Beauty is more than skin deep ... GULFSTREAM beauty

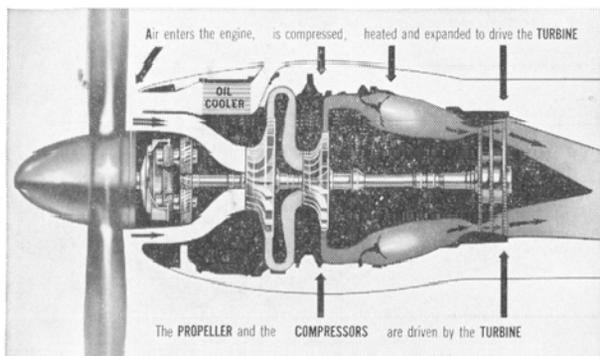

The beauty of the Gulfstream, Grumman's outstanding new business transport, goes way beyond the obvious. For example, sandwiched between the Gulfstream's clean exterior and custom interior is a rugged Grumman structure built to withstand fatigue for the equivalent of more than 50 years of operation! This structure is based on the most recent knowledge gained from designing supersonic airplanes.

The Grumman Gulfstream starts new with you. When you select it, you get an airplane new from nose to tail, conceived and engineered by Grumman for modern business flying. Optimum performance, utility, reliability and all-weather safety are "standard equipment." Add to that the two Dart turbo-prop engines that power the Gulfstream. The Gulfstream cruises at 350 mph and has a range of 2200 miles plus 200 miles and 45 minutes reserve. Pressurization at 25,000 feet provides a comfortable air-conditioned altitude of 5500 feet—permitting operation above the weather and traffic.

Corporation executives and pilots are invited to inspect the Gulfstream and arrange for demonstration flights through one of the following distributors: Atlantic Aviation, Wilmington, Delaware; Southwest Airmotive, Dallas, Texas; Pacific Airmotive, Burbank, California; Timmins Aviation, Montreal.

Class of '60 Joins Ranks of Alumni President Looks Ahead Forty Years

SUNNY SKY greeted the ninety-second annual Commencement Day proceedings for the fifth year in succession. In full splendor of academic dress, recipients of advanced degrees, the Class of '60, Faculty members, and Trustees marched in procession to Barton Hall, June 13. In direct contrast, the Baccalaureate service was held the day before during heavy rain.

Navy Admiral Speaks

Commencement activities began a little before nine with the commissioning of 266 graduates of the advanced ROTC courses. For the first time, the ceremony was held in Alice Statler Auditorium. Attired in dress uniform, the future officers of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force Reserve marched from Barton Hall to the Auditorium's overflowing audience. After the Invocation by the Rev. Richard B. Stott, Episcopal Chaplain, President Deane W. Malott introduced Vice Admiral William R. Smedberg III, USN, who administered the oath of office. After all ROTC cadets repeated the oath in unison, a new officer from each branch accepted the commissioning papers for his branch.

Admiral Smedberg said that our American heritage was more than an heirloom. He pointed out the necessity for the United States to remain strong in the face of the Communist challenge. "By accepting the responsibility of being reserve officers," he said, "you automatically become leaders of many young men and women." He reminded the new officers that rather than be concerned with how their uniforms fit, they should be concerned with how well they fit the uniforms.

Following tradition, the long procession to Barton Hall was formed on the Quadrangle. Chief Marshals were Professors George H. Healey, PhD '47, English & Bibliography, and Blanchard L. Rideout, PhD '36, Director of the Division of Unclassified Students. They wore, for the first time, vivid gowns of solid carnelian. The Faculty section was brilliant with varied costumes and hoods in a multitude of hues. On its way to Barton Hall, the procession was reviewed in front of Stimson Hall, where it was joined by the Trustee division.

Inside Barton Hall, a large crowd was waiting. On the platform stood the elaborately carved chair first used by Ezra Cornell at the University's opening, October 7, 1868. President Malott started using the chair at Commencement three years ago. The candidates for degrees stood at their seats in the center while Faculty and Trustees ascended to the platform. After the prelude by the Concert Band and the singing of "America" by the assembly, the Very Rev.

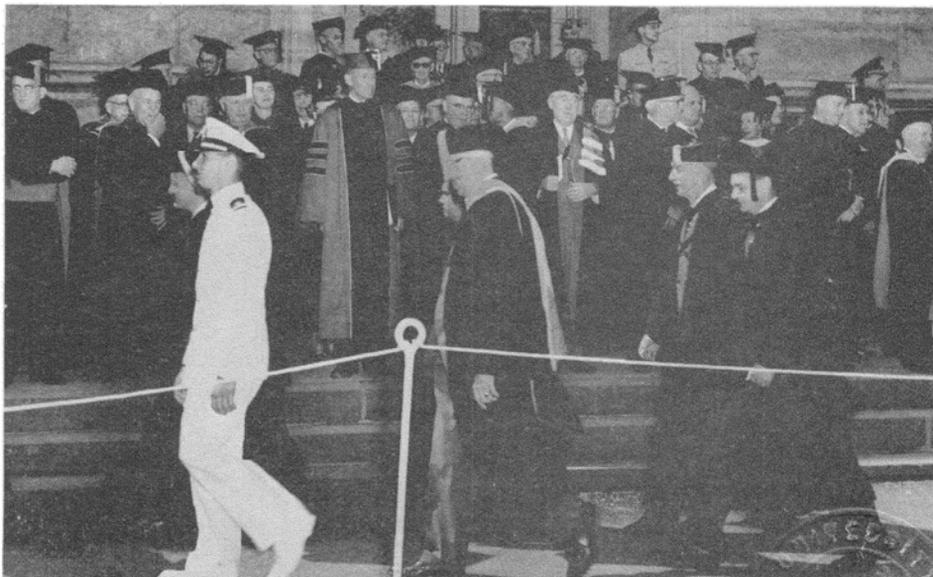

Msgr. Donald M. Cleary, Catholic Chaplain, gave the Invocation, followed by Randall Thompson's "The Last Words of David," sung by the Glee Club, directed by Professor Thomas A. Sokol, Music.

President Gazes into Crystal Ball

President Malott in his Commencement address described the University of forty years hence. He said:

It is the year 2000; and you of the Class of 1960 are returning for your Forty-year Reunion. The Campus seems smaller than you remembered it in 1960, the buildings more crowded, but you have at least noted with satisfaction that the Library Slope is still unconquered by stone and mortar. A few of you are returning for the first time since that long ago Commencement ceremony in June of 1960. Most of you, of course, have been back for many of your five-year Reunions, what with the improved six-lane highways from New York which tunnel entirely under the mountainous hills of Pennsylvania. It is an easy drive of less than two hours, using the new sources of power that have supplanted the nearly exhausted fossil fuels.

You reminisce about the old times, of the fine friendships you developed in your college days while waiting in Newark Airport for Mohawk officials to locate their wayward planes. A more leisurely pace, surely, way back in 1960, than in the hectic year 2000 as the twenty-first century is ushered in, firmly entrenched as the Era of Interstellar Space. Some of you even recall that in your long ago student days you came to Ithaca once or twice overnight on the old Lehigh, an adventure in eternity; but it is only a memory now. Rail passenger travel throughout the nation disappeared forever in the late 1970's. Some of you have already traveled in rocket capsules and there is serious contemplation that these ground-controlled individual or family-size rocket mechanisms may be the travel method of the dawning century, at least for distances of 1000 miles or more.

But here you are back at Cornell, meeting old friends, trying hard to conceal your shock at the jaded appearance of some of your Classmates. No one, of course, is overweight. Research at Cornell's own Graduate School of Nutrition and the Cornell Medical College in New York has been helpful in the elimination of obesity on a national scale, and people's hair no longer turns gray; but aging epidermis still reveals the toll of the years.

More Buildings Will Go Up

The Olin Library, which was in process of construction during your Senior year, has been badly crowded for nearly a decade and the Board of Trustees, including three members of the Class of '60, have just begun a thirty-year debate on what to do about it. An additional library for post-doctoral studies is proposed to relieve the load, and the location of Sage has been mentioned as a likely place for the new structure. Among the older alumni, however, has gone up the hue and cry that Sage should be preserved at all costs as a national monument; tribute to the architectural subtleties of the late nineteenth century!

You have listened with interest to the President of the University's annual report to the alumni. The budget of the University, you are surprised to hear, is $554,000,000, the greatest need being for teaching compensation to get instructor's beginning salaries up from their present low base of $25,000 a year. You are shocked at tuition announced for the year 2001, but I shall not disturb the equanimity of this present occasion by giving voice to the actual amount, because your sons and daughters will have been graduated from Cornell just before the new century comes. There are, to be sure, fewer teachers on the Faculty in the year 2000 than when you were a student, although the number of students is somewhat larger. Vocational proliferations in courses were abandoned years ago; the teaching art is more efficient; the teachers spend more time teaching; students are held to much higher performance in more carefully prescribed sequences; there is more analytical thinking, much less sheer memory work; and far fewer electives.

Administration of the University, you find, is almost all carried on now in the Computing Center. Day Hall has, perhaps appropriately, become the home of Behavioral Sciences. Buildings and grounds are completely automated, operated by mechanical devices controlled in a single laboratory with 138 push buttons. The President of the University, in the midst of all this automation, is a part-time functionary chiefly for ceremonial purposes. But your Reunion Class is a bit startled to hear from members of the Class of 2000, then graduating, that the President is rumored to be basically anti-fraternity; probably resulting from the fact that in 1981 or thereabouts, rushing was deferred to the Sophomore year for all the ninety-four fraternity houses then on the Campus, under a tentative plan developed by the IFC, to be reappraised after a 100-year trial.

It is the end of the long administration of President Hinklebull, who spent his entire career in a vain attempt to reform the academic calendar into a completely elective three-course system. The old Cornell Sun, by the year 2000 renamed The Sun & Moon because of the luster of its reflections, has been campaigning vigorously against the administration because of the use of too immature and unintelligent guinea-pigs for experimental purposes. Departments chiefly agitating for the ungrading of guinea-pig quality do not use guinea-pigs at all, but have written many letters of protest, showing proper concern for the stature of the institution.

In the Class of 1960's air-conditioned, removable, aluminum igloo headquarters on Lower Alumni Field, a few reminiscent alumni are clustered about the fountain gushing cold beer, piped direct in plastic glass tubes at high pressure from central storage in Ezra Cornell's old tunnel in Fall Creek Gorge. Someone mentions Tripod and wonders just what really did happen to him back in 1958. Dogs on Campus are, of course, no longer a problem in the year 2000, even during the Commencement ceremonies, because of a radar system of electric shock gadgets strategically located around the Campus. Barton Hall, still the scene of Reunion gatherings, is uniformly cool because of a refrigerant applied to the floor each morning by automatic spray. And instead of the Faculty Forums, such an important part of the Reunions in the 1960's, long rows of easy chairs and earphones are set up on the Libe Slope, so that it is possible for the old grad to sit there, adjust the headphones, put a quarter in a slot, dial the proper number, and hear any lecture given by any Cornell professor in the last twenty-five years.

Yes, times will have changed by your Fortieth Reunion year! Cornell will have changed in almost every aspect of its being. The change will be more pronounced, more revolutionary, more dramatic than any that the Class of '20 observed as it strolled our paths over this past week end, during its Forty-year Reunion. But Cornell University was born out of protest to the existing order. It was created through the connivance of Ezra Cornell and Andrew Dickson White to inaugurate drastic changes in the pattern of higher education. It will be a tragic day when Cornell becomes so complacent, so self-satisfied, so intellectually arrogant, that it is no longer willing to probe and to explore and to innovate and to experiment, particularly in the academic and intellectual life by which a University is primarily measured, its stature appraised, its loyalties enlisted.

Cornellians Will Be Loyal

The one enduring verity to which we must hold fast is the loyalty and devotion of Cornellians to the institution as it strives and grows and develops through the years.

You go from this hall today with the indelible imprint of Cornell upon you. Even though you were to try, you could never completely divorce yourself from this University of which for the last several years you have been so much a part. Each year at Commencement, Cornell fulfills its destiny: the creation of another Class of alumni. Yours is the Class of 1960. May you return often in the years ahead, filled with the same pride for this changing, yet changeless University; the same pride that we whom you leave behind here shall always have in you, as we in turn face about to prepare to welcome in a few short weeks still another group, the Class of 1964. For universities are each linked through the years by the procession of those who are leaving to those who remain to those who shall come in the years ahead. For the period of your lifetime Cornell is yours; to cherish, to guide, and to promote. Stay on the team! Others before you have found it rewarding; still others will step into your places when you are gone. It is the timeless pattern of our society, a bit of the trusteeship we have together—students, alumni, teachers, staff, administration, and Trustees—for the transmission of Cornell from the emerging ninety-five years of its past to the challenging and untold years of its future.

After his address, President Malott conferred the degrees. The program lists the names of 1320 persons receiving first degrees and those for 411 advanced degrees at Commencement, totalling 1731. Professor Morris Bishop '14, Romance Literature, Emeritus, was Marshal for the exercises. In a resonant voice, he called each group of candidates to rise and their Student Marshal to the platform. The Dean of each College presented his candidates to the President, who after formal conferment of degrees, congratulated the Student Marshals. Candidates for Doctor's degrees marched individually to the platform to receive their hoods. After the singing of Handel's "Let Their Celestial Concerts Now Unite" by the Glee Club, the assembly sang the "Alma Mater" and the Glee Club, the "Evening Song." Benediction was by the Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, Lutheran Chaplain. The students dispersed with their families to receive their diplomas at the College offices.

Baccalaureate speaker in Barton Hall, Sunday morning, was President Howard F. Lowry of the College of Wooster, Ohio. He told the graduates that they were born during the years when much of the free world was submerged by totalitarian leadership; that they are going out into a free world and will see much more in the next forty years than did any preceding generation. He said that the era ahead is one of great discoveries and rapid progress, but that the college graduate's success after he gets his degree need not be one of vast accomplishment in a chosen field. "Rather," he said, "man can experience an awareness of God and a sense of the divine process of creation by doing the humblest creative effort of his own."

Doctors & Nurses Graduate

Commencement of the Medical College and School of Nursing was June 1 at The New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center in New York City. President Malott conferred the MD on eighty-six candidates, the BS in Nursing on thirty-eight, and one PhD and one MS were awarded. Dean Muriel R. Carbery administered the Florence Nightingale Pledge to the nurses and Dean John E. Deitrick of the Medical College administered the Hippocratic Oath to the new doctors. Commencement speaker was Dr. René J. Dubos, member & professor of The Rockefeller Institute. President Malott bid the graduates farewell for the University.

