quarterback to demonstrate the basic plays of the "T" formation. Then, purely at random, a first "T" team was chosen. On it were:

Degulis played at end and guard last season; Bouley, recently discharged from the Army, played tackle for Boston College in 1940; Verna was a regular guard last year; Herrell, Rubin, Schwartz, Davidson, Cullen, and Davies were on the squad last year; and Robeson was last year's regular left end.

Bouley and two others are the discharged war veterans on the squad. Seventeen others of the Naval Training School are veterans of combat duty.

McKeever will close spring practice April 28, so it will not interfere with spring sports. Another practice season will be held during the summer term.

Spring Prospects

IN baseball, Coach George K. James expects good pitching and a tight defense, but fears a lack of hitting.

In rowing, Coach Harrison Sanford hopes "we'll do pretty well this spring." The early spring has advanced the crew squad's training far ahead of normal.

In lacrosse, Coach Ray Van Orman '08 faces the task of fashioning a strong defense, with replacements for several veterans available only from light and inexperienced material.

Coach John F. Moakley, now in his forty-seventh year at Cornell, expects the track team will be stronger in the field events this season. The squad lacks capable sprinters and hurdlers, but is fairly well supplied with middle- and long-distance runners.

In tennis, Coach Richard Lewis has only two veterans available. Development of new material has been speeded by the earlier use of the courts this year.

Swimmers Third

SWIMMING team placed third in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's championship meet at the University of Michigan, March 30 and 31, with Paul C. Murray, US-MCR, capturing the breaststroke title.

Ohio State won the championship, which was not defended by Yale, with 57; Michigan, Big Ten champion, was second with 48; and Cornell scored 25. Other scores: Michigan State and Minnesota, 12 each; Columbia, 10; Canisius, Northwestern, and Princeton, 8 each; Indiana, 6; Purdue, 3; and Iowa and Rensselaer Polytechnic, 2 each.

Murray won the 200-yard breaststroke in 2:31.5, three seconds away from the Cornell record he set against Sampson Naval Training Center in the Old Armory pool last season. He defeated Kessler of Michigan in the final.

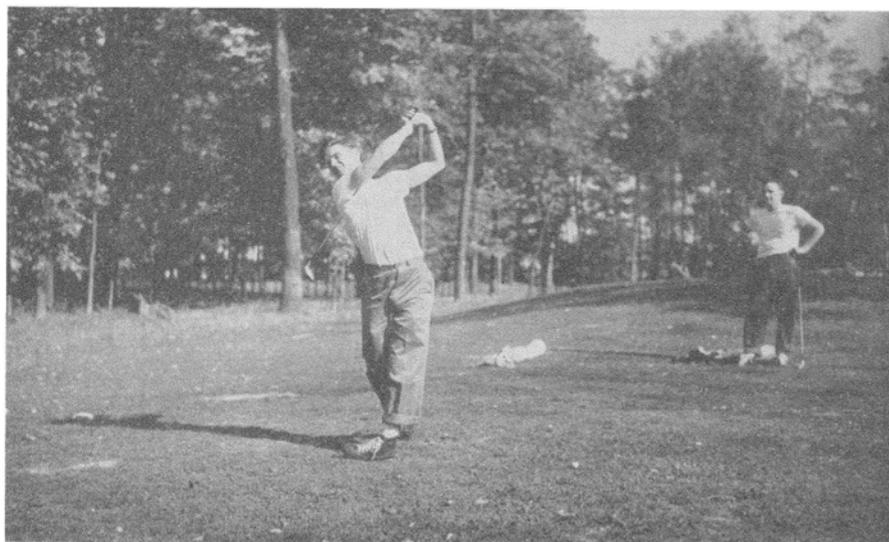

Captain Ralph Riehl, Jr., USNR, placed fourth in the 220-yard freestyle and Donald B. Iseman '46 placed fifth in the 150-yard backstroke. In the 300-yard medley relay, the team of Murray, Paul L. Klein '46, and Joseph R. Di Stasio '48 finished second to Michigan which was clocked in 3:05.4. Di Stasio placed fourth in the 100-yard freestyle.

Delayed en route, Clarence F. Urban, USNR, was in the pool only a few minutes before he started in the 1,500-meter race. He finished, but did not place.

The 400-yard freestyle relay team actually had one freestyler in its lineup—Di Stasio—but it managed to place fourth. The others were Murray and Klein, breaststroke specialists, and Iseman, a backstroker.

Golf Course Opens

UNIVERSITY golf course opens this spring for its fifth season as a popular adjunct of the Department of Physical Education and Athletics. Last season, members of the Faculty, students, and service men stationed at the University played about 12,000 rounds on the nine-hole course which occupies sixty-nine acres across Warren Road east of the Campus. The clubhouse was enlarged last year with the addition of a men's locker room and showers, and regular instruction was given to fifty women students who elected golf as part of their Physical Education instruction.

Early in March, the former toboggan house at Beebe Lake was remodelled into an indoor golf range which affords facilities for practice and where Coach George L. Hall gives instruction to women students.

After the war, the Department of Physical Education and Athletics plans to add another wing to the clubhouse which will contain a soda bar, women's lounge and locker rooms, and will offer instruction to Faculty members and students.

Opened in 1941, the course was designed by Robert T. Jones '32. Players of all degrees of skill find it interesting. Jones designed it, he says, to include the three principal types of modern golf course architecture, appealing to "the strategic school, of master-minders; the penal school, tough on hookers and slicers; and the heroic school, of those 'sultans of swat' who knock the ball a mile."

The Department has fixed a fee of fifty cents a day for casual players, including students, visiting alumni, and service men and women on the Campus. Membership is $5 a term for students and $25 a year for Faculty families or $20 for single Faculty memberships.

Basketball Captains

BASKETBALL "C" men of the 1944-45 season met in Schoellkopf April 5 and elected Gordon W. Harrison '46, captain for 1945-46. Harrison played guard the last two seasons. The squad also elected Irwin Alterson, USNR, forward, captain for the season recently ended. This was a formality; Alterson was acting captain throughout the campaign.

