VOL. XXV, No. 34

ITHACA, N. Y., MAY 31, 1923

PRICE 12 CENTS

MELLOW-THROATED conversational orioles in tall elms; long even-tide shadows across sloping lawns; professors poring over blue-books into the sma' hours; seniors in serious mien between examinations and vocal groupings on the steps of Goldwin Smith Hall; all these presage the departure of the Class of 1923 and mark the sober period between Spring Day and the Commencement Exercises.

THE LAST of the All-Cornell dances held in the Old Armory this year included a light supper and two orchestras. These dances are a successful social feature. Originally planned as a positive and constructive substitute for some of the forms of pre-Volstead diversion, they have earned a favorable place in undergraduate life.

ELMIRA won the inter-high-school athletic contests on Schoellkopf Oval last Saturday, as a preliminary to the State-wide meet held on the grounds of Union College at Schenectady on Decoration Day. Ithaca High School made a runaway of the relay race, winning from all the schools of the nine counties included in the Ithaca district.

JOSEPH A. LAZARUS '25, 112-pound boxing champion of the University, and runner-up in the recent amateur championships, will be at the camp of Jimmy Wilde when the latter trains for his bout with Pancho Villa. Lazarus is relied on to give training in speed and footwork, at which he proved himself a master, when most of the sporting writers contended that he should have been awarded the amateur championship over Al Bender of New York.

THE RED KEY scored when the Yale crew manager sent an open letter to The Cornell Daily Sun expressing the gratitude of the Yale men for the way they had been welcomed, entertained, and sent away from Ithaca on the occasion of the Spring Day Regatta.

THE ERA has incorporated. It moved across the street to new quarters and held a house-warming on June 1. Among the new board of directors are Morris Bishop '13, Foster Coffin '12, Professor Bristow Adams, and Arthur B. Wellar. A large part of its stock issue has been subscribed at $25 a share, and prospects are better than they have been for eight years past.

A NEW RUSHING agreement, generally conceded to be more sensible than others of recent years, and with an enforcement committee containing Faculty members, has been adopted by most of the houses. It provides that there shall be no rushing between September 1 and September 26, no meeting of incoming trains, and no violation of the rule that takes freshmen out of the houses after eleven o'clock at night. Those who are known to have studied the rushing problem carefully say that the plan, devised largely by the Student Council, holds real promise. At the first meeting, thirty houses signed the agreement, without a dissenting voice or an attempt to amend or modify it.

THE SUN ceased publication on Monday May 28, but promises a special Senior Week issue to appear June 15.

WILBUR S. HOWELL '24, an Arts student from Troupsburg, won the '86 Memorial Prize from a field of nine contestants in the finals, with a speech in opposition to the Ku Klux Klan as attempting to usurp the powers of the Government itself.

KAPPA PSI is the winner of the interfraternity bowling contest, with Alpha Psi as the runner-up. This is the third year that Kappa Psi has held the lead.

PROHIBITION pro and con engrossed the attention of a small gathering at Barnes Hall recently when John L. Elliot '92, founder of the Ethics Club, spoke in favor of it, and Dean James E. Creighton '92 opposed it.

EDGAR L. KAW '23, varsity football captain, will coach St. Lawrence University at Canton during the coming season; he will have as his aide Walter P. Knauss '21.

WOMEN'S CREWS have abandoned the four-oared boats on Beebe Lake and are now practicing on the Inlet in the eight-oared gigs used by the inter-college crews. Before the end of the term they will settle the inter-class women's championship.

THE SAGE CHAPEL Preacher for June 4 will be the Rev. Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, minister of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church of Detroit.

THE HONOR COMMITTEE has ruled that extended quotations, without acknowledgment, in English essays constitute a plain violation of the honor system.

ON TUESDAY, May 22, Dr. Charles P. Berkey, professor of geology in Columbia lectured on "Explorations in Central Mongolia and the Desert of Gobi."

JOHN E. GILMORE '24 of Holcomb, New York, business manager of The Cornell Countryman, was elected president of the Agricultural College Magazines, Associated, at its annual convention in Columbus, Ohio, on May 4 and 5. The organization includes most of the student papers published at the various State colleges of agriculture.

A TWO-MAN EXHIBIT of paintings was on view during the week of May 14-19 in the gallery in White Hall, where Professors Olaf Brauner and Walter King Stone of the College of Architecture had a number of subjects in oil. Professor Brauner's group was mainly of portraits and contained two of Mrs. Irene Castle Treman and one of Betty Quarles, daughter of the University organist. Professor Stone's contributions were all landscapes, some near Ithaca, some painted in the Berkshires, and some in the far West.

TWO MEMBERS of the editorial board of The Cornell Daily Sun, Jerome W. Thompson '24, and James A. Austin '24, took part in the annual meeting of the Eastern Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, held at Cambridge under the auspices of The Harvard Crimson. Last year the Sun entertained the association in Ithaca.

THE KU KLUX KLAN is said to threaten intervention in the case of a student who was suspended by the Honor Committee during the past term, with the threat directed against the instructor who reported the case. The committee retaliated by indefinitely dropping the student until such time as he may make a further statement in explanation of his threat.

CAROLYN SLATER '24, president of the Women's Student Council, addressed the Women's Intercollegiate Self-government Association in annual convention at Ohio State University, early in May. Her subject was the honor system.

THE NEXT biennial intercollegiate conference on undergraduate activities will be held at Cornell in 1925. The conference which recently closed at the University of Pennsylvania passed a resolution against drinking, and made a statement, in respect to radicalism, that students are more conservative than their professors.

CORNELL-IN-CHINA activities have given rise to fervid correspondence in The Cornell Daily Sun, and the local Chinese colony seems decidedly divided as to the purposes and methods of raising the money.

CORNELL DEBATERS have had a successful season in their first participation in the Eastern Collegiate Debate League, composed of Yale, Dartmouth, Brown, Williams, Amherst, and Cornell, with Pennsylvania and Columbia in a triangular league. The outstanding victory of the year was over Columbia, when Cornell was the first team to beat the Blue and White, a team already selected to debate with Oxford and Cambridge.

BOXES for the Senior Ball have been lowered in price to encourage the participation of some of the smaller house parties.