Dr. Lewis Glasser '56 was awarded the Borden Research Prize. Twenty other new MD's were undergraduates in Ithaca; all but four otherwise indicated, members of the Class of '56. They are Ira Barmak, Martin J. Edelman, Frederick S. Erdman, Jr., Elliot Goldstein, Lonnie B. Hanauer, Robert K. Heine-man, Jr., Richard G. Kopff, Jr., Walter

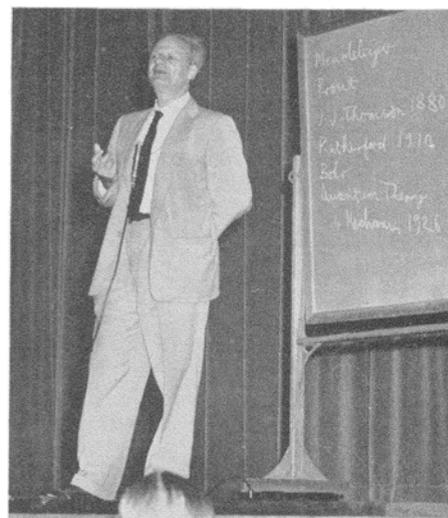

M. Lewis '54, James H. Marshall, Barry E. Meyers, Michael J. Olichney '55, Gideon G. Panter, Keith J. Quinton, Richard J. Ritter, William E. Sanders, Jr., John K. Smith, Jr. '57, Robert J. Timberger, Allen J. Togut, William B. Webber '54, and Mary F. Wheeler. Six Nursing School graduates attended the University in Ithaca. Nancy A. Leitzow '59 received the BS in Nursing with Distinction. Others of the Class of '59 are Carolyn L. Cary, Catherine C. Clark, Doris A. Dickerson, and Sandra A. Roberts; with Mrs. Ann Friedman Schmalz '58.

Alumni Enjoy "Forums"

EXPANDED SERIES of "Faculty Forums" at Reunions this year proved to be more popular than ever before and some alumni said they came to their Class Reunions especially to see and hear the speakers from the Faculty. It is estimated that audiences totaled about 1600 for the ten sessions, June 9 & 10. Six of these occupied Friday morning in three simultaneous pairs, in Alice Statler Auditorium and the auditorium of Anabel Taylor Hall. Two were given in succession Thursday evening, June 9, and one each Friday afternoon & evening. There were questions and discussions from the audience at most sessions.

The series opened with a musical program and comments on "The Trio Before & After Beethoven" by Music Professors Daniel Eller, piano; Sheldon Kurland, violin; and John Hsu, 'cello. Other speakers and their topics were Professors Perry W. Gilbert, PhD '40, Zoology, "Sharks & Survival;" Stuart M. Brown, Jr. '37, Philosophy, "Are American Moral Standards Declining?"; John W. Reys, MRP '47, City & Regional Planning, "The Future of American Cities;" Hans A. Bethe, Physics, "Fundamental Particles;" Rudolph B. Schlesinger, Law, "Legal Problems of Outer Space;" Cyril L. Comar, Radiation Biology, "Atomic Energy: An Appraisal of Its Benefits & Biological Costs;" Richard W. Conway '54, Industrial & Engineering Administration, "The Modern Digital Computer: A Powerful New Tool for Science & Industry;" a discussion by Professors Melvin G. deChazeau, Business Economics & Policy, Ta-Chung Liu, PhD '40, Economics, and Robert L. Raimon, PhD '51, Industrial & Labor Relations, of "America's Economic Progress: What Must be Done to Meet Today's Challenge;" and Professor Arthur Mizener, English, "The Great Gatsby and the American Dream."

"Forums" were arranged this year for the third time, expanded from four in 1958, by an Alumni Association committee headed by Trustee John P. Syme '26, assisted by Alumni Secretary Hunt Bradley '26. Other members of the committee were Alumni Trustee Leslie R.

"Forum" Speaker — Professor Hans A. Bethe, Physics, who has received many awards for his scientific discoveries and is a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee, explains the present knowledge of "Fundamental Particles" of the atom & how they behave. Photo Science

Severinghaus '21, Mrs. James H. Zimmer (Orpha Spicer) '27, and Professors William R. Keast, English, and Byron W. Saunders, Industrial & Engineering Administration. At its annual meeting, the Alumni Association adopted By-law amendments providing for an annual standing committee on Faculty Forums and making its chairman a director and member of the executive committee of the Association.

Senior Societies Gather

ALUMNI and members of the 1960 chapters of Sphinx Head and Quill & Dagger held their traditional Reunion breakfasts, June 12.

Sixty Sphinx Head men, meeting in Willard Straight Hall, were addressed by Theodore P. Wright (a member of Quill & Dagger), who retired June 30 as University Vice President for Research. They re-elected their officers: Director of Athletics Robert J. Kane '34, president; Professor Asa C. King '99, Farm Practice, Emeritus, vice-president; Foster M. Coffin '12, Director Emeritus of Willard Straight Hall, secretary; Horace E. Shackelton '19, treasurer.

Sixty-eight members of Quill & Dagger attended the breakfast in Statler Hall, including the oldest alumnus at Reunions, William Dalton '90. Thomas L. Stirling '25 was elected president, succeeding George B. Cummings '12, who presided. Other officers were re-elected: Emerson Hinchliff '14, vice-president; W. Barlow Ware '47 of the Development Office, secretary; Professor Charles V. P. Young '99, Physical Education, Emeritus, treasurer; Walter W. Schlaepfer '51, associate treasurer.

Reunions Bring Alumni in Gay Throng

FOR CLASS REUNIONS, June 9-11, 2370 alumni registered at central headquarters in Barton Hall. This was fewer than in any year since 1953 and well below the 1955 record of 2611, although registration opened a half-day earlier this year. These Classes, however, set new Reunion records: '95 for a Sixty-five-year Reunion, with seven men and a total of seven registered; '20 women with fifty-one registered, a new high for a Forty-year Reunion; and the Class of '50 for a Ten-year Reunion with record-breaking numbers of 277 members and 216 men registered. Reunion registration of all Classes is shown in the adjoining column.

Perfect weather, colorful costumes, and lively music made this a joyous Reunion at the dormitories where the Classes were housed, at luncheons in Barton Hall and the several Class dinners and picnics, in the Class tents on Alumni Field, gatherings in the Colleges, and all around the Campus. Ten "Faculty Forums" were well attended and enjoyed. Almost continuous bus tours of the University with student guides briefed by Foster M. Coffin '12 and directed by H. Larsen Aanning '61 of Elmhurst were taken by many alumni, as were trips to the Ornithology Laboratory at Sapsucker Woods. Many visited special Reunion exhibits of early "stunt books," posters, and photographs in the University Library and of President Malott's collection of autographs in the Cornelliana Room of the White Museum, arranged by Mrs. Edith M. Fox '32, University Archivist. About 700 visited the first annual Reunion stamp show in Willard Straight Hall, where Robert L. Markovits '59 had arranged exhibits loaned from the collections of fifteen Cornellians.

Report Alumni Activities

Alice Statler Auditorium was filled for the annual meetings of the Alumni Association & Cornell Fund, June 11. Association President Thad P. Collum '21 summarized the organized alumni activities of the year.

He noted the work of the committee on Alumni Trustee nominations, headed by Richard D. Vanderwarker '33 (Dr. Norman S. Moore '23 is the new chairman) and that the University Charter is amended to change the regulations for electing Alumni Trustees, beginning next year. Alumni placement committee with Robert P. Steiglitz '31 as chairman had reported that 438 companies sent job interviewers to the Campus this spring, as compared with 413 last year, and that some 600 alumni had used the University Placement Service office at the Cornell Club of New York and 390 alumni had used the Campus office.

Boldface designates Classes with regularly scheduled Reunions this year.

Publications committee, of which Clifford S. Bailey '18 is chairman, noted continued successful operation of the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS, with more than 25,000 subscribers and twenty-five men's Classes using a group plan financed by annual Class dues and three Senior Classes of both men & women now getting the News.

Twenty more secondary school committees were formed this year for a total of 103 men's groups and forty-five of women, making 1126 alumni volunteers working with schools in their localities to attract the best qualified students for the University. Peter M. Wolff '42 was re-elected chairman of the Association secondary schools committee and May A. Regan '21 succeeds Mrs. Lawrence B. Perkins (Margery Blair) '28 as vice-chairman. Other members are Frederick H. C. Dochterman '26, David H. Young '44, and Donald M. Ostrom '48, with Alumni Field Secretary D. Harvey Krouse '25 and Assistant Admissions Director Ross P. Jackson '54, who is secretary.

There are now 132 Cornell Clubs, sixty-six of men, forty-two of women, and twenty-four have both men & women members. Fifty-six guests from the University and many Trustees spoke at 116 Club meetings during the year. Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, headed by Marjory A. Rice '29, reported its Scholarship Endowment at $92,276 and that scholarships awarded by the Federation to undergraduate women total $8486 for the next year. Member Clubs of the Federation of Cornell Men's Clubs, of which Edward M. Krech '27 is president, awarded scholarships this year worth $27,300 to fifty-five undergraduate men.

Association of Class Secretaries, whose president the last two years has been John J. Cole '23, runs annual all-day "workshops" in New York City for Class officers; about 150 attended last January. At its instance, Reunions starting in 1963 will be in the week after Commencement.

Fund Chairman Reports

Alfred M. Saperston took over the meeting as chairman of the Cornell Fund committee of the University Council and said that to date 19,573 contributors had given $875,536 to the eight divisions of the unrestricted Fund for the year that was to close June 15. "This year," he said, "more than 3750 Cornellians gave of their time to tell the story of Cornell's needs to their Classmates and fellow-alumni." He thanked especially William L. Lewis '22, chairman for leadership gifts; James P. Stewart '28, who headed alumni annual giving; Richard K. Kaufmann '22, chairman for Reunion Classes; and the chairmen of the Cornell Fund divisions: George H. Rockwell '13, Cornell Plantations;

"How can we make it easier for all of us who are working for Cornell to raise the monies necessary to permit the University to do a better job for the young people that it educates?" Saperston said. "We know that it is going to cost more money to maintain all the new buildings and the additional services that are being rendered to students. What can we do about it? The big job that must be done involves bringing Cornellians closer to the University so they can understand its objectives and what to do to reach them. It is also necessary to bring the University closer to the alumni where substantial groups of them live. We must continue and expand the University Council program of regional meetings where the story of the University is told and we must send more outstanding professors and other emissaries from the University to Clubs to tell of the work that is being done here. Only by all of us understanding what the University is doing and its plans and aspirations for the future and the need to accomplish its goals will we be able to raise our sights in the Cornell Fund; and those sights we must raise."

Saperston was re-elected chairman of the Fund committee for 1960-61, as were Lewis and Stewart, vice-chairmen, with Harold Brayman '20 added as vice-chairman. G. Ruhland Rebmann '19 was re-elected and Mrs. Herbert T. Brunn (Marion Blenderman) '36 was elected as members of the committee until 1963.

President Deane W. Malott summarized the year at the University and noted that the printed President's Report will be mailed to all alumni late in July.

Rally Brings Classes Together

Reunions officially closed with the Rally of all Classes in Barton Hall Saturday night after the Class dinners. The five-year Classes marched to their designated places as the Concert Band played familiar Cornell songs, and Howard A. Heinsius '50 called on the Glee Club to lead the singing of the "Alma Mater." Heinsius welcomed the alumni and called to their feet for recognition, in succession, the emeritus professors and members of the Classes of '90, '95, '00 & '05, then all other alumni of Classes out of the University more than fifty years. After more singing with the Glee Club leading, the chairman called on alumni from distant regions to stand for applause; then he sang the "Alumni Song" with the Glee Club.

Henry J. Benisch '20, president of the Association of Class Secretaries, announced the Reunion records set this year and called to the platform to receive trophies from the Association the '50 Class secretary & Reunion chairman, Robert Nagler & Walter G. Bruska, for the largest number of men registered; Frances W. Lauman '35 and Mrs. Kenneth A. Murray (Sarah Wallace) '50 & Mrs. John W. Weber (Jean Miller) '50 of the Classes tied with the largest number of women; and for the Class of '10, Roy Taylor & Lyman C. Judson and Elizabeth E. Van Denburgh & Mrs. Paul W. Allen (Linda Utter) to receive the trophies for the largest percentage of all members and of women registered at Reunion.

A specialty number, "Concertino for Percussion & Band," with percussion players Franklin T. Russell, Jr. '58, Daniel S. Kimball '60, Richard E. Morrison '60, Ronald M. Obermeyer '60, Robert E. Kibler '62 & William J. Mobbs '62, was followed by the Glee Club singing the "Crew Song" and Director Thomas E. Sokol leading the Club and audience in football songs. As the Glee Club softly sang the "Evening Song," color pictures of the Campus were shown on the screen above the platform in the darkened hall.

Seniors Celebrate

SENIOR WEEK festivities for the Class of '60 included picnics and parties and ended with a successful, though rainy, Class Night, June 12. The Class had a picnic Wednesday evening at the Beebe Lake area cleared by the Class of '52, a Thursday night rock 'n roll party on the Class Day exercises Sunday evening were moved to Anabel Taylor Hall because of rain. Speaker was Hadley S. DePuy, Assistant Dean of Men & Coordinator of Student Affairs. President of the Class of '60, C. Adrian Bewley of Birmingham, Ala., handed on the Class pipe to Thomas W. Gittins of Ridley Park, Pa., president of the Class of '61.

A watch for the outstanding Senior man, given by the Federation of Cornell Men's Clubs to Stuart M. Pindell, Jr. of Camp Hill, Pa., was awarded by Federation President Edward N. Krech '27. Pindell was president of Phi Gamma Delta; is a member of Aleph Samach, Sphinx Head & Scabbard & Blade; was president of IFC and on the executive committee of University standards. For the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, Alumnae Secretary Pauline J. Schmid '25 presented an orchid corsage to Valerie E. Decker of Mattituck, Senior who has held a Federation Scholarship. She is the daughter of Edward N. Decker '22.

He was a colonel in World War II; was chairman of the Josiah Macy, Jr. Foundation Conference on Blood Clotting & Allied Problems, 1947-52; president of the Medical College Alumni Association in 1953, and won its Alumni Award in 1955. He received the AB in 1923 and MD in 1926; was on the Varsity wrestling squad and a member of Zodiac. His daughters are married to Robert F. Gatje '51 and Dr. Donald J. Cameron, MD '55.

Kiplinger '39 & Wimsatt '39 Join Board

Trustee Kiplinger is with The Kiplinger Washington Editors; is executive editor of The Washington Kiplinger Letter and publisher of Changing Times magazine. After service as a pilot of Navy fighter planes in the Pacific Theater, he was for five years a radio & television news commentator in Chicago. He received the AB in 1939; is vice-chairman of the University Council and a former director of the Alumni Association; member of Delta Upsilon, Telluride, Phi Beta Kappa, Quill & Dagger, and Sigma Delta Chi. He contributed an article on the opportunities of alumni to serve the University, "Let's Travel Our Two-way Street," in the April 1 ALUMNI NEWS.

Professor Wimsatt, new Faculty Trustee, entered Arts & Sciences in 1938 from Catholic University in Washington, D.C. He received the AB in September, 1939, and the PhD in 1943; taught at Harvard Medical School, returned in 1945 as assistant professor of Zoology, became professor in 1955, has been chairman of the Department since last year. He is well liked as a teacher and has received grants from the National Science Foundation for his researches on the physiology of hibernation and reproduction, working especially with bats. He is a member of Sigma Xi, American Association for the Advancement of Science, and professional societies; was chairman

Trustee Board Gets New Members Alumni Elect Littlewood & Wright

THREE NEW MEMBERS joined the University Board of Trustees, July 1; eight Trustees whose terms expired are continued; and Maxwell M. Upson '99, a member of the Board since 1925, was elected Trustee Emeritus.