Cortland Girls at Tea

CORNELL Women's Club of Cortland entertained fifty-five high school girls at tea, March 13. Mrs. Harry Mullen (Fannie Wheeler) '30, president of the Club, introduced Pauline J. Schmid '25, Assistant Alumni Secretary, to the twenty-one members present and their guests. Miss Schmid spoke of the many facilities offered to Cornell students, of the beautiful dormitories and housing accommodations available to undergraduate women, and was enthusiastic about Campus life.

Members of the Club attended a concert by Mrs. Joseph Wilkins (Marie Maher) '23, April 11 at the Cortland State Teachers' College.

Labor School Set

WHEN Governor Thomas E. Dewey signed the Ives Bill, March 27, establishing the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University, the nation's first organized school for instruction designed to improve relations between workers and employers was established. The new law appropriates $200,000 for the School and vests its administration in the University. Accompanying legislation authorizes addition of three Trustees from the fields of labor and two ex-officio members—heads of the New York State Departments of Commerce and Labor—to the University's forty-member Board of Trustees.

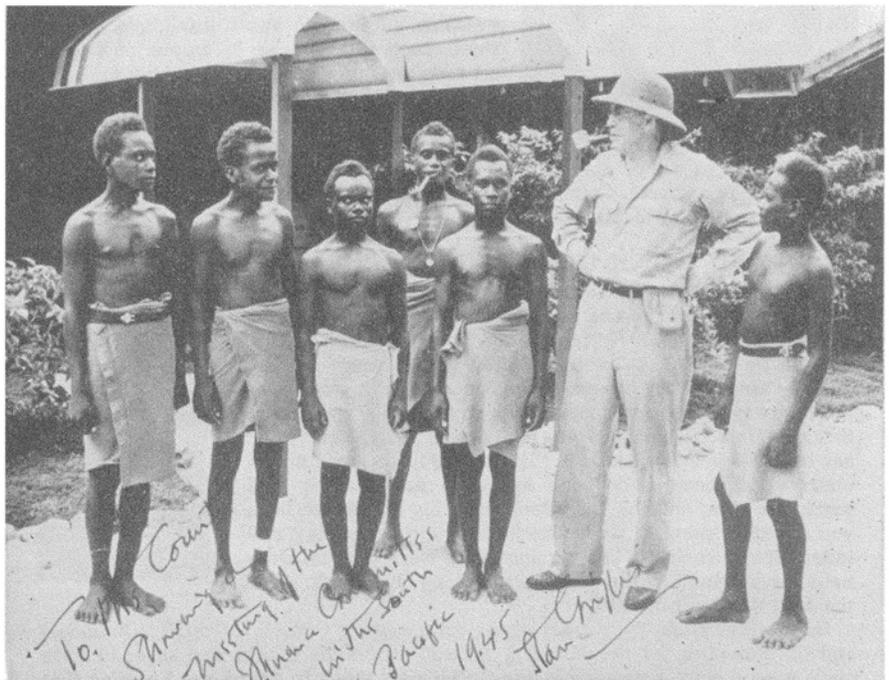

As he signed the bill establishing the School, Governor Dewey said it "is dedicated to the advancement of understanding of industrial and labor relations" and added: "Because the people of the State and the Legislature have constantly and unceasingly sought to improve and better that understanding, New York will continue its lead and progressive position in maintaining productive efficiency and peace."

The Governor's action gave immediate impetus to actual formation of the new School. President Edmund E. Day says that the fields of education, labor, management, and government are being combed for selection of a director and faculty. Although organization of the School and preparation of teaching material will take some time, he expressed hope that a limited number of students for the more elementary courses can be accepted next fall.

Outlining the School's contemplated approach to the subject of industrial and labor relations, President Day declared "it must be broad and continuously fair and impartial toward both labor and management. Instruction will be fundamental in character, reaching back beyond the mere teaching of techniques for the role of union organizer, management representative, or any other individual job in either field." While the training will qualify graduates for particular jobs in labor, management, and governmental fields, the President said the School in addition will give them "a well-rounded knowledge of and feeling for the problems of other parties to the labor-management relationship."

Meanwhile, inquiries from colleges and governmental agencies in seventeen States, the District of Columbia, Canada, and Puerto Rico indicate that the School may set the pattern for other educational approaches to greater labor-management harmony. Requests for information on the objectives and basic set-up of the School have come from California, Oregon, Colorado, Connecticut, Virginia, Washington, New Jersey, Texas, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Massachusetts, Oklahoma, Vermont, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York.

UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE MEETS WITH HIS COMMITTEE

Stanton Griffis '10, former chairman of the Trustees' finance committee who is now Commissioner of the American Red Cross in the Pacific Islands Area, sent this picture to Treasurer George F. Rogalsky '07 before a recent meeting of the University finance committee. The inscription reads: "To the Count, Showing a meeting of the Finance Committee in the South Pacific. 1945."

Time Was . . .

Thirty Years Ago

April, 1915—Bronze statue of Andrew D. White, gift to the University from Trustee Henry R. Ickelheimer '88, was completed last week; a few days later the sculptor, Karl Bitter, was fatally injured by an automobile in New York City. The statue, with its granite pedestal, will be shipped to Ithaca next month and unveiled during Commencement week in June.

The University Faculty has signified its desire to be represented on the Board of Trustees, with power to vote.

Fifteen Years Ago

April, 1930—Martin Wright Sampson reports on famous Campus dogs in "The Swinging Bridge":

"Romeo was never certain of his ancestry, but the mingled strains resulted in a rather large, very thin, somewhat white, and wholly wistful animal who used to glide across the Quadrangle on what he deemed a hypotenuse from Stimson to Franklin. He was grateful for any attention, and the favorite sport with Romeo was to shake your fountain pen on him. It brought colored inks into general use, and Romeo was so spotted with red, violet, and vivid green as to look like a leopard in a nightmare.