'01 EXPECTS CROWD

The Class of 1901 announces that the following members have signified their intention of being in Ithaca for the reunion June 15 to 17: James O'Malley, Walter Moffat, R. Irving Dodge, Victor D. Borst, Frederick Willis, Fred L. Ackerman, Roy M. Hart, William J. Baker, Willis H. Carrier, Frederick Will, Harry Bostwick, Reginald Trautschold, George E. J. Pistor, Manton M. Wyvell, John L. Senior, Warren G. Ogden, C. C. Atwood, Walter E. Phelps, Anthony H. Hansen, Edwin F. Thayer, Bryant Fleming, Hiram Mintz, A. R. Ward, Bascom Little, Gerald B. Fluhrer, Richard H. Johnston, James C. Otis, W. J. Childs, Norman C. Brizse, Clarence H. Fay, Arthur H. Sherwood, Ralph Chatillon, Roger B. Williams, Frederick C. Tag, Earl J. Bennett, Sidney Lowenthal, James N. Oliphant, Clyde Potts, William Metcalf, Jr., Frederick D. Ray, Harvey J. Couch, Walter S. Crandell, Joseph P. Harris, Clarence A. Tryon, Edward L. Robertson, George T. Vail, Herbert D. Cohen, E. H. Vanderhoef, Nelson O. Tiffany, A. B. Morrison, E. R. Alexander, Sao-ke A. Sze, George D. Crofts, Layton S. Lyon, Arthur J. Sweet, Herbert Coward, Eugene L. Norton, Fred C. Perkins.

BASEBALL ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The annual meeting of the Cornell Alumni Baseball Association for the election of members of the Executive Committee and for such other business as may be presented, will be held in Ithaca on Saturday, June 16, 1923, at 10.30 a. m., in the office of the Athletic Association. Everyone entitled to wear the baseball C is entitled to vote.

F. O. AFFELD, Jr., '97, President.

'19 COMES BACK AGAIN

"Fuzzy" Seelbach, secretary of the Class of '19, says notwithstanding the fact that the Class came back last year in force, he already has the names of nearly forty members who will be here again this year for the reunions June 15-17. In sending in the list of names he adds this personal note to members of the class:

"Come on, you birds; here's a chance to get your name in the ALUMNI NEWS. Send your money in and let us know that you are coming back." Here's the list:

C. A. Wright, L. A. Corwin, C. F. Hendrie, Y. C. Mar, J. P. Corrigan, "Duke" Elmer, J. W. De Forest, F. G. Royce, J. G. Pritchard, Jr., D. C. Wiggins, J. B. Hillas, E. A. Leibman, "Doc" Shackelton, "Red" Cross, H. K. Rynalski, R. H. Brown, "Fig" Newton, N. L. Nelson, H. C. Bowman, J. L. Buys, Seth W. Heartfield, E. Keiler, J. W. Cunningham, "Bo" Dial, "Bob" Spear, Percy L. Dunn, H. B. Ortner, "Morg" Kendall, "Jim" Wilson, "Chet" Gillespie "Al" Sapserston, "Fuzzy" Seelbach, L. B. June, G. E. Cross, and H. A. Stevenson.

SPORT STUFF

The Poughkeepsie Regatta will be held on June 28th. Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Washington and possibly the Navy will compete. There will be the usual observation train.

Tickets for the observation train are handled by the Board of Stewards. The Cornell quota, however, will be turned over to the Athletic Association for distribution. The sale of these will open for members of the Athletic Association on June 11—the sale to non-members on June 12. We don't know, and shan't know until the tickets arrive in Ithaca, what cars have been assigned to Cornell.

Observation train tickets are $5.50 each. Alumni desiring tickets should address and make their checks payable to The Cornell University Athletic Association, Ithaca, New York. Fifteen cents should be added to each remittance to cover registration and postage.

With the exception of the Poughkeepsie regatta and the final baseball games intercollegiate sport is over for the year. Preparing for examinations is the principal undergraduate activity at the moment.

GOOD WORK AT ROCHESTER

Fifty-five hundred dollars in new annual subscriptions to the Alumni Fund, and still going strong, is the report which was made by the Rochester Cornellian Council Committee on Saturday, May 26. The Rochester campaign is one of the most thorough and comprehensive that have been conducted this year.

Rochester Cornellians are not only canvassing Rochester, but they are extending their efforts to the six surrounding counties. The subscriptions range in amounts from $1 to $500 annually, three having been received from Newark, N. Y. of $250 a year.

The total of $5,500 reported on May 26 was received from 205 subscribers making an average of over $26 for each pledge. At the time of the last report E. B. Neil's team was leading with 27 subscriptions totaling $1590. E. H. Stuart, captain of the Wayne County team, was second with 46 subscriptions and $1,291 and Ralph Gorsline's team was third with 26 subscriptions and $1102.50.

Walter Todd '09 of the Rochester Committee wrote to Harold Flack, executive secretary of the Cornellian Council, on May 26:

"Our total tonight stands about $5,500 not including several large subscriptions which have been promised to us, and without any reports whatever from any of the counties with one exception."

If other important Cornell centers do as well proportionately as the Rochester district the goal of $250,000 annually for Cornell from Cornellians, should not be difficult to reach.

'20 WOMEN COMING

Present returns indicate that most of the class will attend the three-year reunion of the women of 1920. The final "pep" letter has been mailed to members of the Class, all of whom are urged to return the enclosed reply card promptly to the reunion chairman, Mary H. Donlon, 40 Exchange Place, New York, so that the Committee may know how many to expect.

Plans for the reunion include a Class picnic on Beebe, the Class dinner, a trip to Enfield, and a boat ride on Cayuga with the other classes of the five-year group. A photographic exhibit is being arranged, and those who cannot bring them are requested to send any photographs of interest, including snapshots of themselves and of their husbands and children and homes, with historical data annexed, not later than June 10, to Mrs. Robert C. Osborn, 301 North Aurora Street, Ithaca, New York.

Fourteen alumnae of the Class living in Ithaca have formed a committee, with Silence Rowlee and Alice Erskine as chairmen, to welcome back their classmates returning for the reunion. They will meet the New York and Philadelphia trains Friday morning and escort members of the Class to the headquarters in Sage.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED WITH CARS

If any alumnus with a car wishes to be of real service to the reunions June 14, 15, 16, and 17, Bill (W. J.) Norton '02 offers him the opportunity. Twenty-five such volunteers are needed to meet all trains and handle passengers to and from the various events from Thursday to Sunday of the reunion period. Bill assures them that the volunteers will enjoy the party all the more for rendering this service. He will act as chairman for the Reunion Bus Squad. Those who wish to volunteer should advise the Alumni Representative, Morrill Hall, Ithaca, of their willingness.