New Trustees are Dr. Irving S. Wright '23, elected by the alumni succeeding Allan H. Treman '21; Austin H. Kiplinger '39, elected by the Board for five years, succeeding Upson; and Professor William A. Wimsatt '39, Zoology, elected by the Board for five years as Faculty Trustee, succeeding Professor Morris Bishop '14, Romance Literature, Emeritus.

At the annual meeting of the Alumni Association, June 11, Philip J. Krebs '33, chairman of the committee on elections, announced that alumni had re-elected William Littlewood '20 and elected Dr. Wright as Alumni Trustees for the five-year term ending June 30, 1965. Valid ballots were counted from 19,165 alumni of the 96,655 that were mailed early in April. Littlewood received 10,930 votes and Dr. Wright received 7470.

Trustee Littlewood was first elected by the alumni five years ago. He is vice-president of equipment research of American Airlines and lives at St. Michaels, Md. He has been a member of the executive committee of the Board and was re-elected to that committee; is chairman of the School of Industrial & Labor Relations Council, a director of the Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, and chairman of a committee raising funds for the John M. Olin Library and renovation for the Undergraduate Library. He has been president of the Society of Engineers and vice-president of the Alumni Association; is a member of Tau Beta Pi and was a member of the former Nayati fraternity. Mrs. Littlewood was Dorothy Cushman '21. William C. Littlewood '44 and Robert A. Littlewood '52 are their sons.

Dr. Wright is professor of Clinical Medicine at the Medical College and attending physician at The New York Hospital. A former president of the of the Faculty committee on student conduct from 1948-51. Mrs. Wimsatt was Ruth Peterson '40.

Governor Reappoints Dean '19

Governor Nelson Rockefeller reappointed Arthur H. Dean '19 for his fourth five-year term as a member of the Board of Trustees, subject to confirmation by the State Senate, and the Board re-elected him as chairman for the second year. He was first appointed a Trustee by Governor Thomas E. Dewey in 1945 and was chairman of the Board executive committee from 1948 'until last year. He is senior partner in the New York City law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell and has served the government as special ambassador in Korea and at international conferences. He was a member of the first board of trustees of the State University of New York. Born in Ithaca, he entered the Law School in 1915, received the AB in 1921 & LLB in 1923. He has made numerous gifts to the University, including $250,000 for the Collection of Regional History in the John M. Olin Library in memory of his parents. His father, William C. Dean, was Superintendent of Steam Heating at the University.

Board Re-elects Trustees

At its Commencement Day meeting, the Board of Trustees re-elected as Trustees for five years from July 1 John L. Collyer '17 and J. Preston Levis '24. Collyer, chairman of B. F. Goodrich Co., Akron, Ohio, has been a Trustee since 1941; was chairman of the Board until last year. Levis, board chairman of Owens-Illinois Glass Co., Toledo, Ohio, was first elected by the Board in 1954; has been a member of the investment committee. For 1960-61, the Board re-elected as Trustees from the field of New York State labor Frank S. Columbus and Louis Hollander, who have been members since these Trusteeships were established in 1945, and Harold C. Hanover, president of the State AFL-CIO, who was first elected last year. Harold M. Stanley '15 was reelected a Trustee by the State Grange for his nineteenth one-year term, starting July 1.

Upson '99 Becomes Emeritus

Upson, now elected Trustee Emeritus, was first elected to the Board in 1925 as Alumni Trustee and served two terms; since 1935 has been elected and re-elected by the Board for five-year terms. He has been a member of most Board committees, recently for some years of the executive & investment committees; is the donor of Upson Hall for the School of Mechanical Engineering. He received the ME in 1899; is chairman of Raymond International, Inc., with offices in New York City and construction work the world over; president of the Class of '99; a member of Sphinx Head.

Trustees Organize Committees

The Board re-elected for this year Walker L. Cislser '22 as chairman and Mary H. Donlon '20 as vice-chairman of the executive committee and Trustees Francis H. Scheetz '16, Littlewood, Leslie R. Severinghaus '21 & John P. Syme '26 as members. Trustee Levis replaces Trustee Emeritus Upson on the committee.

Trustee Horace C. Flanigan '12 was re-elected chairman and John M. Olin '13, vice-chairman of the investment committee, as were members Leroy R. Grumman '16, Collyer, Victor Emanuel '19, Levis & Robert W. Purcell '32; with Cislser replacing Upson.

Trustee Paul E. Fitzpatrick '20 is re-lected chairman of the buildings & properties committee, with George A. Newbury '17, Frederic C. Wood '24, Mrs. Thomas T. Mackie (Helen Holme) '29, and Columbus as members.

Audit committee chairman is Trustee John E. Sullivan '24, succeeding Professor Fred H. Rhodes, PhD '14, Industrial Chemistry, Emeritus. Sherman Peer '06, Albert K. Mitchell '17 & Hollander were re-elected members and Mrs. William P. Rogers (Adele Langston) '33 replaces Professor Rhodes.

Trustee Syme was re-elected chairman of the Board membership committee, as were Miss Donlon, Spencer T. Olin '21 & Walter C. Heasley, Jr. '30 as members, and Trustee Kiplinger was added.

Trustees Approve Voluntary ROTC

ALL MILITARY TRAINING for students at the University will be optional starting next fall. The Board of Trustees, June 13, approved a recommendation of the University Faculty & President that Freshmen & Sophomore men no longer be required to take ROTC courses.

The Trustee action followed three months of study by Faculty committees. Last January, the Student Government Executive Board polled undergraduate men and recommended to the Faculty & Board of Trustees that basic ROTC be changed from compulsory to a voluntary program. This was supported vigorously by the Cornell Daily Sun. Faculty committees on military curricula and on requirements for graduation considered the matter and a poll of alumni on the question was evenly divided. The University Faculty at a special meeting, May 26, passed resolutions requesting the Trustees to rescind the requirement of two years of military training, starting September, 1960, "or on the earliest practical date thereafter."

In approving the recommendation, the Trustees adopted a resolution "intended to give full support and encouragement to the voluntary ROTC programs." They requested "the University administration to urge the Department of Defense to take all possible steps, continuously, to improve the quality of ROTC instruction at Cornell;" requested the administration & Faculty "to institute a program of orientation, particularly for entering students, to inform and interest the student body in the voluntary ROTC program, in order that Cornell students may continue to qualify for commissions in the armed forces;" and asked the Faculty "to re-examine the academic curriculum in relation to the elective ROTC and its effect upon the students' academic responsibilities." The Trustee resolution said further: "It is in the national interest to seize every opportunity to strengthen and upgrade the University's academic program and that particular encouragement should be given to strengthen the curriculum concerned with the political, social, and economic problems of grave national and world concern."

Since the University opened, except from 1875-78 and 1942-45, it has required able-bodied undergraduate men to take military training. Until 1880 and from 1902-05, one year was required; from 1905-15, a required second year could be either military training or a course in Physical Culture. From 1880-1902 and since 1915, the University has required two years of military training of most undergraduate men and this has been in the basic ROTC courses for Freshmen & Sophomores since the Student Army Training Corps & Reserve Officers Training Corps replaced the Cornell Cadet Corps in 1917.

The Land Grant Act of 1862, which apportioned government land for colleges and universities in every State, including Cornell for New York, requires these institutions to provide military training, but does not require that it be compulsory. Several land-grant institutions, including University of Minnesota, Ohio State, Rutgers, Texas A & M, Utah State, and Wisconsin (for a two-year trial) have abolished compulsory enrollment in the ROTC, as have a number of privately-supported institutions, and others are considering it.

The four-year Naval ROTC course, started here in 1945, has always been voluntary and students in the required basic Army & Air Force ROTC units volunteer for two more years of advanced courses leading to commissions. The Cornell brigade of the three divisions with nearly 3000 midshipmen & cadets has been one of the largest in the country and a relatively large number of Army & Air Force Sophomores have elected to continue in the advanced courses as Juniors & Seniors. Commissions were given to 224 Seniors this year.

Last February 15, Charles C. Finucane, Assistant Secretary of Defense, issued a statement saying that "Compulsory basic ROTC is not needed to meet quality standards nor is it needed to produce the number of officers required" and that the Department of Defense had adopted "a policy of 'freedom of choice' leaving the decision entirely up to the institution." The Air Force and Army have reduced the strictly military instruction in their advanced ROTC courses and give their cadets credit for taking University courses in prescribed fields. All three branches are studying how to improve their ROTC instruction.

In its resolutions adopted May 26, "The University Faculty finds that the University's obligation under its charter as a land-grant institution and its responsibility to the nation's defense and to its students can adequately be fulfilled without requiring military instruction of its male undergraduates . . ."

Requests to abolish compulsory ROTC at the University are not new. In February, 1927, the University Faculty approved the required two years of "drill" by all undergraduate men, denying a student petition of the previous spring. In 1931, the Faculty recommended to the Trustees that basic ROTC be made elective and two years later, after study, the Board disapproved the recommendation. In 1939, the Student Council petitioned the Board to abolish compulsory ROTC, but it took no action. In March, 1947, a student petition for voluntary ROTC was addressed to the Faculty & Trustees, but the next May the Student Council supported compulsory training for Freshmen & Sophomores. The spring of 1954, the Student Council requested the Faculty to recommend making ROTC voluntary and a year later, the Faculty approved requiring the basic program.

GORGEOUS WEATHER blessed the Reunion. The sun shone in all its glory from Thursday until 3 a.m. Sunday. It was a little cool around the tents Friday evening, but Saturday night was balmy and the tent area came into its own again; having been relatively deserted the last two or three cold years. Talking about the distilled sweetness of cold, Meredith B. (Bud) Cushing '44 of Jamesville, in the ice cream business, is undoubtedly the alumnus best known and liked by Engineering Faculty children; for years on Thursday evening, he has given an ice cream party for them, with enormous social and gustatory success. I can recommend his sherbet.

Reunions have certainly gone high-brow! Even I, living here and thus relatively satiated with lectures, couldn't resist six of the ten proffered cultural offerings, starting Thursday evening. After the sherbet, Culture at Reunions I took in the chatty latter part of a concert by the University Trio, then stayed on for "Sharks and Survival" by Professor Perry W. Gilbert, PhD '40, Zoology. He told of the morale problem among men flying over the Pacific, met by furnishing a survival kit containing copper acetate and a dye. Post-war testing rather debunks the kit. He showed movies of himself capping the eyes and stuffing the nose of a shark and still it could seek out a piece of fish. He thinks it may be able to follow vibrations. Next morning, I had the stimulating intellectual exercise of listening to a noted prize winner, Professor Hans A. Bethe, Physics, on "Fundamental Particles," followed by an appraisal of the benefits and biological costs (reassuring) of atomic energy by Professor Cyril L. Comar, Radiation Biology. That afternoon, there was a fine panel discussion by three economists, largely about the Russian challenge; and in the evening it was a pleasure to hear Professor Arthur Mizener, English, an authority on F. Scott Fitzgerald, talk about "The Great Gatsby and the American Dream." He recognized good rich and bad rich. In all of the programs there was excellent audience participation.

Closing Reunion Rally in Barton Hall

Rison '60

Another great attraction was the Laboratory of Ornithology at Sapsucker Woods. Nine busloads went out, besides numberless cars. It even reopened Saturday evening. Young ducks came up to the feeding station and the tame Mynah-bird entranced visitors with exclamations like "Goodbye," "Good boy," and "Hi, sweetie!"

My individual highlight was unquestionably the cornerstone laying of the John M. Olin Library. What a giant stride forward that represents! John Olin '13 was there to present the building in behalf of himself and the other donors; sparkling new gifts of $100,000 from Harold D. Uris '25 and $25,000 from J. Dan Tuller '09 were announced. Professor Morris Bishop '14, in the program, described the research library as: "... the laboratory of half the College of Arts & Sciences. It is the great dormant brain of the past, wherein the researcher reactivates old thoughts, old truths, which may become new thoughts and new truths." After the ceremonies, I had the pleasure of introducing to each other Newton C. Farr '09 of Chicago, new president of the Library Associates, and Professor Albert H. Wright '04, Zoology, Emeritus, a Library stalwart from 'way back, and left them happily discussing town histories and chronicles of the Civil War.

A prospective action that also touched my heart is a project inaugurated by the Class of 1916 to give a bronze plaque to the University of Heidelberg commemorating Prexy Jacob Gould Schurman, who did so much for Heidelberg when he was US Ambassador to Germany. There is a Schurman Hall there and a stunning oil portrait of him hangs behind the rector's desk. I saw it in 1950.

I wouldn't want to give the impression that the 1960 Reunion was cultural to the point of aridity. Far from it! A beer truck was kept busy replenishing supplies at the tents Saturday night. There was sufficient hubbub at the Drill Hall at and after the luncheons to suit the least fastidious. The '45 Schnickelfritz Band, from Syracuse, had a lilt that attracted half the student waitresses into the pee-rade around Barton as the gang formed to march to the baseball game; it was a hit at the '45 tent that evening, too, where I enjoyed hearing it and meeting four of my former Spanish students. The baseball team pulled out a late-inning victory over Colgate. The Rally Saturday night seemed too short; an indication of excellence. A percussion group of the Concert Band made a hit. The Glee Club did yeoman service at numberless functions. The Continuous Reunion Club was in evidence, with founder Kid Kugler '03 in attendance. William Dalton '90 took a bow at several gatherings. The Sun breakfast was very pleasant. I saw friends in '10, '12, '15, and other Classes.

In short, it was a great reunitive success!

Name Dormitory for Mary Donlon '20

PRESIDENT MALOTT announced at the women's Reunion breakfast, June 11, that the Trustees had named the new women's dormitory Mary H. Donlon Hall for Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20. This was a surprise to Judge Donlon, who was present and received an ovation.

She has been a member of the Board of Trustees since 1937, having been elected for two terms as Alumni Trustee and since co-opted by the Board; is vice-chairman of the executive committee and a member of the Board membership committee. Since 1955, she has been Judge of the US Customs Court in New York City; was the first woman appointed to the Federal bench by President Eisenhower and the first woman in the State to become a Federal judge. She received the LLB in 1920 and is the only woman to be editor of the Law Quarterly. She practiced law with the firm of Burke & Burke in New York City and became a partner in 1928. In 1944, Governor Dewey appointed her chairman of the State Industrial Board and the next year, chairman of the Workmen's Compensation Board. She is a past-president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs and was a director of the Cornell Alumni Corp.; is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi and Mortar Board. Her friends in industry, labor, and the professions endowed the annual Mary H. Donlon Lectures in the School of Industrial & Labor Relations. In 1956, after the uprising in Hungary, Judge Donlon established a scholarship at the University for women from that country.

Construction of Mary H. Donlon Hall has started in the area north of Beebe Lake, near Clara Dickson Hall. Estimated to cost nearly $3,000,000, the six-story structure will house 450 women students allowing for some additional women and replacing some of the former Faculty residences that are being used for them. It is expected to be ready for occupancy in September, 1961. The building was designed by James P. Beardsley '43 & Wallace P. Beardsley, Jr. '46 of Auburn. General contractor is William E. Bouley Co.