"Napoleon was a large bulldog with a heavy underslung jaw and a habit of wheezing which he did not try to correct. His great stunt was to stop a street car and ride to what he judged his destination. His most notable feat was going down to the Penn game. Lost in Philadelphia, he was recognized next day in New York, and a Cornell grad put him on a Lehigh train. At Ithaca he tumbled out with the baggage, hailed a street car, and rode up to class.

"The dogs of today, haven't as much fun as their predecessors. They lack college spirit. I am thinking of sending my dog to some other college."

From Far Below—

By Frank Sullivan '14

ON three occasions during the past winter, the Cornell Club of New York and the Cornell chapters of Sigma Phi and Psi Upsilon have had the honor and the pleasure to be hosts at dinner to groups of wounded service men. Other similar parties are scheduled for the future.

The first party, at which the Club was host, was given January 12 for fifteen wounded sailors and Marines from the St. Alban's Naval Hospital on Long Island. During dinner, the guests were entertained by Mr. Lauri, an accomplished prestidigitator, who was kind enough to donate his services for the occasion. The men arrived at seven and left at nine to attend a broadcast. On departing, they assured their Cornell Club hosts that they had had a fine time. Their hosts had had an even better time.

That first party went so well that Sigma Phi took up from there and invited another group of the wounded men in to dinner, February 16. That was as pleasant an occasion as the first dinner, so much so that Psi Upsilon, not to be outdone, scheduled a third party, which was held March 23. The veterans who dined at the Club that night were entertained by stars from radio station WOR, the entertainment being donated by the radio station, through the good offices of the demon entertainment chairman, John Nell '33.

Now these dinners promise to become a fixture of the Club's activities. Delta Phi has asked to be host at the next party, which will take place some time later in April. Thus far, the guests have been sailors and Marines. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to invite some Army wounded, too, as soon as possible. Red Cross Motor Corps girls bring them to the Club for the dinner, and are guests along with their charges, and then they shepherd the men to the broadcasts they have been invited to hear. The various hosts owe a special debt to Mrs. Roger M. Woolley (Virginia Van Vranken) '25 of the Cornell Women's Club, who has been of great help in arranging the parties.

Otherwise, the Club bravely carries on its butterless, sugarless, steakless, and—worst hardship of all—Hallockless, existence. Your reporter stood the Adirondack snows as long as he could, namely until Lincoln's Birthday, and then fled in the general direction the robin had taken the previous October. How Well Do You Know Cornell? CAN YOU IDENTIFY THIS PICTURE?

MOST complete and accurate identification of this decoration of a Campus building, received from a subscriber by May 1, will bring the winner a prize copy of Professor Carl Becker's book, Cornell University: Founders and the Founding. The book is a welcome addition to any Cornellian's library. Prize copies for these "Campus close-up" contests are presented by the Alumni News and the University Press.

Entries are judged by the Alumni News staff, and their decision shall be final. In case of a tie, decision will be made by lot. No person who lives within twenty-five miles of Ithaca may compete. Correct description of this picture and winner's name will appear in the News of May 15.

ANSWER TO MARCH 15 CONTEST

FOR the first time since these "Campus close-ups" started last September, no one attempted to identify this carving, pictured in our March 15 issue.

Dean Dexter S. Kimball calls it "the gem of ornamentation on the Campus;" the big-eared monkey carved in stone over the doorway to the Memorial Room in the lobby of Willard Straight Hall. "Hundreds pass under him daily, but do not see him," says Dean Kimball. "But once you do see him and observe the book under one arm, the nose-glasses held under the chin, and the smug look upon his expressive face, you instantly remark, 'It is the learned old professor,' and indeed it is just that." The carving is the work of John Donnelly, Jr. retained by the architects, Delano & Aldrich, when the Hall was built in 1925.

G. Whitney Irish '29, winner of the prize copy of Cornell University: Founders and the Founding for the March 1 contest, writes his thanks and says: "I have made a good start at reading it and find it very much to my liking. Entering that contest was probably as profitable an expenditure of time as I have made for some while."

Timid alumni and unsuccessful contestants will be well repaid if they order Professor Becker's book at $2.75 a copy, postpaid, from the Cornell Alumni Association, 3 East Avenue, Ithaca.

into the Club late that night, with only half an ounce of our store of pemmican left, expecting to see one of Dean Carl Hallock's St. Bernards rush to our succor with a flask of Courage and soda. We learned, alas, that the Dean had left a fortnight previously and, doughty old party that he is, had fled toward the snow instead of from it, to take a sabbatical season of reflection in Marathon.

We miss the Dean. We miss that good right arm of his, semaphoring protest, dissent, rebuke, alarm, disgust, or any of the other fifty-seven brands of emotion he used it to express. We miss his gentle but authoritative voice presiding at the Children's Hour, quelling the more vivacious tots of '96 or '03 by reminding them of that night at Ithaca that they'd rather forget. We miss the loud cry of anguish that went out from him when anybody ordered a fancy creation such as a Planter's Punch or a Pink Lady. We miss the lovely purple language, trimmed with fringes of orange and magenta, that he reserved for those low enough to order such monstrosities. In short, we miss Carl!

Maybe he will do a Cincinnatus. In the meantime, Bill, Charlie, and Leo the Delightful Dane are presiding in the sanctuary and no one will die a lingering death from thirst while those three kind-hearted samaritans are at the tap.

Ladd Memorial Grows

COMMITTEE of the New York Conference Board of Farm Organizations which is raising a fund to endow scholarships for farm boys and girls at Cornell as a memorial to the late Dean Carl E. Ladd '12 of the College of Agriculture, reports that approximately $12,000 has been subscribed. The goal is $100,000 to provide annually for twenty scholarships of $200 each, of which at least half will be for entering students. Awards will be made by the University on the basis of need, promise of future leadership, and academic achievement.