25 YEAR CLASS HAS FIFTY

Fifty members of the Class of '98 have so far signified their intention of being at Ithaca for the twenty-five year reunion of their class June 15-17, and others are expected. Those who have said they would be here are: W. A. Ansley, Wilton Bentley, H. B. Brewster, Wylie Brown, C. E. Carpenter, L. S. Carpenter, H. K. Casler, C. K. De Groat, S. J. Druskin, L. L. Emerson, A. H. Emery, C. M. Eshelman, J. B. Fenton, Alfred Frank, Jesse Fuller, Jr., F. E. Gannett, C. W. Gennet, Jr., J. E. Gignoux, J. T. Gorman, H. H. Haskell, L. H. Hood, Edgar Johnston, J. D. Kennedy, John J. Kuhn, A. J. MacElroy, W. W. Macon, J. D. Maguire, C. M. Manly, F. W. Midgley, W. L. Mulligan, F. C. Neilson, J. C. Nellegar, F. Y. Parsons, F. W. Platt, C. U. Powell, R. L. Rathbone, F. A. Richmond, S. E. Rose, J. E. Rutzler, E. J. Savage, W. B.

DESCRIBES RUSSIAN CONDITIONS

At a recent meeting of the Ethics Club in Barnes Hall Alexey V. Babine '92, for several years recently a resident of Elatma, Russia, told a harrowing tale of present conditions in Russia. It was the narrative of an eyewitness, and he confined himself to what he knew to be facts.

The war hit the peasantry in the midst of harvest, a very inconvenient time; still they endured and persevered for two years. Then came rumors of disloyalty on the part of commanders, and even on the part of the Czarina. In April, 1917, a band of anarchists from Switzerland preached a separate peace for Russia. The Kerensky government was said to have working funds from Germany. In October, 1917, this government was overturned and the era of communism began, with a very shrewd move. Soldiers and sailors proceeded to search every house and confiscate arms of all kinds. Thus Russia was rendered helpless. It was the communist theory that everything belonged to the state; the citizen could have only one suit of clothes, one suit of underwear, etc. Presently there grew up anti-Soviet clubs, which met secretly and which developed into Municipal Protection Leagues; but in time these were suppressed and now there is nothing between the Soviet and the citizen. Even the soldiers are not allowed to retain arms in their possession.

From the first a card ration system was used. Presently the supplies, never large, disappeared in some places altogether and people could get nothing for days at a time. The common ration first issued was one pound of rye bread. An unruly person was deprived of his ration. At the time of the famine this was made one-eighth of a pound, and one had to claim a place in the bread line by two in the morning to get even this. People were reduced to eating any kind of food, even human corpses.

Nationalization extended to all phases of life—especially to furniture and houses. People were herded together almost indiscriminately in the filthiest quarters imaginable. The fuel situation early became acute, and there was no fuel at all after the money became worthless.

Some 550,000 criminals were released or escaped from prison, and some of these at once became and still are the heads of the administration in many places.

The favorite sport of the soviets has been the massacre of the bourgeoisie and intelligentsia. They admit having executed over 1,750,000, and the truth is nearer two millions. The most cruel modes of killing have been freely practiced. The torture chambers of the Inquisition have nothing on these modern champions of a new social order.

The only industry left at all is the printing of money. By the fall of 1922 wheat bread had become worth two million rubles and rye bread 250,000 rubles a pound. A meal in Moscow cost from three to five million rubles. The number of rubles in circulation is 280 trillion.

Lenin owes his power to the people who were sent to Russia to disorganize it. Trotsky has large funds abroad. His sister was found carrying away ten millions in gold. If a rebellion breaks out, the army will not side with the Reds. Its members have suffered too much.

The only solace the people have is in religion. The churches, looted of their treasures, are constantly full of worshippers.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

Alumni Club Luncheons

Cornell luncheons are held regularly in the cities listed below. All Cornellians are urged to attend even though they may not be residents of the cities.

Boston—Monday, City Club, 12.30 p. m.

Buffalo—Friday, Statler Hotel, 12.30 p. m.

Buffalo Women—First Saturday, College Club.

Chicago—Thursday, Hamilton Club, 12.30 p. m.

Chicago Women—First Saturday, College Club, 12.30 p. m.

Detroit—Thursday, Hotel Cadillac, Ivory Room, 12.15 p. m.

Hartford—Second Wednesday, University Club, 30 Lewis Street.

Ithaca Women—Wednesday, Coffee House, Barnes Hall, 12.30 p. m.

Milwaukee—Friday, University Club, 12.15 p. m.

Newark, N. J.—First and third Fridays, Downtown Club, Kinney Building, 12.30 p. m.

New York—Daily, Cornell Club, 30 W. 44th Street.

Philadelphia—Daily, Cornell Club, 310 South Fifteenth Street.

Pittsburgh—Friday, William Penn Hotel, Hawaiian Room, 12 noon.

Portland, Oregon—First and third Fridays, University Club.

Rochester—Wednesday, Powers Hotel, 12.15 p. m.

Syracuse—Thursday, Onondaga Hotel.

Tulsa—First Tuesday, University Club.

Albany Women

Cornell women of the New York Capitol District, which includes Albany, Troy, Schenectady, and neighboring towns, held their annual spring picnic at Springside Inn, Troy, on May 26. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. E. M. Freund (Rose Boochever) '15, Frances K. Ray '98, Sophie H. Harvith '18, Jane L. Jones '11, and Frances L. McTammany '10.

Milwaukee

Carl F. John '22, the new secretary of the Milwaukee Cornell Club, says that the state of dormancy of that organization has come to an end. At the last business meeting Harrison P. Reed '09 was elected president, Armin C. Frank '17 treasurer, and John secretary.

A recent talk by Louis Fuertes '97 before the Club led to the immediate appointment of a committee to stage a "bird hunt", which was duly held on April 27 at Hilgen's Spring Park, thirty-two miles in the country.

"We were all very anxious to be given the opportunity to emulate our friend Louie", says John, "so the committee took us out into the sticks and gave us free reign to try our wiles with the birds. Much to our chagrin, few of us were successful in enticing these pleasing creatures to us. However, before the trip back to town was completed we found that we had some very accomplished 'ah-poooh' snorers and one or two of the dangerous Pullman type. A good time was had by all."

The Club now meets for luncheon every Friday at 12.15 at the University Club, and plans to continue its luncheon through June.

On May 8, Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks, who had addressed the Rotary Club and the Milwaukee Bankers' Association, spoke to an informal gathering of Cornellians at the University Club. He has just returned from a study of economic conditions in sixteen European countries, and told his hearers that during the latter part of last year the difficulties in Europe were mainly political. Economic conditions seemed to be improving, he said, except as they were hampered by political considerations. Europeans have begun to realize that the only ultimate relief must come from themselves.