State Assists Financing

The University will receive $13,100,000 from the State Dormitory Authority to finance construction of Mary H. Donlon Hall and additional Pleasant Grove Apartments for students and to refinance about $6,000,000 outstanding for other self-liquidating dormitories. These are Anna Comstock House, remodelled in 1940; Clara Dickson Hall, completed in 1946; the six University Halls for men, completed in 1954; and the first Pleasant Grove Apartments, occupied in 1956. The Dormitory Authority will issue revenue bonds to be repaid from the earnings of the dormitories.

Contracts will shortly be let for the additional Pleasant Grove Apartments for 246 undergraduate men and married students, near the present ones above Forest Home. Like these, the new one- and two-bedroom apartment units are designed by the firm of Searle H. von Storch '23 & Burkavage of Waverly, Pa. They are estimated to cost $4,100,000 and are expected to be ready in 1962.

Mary H. Donlon Hall & Student Apartments—Construction has started near Clara Dickson Hall of a new dormitory for 450 women (left), named for Trustee Mary H. Donlon '20, to be ready in September, 1961. James P. Beardsley '43 & Wallace P. Beardsley, Jr. '46 are the architects and contractor is William E. Bouley Co. At right is a unit of additional Pleasant Grove Apartments for 246 undergraduate men & married students, designed by Searle H. Von Storch '23 & Burkavage, for which contracts will shortly be let, for occupancy in 1962.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects

PHI BETA KAPPA chapter at the University initiated seventy-two members, May 2. Four are students in the Graduate School, fifty-four are Seniors, and thirteen are Juniors. The initiates also included one alumnus, Professor Edward A. Jones, PhD '43, head of Romance languages at Morehouse College, Atlanta, Ga. and editor of their Alumni News. He has published articles on French literature and on Negro history. This summer, Professor Jones will be in charge of a study group going to Togoland. Professor Paul M. O'Leary, PhD '29, Economics, chapter president this year, presided at the initiation banquet in Willard Straight Hall and spoke on "Brains and the Modern World." Samuel M. Weber '60 of New York City spoke for the new members.

Officers elected for next year are Professors Philip Morrison, Physics & Nuclear Studies, president; Mrs. Damon

Boynton (Mary Fuertes) '31, English, vice-president; George H. Healey, PhD '47, English & Bibliography, secretary; and Registrar Walter A. Snickenberger, treasurer. The new members are:

GRADUATE STUDENTS: James F. Forrest, MA '57, Motherwell, Scotland; Mrs. Charles C. Hughes (Jane Murphy), Ithaca; James D. Phillips, Ithaca; Samuel P. Regenstreif, Montreal, Quebec.

CLASS OF '60 (besides Weber): Cyrus G. Abbe, Mount Vernon; Byrd K. Avery, Mahwah, N.J.; Robert P. Barroway, Merchantville, N.J.; Abbey L. Berkowitz, Brooklyn; Judith H. Bryant, Greene; Jerome M. Congress, Pittsfield, Mass.; Susan Cowan, Park Forest, Ill.; Cynthia G. Dettelbach, Brooklyn; Mary V. DiGangi, Patterson, N.J.; Theodore B. Donson, Hartsdale; Robert M. Dudnik, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Dorothy L. Eckert, Carnegie, Pa.; Linda M. Eisen, Brooklyn; Evan Eisenberg, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Stephen R. Field, Brooklyn; Newton J. Friedman, Chicago, Ill.; Althea G. Goss, Utica; Elizabeth M. Heine, Staten Island; Melvin S. Hirshowitz, New York City; Joanne V. Isaacs, Scarsdale; Barbara M. Jacobs, Brooklyn; Robert P. Jaye, New York City; Roger W. Kaufman, Van Nuys, Cal.; Ed Kaufmann, Davenport, Iowa; Robert L. Kendall, Rochester; Susan J. Laubengayer, Ithaca; Peter J. Leadley, Rochester; Sandra H. Leff, New York City; Morris A. Lubatkin, Flushing; Thomas F. Lynch, St. Paul, Minn.; George K. Massing, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Carole K. Masutani, Hilo, Hawaii; Seymour H. Mauskopf, Flushing; Eva Metzger, Forest Hills; Frances F. Michaels, Patterson, N.J.; Hiram T. Mudge, Milford, Ohio; Sandra Nasar, Great Neck; Peter S. Olsen, Ithaca; Daniel A. Panshin, Okemos, Mich.; Jane F. Perlberg, New York City; Anita L. Porter, Buffalo; Sylvia B. Rifkin, Forest Hills; Dorothy E. Rose, Yonkers; Lawrence W. Rosenfield, Hancock; Sylvia S. Rosenfield, Haverstraw; Sheila B. Rosenhack, New York City; Muriel F. Rosenthal, Hollis; Lewis B. Sheiner, New York City; David B. Simpson, New York City; Jane B. Thomson, Buffalo; Rosine Vance, Duxbury, Mass.; Walter Williamson, Brooklyn; Vivian Zippin, New York City.

State Supports Colleges

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE appropriated $13,863,147 for operating the State-supported divisions of the University and the Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva in the fiscal year that started April 1. Federal appropriations add $2,421,948 toward the total 1960-61 operating budget for these divisions of $20,822,799. $4,537,704 will come from research grants and other income.

College of Agriculture has for this year a State operating appropriation of $6,965,031 and from the Federal government $1,839,498; Home Economics, State $1,564,276, Federal $463,259; Veterinary College State appropriation is $1,239,978; School of Industrial & Labor Relations $1,098,059. For general services at the University the State appropriated $1,529,159. The Geneva Experiment Station, administered by the College of Agriculture, has a State operating appropriation of $1,466,644 and $119,191 in Federal funds. State appropriations for operating these divisions this year are $411,993 more than for 1959-60.

Club Federation Elects

MRS. RICHARD SEIPT (Virginia Bartel) '32 of Darien, Conn. is the new president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs. She was elected at the annual meeting in Phillips Hall, June 11, to succeed Marjory A. Rice '29, who has been president for two two-year terms. Wife of Richard Seipt '32 & mother of Virginia G. Seipt '60, she is chairman of the secondary schools committee of the Cornell Women's Club of Western Connecticut & has been a director of the Alumni Association since 1958. She is a member of Sigma Kappa.

Mrs. A. Leo Fox (Norma Ross) '27 was re-elected second vice-president at the meeting attended by delegates from twenty-eight of the forty-two member Clubs. The newest, Cornell Women's Club of Milwaukee, Wis., was organized May 28 with Mrs. B. J. Dziedzic (Esther Dorszynski), Grad '49-'50, as president.

Celebration at Heidelberg

PRESIDENT MALOTT announced, June 11, that University of Heidelberg, Germany, has invited representatives and alumni of Cornell to attend a celebration there May 31, 1961, when a plaque in memory of President Jacob Gould Schurman will be dedicated in Schurman Hall at Heidelberg. President Schurman when he was US Ambassador to Germany, 1925-29, raised $500,000 from Americans for a classroom building at Heidelberg which was opened in 1931 and named Schurman Hall. A bronze plaque commemorating Schurman as President of Cornell University from 1892-1920, provided by the Class of '16, will be unveiled in the building at the 575th anniversary celebration of the founding of Heidelberg, which will also be the occasion of the first Heidelberg alumni reunion.

John L. Collyer '17, recent chairman of the University Board of Trustees, is chairman of a Cornell committee to arrange for attendance of Cornellians at the ceremony there next May 31. Donald McMaster '16 is vice-chairman of the committee and other members will be announced. It is expected that a special tour to Heidelberg for Cornellians may be arranged, and further details will appear in the ALUMNI NEWS.

Professor Theol. W. Hahn, Rector of University of Heidelberg, writing to President Malott, recalled that President Schurman as Ambassador had done much to further good relations between Germany and the United States. He studied at Heidelberg before he came to Cornell as Sage Professor of Philosophy in 1886 and the University of Heidelberg awarded him the honorary PhD in 1927. In 1957, University of Heidelberg established a Schurman Scholarship to bring a student from Cornell to study there each year for ten years.

Olin '13 Dedicates Library Building

CORNERSTONE of the John M. Olin Library was set in place, June 11, by Trustee John Olin '13 and he presented the building to the University on behalf of all who have contributed for it. Olin gave $3,000,000 toward the total cost of $5,700,000 for the new research library building. Other individual donors of substantial amounts have included Trustee Emeritus Nicholas H. Noyes '06; Trustees Arthur H. Dean '19, Herbert F. Johnson '22 & Robert W. Purcell '32; and Willard A. Kiggins '21.

Trustee William Littlewood '20, chairman of a committee raising funds for the building, announced at the exercises that Harold D. Uris '25 and Mrs. Uris had made an additional gift of $100,000 and that J. Daniel Tuller '09 and Mrs. Tuller had given $25,000. These gifts bring the total to just over $5,000,000, he said, so $700,000 more is needed for this building and $1,500,000 for renovating the original Library for undergraduate use starting when the Olin Library is completed.

President Deane W. Malott presided at the cornerstone-laying ceremonies. The Rev. L. Paul Jaquith, Director of CURW, gave an invocation and the Glee Club sang the "Song for Cornell" beginning, "Spirit of wisdom . . ." Library Director Stephen A. McCarthy expressed the thanks of Faculty, staff, and students for the new building, saying that the Faculty and scholars had built the great collection of books at the University and that such a suitable home for it "was inevitable." After Trustee Littlewood's address, Olin formally presented the building and it was accepted for the University by Dean as chairman of the Board of Trustees. The Glee Club and audience sang the "Alma Mater," then the President presented to Olin an inscribed silver trowel, with which he spread the mortar for setting the cornerstone in place. He was assisted by Trustee Walker L. Cisler '22, chairman of the Board executive committee, and by Louis R. Perini, president of the general contractors, Perini Corp., with the audience crowding the platform.

Set Cornerstone of John M. Olin Library—Alumni at Reunions and members of the University gathered on the lawn of Sage Chapel, June 11, for ceremonies in which Trustee John M. Olin '13 presented for all the donors the $5,700,000 building named for him. With a silver trowel he set the cornerstone in the wall behind the platform at the southwest corner of the seven-story structure. President Malott is speaking. Partly hidden behind the podium is Director of Libraries Stephen A. McCarthy and seated facing the audience (from left) are Trustees William Littlewood '20 & Arthur H. Dean '19, Mrs. Olin, and Trustee Olin. Other donors are on the platform, including Harold D. Uris '25 and J. Daniel Tuller '09 & Mrs. Tuller, whose new gifts for the Olin Library were announced at this gathering.

A copper box sealed in the cornerstone holds for posterity a large collection of documents pertaining to the building and the University. In it are copies of reports and surveys dealing with Library needs going back to 1948; brochures on Library collections; this year's University Directories and Campus map; current issues of The New York Times, Ithaca Journal, Cornell Daily Sun, and Letter from Cornell; twenty-one issues of CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS dating from November 15, 1955, with pictures & news items about the building; the President's Commencement address and remarks at the cornerstone laying, with a program of the opening of the original Library building in 1891; and microfilms of much correspondence, contracts, and Trustee actions concerning the John M. Olin Library.

Olin's gift for the Library named for him represents a continuation of his family's generosity to the University. His brother, Trustee Spencer T. Olin '21, gave Hollister Hall for the School of Civil Engineering and his father, the late Trustee Franklin W. Olin '85, gave Olin Hall for Chemical Engineering as a memorial to an older son, the late Franklin W. Olin, Jr. '12. The Olin Foundation gave F. W. Olin Hall, dormitory for the Medical College in New York. John Olin received the BChem in 1913. He is chairman of the executive committee of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., East Alton, Ill.

Harold Uris entered Civil Engineering from DeWitt Clinton High School, New York City, in February, 1922, and received the CE in February, 1926. He is a member of Pi Lambda Phi and of the University Council. His firm of Uris Brothers, with Percy Uris, investment builders, had made an earlier gift for the Olin Library. Uris was the first president of the Investing Builders Association of New York, composed of twenty-eight firms that construct each year office buildings, hotels, and apartment houses valued at more than $200,000,000. He is a trustee of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies of New York and the New York Guild for Jewish Blind. Linda M. Uris '63 is his daughter.

Tuller received the CE in 1909. He retired in 1956 as president of Tuller Construction Co., which he organized in Red Bank, N.J. in 1923. Early this year, he organized the Tuller Foundation for the Advancement of Economic Understanding, with offices in Red Bank. He is a member of the University Council and a former president of the Cornell Society of Engineers.

To Build New Bridges

FALL CREEK will be spanned by three new bridges connecting the Campus with Cornell Heights. The City of Ithaca has let a contract to replace Triphammer Bridge between East Avenue and Thurston Avenue and the University has finished construction of a foot bridge across the gorge just east of it. Further down, the University is replacing the old Suspension Bridge, closed for a year because it had become unsafe. Professor S. C. Hollister, Civil Engineering, Emeritus, volunteered his services to design and supervise construction of the two bridges built by the University. He is assisted by Professor William McGuire, MCE '47, Structural Engineering.

Site of New Bridge—This picture of the old wooden bridge across Fall Creek at Triphammer Falls was supplied by the late Professor James E. Rice '90 and published in the NEWS May 1, 1946 with a letter from him. It was taken in 1889, before the present dam and Hydraulic Laboratory were built, when "Beebe Lake was only a creek flowing through a wooded swamp." The University has built a new foot bridge whose south abutment is about where the south end of this one was, at right. The new bridge extends more directly north than the old one, to a point near Noyes Lodge, on the shore of Beebe Lake next to the old Johnny Parson Club.

The new foot bridge has been erected below Triphammer Falls, from a point on the south wall of the gorge above the Hydraulics Laboratory to a path in front of Noyes Lodge. Its south end is about that of an old wooden bridge that spanned the gorge in the 1880's, before Triphammer Bridge was built. The new structure is forty-two feet above the floor of the gorge and has three spans totaling 157 feet. It will take foot traffic off Triphammer Bridge and will be a shorter route between the women's dormitory and fraternity areas and the Colleges of Home Economics and Agriculture. Contractor was Ernst Iron Works of Buffalo.

The Suspension Bridge, built by the University about 1900, is a single span of 270 feet, 122 feet above the water. New concrete abutments will replace the deteriorating stone masonry in the gorge walls and the span of the new bridge, to be erected by Bethlehem Steel Co., will be twenty feet more. It will have less sway and more safety than the old bridge, Professor Hollister says, but will preserve the breathtaking beauty of the present structure and site.

Both bridges will have eight-foot concrete walkways, allowing for use of snow-plows instead of shovels—important in the Ithaca climate; and railings will be supplemented with woven wire guards for safety.

Taylor '88 Remembers

THE UNIVERSITY has received a bequest of $76,000 for its unrestricted use indirectly from the estate of the late Judge Harry L. Taylor '88. It is the residuary estate of Judge Taylor's sister, Mary A. Taylor, who died in January, 1959. Charles J. Stein '09, attorney handling the estate and long-time friend of the Taylors, says: "It had been understood between Judge Taylor and his sister that the residuary estate of the last survivor of them would be bequeathed to Cornell, and that is what happened."