The committee plans a State-wide canvass of farm dwellers and farm organizations, and welcomes contributions from all who are interested. Frank W. Beneway '15 of Ontario, chairman of the Carl Ladd Memorial committee, says: "Our aim is to find the unfound farm boys and girls and to train and develop them as farm leaders. The healthy growth in number and scope of farm organizations means that many more leaders will be needed in the future. We must start the selection and training of these boys and girls as soon as the war is over." Treasurer of the committee is Thomas E. Lamont '27 of Albion.

Now in My Time!

By Conroy Perry

GRADUATES of all American colleges and universities seem to share the delusion that the accomplishments of their own particular Alma Mater are insufficiently celebrated in the public prints. This unfortunate state of affairs is commonly ascribed, either or both, to (a) a conspiracy on the part of editors and publishers to suppress all legitimate news of Whoozis while opening their columns lavishly to the merest tripe about lesser foundations; or to (b) the complete absence of any understanding of the subtle arts of publicity and public relations on the part of anybody connected with their own institution.

The Cornell alumnus on his return to Ithaca is pretty apt to start with "publicity," or to get to it by the third round. We're always sympathetic with the visitor's views, but we'd be even more impressed if we did not know from actual experience that identical views were being expressed at the moment, and with equal sincerity, at Princeton, Palo Alto, Hanover, New Haven, Charlottesville, and points south.

Nothing that your reporter could say or do, we know, would serve to assuage the bitterness that weighs down the hearts of our alumni over these matters. But, skipping lightly the question of whether a surging, self-respecting university is helped or hindered by press notices, or their absence, let's run over again some of the points that bear upon this troublesome question.

The most recent occasion we recall upon which Cornell made the first page of every newspaper in America was when the Sophomores employed chlorine gas in their efforts to break up the Freshman Banquet and failed to do anything more than kill a very competent colored cook. The bull-fight of 1905 was widely celebrated, and the development of an odorless cabbage at the east end of the Campus a few years ago did not escape the notice of our alert newsgathering agencies. These incidents indicate clearly, I think, that Cornell is quite capable of achieving publicity any time it does something, or says something, or is something, that is news.

There you have, perhaps, the source of our confusion; our failure to distinguish between publicity and news. A good football team doesn't need a press-agent, and the most astute public relations counsel can do nothing for a lousy one. The American railroads spend millions for limited, inside space on which to call attention to the importance of their service to the nation, and then get two columns, free, and on the front page every time Number 8 piles up across the right-of-way.

Geographical factors cannot be ignored in the evaluation of news. An Ithaca story worth a column in the Syracuse Post-Standard might be completely ignored by the San Francisco Chronicle, be dismissed with a single sentence in the Detroit Free Press. Conversely, for Stanford or the University of Michigan to rate a column in the Post-Standard, it would be necessary for the Professor of Fine Arts to shoot the Dean of Women in the chapel.

Institutions of higher learning which ache to get their names in the paper more frequently, in order to smooth down the Alumni Association of Walla Walla, Wash., are just wasting their time, we'd say, in mailing out mimeographed copy, buttering editors, and buying drinks for reporters. To achieve that lofty aim, you've got to do something, or be something, or say something, that's news.

Nor is there anything in the air of Ithaca itself which tends to stifle all sense of news values. I think that if a university were to seek the advice of the most astute public relations counsel on how to do something that was news, he might tell it the story of the upstart college which, beginning life in an abandoned sanitarium with an unknown resident Faculty and no alumni association whatever, made itself front-page news overnight by daring to assert new ideas, by blazing new trails through the dead-wood of established customs in higher education, by proclaiming its freedom from conventional controls, and thereby drew unto itself the delighted association of a galaxy of front-page scholars, front-page writers, and front-page scientists!

Rochester Talks Books

BOOK REVIEW meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of Rochester, March 22 at the home of Mrs. Marvin R. Dye (Miriam Kelley) '17, attracted seventy members and guests. Tickets were sold to raise money for the Federation Scholarship Fund; about $50 was netted.

Mrs. Edwin K. Haas (Beryl Polhemus) '32, president of the Club, presided. Books such as Richard Wright's Native Son, Edna Ferber's Great Son, and Emily Hahn's China To Me were discussed, and refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Raymond V. Clark (Dorothy Cooper) '40.

Kansas City Women

CORNELL Women's Club of Greater Kansas City met March 24 at Green's Restaurant, on the Country Club Plaza. Following dinner, the meeting was adjourned to the home of Mrs. Harold J. Karr (Frances Ottley) '20. Present were three guests and the Club's total membership, eleven.

Mrs. Ellsworth L. Filby (Marion Fisher) '19 Club president, introduced Barbara A. Straus '45, who described life on the Campus in wartime.

We Slipped

MEN who complete satisfactorily their University courses in the Navy V-12 program go on to midshipmen's school and eventually are commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve. But even as with civilian students, there are some who do not finish, and those are ordered to sea duty or to training stations as enlisted men. For such men, appropriately enough, their "shipmates" at Cornell proudly hang service flags in dormitory windows, denoting a man from that house in military service.

That was the significance of the picture on our April 1 cover. We slipped in not printing this explanation in that issue, but do so now, belatedly. The photographer, Apprentice Seaman Stanley London, who is himself in the V-12 program, took the picture of two "shipmates" of a departed seaman, with his service flag, in the big west window of the Kappa Sigma house on University Avenue, now Navy Dorm 23. London tells us that the boy at right was actually reading a letter from the departed.

Fund Goes Ahead

CORNELL Alumni Fund for the fiscal year which ends June 30 entered April with $96,270.77 in unrestricted gifts from 3,039 contributors. This is $24,226.09 more than was given in the first nine months of last year when the Fund reached a year-end record total of $189,753.55. During the same period last year, however, 3300 alumni made gifts: 261 more than have thus far contributed.

Class representatives are scheduled to begin active campaigns among their Classmates April 15, aiming to build the 1944-45 Alumni Fund to $250,000 to be placed at the disposal of the Board of Trustees to meet current expenses of the University.