Louisiana

The Cornell Club of Louisiana was sponsor for the appearance at the St. Charles Hotel in New Orleans on May 7 of Professor Vladimir Karapetoff in a public lecture on engineering and a piano recital.

Detroit

The regular weekly luncheon of Detroit Cornellians on May 24 is reported to have been an unusually good one. Commissioner Joseph Martin, who was prevented by illness from speaking two weeks before, traced the development of Detroit since he became head of the Department of Public Works.

Seven out-of-town Cornellians who were there to attend the meeting of the Association of Sanitary Engineers, gave a cosmopolitan touch to the luncheon. They were Marshall B. Palmer '95 of Syracuse, New York; John W. Ackerman '97 of Watertown, New York; Homer F. Cox '97 of New York; Clarence M. Baker '08 of Madison, Wisconsin; Asbury C. Decker '08 of Birmingham, Alabama; Howard T. Critchlow '10 of Trenton, New Jersey; and Ellsworth L. Filby '17 of Columbia, South Carolina.

The Detroiters are making plans for their annual picnic, and meanwhile invite Cornellians who visit Detroit to remember that their weekly luncheons on Thursday are open to them.

Worcester

The Cornell Club of Worcester, Massachusetts, is planning an outing for the afternoon and evening of June 5 at the Tatassit Canoe Club on Lake Quinsigamond. Although the program has not yet been announced, it is planned to meet at the Club about five, have a swim and possibly a baseball game, with supper about seven, followed by singing and talks. The Worcester Club invites any Cornellians who pass that way to come to the party.

Binghamton

Professor Riverda H. Jordan, of the Department of Education, spoke to more than forty members of the Cornell Club of Binghamton at the regular luncheon meeting on May 14 at Hans-Jones Restaurant. He said that although education was the best form of investment to-day the United States in 1912 spent nearly twice as much for tobacco and tobacco products as for education.

Elmer F. Kinsman '20 gave several selections, and "Ted" Medlong '18 played for the general singing which followed the luncheon.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NOTES

PRESIDENT MURRAY BARTLETT of Hobart has received the D.S.C. for extraordinary heroism in action in Villers-Tourneille, France, in May, 1918, and in the Chazelle Ravine, south of Soissons, on July 22 of the same year. Voluntarily assuming the duties of chaplain of the 18th Infantry, he displayed conspicuous bravery in caring for the wounded and burying the dead of the regiment under intense enemy fire. On July 22 he was severely wounded while in close proximity to the front line.

THE HONOR SYSTEM has been officially wiped out at the University of Illinois, notwithstanding the fact that the students voted on February 23 by a 10-1 majority to continue the system.

GOVERNOR SMALL of Illinois has just signed the University of Illinois appropriation bill giving the university $10,500,000 for the next biennium. There was no revision of the bill by the Legislature. Of this sum $8,000,000 will be used for running expenses and $2,500,000 for four major buildings (a library, women's residence hall, men's gymnasium, and College of Commerce building) and important additions to the heating plant.

Track Team Fifth

The track team finished fifth in the Intercollegiate Championship games at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, Saturday, won by the University of California for the third successive time, but from a Cornell point of view there were two compensating and encouraging accomplishments.

Edward B. Kirby, a junior, won the mile, against a fine field, in the very fast time of 4 minutes, 17 4-5 seconds, and stamped himself as one of the greatest milers Coach Moakley has produced, even a possible successor to John Paul Jones, while Captain Frederick Lovejoy won a smashing victory in the 220-yard dash, defeating the finest sprinters of the country.

Besides these two first places, Lovejoy scored two points by taking fourth place in the hundred-yard dash, E. V. Gouinlock and C. K. Greening scored a point each in the pole vault by tying with Robusch of Pittsburgh for third place at 12 feet, and H. V. Bonsal scored a point by finishing fifth in the two-mile run.

A. B. Treman, Cornell's indoor hurdling champion, qualified easily Friday in the trials of the 120-yard high hurdles but in the semi-finals on Saturday he caught his shoe on the fifth hurdle, while leading the field, and was eliminated. Others who qualified in Friday's trials, but failed to place Saturday were W. F. Bernart in the half-mile run and H. D. Niles in the 220-yard dash.

The meet proved what Cornellians had appreciated right along, that while Cornell had a well balanced, all-around team, men of first rank were too few to make the team a factor for first honors.

Kirby's victory was one of the outstanding accomplishments of the meet. Connolly of Georgetown was the favorite and other notable milers entered were Douglass of Yale, Webster of Princeton, and Sanborn of M. I. T. Douglass of Yale led for a little more than two laps, but then Kirby went out and assumed command.

He set a heart-breaking pace and though Connolly challenged in the last quarter, Kirby was more than a match for him and he swept across the tape fifteen yards to the good. Connolly was second, Douglass third, Sanborn fourth, and Webster fifth. Kirby finished in fine form.

Only twice before has a Cornell miler beaten Kirby's time. The intercollegiate record for the mile is 4 minutes, 14 2-5 seconds, set by John Paul Jones in 1913. L. V. Wingdnagle, another Moakley product, won the mile at Cambridge in 4 minutes 15 seconds in 1916.

Lovejoy won the 220 in 21 4-5 seconds, coming up about midway to pass Woodring, the Syracuse and Olympic star who had previously won the 440. Leconey, last year's 100 and 200 winner, finished fourth, while third and fifth places were taken by Clarke of Johns Hopkins and Hill of Pennsylvania, respectively.

California, with a team of 13 men, scored 39½ points, nearly all of them in the field events. Becker's third in the 120-yard high hurdles, for three points, represents all that the Native Sons won on the track. They won one first place, Neufeld's victory in the discus and Norris tied with Owen of Pennsylvania in the pole vault.

In the discus throw California scored ten points, in the javelin seven, in the shot put six, broad jump five, high jump four, pole vault 4½ or a total of 36½ points.

The javelin and discus throws, added to the program last year for the first time, and therefore new to Eastern teams, have been for some years fixtures on Western track programs. In these events the Bears scored seventeen points.

The summary of the meet follows:

California, 39½; Princeton, 33; Yale, 23; Pennsylvania, 22½; Cornell, 15; Penn State, 13; Syracuse, 13; Johns Hopkins, 12; Dartmouth, 10; Georgetown, 7; Harvard, 6; Rutgers, 5; Bowdoin, 5; Lafayette, 5; M. I. T., 5; N. Y. U., 4; Williams, 3; Pittsburgh, 3; Boston College, 1.