Judge Taylor died July 12, 1955, in Buffalo, where he started to practice law after receiving the LLB in 1893. Receiving the AB in 1888, he was president of his Class and a member of Phi Beta Kappa; was catcher & captain of the Varsity baseball team both as an undergraduate and when he returned to the Law School in 1892-93. In the interim, he played with Louisville in the National League, in the American Association, and with the Baltimore Orioles. He was Erie County judge, 1906-13; then State Supreme Court justice, 1913-24; and associate justice of the Appellate Division until he retired in 1937. Thereafter, he was an official referee of the Supreme Court until 1944. He was Alumni Trustee of the University from 1903-13.

Disappointment at Syracuse

A DISCOURAGING SHOWING and a broken-hearted young man were Cornell's unwanted rewards from the Intercollegiate Rowing Association regatta at Syracuse's Onondaga Lake, June 18.

The varsity race went to California and Cornell tied for fifth with the other alleged Eastern power, Penn. California's time for the three-mile course was 15:57.0 and Navy was about a length and a quarter behind.

The Big Red was a strong contender with a mile to go. It was cruising along in second place behind Washington when stroke oar Robert E. Simpson '62 of White Plains started to falter and then passed out completely three-quarters of a mile from the finish. He did not row for about 400 yards and then courageously but weakly resumed, to help retain a fairly respectable position in the race. But Cornell had lost any chance to win. Cornell's glory was solely in the junior-varsity race, which it won by three lengths in a no-strain 16:12.0. California was second; Navy, third; and Washington, fourth. The Freshmen placed a disappointing sixth.

Washington took an early lead in the varsity race and was ahead as much as two lengths at the half-way point. Cornell & California battled continuously for second place to the two-mile mark. Washington was rowing 34 strokes a minute; California was at 32 & 33; and Cornell rowing 28, no more than 29, was retaining its position with California, and presumably had plenty left to challenge the high-stroking Washington Huskies.

When the Huskies started to fade, however, it was the California shell that whizzed by. Cornell's had seven men rowing. This was the seventh win in eight races for Coach Jim Lemon's California crew. Its only loss had been to Washington in a three-mile race. Navy came up fast at the finish to claim second place from Washington and an unbelievably strong Brown eight took fourth only a few feet behind the Huskies. Brown rowing is not supported by the university and their part-time coach could not get to Syracuse for the regatta.

Transposed Junior Varsity Wins

The Red Junior Varsity crew, stroked by Harry H. Moseley '61 of Bay Village, Ohio, has not been beaten all year. It has not always been the Junior Varsity. Its victory in the Eastern Sprint championships at Worcester as the Varsity entry startled the rowing world; then it won the Carnegie Cup from Princeton & Yale as the Varsity. It won as the Junior Varsity in the Goes Cup Regatta and beat Penn when the Varsity was beaten. As Cornell has entered both its upper-class crews in the Olympic trials at Syracuse, July 7-9, it will have its chance in a bigger one than the IRA.

Moseley got the Jayvees away to a good start, rowing at 38, and then settled to 28 & 29. Cornell was in third place behind Washington & California through the first mile. Then the Red made its bid, went ahead by a slight margin, and was never again behind. At the end of two miles, the Jayvees were in front by about a length and a half. They went to 30 & 31 and finished at 34. California and Washington were rowing much higher, but the margin was three lengths at the finish for the powerful Cornellians.

Navy plebes won the freshman event handily over another surprising entry, from MIT. Washington, again the early leader, finished third.

Water conditions were fine all day. A head wind in the freshman and junior-varsity races diminished to almost nothing for the varsity event. An estimated 15,000 people lined the shores of Onondaga, many of whom seemed happy at the Cornell victory in the junior-varsity race, judging by the applause.

For some reason, the crews had a hard time keeping their lanes in the varsity race. Washington rowed in at least six lanes and according to one observer, "probably rowed 200 yards farther than any other crew." It started in Lane 5 and finished outside the course, pushing Brown almost into the heavy rocks on the shore near the finish. Princeton & California tipped oars near the start.

Trustee John L. Collyer '17, honorary referee, awarded the John Lyon Collyer Medals to the winning varsity oarsmen. Robert J. Kane '34, chairman of the IRA board of stewards, gave the trophies to the winning crews. Judge Norman G. Stagg & Richard Aronson '26 were assistant referees, and Dr. W. Forrest Lee '06 & Peter J. McManus '32 were timers.

J-V Stroke is Commodore

The squad elected Junior Varsity stroke Harry Moseley, six-foot-four, 190-pound stalwart, to be commodore of the 1961 crews. He will be a Senior in Mechanical Engineering; is the brother of William F. Moseley '58; member of Sigma Nu.

The IRA champions from California and a four-oared crew from University of Wisconsin coached by Norman Sonju, who went there from Cornell in 1946, are living and training here with the Cornell crews for the Olympic trials, July 7-9. The visitors are staying in Schoellkopf Hall and the Cornell crews are quartered in Collyer Boathouse.

Cornell's Class of '57 four-oared crew of Robert W. Staley, bow, William J. Schumacher, 2, David F. Davis, 3, & Clayton Chapman, stroke, with Carl W. Schwarz, coxswain, placed second of five crews in an Olympic 2000-meter test-race on the Schuylkill River, June 18. Phillips Exeter Academy won by a boat-length; Yale Rowing Association was third; Union Boat Club of Boston, fourth; Potomac Boat Club of Washington, fifth.

Win Baseball Final

VARSITY BASEBALL team won its last game, but had lost seven and tied one just before. With a Peripatetic Reunion crowd of alumni on Hoy Field, June 11, Colgate was beat, 8-5. The nine-inning game took three hours. Attendance was about 2000 at the beginning and 600 at the end. The day before at Hamilton, Colgate won, 5-4.

Sophomores played a big role in the Cornell victory on a sunny, warm day. Shortstop Patrick J. Pennucci of Mamaroneck made four hits in five tries and pitcher Arlo R. McDowell came through in good style on the mound. He relieved Senior H. Laurance Fuller in the second inning after Colgate had made 4 runs, principally because Fuller could not get the ball over the plate. He walked four in the second inning. McDowell controlled the Red Raiders the rest of the way. He allowed six scattered hits, walked two, and fanned six.

Colgate's big inning was the second, with 4 runs, and Cornell made 5 in the sixth, all unearned. The sixth looked like a lot of the others for Cornell for a while. Outfielder Bruce H. Campbell '61 grounded out. McDowell walked, and third baseman Eugene J. Shea '61 looked at a third strike. So when first baseman Ronald S. Ivkovich '61 hit a hard smash straight toward Colgate's second baseman Gray, it appeared to be a routine out. But Gray could not handle it. Captain Michael H. Kaufman '60 walked, to fill the bases. Catcher Lyman M. Beggs '61 hit a long one to left field and the Colgate outfielder muffed it. All runners crossed the plate and Beggs landed on second base. Pennucci and center-fielder David E. McKelvey '62 hit singles and the damage was done. Beggs, Pennucci, and McKelvey are football players.

This made a 4-10-1 season for the Big Red. Four of the ten losses were by one run and three of the games were lost in the last inning. Most of the losses were caused by poor fielding.

In the game at Hamilton, June 10, Sophomore Harvey L. Kaufman of Port Chester pitched well and became the only Varsity pitcher to go nine innings this season. Cornell made 3 runs in the ninth. Footballers Pennucci & McKelvey started off with sharp singles and Campbell walked to fill the bases. John R. Smutko '62 sacrificed and Ivkovich singled to bring in the 3 runs, but they were not quite enough.

The Colgate series stands at 42-40 for Colgate, with one tie. Cornell's other victories were over Union, Dartmouth & Princeton.

Ivkovich, first baseman from McKeesport, Pa., made All-Ivy and All-Eastern Intercollegiate League baseball teams. He hit .361 in the League and .328 for all games. Outfielder Robert L. Reed '61 of Middletown, Ohio was the only other Cornellian to be chosen on the Ivy squad. He was placed on the second team. His League average was .194 and his season mark was .240. Shortstop Pennucci, winner of the Albert H. Sharpe Award as outstanding player, was the batting leader of the team with .365 average. He was followed by McKelvey with .348, and Ivkovich was third.

Other Sports

SEVERAL TRACK AWARDS were given to the 1960 squad. Raymond C. Burton, Jr. '60 won two besides the new Sportsmanship Trophy (see picture). Gatling Award for the Senior who has done the most for track, given by John W. Gatling '28, went to Burton, with the award for the outstanding Senior hurdler, given by Walker Smith '20.

The others are Shorty Lawrence Award for the most improved field-event man, to pole vaulter Albert M. Finch '60; Jinky Crozier Award, given by Max M. Savitt '26 for the best competitive 440-relay man, to Murray B. Moulding

New Award—First to receive this new Sportsmanship Trophy was Raymond C. Burton, Jr. '60, Varsity sprinter, hurdler & high jumper; son of Raymond C. Burton '21 of Philadelphia, Pa. He is pictured with Coach Louis C. Montgomery. This permanent Trophy & provision for smaller replicas to be given to the Senior track man chosen each year by the Varsity squad as best exemplifying sportsmanship are given by an anonymous Cornellian in tribute to Athletic Director Robert J. Kane '34. Photo Science

'61, who also received the Most Improved Runner Award, given by Clarence F. Morse '14; Class Mile-relay Award, given by James R. Rothschild, to Sophomores Eric P. Groom, James J. McSweeney, Henry T. Betts & Peter G. Slater; Everett L. Colyer '31 Pole Vault Award, given by W. Herbert Grigson '20, to Captain John S. Murray '61; and Charley Moore '51 Bowls, given anonymously, went to George A. Ekstrom '61, outstanding sprinter; Groom, outstanding miler; Peter W. Brandeis '61, outstanding middle-distance runner.

Brandeis ran the fastest half-mile in Cornell history, June 11 in the Metropolitan AAU championships at Yonkers, but finished third. He ran 1:51.1 in a race won by Tom Murphy in 1:48.2, fastest half-mile ever run in the East. The Cornell record was 1:52.2, set by Charles H. Hill '59 in 1959. Albert W. Hall '56 won the hammer-throw in the meet with 205 feet 3½ inches.

In an armed forces meet at Quantico, Va., June 9, Irvin Roberson '58 won the broad jump with 25 feet 7½ inches.

Brandeis and Eric Groom failed to get by the trials in the National Collegiate track championships at Berkeley, Cal., June 17 & 18. Brandeis ran fifth and out of the money in an 800-meter trial and Groom ran eleventh of twelve at 1500 meters. Only the first three qualified for the final.

The only Cornellian to make the All-Ivy lacrosse team was star midfielder & Captain David W. Dresser '60. The championship Princeton team dominated the selections with four first-team players, three on the second, and three honorable mention. Frederick H. Glann '60 made the second team at attack and honorable mentions were given Daniel L. Bidwell '60, midfielder; David A. Ferguson '61 & Ronald L. Hall '61, defense-men; and goalie Michael R. Gatje '61.

Donald Rubell '61 of Brooklyn won the Eastern Intercollegiate Tennis Association championship for the second successive year on the Colgate courts at Hamilton, June 17 & 18. He retained his title by defeating Wayne Adams of Randolph-Macon, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, in the final round. A Dartmouth pair won the doubles, Gordon Aydelott & Jim Biggs. Dartmouth took the team title with 47 points. Cornell was second with 22; Randolph-Macon, third, with 17; Colgate, fourth, with 14.

Unfairness in Olympics?

CONSTERNATION came to Ithaca and the University because of a June 6 decision by the executive board of the US Olympic Association to permit three men to challenge for places on the US freestyle wrestling team that goes to Rome this summer who did not take part in any of the qualifying rounds or the final tryouts.

Two of the men taking the easy route are allowed to challenge the two Cornellians from Ithaca who won their freestyle divisions, David C. Auble '60, 125.5 pounds, and Frank A. Bettucci '53, 145.5 pounds. The new challengers are Terry McCann of Tulsa, Okla. at 125.5 pounds, and Frank R. Burke of Grand Junction, Colo. at 145.5; & Elliot Simons of Lock Haven, Pa. at 115.5 pounds.

Rules for qualification adopted by the US Olympic wrestling committee say:

The first three place-winners in the final Free Style Wrestling try-outs at Ames, Iowa, and the first-place winner in the Greco-Roman Style constitute the United States Olympic Wrestling Squad. In case of a duplication, i.e., the Greco-Roman champion placing 1st, 2d, or 3d in the Free Style, additional personnel may be selected by the Olympic Wrestling Committee to constitute a squad of 32 wrestlers. In order to be eligible to participate in the final eliminations at the training camp, the wrestler must have placed 1st, 2d, 3d, or 4th in the style of wrestling in which he wishes to participate.

University Protests Board Action

Vigorous protest was lodged by Athletic Director Rober J. Kane '34 against the recommendation of the wrestling committee to qualify the three men who had not competed, when it was made public three days after the final trials, May 2. As a member of the executive board of the Olympic Association, he also objected at the board meeting, June 6, but the committee's recommendation was approved, 11-6.

President Deane W. Malott wrote to Kenneth L. Wilson, president of US Olympic Association, June 10: His letter said, in part:

... It is not necessary to recite here the details of the committee's rules and regulations which governed the regional and final trials in wrestling, except to say that they were clear-cut and well publicized. Our Cornell competitors and their coach understood them and relied on them. Clearly, one had to compete and had to place first, second, third, or fourth, or he could not make the squad.

More than a month after the trials were over, a recommendation that three young men be qualified for the squad who did not compete in any of the trials was approved by the Executive Board. This has had a most disturbing effect at Cornell University. We teach our boys that moral principles and sportsmanship must govern the conduct of every representative on our athletic teams. We pride ourselves on our reputation in this regard. Our coaches are charged with the responsibility of knowing all the rules of play and of qualification and to impart them properly to their charges. We have trusted the people who make the rules and have had confidence in their ability and fairness in administering them.

When well-established rules of qualification are changed after the competitions are over and by a body as respected and highly placed as the executive board of the US Olympic Association, it becomes difficult to explain. And we have the further problem of how we may conscientiously ask our students to depend on us to represent their equitable interests in the future.

I would much appreciate an explanation of this apparent change in the executive board's procedures and standards, so that confidence in fair play can be restored among the Cornell students concerned.

President Wilson replied by saying that "these boys deserve a chance because of their fine record." He did not explain the apparent breach of the rules for qualification set by the Olympic wrestling committee. President Malott wrote him again asking for a more explicit explanation and Kane asked the executive board to reconsider the matter.

Class Secretaries Work

ASSOCIATION OF CLASS SECRETARIES

President Henry J. Benisch '20 announced that he has appointed Wallace B. Rogers '43, University Manager of Purchases, to be chairman of a committee for Alumni Homecoming, next October 22. At the Reunion meeting of the Association, June 11, President Benisch also announced that Foster M. Coffin '12, Director Emeritus of Willard Straight Hall, will again head a committee to survey Class Reunions and make recommendations. A new committee to study and report on methods of Class financing of both men & women has as chairman Bruce W. Hackstaff '31. Donald W. Baker '22 now represents the Association on the committee on Alumni Trustee nominations and Mrs. John Church (Caroline Norfleet) '43 is a director of the Alumni Association with President Benisch.