To April 1, first place in amount given is held by men of the Class of '07, of which Howard M. Rogers is Alumni Fund representative, with $6,909.25. Class of '13 men are in second place with $6,257.25; Jessel S. Whyte is being succeeded as Class representative by E. Victor Underwood. Men of the Class of '14, with H. W. Peters as representative, hold third place with $4,657.27 to their credit. In number of contributors, men of the Class of '16 under Richard J. Foster, Jr. lead with 128. Next is the Class of '21, Clyde Mayer, representative, with 104 men contributing. Class of '13 men are in third place with 96 contributors.

Class of '23 women, with Mrs. Robert E. Treman (Carolyn Slater) as Fund representative, lead all others in amount, with $640.67, and are second in number, with 28 contributors. Second in amount and third in number are the women of '35, led by Mrs. William D. Dugan (Ruth Harder), reporting $308.33 from 24 contributors. Women of '17, Mrs. Arthur R. Coelho (Katharine Rodger), representative, are third in amount with $157; and 29 contributors put the women of '36 ahead of all others under leadership of Mrs. Edward Loewenstein (Madeline Weil).

WLB Alumni Speak

SIXTY members attended the monthly smoker of the Cornell Club of Washington, D. C., March 29 at the Dodge Hotel. Leland H. Hill '21, vice-president of Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co., discussed the operations of the War Labor Board, of which he is an industry member. The discussion was enlivened by Neil Brant '24, a labor member of the Board, who was present at the meeting. After a movie demonstrating Allis-Chalmers's new gas turbine, Lieutenant Commander Leo K. Fox '25 led the group in Cornell songs.

On The Campus and Down the Hill

Birthdays: First issue of the ALUMNI NEWS appeared April 5, 1899; that makes us forty-six year old this month. The University Charter was signed by the Governor of New York, April 27, 1865; so Cornell becomes an octogenarian next week.

March departed with the mercury above eighty; woolies came off, co-eds took sunbaths, service men and civilian students took up baseball on upper Sage Green and the lawn in front of James Law Hall. April came, saw, and conquered this foolishness, knocking temperatures down to the low twenties, putting longies back on, and postponing sunbaths and baseball with three days of driving snow flurries. As we go to press, five violets bloom in front of Alumni House.

Campus dogs, most of them Naval trainee mascots housed in Navy dorms and fed at Navy mess, were rounded up April 2 by City Dog Warden Chester Armstrong and Horace H. Benson '25, executive officer of Campus Patrol, and juggled in the city pound. The Cornell Bulletin April 6 ran a front-page picture of "Sad Sack," named others of the twelve unlicensed dogs netted in the first haul, and headed its two-column story, "Dogs Hit by Rabies Drive! V-12s Mourn Loss of Gus."

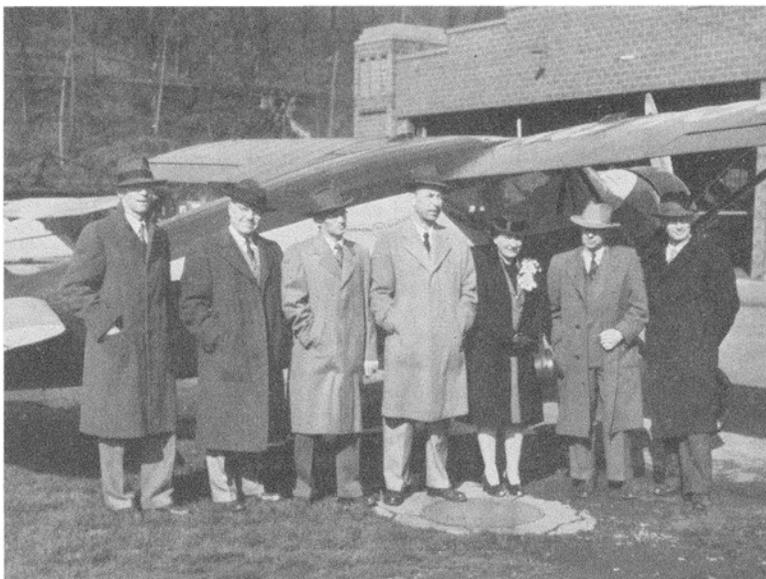

Red Cross drive in Tompkins County has brought more than $75,000, with final total yet to be announced. This far exceeds the quota of $67,135. University committee has collected some $11,725, which is $1,143 over its quota; students raised $6,892 to top their quota of $5,635. Professors Lawrence A. Burckmyer, Jr. '25 and Charles I. Sayles '25, Electrical Engineering, were co-chairmen of the Faculty group, and Joan Dillenberg '47 of New York City headed the student drive. Students of Cascadilla School raised $160 for the Red Cross, including $75 netted from a benefit party given at the School, March 23.

Commencement exercises were April 6 in Bailey Hall for the tenth class of the US Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School. 181 midshipmen were commissioned ensigns.

The Widow advertises for competes: "Wanted—men, women, children, and trained seals. If you can run a typewriter, we want you; if you can capture an advertiser, we want you; if you can draw silly pictures, we want you; if you can't do any of these, try the suspension bridge. There are openings on our editorial, business, and art boards. We have more beer parties than any other periodical on or off the Hill."

March issue of The Widow announced the election of John S. Fountain '46 of Maplewood, N. J., as art editor, and contained an eight-page insert tabloid, "The Cornell Blotto," with regular Bulletin features parodied in poorly proofread prose.