Yale Wins Baseball

Landing on Rollo for a home run and a triple in the fifth inning, Yale overcame a Cornell lead of 4 to 2 in Saturday's game on the new field, and eventually won out by a score of 8 to 5. Rollo was benched after the Blue had scored three runs in the fifth, and Knipe finished the game for Cornell. Extra base hits loomed big in Yale's triumph, Mallory knocking out a home run, O'Hearn and Pond triples and Pond and Cosgrove doubles.

For a time it seemed as if Cornell might win. Yale got off to a two-run lead in the opening half of the first inning. Cosgrove doubled and Rollo gave bases on balls to O'Hearn and Eddy. Mallory singled to first, scoring Cosgrove and when Rollo, still unsteady, hit Ewing, he forced O'Hearn in with the second run.

Cornell came right back, however, in her half of the first and tied the score. Woodin and Fox walked and came home on singles by Bickley and Frantz.

Cornell went ahead in the third when

Bickley singled, stole second, and came home on Pond's wild pitch, and in the fourth increased this lead when Rollo drove a double to center field and scored on poor throws by Cosgrove and Mallory.

Things looked fairly rosy, but in the fifth Rollo blew up. O'Hearn tripled, Eddy walked, and Mallory slammed out a home run to center field. In the seventh Yale scored another run, Jenkins reaching first on Bickley's bad throw and Pond smashing out a two bagger. In Cornell's half Woodin singled and scored on a sacrifice, stolen base and O'Hearn's bad throw. To put the game on ice Yale scored two more in the ninth on Bickley's error and a three-base hit by Pond, the Yale pitcher's third hit of the game.

After the opening inning Pond had Cornell guessing. He allowed but five hits, while Yale got six off Rollo and three off Knipe. The box score:

Freshmen Track Wins

The freshman track team defeated the Syracuse yearlings in a dual meet at Syracuse Saturday by a score of 66½ to 59½. Strength in the middle distances turned the trick.

Freshman Baseball Defeated

At baseball the freshmen were not so fortunate as the track men, falling before the Penn State freshmen in Ithaca by a 4 to 1 score.

Tie for Lacrosse Championship

Cornell and Syracuse tied for the championship of the Northern Division of the Intercollegiate Lacrosse League. Fine victories by the Cornellians over Syracuse and Harvard, the latter by a score of 15 to 2, on the Crimson's home field, brought Coach Bawlf's proteges on even terms with the Orange, which had won the championship for the past two years.

Suggestion of a play-off of the tie was advanced, but that was found impracticable; hence this year's honors are shared between the two leaders.

Although few veterans were available at the beginning of the year, Coach Bawlf built up a capable organization which improved steadily as the season advanced. Lacrosse now seems to be soundly organized. The record this year includes victories over Colgate, Yale, St. Johns, Pennsylvania State, Harvard, and Syracuse. The team lost to Pennsylvania and Hobart.

Both Crews Win at Cambridge

The crews swept to victory over Harvard on the Charles last Saturday evening, the varsity winning by about a length and three quarters, while the freshman eight had about three lengths on its Crimson rival. The water was so rough and choppy that at times it seemed as if the shells would be swamped, and the freshman race was postponed until 8.30 o'clock (daylight saving time) because of the unfavorable conditions. That race was rowed in twilight under a young moon.

Twice postponed because of rough water the varsity race got under way about seven o'clock. For the first mile the crews were close together. Harvard went ahead at the start for a slight lead but Cornell gradually drew up and then forged slowly to the fore. Both crews rowed a low stroke the first mile, Harvard 32 to Cornell's 30. The latter got a nice run on the boat between strokes and gradually crept ahead.

At the Harvard bridge, a mile from the start, Cornell led by three quarters of a length, and began raising the beat to 33 and 34. The shells soon ran into heavier water, however, and both dropped the stroke again. The last half mile was rowed under trying conditions. The water was whipped by a strong breeze which blew with the current, and was churned by launches; and the final drive to the finish was as much a test of sheer power as of skill.

The time: Cornell 10:11 1-5; Harvard 10:17 1-5. Course, one mile and seven-eighths.

In the freshman race both crews rowed a higher stroke than the varsity boats. The Harvard yearlings got away first and in the first quarter of a mile shot out half a length ahead. Cornell, however, soon began to draw up and by the bridge had command of the race. As the Harvard freshman eight is rated as among the best of the year, this victory, on top of the defeat of the Yale freshmen last Saturday, stamps this year's Cornell yearling crew as unusually good.

Time: Cornell 10:21 1-5; Harvard, 10:31 1-5.

Both Cornell crews were boated as in the Spring Day Regatta at Ithaca.

Tennis Team Ties

In the final match of the season the tennis team tied Colgate at Hamilton Saturday, score 3 to 3.

Pennsylvania's tennis team proved too much for Cornell May 19th, winning by a score of 4 to 1. The matches were played in Ithaca. The only Cornell victory was scored by Barredo, who defeated Morgan 1-6, 6-2, 7-5. Norvell of Pennsylvania beat Captain Muller 6-3, 16-14; Lingelbach won from Huang 6-2, 6-2, and Steele defeated Wile 6-1, 8-6, 6-3.

In the only doubles match Morgan and Norvell, Pennsylvania, defeated Raynor and Barredo, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

NAVY PROMOTIONS

Cushing Phillips, C.E. '17, John J. Chew, M.E. '15, John J. Gromfine, C.E. '17, John C. Gebbard, C.E. '19, and Robert E. Bassler, C.E. '17, were recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant (senior grade) in the United States Navy. They are assistant civil engineers in the Navy.

Phillips is with the United States Marines at Paris Island, S. C.; Gebbard is on a Government assignment in the Virgin Islands; Chew is stationed at the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, Pa.; Gromfine is stationed at the Navy Yard, Puget Sound, Wash.; Bassler is with the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. He is the Navy Department unofficial representative on the Shrine Pageant Committee, of which General A. A. Fries, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service, is chairman. The Shriners will hold their annual convention in Washington on June 3-7, and the number of visitors it has been estimated will be from 300,000 to 500,000. Plans have been made for 30,000 tourist automobiles, and 6,700 Pullman cars will house a portion of the crowds. Bassler has also been designated by Admiral L. E. Gregory, C.E.C., U.S.N., as the representative of the Bureau of Yards and Docks on the Navy Department Shrine Committee of which Admiral R. E. Coontz, U.S.N., present chief of Naval Operations, is chairman.