Winter "workshops" for Class officers will be at the Roosevelt Hotel, New York City, next January 14.

Senior Societies Elect

MEN'S SENIOR SOCIETIES initiated their chapter members for next year, April 28, and those of Mortar Board were announced at the WSGA mass meeting in Bailey Hall, May 5. The new members of the three societies follow; all Juniors except a few men who will be in the fifth year of Engineering, designated '60.

Sphinx Head officers for next year are George M. Malti, president; Bernard F. Iliff, vice-president; Alan F. McCrea, secretary; John N. Motycka, treasurer.

Those of Quill & Dagger are Willis S. Clark, president; John C. Petry, vice-president; Warren E. Sundstrom, secretary; Philip Hertz, treasurer.

Mortar Board members elected Anne

Yeager, president; Mary-Anne Smoler, vice-president; Elizabeth Little, secretary; Patricia Rohm, treasurer.

Show Bridge Designers

UNITED STATES STEEL advertises in the professional journals some of the highway bridges designed by the consulting engineering firm of Seelye, Stevenson, Value & Knecht. The two-page advertisement pictures two of the firm's partners, Harold S. Woodward '22 and Williams D. Bailey '24, and Robert F. Shumaker '49.

Calendar of Coming Events

Thursday, July 7

Ithaca: State Nutrition Institute; ends July 8
Concert, John Carruth, Organist, Sage Chapel, 8:15

Syracuse: Cornell crews in Olympic rowing trials, Onondaga Lake; through July 9

Sunday, July 10

Ithaca: Sage Chapel preacher, the Rev. Lowell R. Ditzen, The Reformed Church, Bronxville, 11

Forum Series: Professor Robert J. Smith, Sociology, "Modern Japan," Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

Monday, July 11

Ithaca: Industrial & Labor Relations School management seminar on industrial training opens

Wednesday, July 13

Ithaca: Lecture, A. Henry Detweiler, Associate Dean Architecture, "The Cornell-Harvard Archeological Expedition," Alice Statler Auditorium, 8

Thursday, July 14

Ithaca: Sonata Recital, John Hsu, Music, 'cellist, Joseph Rezits, pianist, Barnes Hall, 8:15

Sunday, July 17

Ithaca: Sage Chapel preacher, the Rev. Howard Moody, Judson Memorial Church, New York City, 11

Forum Series: Professor John W. Wells, PhD '33, Geology, "Geological History of the Finger Lakes Region," Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

Monday, July 18

Ithaca: Industrial & Labor Relations School management seminar on in-plant communication opens

Wednesday, July 20

Ithaca: Lecture, Professor Cyril L. Comar, Radiation Biology, "Atomic Energy: An Appraisal of Benefits vs. Biological Costs," Alice Statler Auditorium, 8

Thursday, July 21

Ithaca: Sonata recital, Sheldon Kurland, Music, violinist, Daniel Eller, pianist, Barnes Hall, 8:15

Sunday, July 24

Ithaca: Sage Chapel preacher, the Rev. Donald L. Berry of Colgate, 11

Forum Series: Professor Arthur A. Allen '08, Ornithology, Emeritus, "Bird Life in and Around Ithaca," Willard Straight Hall, 8:30

Monday, July 25

Ithaca: Industrial & Labor Relations School management seminar on community relations opens

Wednesday, July 27

Ithaca: Lecture, Lester W. Nelson, The Ford Foundation, "National Trends in Curriculum & Teaching Improvement," Alice Statler Auditorium, 8

Thursday, July 28

Ithaca: Concert, Daniel Eller, Music, pianist, Barnes Hall, 8:15

"On the Hill . . ."

John B. Rison '60

Au Revoir!

WITH FINAL EXAMS and graduation well in the past, many of our Class of '60 have come to the stark realization that their Cornell undergraduate days are over; that they will not be returning to Ithaca in September, as they have the last three or four years. Already we have nostalgic memories of undergraduate days and of close friendships that were made "on the Hill." For the moment, the Campus buildings are empty, the Quadrangle paths are untrod, and the Ivy Room is silent, but the memories of these are brilliantly alive. It is hard to realize that I will not be returning to enjoy and participate in undergraduate activities.

A new trend is forming in the general area of undergraduate thought. In the last year, we have seen a greatly increasing stress all over the Campus on the intellectual aspects of academic life. More lectures were offered for students and the new "distinguished visitor" program had a solid start with the visit of Harry S. Truman. The IFC and the new Student Government Executive Board have endorsed and presented many activities in this area of intellectual culture. And I think that generally more students are more concerned with their studies than they have been in the past. There has been a general lack of "wild" fraternity parties and full-scale "panty raids;" these are definitely the immature symbols of the past.

With this greater importance given to academics have come some problems. It has become harder to keep up with University work, and some students have been unable or unwilling to meet the demands. Thirty Freshmen were failed in English last term because of plagiarism. The English Department found that some of them didn't know they were plagiarizing, but some did it intentionally. There have been student thefts, cheating, and discussion of honor codes. It is difficult to devise a "system" that will eliminate these academic problems. Some students feel that they are forced to plagiarize and cheat by the academic race: they cannot keep up with their competitors (and of course, some don't want to) and are willing to take the chance of being caught. It is certain that the level of student academic thought and attitude will continue to rise and more students will fall by the wayside.

It is to be hoped that the students who follow the Class of '60 will continue to realize the advantages and the problems involved in higher education. The road to completion of one's education is sometimes rough, but the satisfaction in attaining its rewards is truly great.

As I begin my career with Western Electric Co. as a trainee in their installation division, I look forward to realizing the benefits of a four-year investment. Having been able to write these columns for alumni has been a cherished experience and I hope my writings have brought you some enjoyment, entertainment, and remembrance of your own undergraduate days at Cornell.

Executive Board at its last meeting of the year unanimously approved a proposed student conference on segregation, tentatively scheduled for October. It is planned to include discussions of procedures for furthering local integration, for raising counsel funds for Negroes, and other "practical" matters. The Board has approved, in principle, a classroom honor system, but sent the plan back to the originating committee for further details. Other Board action at its final meeting included setting maximum curfew hours for overnight week ends at 3 a.m. Saturday and 4 a.m. Sunday; approval of a plan by which fourteen selected members of the Freshman Class would periodically rotate to different committee assignments in student government; and endorsement of a Student Government Handbook to be distributed to all students next fall.

At the annual President's Review of the ROTC brigade, Army Cadet Harold F. Kaiser, Jr. '59 of Staten Island was awarded the $3000 Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory Fellowship.

Terence M. Mulroy, Grad, of Shrewsbury, England, has been experimenting with new traffic control equipment at the intersection of Campus Road & Central Avenue. Mulroy's thesis for the MA will be based on his work in determining a better system for the flow of traffic at the University's busiest intersection.

Kappa Alpha started a program aimed at placing emphasis on the academic side of college life and on education in general. The first in its series of lectures was given in late May by Morris Bishop '14, Kappa Alpha Professor of Romance Literature, Emeritus, & University Historian, who spoke on "Cornell Fraternities in the Early Days."

A touch of Metropolitan glamor brightened the Campus in early May. With cameras and trunksfull of men's fall fashions, photographers & writers for Look magazine came to take pictures of Cornell men for their back-to-college clothes feature next fall.

Fuertes Memorial Debate co-winners were Richard L. Venezky '60 of Peoria, Ill. and John E. Gordon '59 of Hampton, N.H. The speaking contest for students in Engineering & Architecture was held in English style, with the listeners seating themselves behind the speakers they favored.

ROTC cadets gave 605 pints of blood to the Red Cross, May 18.

Robert G. Pierce '61 of Saranac Lake has been named as new president of the Men's Independent Council. Stephen D. Krasner '63 of New York City will be vice-president and Jerome S. Kraus '62 of Laurelton, treasurer.

W. Stephen Middaugh '62 of Chevy Chase, Md. has received the Pi Delta Epsilon national medal for contributions to collegiate journalism for his work with The Cornell Countryman. He also received the Cornell chapter award, presented by Robert B. Toffler '60 of Weehawken, N.J., outgoing president.

Hamilton Award was won by Marc Fishzohn '59 of Rye. An engraved wristwatch is awarded each year by Hamilton Watch Co. to the College of Engineering graduate who has most successfully combined proficiency in his major field of study with achievements either academic, extracurricular, or both in the social sciences & humanities. Having the highest cumulative averages at the end of four years, Edward J. Ingall '60 of Teaneck, N.J. & Robert Shaw, Jr. '60 of Philadelphia, Pa. were awarded the Sibley Prizes in Mechanical Engineering. Machine Design Award went to Leonard H. Copeland '60 of Ithaca and Shaw also received the Air Conditioning Award for his superior work in that field.

Edward S. Lee '61 was selected to participate with some twenty other students in a summer tour of the Soviet Union supported by the Carnegie Corp. He is the son of D. Boardman Lee '26 & Mrs. Lee (Elizabeth Gregg) '29 of Ithaca. The students are studying Russian at University of Michigan for eight weeks and will spend four weeks in the USSR.

Students have named the new John M. Olin Library "the punch-card building," suggested by the four rows of tall, narrow window-openings that line the superstructure. Nearby Day Hall, of course, is known as "the post-office."

THE FACULTY

Trustee Emeritus Nicholas H. Noyes '06 (above), chairman of the finance committee and a director of Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, Ind., celebrated his fiftieth anniversary with the company, May 2. A dinner was held in his honor at the Marott Hotel in Indianapolis. Noyes recently received the honorary LLB of Butler University. He is a member of the business advisory council of the US Department of Commerce and was an executive committee member of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association for twenty-five years and president from 1931-33. He is a member of the board of managers of Memorial Center for Cancer & Allied Diseases, New York City, and a director of the Boys' Club of America and Indiana Bell Telephone Co. He gave with Mrs. Noyes the Noyes Collection of Historical Americana in the University Library, and Noyes Lodge with his brother, Jansen Noyes '10.

Professor Thomas W. Mackesey, retired June 30 as Dean of Architecture, is engaged this summer in planning a new national university at Ventiane, Laos. He will return to New York City in September to sail with his family for a sabbatic year lecturing with a Fulbright grant in the school of architecture at the Royal Academy of Art in Copenhagen, Denmark.

William G. Moulton resigned as professor of Linguistics in the Division of Modern Languages, June 30, and will join the Princeton faculty next fall. He received the BS at Princeton in 1935. He received the PhD at Yale, where he was on the faculty for ten years before coming to Cornell in 1947.

Seniors in Agriculture chose Professor Thomas R. Nielsen, Agronomy, to receive the 1960 Professor of Merit Award. N. Hugh Smith, a member of the Senior honor society, Ho-Nun-De-Kah, presented to Professor Nielsen the walking-plow plaque that traditionally accompanies the award, June 12, at the annual Senior-Faculty-parent reception in Willard Straight Hall.

"We Must Show the Way to Enduring Peace" is the title of a contribution by Professor Clinton L. Rossiter III '39, American Institutions, to the Life magazine series on "The National Purpose." It appears in the June 13 issue and was reprinted in The New York Times of that date. He lists four principal problems that America must solve: "the crisis in race relations, the crisis in culture, the crisis of the community, and the crisis of peace and war; all of which are growing in intensity with each passing year."

Professor James J. Gibson, Psychology, presented the presidential address at the annual meeting of the Eastern Psychological Association, in April, in New York City. His topic was "Concept of Stimulus in Psychology." Mrs. Gibson, research associate in Psychology, presented a paper on "A Comparison of Depth Discrimination in Light and Dark-reared Kittens." She and Richard D. Walk, former graduate student, conducted experiments in depth perception at the University. In the featured cover story in the April issue of Scientific American, they describe the results of these studies which were conducted with kittens, chicks, and infants of six to fourteen months. A simple apparatus, called a "visual cliff," indicated that all animals thus far tested seem able to perceive and avoid a sharp drop as soon as they can move about.

Robert A. Saunders '36 left the University Development Office, June 1, to be director of resources at St. Luke's Hospital, Milwaukee, Wis. He had been with the Development Office since October, 1956, and was in charge of the Cornell Plantations and CURW campaigns. He was president of the board of education in Trumansburg.

On behalf of the Faculty of the College of Agriculture, Dean Charles E. Palm, PhD '35, left above, presented to Professor Charles M. Nevin, PhD '25, Geology, retiring June 30 from the College of Arts & Sciences, a certificate of appreciation "for excellence in teaching and for contributions to the general education of thousands of students." Dean Palm also expressed the gratitude of Agriculture students, for whom Geology is a required subject. Professor Stanley W. Warren '27, Farm Management, presented Professor Nevin a testimonial letter signed by seventy-four College of Agriculture Faculty advisors.

Professor Peter J. W. Debye, Chemistry, Emeritus, gave an address on "Latest Advances and Breakthroughs in the Physics of Polymers" at the seventy-seventh meeting of the American Chemical Society's division of rubber chemistry, in Buffalo, in May.

Professor Nell I. Mondy, Food & Nutrition, received the Distinguished Alumna Award of Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark., where she received the BS & AB in 1943. She was cited for teaching chemistry and her research in food chemistry.

Rhode Island Building

CARL R. WOODWARD Agricultural Science Laboratory at University of Rhode Island in Kingston was dedicated, May 14, with an address by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. The building is named for President-emeritus Carl R. Woodward, PhD '26, who retired from University of Rhode Island two years ago and lives in Kingston. The $900,000 structure is headquarters for the College of Agriculture, Agricultural Experiment Station, and Extension Service. Architect was George Fraser, MARCH '21, of Providence. The building has a turf grass disease research laboratory given by Mallinckrodt Chemical Works of St. Louis, Mo. and its president, Joseph Fister '19, took part in the ceremonies.

Describes News Operation

SYSTEMS FOR EDUCATORS issue for May-June has an account of the new mechanism for handling subscription records that the ALUMNI NEWS installed, written by our office manager, Mrs. Iva M. Metzgar. The publication is issued by the Remington Rand Division of Sperry Rand Corp. in New York City. Mrs. Metzgar tells of the saving in time, space, and greater efficiency and capacity since the ALUMNI NEWS installed an electrically-operated Kard-Veyer unit and specially-designed system for maintaining the subscription list and billing, two years ago. Carol A. Stevens of our office staff is pictured at work at the Remington Rand machine.

More Freshmen Coming

FRESHMAN CLASS of '64 will have about ninety more members than the 2152 Freshmen who came to the University last fall, Director of Admissions Herbert H. Williams '25 estimates. Based on information at hand June 2, Williams expects there will be 2262 Freshmen, 1671 men and 591 women.

This year, 9062 prospective Freshmen had applied, which was 787 (9.5 per cent) more than at the same time last year. The admissions committees of the various Colleges, however, accepted this year only 42 per cent (3778) of those who applied, as compared with 46 per cent (3797) last year. But 60 per cent of this year's accepted Freshmen had paid the non-refundable registration fee of $45 by June 2 and presumably will come; whereas last year only 45 per cent of those accepted had paid at this date. The difference accounts for the larger Freshman Class of '64, Williams points out.