ROBINSON AIRLINES BEGINS DAILY ITHACA-NEW YORK RUN

First flight took off from Ithaca Airport April 6; aided by strong tail winds, the planes landed at Flushing Airport (a mile from crowded LaGuardia Field) one hour and twenty-six minutes later. Pictured above, just before the takeoff, are William B. Corcoran '23, in charge of passenger operations here; Ralph C. Smith '15, executive secretary of the Ithaca Chamber of Commerce, City Engineer Leon H. Cass '28, Bernard M. Clarey '28, Ithaca Journal reporter and acting director of Athletics publicity, and Mrs. Gertrude Grover, daughter of the late Professor Herbert H. Whetzel, Plant Pathology, a reporter for University Station WHCU, all guest passengers on the first flight; Cecil S. Robinson '21, president of Robinson Aviation, Inc., who piloted the first plane; and his chief pilot, Al Eager, who flew the second. Two Ithacans in New York on business, L. N. Simmons '12 and T. B. Maxfield, made the return trip that afternoon. The four-place Fairchild planes flew back against head winds in two hours and fifteen minutes. If you're air-minded, the fare each way is $15.

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity, the white colonial house at Stewart and University Avenues, was damaged by fire, March 31. Flames were confined to the third floor, attic, and roof, but some furniture stored there was burned. Occupied two years by Naval trainees, the house was vacated a month ago.

Egon Petri, University Pianist-in-residence, gave the fifth concert in the University series, April 7 in Bailey Hall. A near-capacity audience applauded his program of Bach, Beethoven, Schubert, and Liszt.

Three Ithaca lawyers were appointed to New York State Bar Association committees April 4: Allan H. Treman '21, University Attorney, to the committee on professional ethics; Professor John W. MacDonald '25, Law, to the committee on legal education and admission to the Bar; Charles H. Newman '13 to the committee on American citizenship.

New Dean of Students, Dr. Harold E. B. Speight, and his family will occupy the former residence of the late Registrar David F. Hoy '91, on Fall Creek Drive at the approach to the Suspension Bridge. Women students have lived in the house the last three years. The present acting president of St. Lawrence University "is described by his associates," according to The Cornell Bulletin March 30, "as having all the qualities which were so likeable in Davy Hoy, but, instead of fearing him as they did Davy, the students will go to him for counsel and advice in all their varied problems." Dean Speight visited the Campus April 7 to address the second annual leadership conference sponsored by the activities council of WSGA, under chairmanship of Maxine Katz '45 of Manchester, N. H. He spoke on "The Value of Leadership After College and Various Aspects of Leadership."

The Faculty

University Trustee John L. Collyer '17, president of B. F. Goodrich Co., was called to Washington March 21, to be director of the War Production Board's Rubber Bureau. Endowed with broad powers, Collyer's major task is to bring production of other materials needed in the manufacture of rubber products into balance with synthetic production and manufacturing capacity. The most critical lack is carbon black, with existing or anticipated shortages of rayon cord, cotton cord and fabrics, natural rubber, and bead wire. Collyer is scheduled to remain in Washington for three months.

Alumni Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20 was appointed chairman of the new State Workmen's Compensation Board March 31 by Governor Thomas E. Dewey. She has been vice-chairman of the New York State Industrial Board which, under a 1945 law, was succeeded by the Workmen's Compensation Board April 1.

Professor Alexander M. Drummond, Director of the University Theatre, was one of the final judges for the second playwriting contest for men and women in service, sponsored by the National Theatre Conference.

Dr. R. Hayward Keniston, formerly professor of Romance Languages and Literature and Dean of the Graduate School, was appointed in February dean of the college of literature, science, and the arts at the University of Michigan. Dr. Keniston was for fifteen years professor of Spanish at the University of Chicago, after leaving Cornell in 1925. He joined the University of Michigan faculty in 1940. During the school year, 1943-44, he was on leave from Michigan as attaché in charge of cultural relations at the US Embassy in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

Captain Donald M. Cleary, ★ Grad '38, University Catholic chaplain for seven years, was reported in Luxembourg, having spent months in England, France, and Belgium.

Sergeant Ernst Engel, ★ Varsity ski coach, 1939-41, until he joined the Army ski troops, visited the Campus in mid-March. He was wounded in the knee in the Aleutians and was just discharged from the hospital.

Professor James G. Needham, PhD '98, Entomology, Emeritus, will be until May at the Archbold Biological Station in Lake Placid, Fla., collecting material for a new Manual of Dragonflies of North America.

Major General Hugh J. Gaffney, ★ captain on the ROTC staff from 1926-30, whose Fourth Armored Division performed brilliantly when Lieutenant General Patton's Third Army swept to the Rhine, was promoted March 25 to corps commander.

Necrology

Franklin C. Cornell, 3d. of Ithaca, son of the late Henry W. Cornell '99, grandson of the late Governor Alonzo B. Cornell, and great-grandson of the Founder, died April 2 in Buffalo. Funeral services were in Sage Chapel. Educated in Denver, Colo., he came to Ithaca in 1934, after ten years on Wall Street in New York City, to join the brokerage firm of Arthur B. Treman '23. Besides his wife and two daughters, he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. James H. Sternbergh (Katharine E. Cornell) '13, Mrs. Rene LePrestre (Margaret B. Cornell) '14, and Mrs. Yervant Maxudian (Elizabeth S. Cornell) '28; and three brothers, Ezra Cornell, 3d. '27, Henry W. Cornell, Jr., and Alonzo B. Cornell, 2d.

Professor Birger Platon, head of the department of dairy chemistry at the Agricultural College in Alnarp, Sweden, who was a post-doctorate Fellow of the International Education Board at Cornell from 1926-27, died September 29, 1944, in Sweden. At the University, he did research in Dairy Chemistry and Bacteriology.

'79 BS—Stanford Jay Gibson, retired principal and superintendent of schools in Norwich, March 8, 1945. After his retirement in 1919, he served two terms as treasurer of Chenango County. Sons, Dr. Edwin F. Gibson '10, Kasson S. Gibson '12 of 417 Cumberland Avenue, Chevy Chase, Md., the late Gilbert S. Gibson '20, and Stanford J. Gibson, Jr. '33.

'79—Duncan Campbell Wilson, of 1010 Drayton Street, Savannah, Ga., October 18, 1944.