KAPPA PSI, local fraternity, became Sigma Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon in four-day installation ceremonies which began on May 24. Other fraternities on the Hill were invited to send representatives to a smoker at the lodge on Thursday evening, at which Professors Lyman Wilson and Bristow Adams were the speakers. At the formal installation banquet held at the Republic Inn at Freeville on Saturday evening, Professor Martin W. Sampson was the principal speaker, and David S. Cook '24 of South Bryon, New York, spoke for the undergraduates.

REUNIONS HAVE CHANGED

JUST three weeks remain before the reunions of twenty-one classes will begin. This year will see the largest number of classes that has ever held reunions in Ithaca except at the unusual occasion of the Semi-Centennial Celebration. It includes five of our largest classes and many unusually active smaller ones. It promises to be an exceptionally pleasant experience, even for those who are accustomed to attend class reunions.

There have been in the past few years, some important developments in the reunion idea, notably in the years since the opening of the dormitory group. Those who grasp the principal changes will have a much pleasanter time than those who attempt to follow the beaten path that was the custom even as late as five years ago.

Speaking frankly, even at the risk of finding some one's pet corn, the problem, which was at one time the taking care of the non-fraternity man, now has shifted to the problem of what to do with the fraternity alumnus.

The man who does not belong to a fraternity, and who formerly had no adequate place in which he could congregate with his fellow reuners, now meets with his classmates in their reunion dormitory. There is scarcely any tendency to break into groups on fraternity lines. Few wish to do so. The three days of the reunions go altogether too quickly. There is no time to spare when it involves leaving a group of old friends to spend the precious moments with persons to whom one is related only in an indefinite sort of way through a membership not based even on acquaintanceship. Fraternity ties, at that time, are simply another phase of one's college connections although admittedly a phase that looms up very important to alumni in the proper circumstances. As a phase of reunion activity, however, it now occupies a place of minor importance. The class is the thing. The class has emerged triumphant. It is no longer the excuse for a junket to Ithaca, but is now honestly and gratefully accepted as a reason in itself, impelling and quite sufficient.

The reunion dormitory is almost wholly responsible for the change. The fraternity is still anxious to be hospitable to its alumni when hospitality is desired. The fraternity, however, is always there; it will be there on the Sunday after the reunion; it will be there next fall; it will be there all the days preceding the reunion; and it is trying hard to arrange its own especial reunions at times when its alumni can give it undivided attention.

The class, on the other hand, will arrive on Friday and will disappear without trace before the end of the third day. As a tangible entity it then will cease to exist for another four or five years. Those who have wholeheartedly adopted the new reunion point of view are enthusiastically in favor of reunions. Those who try to split their allegiance during these short periods look on reunions as being very much like any other visit to Ithaca; but they never know the difference.

THE DELAY ON LAST WEEK'S ISSUE

USUALLY the ALUMNI NEWS has been able to prove to its own satisfaction, and to the satisfaction of subscribers who complain of delay in delivery, that the trouble is common to all publications entered as second-class matter. Under our contract with the bindery that wraps and mails the publication, it is supposed to be wrapped and mailed on Friday and only in rare cases is there a noticeable delay beyond that day or the morning of the following day.

The issue of May 24, however, and possibly that of the week previous, were delayed by a peculiar situation over which we had no control, although it occurred prior to delivery to the Postoffice. It is too soon after the discovery of the delay to state with certainty what happened.

It seems evident that someone wanted to obtain our mailing list for commercial purposes and that the wrappers were taken and kept until the addresses could be copied. In the meantime, the bindery, not having the wrappers, were unable to wrap and mail at the usual time.

It is also probable that a portion of the wrappers were similarly held out and copied during the previous week, causing a delay in the mailing of that issue also.

We shall take such action in the matter that the offense will not be repeated.

Subscribers are warned of the possible situation and asked for cooperation to the extent of noting the address used by us on the wrapper, and comparing it with the address on circular letters, or other forms of advertising matter that they may receive from Ithaca or elsewhere. If there is anything unusual in a subscriber's address as used on our list, and this unusual form of address appears on circular letters, etc., the management will appreciate receiving the envelopes, with the date of receipt marked on them.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Pedro de Mello-Souza '65

Mrs. Pedro de Mello-Souza died at her home in Sao Paulo, Brazil, on May 7.

She was formerly Miss Ella Lucy Crandall, and she was born in Bridgewater, N. Y., in 1853, coming to Ithaca with her parents in 1868. In 1872 she entered the University, receiving the degree of B. S. in 1876.

In 1879 she married Pedro de Mello-Souza, who studied at the College of Civil Engineering from 1874 to 1878, and received his degree from Syracuse University in 1879, and they immediately went to Brazil, settling on a coffee plantation at Etu, a small interior town. Here she began to teach in a small improvised schoolhouse, and she continued this occupation throughout her life. About 1890 she went to live in Sao Paulo, where she taught in Mackenzie College, but about three years ago she suffered a severe illness which forced her to give up this work. She did private tutoring in her home, however, until a few weeks before her death.

Mrs. de Mello-Souza was a sister of Clayton Crandall '78 and of the late Professor Charles L. Crandall '72, who was for more than forty years a teacher at Cornell. She had made several trips from Brazil to the United States, and had spent some time at the Crandall homestead on West Hill, Ithaca.

She is survived by her husband. Her daughter, Mirza, an only child, died in 1895.

Frank Harding '81

Frank Harding died at his home in Middletown, N. Y., on March 2, after a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Harding was born in Callicoon Center, N. Y., on October 4, 1858, the son of William J. and Lodema Hogan Harding. He attended the schools of Callicoon Center, and later the Honesdale Free Academy, entering Cornell in 1877 in the course in Science and Letters, and receiving the degree of B.S. in 1881. He was a member of the Irving Literary Society and of the Sun Board. Then he went to the Albany Law School, and after being admitted to the bar, practiced for a year in Binghamton. Later he went to Middletown, where he served for a year as deputy collector. Then he started a cigar factory, leaving this enterprise in 1891 to become the first secretary of the Orange County Trust Company. He held that office until 1895, when he was elected to the office of president, holding that office until his death.

Mr. Harding was a member of the Hoffman Lodge, F. and A. M., a former trustee of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, a member of the Middletown Club and the Orange County Golf Club, and a trustee of the First Congregational Church of Middletown.