The Admissions Office has record of 851 scholarships with value of more than $2,200,000 for duration of their undergraduate courses awarded to next year's Freshmen. These include an estimated 475 winners of New York State Regents Scholarships with value of some $700,000 who will enter Cornell. The other Freshman winners will come from thirty-three States, including Hawaii, District of Columbia, and from Canada, Colombia, and England.

Add Alumni Children

A SON & GRANDSON of Cornellians, just discovered, brings to 302 the number of alumni children known to have entered the University in 1959. He is Ebenezer Breed '63, Freshman in Arts & Sciences, who is the son of Dr. Eben Breed '24 of Garden City and grandson of the late Arthur M. Breed '85. He is the forty-second new student last year found to be a third-generation Cornellian and brings the number with one Cornell parent to 223.

When students enter the University for the first time, they are asked to name their Cornell relatives for the University records, but some neglect to do this. Information on new entrants not in our published lists is requested.

Announce Museum Council

APPOINTMENT of a Faculty Council for the Andrew D. White Art Museum was announced by President Malott, June 10. The new Council, which replaces the former advisory committee, will "formulate policies and plans for the educational uses of the Museum," the President said, and will be in charge of programming exhibits. He noted that one of the Council's first tasks will be to expend an anonymous gift of $3000 from an alumnus, designated for acquisitions.

The Museum Council is composed of Director Richard Madigan and Assistant Director Inez Garson, with six Faculty members serving as curators in the areas of their special interests. These are Professors Julia B. Adler & Clara Straight, Housing & Design, for historic furniture & interior design and contemporary design, respectively; Kenneth Evett & Jack L. Squier, MFA '52, Art, for contemporary art and sculpture, respectively; and N. Allen Patillo, Jr. & Frederick O. Waage, Fine Arts, for Western art and archeology & primitive art, respectively.

Addresses are in New York State unless otherwise noted. Personal items, newspaper clippings, or other notes about Cornellians are welcomed for publication. Class columns are written by correspondents whose names appear. Names & addresses in column headings are for Classes with group subscriptions or those in which at least half the members are News subscribers.

LACK OF SPACE prevents printing all the Class Reunion pictures and reports in this issue. More will appear in the next (September) number. Class reports and names for pictures not yet received will appear then if received by August 15.

'99 ME — Gould Pumps, Inc., Seneca Falls, of which Norman J. Gould is president, has been chosen to supply a major share of the pumps needed for the twenty squadrons of Titan missile bases which will be built throughout the United States.

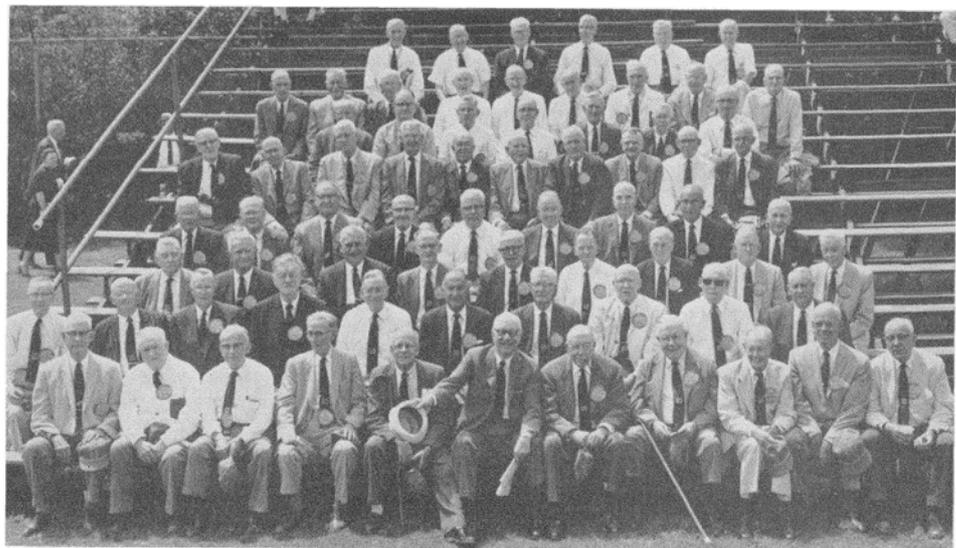

'03—Joseph Kaselow, in his May 10 column in the New York Herald Tribune, described the work of Walter Drey and his company, Walter Drey, Inc., mailing list consultants & compilation engineers, 257 Fourth Avenue, New York City 10, and Chicago, Ill. Reports written by Drey include "All Americans Are Joiners!", "Mailing Lists Are a Bridge," and "Secret of Success in Persuasion by Mail." They are requested for classes throughout the country.

'05 ME—Erskine Wilder is retired and lives at 1644 Blue Heron Drive, Sarasota, Fla.

The Fifty-year Reunion of the Class of '10 was a great success. The group began to gather Thursday in Sage College. Our Class officers, President Ed Goodwillie, Secretary Roy Taylor, and Treasurer and Reunion Chairman Jud Judson were on hand to greet us. George Dutney (chairman), Brad Delehanty, Bill Matchneer, and Marty Rutherford were the reception committee. Harry Kiep (chairman), Lou Abbott, and Larry Richardson provided refreshments which were ample and satisfying to all. 1910 men gathered from far and wide. Bill Marcussen returned from a tour of the Far East in time to be here. Ike Behrman flew in from Paris Wednesday night and was in Ithaca Thursday morning. Hill Jones came from Portland and C. C. (Edna) May from Seattle. Among our distinguished members present were Walt Carpenter of DuPont, donor of the Carpenter Hall on the Engineering Quadrangle, and Stan Griffis, former US Ambassador to Poland, Spain, and Argentina and now resident in Palm Beach. Among the women, Dr. Jean Bogart came from Berkeley and Helen Dobbs Winder from Riverside, Cal.

Friday afternoon, we gathered in the chapel of Anabel Taylor Hall for a memorial service for our departed Classmates. Chaplain Christie spoke most impressively.

At the dinner Friday evening, we voted to continue our present officers. Our dues have built up a surplus of $6500. We voted to give $5000 to Cornell. After discussion, it was decided to stop the collection of dues. Those receiving the ALUMNI NEWS will be billed $5 only for that welcome journal. After dinner, we adjourned to the Glee Club concert. There we were delighted and honored as a Class when the Glee Club sang a song, "Cornell Forever," written and presented to the Club by Kent Hewitt '59, son of Rick Hewitt of Glee Club fame. Father and son received the plaudits of the assemblage. Rick performed in his good old style at the Savage Club gathering which followed the concert.

After lunch at Barton Hall, Saturday, we reviewed the Alumni Parade and proceeded to Hoy Field for the pictures. Some stayed for the ball game; some went to the cornerstone laying of the new Olin Library; some went to Sapsucker Woods to see Art Allen's marvelous Ornithology Laboratory and pictures of birds by Louis Fuertes '97 and Dick Bishop '09. Our cocktail parties were notable for raw clams of which someone had ordered 1200. Our formal dinner was honored by the appearance of President Malott who spoke briefly and charmingly. Entertainment was provided by a singing group, the Sherwoods. One of these boys was Rick Hewitt's second son, Bruce Hewitt '61, who sang a solo for us in an inherited paternal style.

Our greatest honor came at the Reunion Rally. After being greeted as the Golden Anniversary Class we were informed that with 83 men and 22 women we had 22% of our living membership present and had won the cup for the largest percentage of all Classes attending. Elizabeth Van Denburgh (secretary) and Linda Utter Allen (Reunion chairman) for the women and Roy Taylor and Jud Judson for the men went up to the platform to receive the bowl and cup, trophies for the occasion.

Our greatest disappointment was the fact that Hal Edwards, our strong right arm for so many years, was unable to be with us. We sent him this telegram:

Your devoted 1910 Classmates send affectionate good wishes from our 50th Reunion in Ithaca. Words are inadequate to tell you how much we miss you and of our deep appreciation for the great contributions you have made to our Class and to Cornell over the many years. We all send our love to you and Andree.—1910 Reunion

I, Wallace Caldwell, have been deputed to take care of notices in the ALUMNI NEWS, and would appreciate it if Class members will send me news of interest. I hope to see many of you on your trips South and North.

The weather was fine until Sunday morning when the group broke up after a great visit together. So closed our official program of Reunions. Our Class can be proud of its history as a Class and of the achievements of its members.

Beautiful women, strong men.
Cornell I yell Nineteen Ten.

'10 AB, '12 MA—Paul William Allen, who was a graduate student at Cornell during 1913-14 & '22 and husband of the former Linda Utter '10 of Forest Heights, RD 2, Ithaca, died May 5, 1960. He received the AB and MA at St. Lawrence, the PhD at University of Illinois where he also taught. He retired in 1942 after twenty years as head of the bacteriology department at University of Tennessee. He also was chief bacteriologist at the Federal experiment station there. He was the author of bulletins and several books. His fraternity was Alpha Tau Omega.

Several Classmates indicated intention of returning to Reunion this year just as a sort of tune-up for 1961: Sut Sutton from Chicago, Whisper Heath from Florida, Fran Heywood from Gloucester, Mass. (new address, 5 Plumb Court). Your correspondent was to drive with Cy Weed '09 of Westport, Conn. & Bill Ferguson '12, Middlebury, Conn. Undoubtedly Frank Aime and Johnny Rewalt would be on hand searching for some new ideas for 1961, and Gene Bennett always shows up at any important gathering of our Class.

April 6 & 7, hearings before sub-committee No. 5 of the Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Eighty-sixth Congress, second session, on House Joint Resolution 529 were held in Washington, D.C. Our Classmate David Darrin, all-American candidate in 1960 for President of the United States, was heard in a very scholarly presentation of this highly important topic.

Hooker Doolittle writes, "Unless Allah, the beneficent, the merciful, under whose auspices we are living here in Moslem Morocco, decides otherwise, June, 1961 should find me either with my sister in Syracuse, N.Y. or my daughter in Cambridge, Mass. as a starting point for the trip to Ithaca. With best personal regards to you all over there."

Ed Wheelan is tired of drawing cartoons of himself, and has come up with a suggestion for gathering up some photos to be used this coming year in our '11 Class column. His panel sketches are outstanding, so let's give him a hand.

'13 Harry E. Southard

Our '13 column of May 15 with picture of John Paul Jones has stirred up the never ending discussion about the four-minute mile. We have all wondered how so many milers are now breaking the four-minute barrier when years back no one could touch

it. Tris Antell decided to find out; so he wrote our JP Jones asking him how come. JP's reply, coming from the fastest miler in the land in our time, was so interesting, Tris has let me have it for this column (Hope you won't mind, JP.)

As to the four-minute mile, the only surprise to me was that someone didn't do it long before. Some months ago, I read an article by someone, I can't remember who, in which he attempted to explain the 'phenominal' times now being made in track performances. His whole premise was based on two points: 1, the boys now train more rigorously than the old timers used to and 2, the present-day tracks are better.

I don't believe a damn word of it. In the first place, I don't think the present-day times are 'phenominal' in the least. The jump from let's say 4:14 to 3:56 is 18 seconds or about 7% in 45 years. Frankly, I don't think that is so hot.

In the second place, I can't believe the present-day runners work any harder than we did. Cross country all fall, board track all winter, and six and sometimes seven days a week all spring, and on top of that we had to walk. There were no automobiles at that time; and old Jack Moakley (God rest his soul) would have no part of trolley cars or any other mode of conveyance. So walk it was from the house to the training table on the far end of Eddy Street, then up the Hill for classes, back to the training table for lunch, up the Hill again, then down to Percy Field, back to the training table and finally home. It added up to hoofing 18 to 20 miles a day and at least half of it was uphill.

I think also that any claim about better tracks is a lot of first-class horse feathers. The tracks at Harvard Stadium, Penn Field, and even our old Percy Field were hard and firm and well drained, and I think were as fast as any which exist today.

The truth of the matter, as I see it is, my friend who wrote the article I referred to above, entirely missed the two factors which really contribute to the present better performances. They are: 1. There are a great many more boys interested in track now than there were in my day. There are far more high school and secondary schools with good track teams, coached by competent coaches. Forty-five years ago, if a man ran close to record time in the intercollegiate, he would be all by himself. Today, there will be half a dozen within three or four yards of each other. 2. Old Mike Murphy, track coach at Penn in our time, once told me "A good big man will beat hell out of a good little man at any distance any time." The truth is, and this is by far the most important point, the human race is growing larger every day. The boys who were drafted in the second World War averaged a full inch taller than those poor suckers like ourselves who went to World War I.

Well, there you have it, boys. From one of the best authorities.

So long for the summer. Just one parting shot. If you have not sent your $5 Class dues yet to Don Beardsley, 1500 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa., do it now.

'14 Emerson Hinchliff
400 Oak Ave.
Ithaca, N.Y.

The '14 dinner at the Cornell Club of New York, May 23, had thirty-nine present. Walt Addicks gave me the following list:

Emerson Hinchliff, Alex Keller, Lex Kleberg, George Kuhlke, Herb Lent, Sherm Lewis, Ken Mackenzie, Tommy Newbold, Doc Peters, Frank Rees, Harold Riegelman, Don Rice, Sam Schwartz, Sherwood Smith, Dave Stahl, George Thorp, Bill Upson, and Abe Weinberger.

You can see that it attracted men from quite a distance, such as Chuck Bassett from Buffalo, Bill Upson from Vermont, Larry Eddy from Canaan, Ct., Paul Haviland from Hartford, and Don Rice from Trenton. Ralph Hopkins was there for a few moments with Phil Coffey, so that would bring it up to two score.

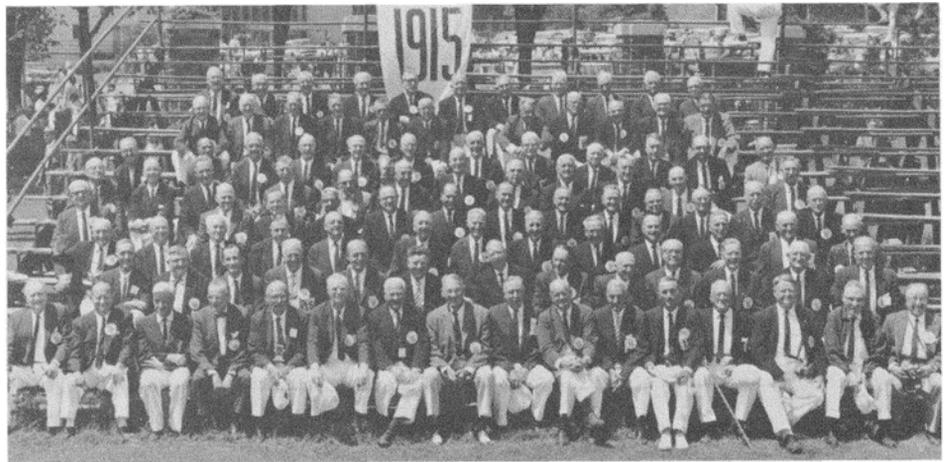

Sherwood Smith introduced the speaker, since they were both in the advertising business back in 1920. Sher, who has stayed on Madison Avenue, said the industry lost a sterling copywriter (he mentioned Nuxated Iron) to teaching and letters when Morris Bishop moved back to Ithaca. Morris delighted us by reading a chapter from his history of Cornell that will be out in a year or two. It covered the Ithaca scene and student life in our era, before us, and immediately after. He mentioned how we used to support the athletic teams—you should have seen Hal Halsted's smile, plus those of all of us when he harked back to the unmatched sports victories of May 27, 1911. He told of Doc Hu Shih's literary revolution in China, of the cultural renaissance in Ithaca in our time, of the origin of the Telluride Plan, how many fraternities were started in boarding-houses, the typhoid epidemic just before us, how Andrew D. sent a copy of Les Miserables to a Classmate rusticated in jail after the Three Weeks Riot, and many other things. He asked for corrections and suggestions, got a sprinkling of both, plus an enormous round of applause. Your scribe picked up quite a few news items, flew home, and then drove to Miami Beach for the Rotary International Convention and back to Ithaca in time for Reunion. The news items will have to keep for the fall issues. Have a good summer!