'92 BS—Walter Douglas Young, of 425 East Hamburg Street, Baltimore, Md., February 25, 1945. He conducted his own business, The Electro-mechanical Co., in Baltimore, Md., until his retirement in 1933. Chi Psi.

'05 AM—Dr. William Williams Henderson, professor of zoology and entomology at Utah State Agricultural College, Logan, Utah, October 31, 1944.

'07 ME—Harry Lee Ames of 91 Lyon Place, Lynbrook, March 22, 1945. He had been an electrical engineer for more than twenty years with Johnson & Higgins, New York City insurance brokers.

'07 ME—Howard White Johnson, proprietor of The Johnson Nursery, March 5, 1945, in La Mesa, Cal.

'35—Lieutenant Robert Louis ★ Howe, USMCR, killed in action on Iwo Jima, in March, 1945. His home was in Southern Pines, N. C. Chi Phi.

'38, '39 BS—Captain Fred Henry ★ Stenstrom, Infantry, killed in action, February 14, 1945, in Germany. A member of the department of horticulture at the University of Illinois, he was granted leave of absence to join the Army in June, 1941. He had also served in France, Belgium, and Holland. His home was at 125 South Fourth Street, Mt. Vernon.

'39 CE—Lieutenant (jg) Gene ★ Louis Hintgen, USNR, who was reported missing March 19, 1945, in an airplane crash at sea near Gayhead, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., presumed dead. He was stationed at Quonset Point, R. I. He was commissioned in 1943; took radar training at Princeton and MIT. His home was in Bismarck, N. Dak. Delta Tau Delta.

'41—Arthur Charles Dalberth, kill-★ ed when the transport plane of which he was co-pilot crashed in Kunming, China, March 5, 1945. He was commissioned pilot in the Air Transport Command at Romulus Field, Mich., in October, 1943. His home was at 39 Pearl Street, Rochester 7.

'45—Private William Joseph ★ Dellapenta, paratrooper, killed in action at Aachen, November 6, 1944. He received a leg fracture two days before D-Day, was hospitalized eight weeks, then went into action. He had participated in the Netherlands invasion. His home was at 933 West Avenue, Buffalo. Sister, Theresa Dellapenta '44, assistant supervisor at the Navy Mess Hall on the Campus.

'46—Corporal Richard L. Gavitt, ★ AUS, member of an anti-tank company in an Infantry division with the Ninth Army, March 1, 1945, in Holland, from wounds received in action. A student in Engineering, he enlisted in November, 1942, and was ordered to active duty in April, 1943. He had trained at Fort Bragg, N. C., Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and Camp Swift, Tex., before going overseas last September. It is believed that he was wounded a few days after the crossing of the Roer River. Phi Delta Theta.

News of the Alumni

Personal items and newspaper clippings about all Cornellians are earnestly solicited

'90 BL; '92, '93 BL—Edmund F. Brown and Mrs. Brown (Mary Relihan) '92 live at 601 South Fourth Street, Columbia, Mo. Mrs. Brown writes: "My husband's victory garden is still providing us with food! Some change from school administrator to gardener! And does he love it!"

'01 AB, '11 PhD—Dr. Emily Hickman, professor of history at New Jersey College of Women, told members of the College Women's Club of Montclair, N. J., March 12, that "no greater crisis faced the Founding Fathers than faces the people of our nation today." chairman of the education committee of the Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, the Committee on the Participation of Women in Postwar Planning, and of education for the Women's Action Committee for Victory and Lasting Peace, Dr. Hickman spoke of the proposals made at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference which she attended. The distinction of these proposals in the solution of the "two fundamental and interrelated ills" which beset the world, "the ills of war and poverty," is in the creation of an effective structure for meeting these problems without the establishment of a super-imposed international government.

For reasons of security, complete mailing addresses of members of the armed forces, except those in training camps within the United States, cannot be published. Designations of military units and the addresses of Naval ships, although required for postal delivery, may be of great value to the enemy if published.

If therefore, you wish to correspond with Cornell friends in the services whose names appear in the News without complete address, the Alumni News will undertake to forward letters from subscribers. Seal your letter in an envelope bearing the full name and rank or grade, if known, of your correspondent, your own return address, and first-class postage. Mail this to us in another envelope and we will add the last-known address and forward your letter.

their families. Captain Kessler has led in the work of rehabilitation. He has led in the practice of encouraging the amputee to wear the prostheses; he has led in the psychological readjustment of our boys so handicapped; he is today one of the nation's leading exponents of cineplastic surgery by which the armless man is enabled to use his artificial arm or arms in a variety of ways. . . . In the light of the war that is raging, in the face of the heavy increase and heartrending reports of tragic casualties, the man who can bend his energies to bring back a life, bring back hope, bring back faith, is worthy of our utmost consideration." Captain Kessler, who supervised the Navy Base hospital in the New Hebrides, is now at the Naval Hospital in Mare Island, Cal.

Cruz, member of the faculty of the University of the Philippines, now in ruins, writes from Bocaue, Bulacan, Philippines, of his experiences during the Japanese invasion: "The Japanese air force struck unexpectedly December 8, 1941, early in the morning. News of the attack was at once broadcast and we, in Los Banos, could hardly believe it. After we recovered from our surprise there was a mad scramble to hoard food. . . . Then followed frantic efforts to find evacuation places to escape air raids. Los Banos and the neighboring towns as far as San Pablo were bombed and strafed December 25, 1941. Our hospital overflowed with the dead and the dying. I actually saw a baby sucking its mother's breast; she was dead but still warm. . . . I led a guerilla group in the college and neighboring towns early in 1942. We got connected with Colonel Straughn whom we kept for more than one and a half years in the mountains. Our guerilleros spread in Manila, Rizal, Laguna, Batangas, and Tayabas. There was espionage and counter-espionage. We were caught, imprisoned, starved, tortured. I was sentenced to be shot, together with twelve other faculty members. Fortunately, the granting of the puppet republic under Laurel saved our lives—general amnesty. Many others, who were caught earlier, were not so fortunate. This reign of peace did not last long. Had I not left Los Banos almost immediately upon my release I'd not be alive today."