He was married in June, 1886, to Miss Mary Emelie Helck of Callicoon Center, who survives him with a son, Harold C. Harding '10, and a daughter, Florence, now Mrs. E. V. Wilbern, who is at present traveling in Egypt.

Herbert Knox '02

Herbert Knox of Connellsville, Pa., died on May 15, after a long illness.

Knox was born in Connellsville on January 26, 1879, and prepared for college at the Kiskiminetas Springs School, Saltsburg, Pa. He entered Sibley College in 1898, specializing in electrical engineering, and received the degree of M.E. in 1903. He was a member of Sigma Chi.

Since his graduation he had been engaged in the engineering business in Connellsville and Pittsburgh.

Surviving him are his widow and a daughter, Katherine, who is attending LaSalle Seminary, near Boston. He leaves also a brother, Roger Knox, of Pittsburgh.

Walter G. Guss '06

Notice has just been received of the death last fall of Walter Granville Guss.

He was born on August 16, 1882, a son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry T. Guss of Washington, D. C., and prepared at the Washington Central High School. Entering the College of Civil Engineering in 1902, he received the degree of C. E. in 1906. He was a member of Beta Lambda Pi, the Senators Club, Gemel Kharm, and the Musical Clubs, and served on the Junior Smoker Committee and the Class Book Committee; in his sophomore year he was a captain in the Cadet Corps.

For some time after leaving college he was with the contracting firm of Richardson and Burgess of Washington.

BIOLOGISTS from western New York, members of the national Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine, held their May meeting on the 12th at Cornell, with about forty in attendance.

WEST SIBLEY has a new tin roof. When the tar-paper temporary roof, to replace that portion of tin blown off in the April wind storm, was made permanent, it was found that a fairly large area at the west end of Sibley also needed renewal.

LITERARY REVIEW

A Good Woods Yarn

Scott Burton, Logger. By Edward C. Cheyney '00. New York. D. Appleton & Company. 1923. 19.4 cm., pp. viii, 254. Front. Price, $1.75.

This is the fourth number of a series, the other three being "Scott Burton, Forester," "Scott Burton on the Range," and "Scott Burton and the Timber Thieves." If one can judge of the series by this latest number, one should speak of it in terms of praise. This is a romance of the industrial forest world, in which the hero matches his wits and his love of the square deal against the tricky old "King of the North" and achieves results highly gratifying to those who become his friends in the course of the story. The tale is well written and gives vivid pictures of the activity in which the author of the series is interested and is an expert. It is a wholesome yarn.

The Methodist Schism

The Schism in the Methodist Episcopal Church, 1844: a Study of Slavery and Ecclesiastical Politics. By John Nelson Norwood, Ph.D. '15, Professor of History and Political Science in Alfred University. Alfred, N. Y. Alfred Press. 1923. 21.6 cm., pp. iv, 225. Map.

Professor Norwood is a fair-minded worker who has apparently made careful use of his sources and always gives both sides. His narrative may, we think, be trusted.

While there is much in the narrative that is of interest to the great body of Methodists alone, the split between the two branches is interesting and significant to all students of the history of the period. What went on in the Methodist communion was characteristic of most other Protestant churches as well.

The Methodist Church in America early took a decided anti-slavery stand; but it was soon found expedient to modify this position, and for fifty years, down to 1836, discussion of the subject resulted in repeated victories for the toleration party.

Then came that curious age of reforms and humanitarian impulses, the 1830s; the age of Mesmerism, Fourierism, Mormonism, Spiritualism, anti-slavery. Garrison began The Liberator on January 1, 1831. The intrepid Orange Scott, perhaps the most famous Methodist abolitionist, began his crusade in 1834. In the same year the first Methodist anti-slavery society was formed. The bishops, attempting to restrain the impetuous radicals and the equally hotheaded Southern champions of slavery, found themselves riding two very unruly steeds. Only a single decade was needed to bring about a vote in the General Conference sanctioning a separation of Northern and Southern churches.

It is noteworthy as an indication of popular feeling on the subject that this vote was taken seventeen years before the guns burst forth on Fort Sumter. It is also worth noting that as early as 1843 the Wesleyan Connection split off from the Methodist Church because of the dissatisfaction with its stand on slavery. They began with six thousand members.

It is easy to-day to say, but it is none the less true, that the verdict of the world has steadily crystalized against the abolitionists. They were right only in saying that slavery in the abstract was wrong. As to how to deal with the evil they were themselves wrong at every point. The toleration of slavery was a moral and economic blunder. The bringing on of the Civil War was not only a blunder but a crime. The British Empire purged itself of slavery in 1834, without bloodshed, and at a cost of only $100,000,000.

The schism of churches indirectly contributed to the outbreak of the war, since it left the two sections without common religious ground and without ties to restrain them from leaping at each other's throats.

Books and Magazine Articles

In The Nation for May 16 Professor Leslie N. Broughton, Ph.D. '11, of the Department of English, reviews Professor Raymond D. Havens's "The Influence of Milton on English Poetry."

In American Forestry for May is an appreciative review of Professor Arthur B. Recknagel's "The Forests of New York."

Associate Alumni By-Law Amendments

NOTICE is hereby given that at the June meeting of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University to be held at Barnes Hall in the city of Ithaca, New York, on the 15th day of June, 1923, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the amendments published in the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS of the 24th day of May, 1923, will presented for consideration and adoption.

A number of copies of the text of these amendments is on hand. A copy may be secured by any alumnus upon application to the office of the

FACULTY NOTES

DR. JACOB GOULD SCHURMAN, American Minister to China, spoke on "Socialism versus Capitalism" before the Tientsin Rotary Club on April 12. His speech is reprinted in full in the next day's issue of The Peking Leader. After pointing out the effects of Socialism in Russia and outlining the present system of capitalistic production, he advocated that private capital should continue the world's production, but that this capital should be diffused among greater numbers than at present and that workers should cooperate in both capital and labor in the production of commodities sold for their common advantages.

PROFESSOR MARTHA VAN RENSSELAER '09 will go to Belgium late in June to confer with Belgian authorities who are organizing a government department of home economics. Professor Flora Rose is now in Belgium engaged in studying the nutrition needs of Belgian school children.

PROFESSOR HARRY P. WELD plans to build a house on Cayuga Heights within the present year. It is of Colonial style, and will be constructed of native stone.

PROFESSOR CHARLES L. BURDICK will give a new course in international law, which will be open to juniors and seniors in the College of Law, and also to upperclassmen in the other colleges who may have an adequate foundation for the work in the course.

THE CONFERENCE ON SOCIAL WORK

"The School" was the topic of discussion on the sixth day of the fiftieth anniversary session of the National Conference of Social Work which was held in Washington on May 16-23. On May 17 President Farrand spoke on "Health." On May 21 Porter R. Lee '03, director of the New York School of Social Work, spoke on "The Home."

THE CORNELL-IN-CHINA Bazaar and Carnival brought a net profit of more than $600. Buel Trowbridge '20, now at Oxford, has been elected to the secretary-treasurership of the organization for the next academic year.

STATE APPROPRIATIONS to Cornell University this year amount to $2,159,883.80, according to Assemblyman James R. Robinson '10, who gives this figure as the total for the State College of Agriculture, the State Veterinary College, the State Drill Hall, and the State's share in education and extension in land-grant colleges.

TO ALFRED P. JAHN '23 of New Rochelle, has been awarded the Charles Pack Prize for the best work done during the past year in the forestry courses, including the summer camp and the regular university terms.

ALUMNI NOTES

'74 BS—At the dinner on May 24 of the Pennsylvania State branch of the American Association for the Advancement of Science Professor Herman L. Fairchild, of the University of Rochester, spoke on "The Glacial History of the Susquehanna Valley."

'75 BS—Professor Edward L. Nichols on May 10 lectured before the Sigma Xi Club and Scientific Society of West Virginia University on "Incandescent Oxides."

'84 AM, '85 PhD—Professor John C. Rolfe, of the University of Pennsylvania, will next year be in charge of the School of Classical Studies of the American Academy in Rome, and will teach Latin epigraphy.

'86-'88 Grad.; '89 M.E.—Allen C. Balch '89 and Mrs. Balch (Janet Jacks, '86-'88 Grad.) have been traveling during the past winter in South America.

'90 LLB—James A. Parsons was recently appointed Public Service Commissioner by Governor Alfred E. Smith. He is counsel to the Governor.

'94 DSc—Dr. Ephraim P. Felt, State entomologist, has received a year's leave of absence from routine duty for special work with the State Conservation Commission in connection with the campaign against the European corn-borer.

There is Only One Way to Restore Power to Your Motor

If the cylinders are worn and scored, have them re-ground and fitted with oversized pistons and rings, as smooth straight holes are necessary for effective compression and can be obtained only by grinding. All the power will be restored and the saving of gasoline and oil will quickly pay for the repair.

Danger Signals

Smoke, Poor Compression, Lack of Power, Excessive Use of Gas and Oil, Lubricating Oil Thinned by Gasoline from the Cylinder

In our repair department we have a new Landis Cylinder Grinding Machine on which we can re-grind any automobile, truck or tractor cylinder block. We are prepared to give prompt and satisfactory service on all kinds and makes of cars.

HOW ABOUT BRINGING YOUR MOTOR TO US?

Interesting facts on regrinding will be furnished on request. See us at once.

Smith '00, vice-president and general manager of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, who has played a very important part in the development of hydro-electric power in Canada. He was associated in the construction of power plants at Cedar Rapids and Shawinigan Falls, and was chosen as chief consulting engineer for the Manitoba Power Company's development. He began his engineering career as a draftsman with Wallace C. Johnston, consulting engineer, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., becoming assistant engineer to Mr. Johnston when the latter was placed in charge of the work at Shawinigan Falls. In 1903 he was made superintendent of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company, being promoted three years later to general superintendent, and in 1909 he became chief engineer and general superintendent. In 1913 he was made vice-president and general manager. He is president of the Public Service Corporation of Quebec and of the Canada Carbide Company and the Canadian Electro-Products, subsidiaries of Shawinigan, vice-president of the Dominion Engineering Works, and a director of the Dominion Bridge Company. He is an enthusiastic Rotarian, and is also associated with a number of other clubs. Smith married Miss Bertha L. Alexander, A.B. '01, and they live at 314 Landsdowne Avenue, Westmount, Quebec, Canada.

'03 AB—Charles S. Clark has moved to his summer home at Angola, N. Y.

'05 AB—Robert P. Butler who pursues as a hobby the study and, incidentally, the collection of antique Oriental rugs, spoke on the subject at two recent exhibits. The first exhibit, held under the auspices of the Artists' Club of Hartford, contained something more than a hundred fine specimens; the second exhibit, held at Smith College, contained some fifty specimens. Butler would be glad to correspond with others interested in the subject, especially those willing to show or exchange specimens. He is practicing law at 36 Pearl Street, Hartford, Conn.

'07, '14 AB—Francis Harper is to be an instructor in zoology in the Summer School of the University of Michigan. Another member of the staff will be Professor Joseph W. Bingham, of Stanford, formerly of Cornell, who will teach law.

'09 ME—John H. Lawrence is vice-president and engineering manager of Thomas E. Murray, Inc., engineers. He lives at 440 Riverside Drive, New York.

'10 ME—Mr. and Mrs. Frank H.

McCormick of Wilmington, Del., announce the birth of their son, Robert Lockhart, on February 1; they also have two daughters. McCormick is in the development department of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, Du Pont Building, Wilmington.

'10 BSA—Philip H. Elwood, Jr., for the past four years a member of the faculty of Ohio State University, has accepted an appointment as head of the Department of Landscape Architecture at Iowa State College, and it is expected that he will take up his new duties on September 1.

'11 ME—Stanley B. Kent is telephone engineer and patent attorney for the Western Electric Company, Inc., with which company he has been associated

Courtney and Cornell Rowing

By C. V. P. Young '99

has been received with enthusiasm

An alumnus who graduated about five years ago writes that he couldn't leave it till he had finished it, and expects to read it over again as soon as he has a chance. He says: "Any red-blooded Cornellian would be enthusiastic about this book."

A prominent executive writes of it to its author: "Traditions of inspiring value in any university are too rare to be allowed to disappear, and you have done a real and lasting service in writing these pages."

It is a useful, interesting, and good-looking addition to any Cornellian's library.

Graduation Presents

Candy

Whitman's candy is eaten by the most particular people. You will want it when making a present. The college assortment is the "Shield" package. Ask us to deliver your package. Price is $1.25 per pound.

Concerning Cornell

You must have heard about this book from some of your friends. We are reminding you that this is one of the seasons when people are buying copies. Own a copy yourself and also spread the information by giving a copy.

Jewelry

We are selling only the better class college jewelry. The spoons, for instance, are solid silver instead of plated and Cornell shield is on the handle. The rings either solid silver or 14 kt. gold. We find that the 14 kt. wears smooth quickly. Get a copy of our gift booklet.