POST-WAR OPPORTUNITIES FOR TECHNICALLY-TRAINED GRADUATES

If you are a technically-trained graduate of the class of 1941, 1942, 1943 or 1944 . . . if you entered military service without previous industrial connections . . . The Procter & Gamble Co. has a message of interest for you.

For many years, college men have made careers for themselves with this Company in the departments of Production Management, Chemical Research and Development, Plant Maintenance, and Mechanical Design and Development.

As America's largest manufacturers and processors of soaps, glycerine products, and vegetable fats and oils, this Company operates 29 factory and mill units in the United States and Canada. Each working day these plants produce one million dollars worth of soap, shortening and oil.

During the past 15 years an average of one factory each year—at home and abroad—has been added. Post-war plans are to continue this growth and to expand Company operations into new factories with new products and far-reaching technical developments.

Procter & Gamble has been built by men coming up through the business. Factory Superintendents generally are young men. The Company believes in developing its main group of executives instead of hiring them from the outside.

We do not wish to distract your attention from your present very important assignment. But when you are ready to return to civilian life, we should like the opportunity to discuss with you the industrial opportunities this Company has to offer.

Write now for an application blank and a copy of our illustrated booklet, "Opportunities for Employment."

WHAT PARENTS SAY ABOUT CAMP OTTER

"I wish you to know how much Ernest has enjoyed Camp Otter for past two summers. He now feels at home in the woods. This is especially gratifying to me because as a boy two of my best summers were spent at Camp Otter."

"He thoroughly enjoyed the summer and I feel that it did him a lot of good."—Cornell '26

"He has had a grand summer. I can tell from his letters that he enjoyed it tremendously and you certainly are to be congratulated in your handling of the boys."—Cornell '22

"We have enthusiastic letters from Porter. You'll be glad to know his reactions that its the 'nuts' up here and the food is swell and he likes his counselor 'Don' too."

"You, Prof. Young, and Fred Goellner sure did something for Tommy this summer! He is a different boy: more poise and assurance and he is much more self-contained. Mrs. L— and I thank you and your wife sincerely."

"We certainly appreciate your interest in Barty and feel that the summer did him a lot of good."—Cornell '20

"Ted has been singing the praises of Camp Otter and relating the wonderful experiences he had ever since his return home."

"Just a line to assure you that Bruce's summer at Otter is repaying us a hundred per cent. He arrived home with more real boy cockiness and self assurance than we would think possible to instill in one boy in a short summer."

"I believe it has done him a world of good and certainly hope conditions are such that he will be able to go back next year."—Cornell '18

"I want you to know how pleased we are with the results of Thomas' eight weeks at Camp Otter, and how he has toughened up in such good shape."—Cornell '26

"I feel very much that Jimmy got considerable good out of camp and I think he thoroughly enjoyed himself."—Cornell '25

"I do not know how many years my boys have been attending your Camp Otter but I realize that it is a very long time. The camp has served a very useful purpose of carrying my boys through a period in their lives when I felt that camp life was important and facilities are just what boys need at that age."

"We were so pleased with the way Johnny looked and acted. People all over the neighborhood have remarked how well he looks, and to us there is a marked improvement in many of his characteristics."

"The kids arrived in good shape and are still full of camp. There is no doubt about their having had a good time."—Cornell '18

"The boys are very enthusiastic about their Camp life. They seem so well pleased with their counsellors, and I think you were fortunate under present circumstances in obtaining such good timber."

"I would like to take this opportunity of both reminiscing about Camp Otter and complimenting you on the present day management."—Cornell '24

"We get happy letters from our boys. Bob writes 'There is awfully good food up here and plenty of it too.'"—Cornell '11

"As you know I went there for nine years and feel that it was a very important part of my education. I think both boys expect to beat the old man's record and their mother and I think it would be a very good thing for them if they do so."

esting country. In the railroad station I saw a native woman who, believe it or not, had more money in her nose than I had in my pocket. I arrived at this spot at 0830, saw the town and did my business, and having time on my hands I wandered into the Provincial Veterinary Office, and had quite a chat with the officer-in-charge. We discussed farm machinery, abortion in cattle, poultry diseases, crop rotation, and numerous other subjects. This was just another instance when I was glad of my Cornell degree. . . . You should see the land waste—it is really appalling—and it is pretty good soil too. . . . I have always contended that a country is only as advanced as its agriculture, and India bears out this statement. Although enormous crops are produced here, just think what could be done if they had the benefit of agricultural training and education. . . . Their tea yield could be tripled with the use of high-wheeled machinery. The tea bushes are planted too closely together, making it most difficult to cultivate, let alone pick the crop, but with the use of large-wheeled vehicles, the machinery could do the job. It would be simpler to eliminate every other row of these bushes; while this might shorten the crop, labor could be saved. But then labor is so cheap that I have a feeling I am just going around in a circle."

But Sandy can't do everything . . .

THE DAUGHTER of the house—so lovely and so beloved—is safe and warm in her little bed. Sandy, too, sleeps peacefully, but at the slightest sound his eyes open—his ears perk up—and he sets all nerves alert to fight in the face of danger.

Yes, Sandy is a tried and true night watchman—and a trusted guard in daytime too. But there are many things he cannot do. He has no means to protect against the unknown future. Only Dad can manage that—and best, through life insurance. By planning an adequate Prudential program he can provide for the needs of his family in case they should ever be left without him. He can arrange with The Prudential to provide money for current expenses, for emergencies, for the education of his children, for the many needs that cannot be anticipated now.

Through Prudential, wise fathers secure a welcome peace of mind—knowing their families are provided for in the days to come, as well as in the present.

You will be interested in the various types of policies Prudential offers for such family needs. Call your nearest Prudential representative, and invite him to show you what these plans can do for your family.