Those who didn't make the Reunion missed a bang-up party. De Abel worked hard on the preliminaries, with the result that everything went off in a big way. Attendance was about 125. Weather perfect; three days of glorious sunshine.

We were quartered in University Hall #6, with an elevator, a concession to our advanced years. At our Fifty-year Reunion (1965), we will be assigned chairs on the lawn overlooking Hoy Field, there to observe the Reunion Classes marching from Barton Hall to the ball game. How do you like that? Speaking of the parade of Classes, Saturday, '15 was outstanding. Our uniforms presented a very pleasing effect, and pretty coeds were seen to give us the once-over (but fast).

Barbecue at the Red Barn, Friday night, was a very pleasant affair; there were no speeches. A bar-tent immediately adjacent to the barn was a happy innovation. There was but one criticism of the management: no warning bell was sounded to announce an early cut-off of drinks. Many customers clamored for "one for the road," but to no avail, the trek from bar to barn was a mighty dusty one. What we used to know as "Senior Singing on Goldwin Smith steps" is now conducted on the steps of Bailey Hall, the entire Glee Club turning out. It was a memorable occasion; fine singing, a full moon, and beautiful girls. Phooey on getting old!

Saturday included lunch at Barton Hall. Class dinner at Statler Hall that evening was addressed briefly by President Malott on his long round of Class dinners. What a beating a college president takes! Al Sharpe seemed very fit as he reminisced of football on Percy Field and basketball in the Old Armory. We were happy to have as our guests Professor Leonard A. Maynard, PhD '15, Biochemistry & Nutrition, Emeritus, and Mrs. Maynard. Professor Maynard was called upon by Chairman De Abel, and laid down a beautiful bunt, a speech of one sentence. The dinner was highlighted by the report of Terry Terriberri, chairman of the nominating committee. He presented the following slate of officers: President, DeForest W. Abel; first vice-president, Walter A. Priester; second vice-president, Alfred L. Marks; secretary, Arthur W. Wilson; treasurer, Raymond M. Riley; ALUMNI NEWS correspondent, Arthur C. Peters; Alumni Fund representative, Harold M. Stanley. Terry has spent the greater part of his adult life in New York City and is well versed in Tammany election tactics. To insure a clean sweep of his ticket and to throttle any incipient rebellion of the electorate, he "planted" typewritten motions with selected henchmen, to be offered as instructed. The machine was well oiled, but so were Terry's stooges. Al Minnix, who was a little confused at the time, couldn't wait to say his piece and moved to "close the nominations" before Terry could call for "nominations from the floor." Cries of "fix," "fix" were heard on all sides and a parliamentary crisis was in the making. Terry did some fancy foot work, threw Minnix off the steering committee, and got the show on the road again.

Notes of the Reunion: Charley Reader, Class bugler, blew taps earlier than last year, but apparently the Scotch (with a dash of Bourbon) pipers of the Class of '20 thought Charley was blowing reveille, for they opened up with their bag pipes about midnight and marched and counter-marched until early morning. (Pretty rugged boys, those '20s!) Telegram of regrets from George Ruby and his piccolo. Jay Scofield holds the record for attendance at Reunions. A word of thanks to Sam Guggenheim for several showings of his movies of '15 Reunions of previous years. Les Marks of Honolulu travelled the longest distance to attend Reunion. A "Long Yell" for Terry Terriberri on the big job he did as chairman of the nominating committee. A nod to the young men who performed so faithfully on the beer, and cracker and cheese detail in our quarters. It was good to see "Joe" and his accordian again. He makes the nice music. All out for 1965!

'15 Women's Reunion—Under the efficient leadership of Regina Brunner Kerby, twenty-seven of the Class of '15 women held a Forty-five-year Reunion as perfect as the weather. With the help of Marian Sturges McGlone, Regina selected electric blue scarves and roses which electrified the whole Campus.

As far as Reunion events were concerned, we didn't miss a thing. We paused Friday morning to join the men of '15 in a memorial service in honor of our departed Classmates. We came out in full force to enjoy the barbecue with the '15 men and the all Cornell women's breakfast in the Statler where President Malott's announcement of the Mary H. Donlon Hall was such a thrill. Twenty-four of us attended our Class dinner in Risley where we reported on our status, heard from Dr. Winifred Kirk Freeman that we had increased our gifts to the Cornell Fund, from Marion Potts on her trip around the world, and from Thyra Jeremiassen Bliss about her South African visit to Classmate Helen Bennet Hall in Johannesburg.

Our Forty-five-year Reunion was a most rewarding experience. We are already planning our Fifty-year one in conjunction with Cornell's 100th!—FANNIE H. DUDLEY

Official announcements are now being widely circulated concerning the fourth annual '18 Class picnic; but you don't have to have an official announcement to attend. Just drop a note to Harry Mattin, PO Box 191, Ossining, and enclose your check for $8 which will cover everything. "Bert," Maitre of the Cornell Club in New York, will officiate behind the bar, which opens at 12:30 p.m., and that will start the whole, informal, all-afternoon affair. Snacks and sandwiches will be constantly available, to be followed at 4:30 by the big meal. And naturally, we are again assured of perfect weather, so this will be outdoors under the trees beyond the swimming pool. The site of this party, incidentally, is idyllic, a wide, sweeping vista down from a magnificent mansion, looking toward the Hudson River. To find it you merely go up from New York City or down from Albany on route #9, or you come in by parkway or thruway from the West or East, taking route 9a to get over to Ossining. When you send in word that you'll attend, a map will be sent you. The big thing to remember is the date, September 10. That'll be a Saturday, early enough in the fall for the weather to be fine, and also ahead of the football season and the World's Series. So, come on, and bring your wife. She'll enjoy it all just as much as you will, bridge, swimming, conversation, refreshments, and eats!

Anybody who sends a check for his Class dues directly to me is taking a needless risk with his money, but that's just what Willard Smith has done. Willard spent thirty-five years in the Army, but has now joined the host of ex-service men who live so happily on the Monerey Peninsula in California. His home is in Pebble Beach. Though he's only been back to one Class Reunion, that fine one in 1958, he promises to be in Ithaca again in 1963. Incidentally, he passes along greetings to Hugh Cosline, editor of the American Agriculturalist, and I've passed his check along to Jack Knight for the Class treasury.

Max Yellen has apparently been touring around, as I've just received a postcard from him from Jerusalem, "the most beautiful and most interesting city in the world." Max's itinerary has taken him around the Mediterranean; from Jerusalem he was to go to Athens, Nice, Paris, and then home. And Bob (Robert E.) Moody writes a note admitting that he's been teaching history at Middlesex Valley Central School, Rushville, since 1928. He's also been busy at other things, reporting three children and eight grandchildren. His son Edward L. is now a Junior at Cornell.

So far as this column is concerned, you may put away your reading glasses for a spell. If your servant understands his orders correctly, the readers get a respite for the summer, the Class secretaries get time to think up something worth writing, and our editorial staff can slow down a bit.

Louis Frank, Sierra Mazapil 220, Mexico 10, D.F., has asked for a copy of the ALUMNI NEWS relating to the Forty-year Class Reunion in 1959, which he wanted to attend but was unable to do so. He sends his congratulations to all thriving Classmates.

Fay C. Bailey belongs to that happy and ever-increasing band of Classmates who have retired. His address is 815 East Edgemont Ave., Phoenix, Ariz. Fay says: "Arizona is a fine place to retire. If anyone has any inquiries, I would be glad to be of assistance, gratis and no payola!" Howard M. Evarts is a senior mechanical engineer, division of buildings, City of Buffalo. His home address is 675 Richmond Ave., Buffalo 22. Howard is a regular attendant at Reunions.

Still another Classmate who has joined the ranks of the retired is Donald B. Kimball, whose home address is 111 Old Mill Rd., Rochester 18. He retired in May, 1959. He was employed by Eastman Kodak Co. before retirement. He says: "Based on my first year's experience in retirement will predict that two things will be of determining importance: (1) good health and (2) getting along with Evelyn. Other things have been interesting and time consuming, of course, but definitely listed in the very fine print—such as three months in Hawaii, learning to play a new chord organ by ear, Civil War history, cleaning a swimming pool for my friends and grandchildren. It has been our best year." Don reminds me of an old friend who was always easy to see when he was working. After he retired, he developed so many interests that I had to

Never in the memory of man was there a more perfect week in Ithaca for our Fabulous Fortieth Reunion, never did the sun shine more consistently, never was the moonshine more beautiful or plentiful, the University was never more charming, the coeds cozier, the ladies lovelier; spirits ran high, wide, and handsome, and 120 Classmates voted it the most successful of all '20 Reunions.

The Scotch bagpipers, the Manchester (Conn.) Pipe Band (discovered by Kelly Sachs which has been the '20 trademark for the last three Reunions, again were the darlings of the Campus and the envy of all other Classes as they swung '20 into prominence at all functions.

The dinner at Willard Straight Hall, with women invited, was mighty colorful, embellished with our pipe band, and the Sherwoods. Senior Singing, the Glee Club concert, and a jam session at '20 quarters topped the program. Bill Littlewood's reelection as Alumni Trustee, the baseball victory over Colgate, and the banquet at Noyes Lodge contributed to make it a memorable occasion. Chm. Ho Ballou, Prexy Archibald, Sec'y Benisch, Moneybags Diamant, and Costumer Edson are the scoundrels responsible for such a stupendous success.

There is absolutely no way to describe the fun you have at Reunion, especially the Fabulous 40th. You have to feel it! And to do that you have to be there. One thing we know: those who were there will never miss another! And how about you? I'll be snoring under a tree until fall. Tally-ho!

Above are a few of the celebrities who attended the '21 Class dinner at the Cornell Club in New York, April 27. If this seems like dilatory reporting, this reporter can only say that is what the Class deserves for hiring cheap help. In the top picture, Harry O'Brien and Spence Olin are planning the menu for the Class dinner at Ithaca next June. Second from top shows Dick Parsell, Bob Bennet, and George Boyd unloading before the speeches, and in the next picture, we see the audience as the speeches are being made. Joe Cannon is resting between broadsides and Bob Bennet is telling Tony Gac- cione a mildly successful anecdote. In the bottom shot are three of our younger types, Doug Johnson, Heath Van Duzee, and Clyde Mayer. Good show.

George Munsick got an interesting note from Eric S. Erickson (ME), Greumagnic 13V, Stockholm, Sweden. "Just retired, that's all, but William Holden of the Paramount Pictures of Hollywood is shortly to play 'me,' i.e. 'Red'—a story of my life during the last war." Red will join us at the 40th, next June.

Samuel B. Bird of Rockford, Wilmington 99, Del., reports that his youngest son, a copilot on Eastern Airlines, had a second child in October which is Sam's fifth grandchild.

'22-'24 Grad—Michael A. Khoury has been mostly in the hospital since January, undergoing three operations. He was recuperating in May at his home, 74A Troy Drive, Springfield, N.J., and hoped to return to his office by June 1. Congratulations one and all for your prompt attention to the payment of Class dues. But (there is always a big "but"), to prevent the lopsided condition of your treasurer's books, about thirty-five more dues checks are needed to put us clearly in the black. So if you have put off or neglected this small item, won't you sit down now and write that check and drop it in the mail, addressed to Johnnie Cole at 72 Wall St., New York City 5? One way of straightening things out is to have all the knock-kneed women marry bow-legged men, but right now your check is the only thing to straighten out your treasurer's books.

Three years ago, it was suggested to get in touch with Clement G. (Clem) Bowers if you were having trouble with your rhododendrons and azaleas. Clem has been research associate at Cornell since 1948; a top-notch plant scientist in the field of ornamental horticulture which he combines with an interest in landscape design and history. He is a frequent lecturer to the Garden Clubs of America, and earlier this month, at the 13th annual seminars on American culture, in Cooperstown, gave a course on "Home Gardens in the Northeast, 1620-1860." Were there ever any gardens in Maine, Clem?

From way off in Teheran, Iran, came cash payment of dues from Rev. Kenneth V. Williams. Ken's news topic is a good "Remember When" item, as he speaks of those wonderful days of competition for baseball managers, competing with Jordon H. (Pete) Peters, who became manager of Freshman baseball, and Joseph W. (Spence) Spencer, who became assistant manager of Varsity baseball. Ken's address is Mission Catholique, Rue Nakissa No. 36, Teheran, Iran. It was good to hear from you, Ken, and maybe you should look up William A. (Holly) Hohweg in that town of yours. Holly is with the firm of Justin & Courtney, contractors. Howard V. (Bonnie) Bonsall got a Christmas card from him, Bonnie is still with the Corps of Engineers, US Army, at Buffalo, and occasionally sees Karl Hoffman of Sanborn, now president of Wright & Kramer, contractors in Niagara Falls.

There's a follow-up on that story about Mike Maynard, which appeared in April. O. Lindsay (Lin) Clarkson met Mike at the fortieth reunion of the class of 1919 of the Episcopal Academy of Philadelphia and Mike admitted that he has never been back to a Cornell '23 Reunion. Get busy, all you Pittsburghers, and do a job on Mike, because our next Reunion is only three short years away. Lin says the stairs get steeper, the winters get colder and longer, and the summers get hotter and shorter. Yes, that's life, Lin, especially about those muscles of yours.

Life is a complicated, bewildering business, and will be the death of us yet. So take it easy, and enjoy a good summer.

F. W. Waterman, Jr. of Higganum, Conn. writes: "I'm still building this 175-year-old company (D. & H. Scovil, Inc.) and take time off to help urban redevelopment as a member of the commission in New Haven and as a director of the DKE Club of New York."

James Hazlett of Hector writes he is a farmer and fruit grower, first president and a founder of the New York State Grape Growers Co-operative, and past-president of Cornell Agriculture Alumni. Under activities & hobbies he writes: "The current world mess; the hate campaign against farmers. Ice skating in the winter, roller skating in the summer, director of Cornell Figure Skating Club, dancing, New Orleans stereo jazz, Cornell Reunions every damn year." No chance of Jim getting bored, is there? His oldest son, Jim, is a Senior in Agriculture at Cornell; his youngest son, Jerry, with one year at Cornell, is now farming with the "old man." His daughter, Betty, is a member of the N.J.C. Glee Club and still plays the uke and likes parties. On other '24 Cornellians he says: "Never able to keep up with my next door neighbor, Commissioner of Agriculture of New York State Don Wickham. I plan to keep in right with neighbor Charlie Brayton '23 and grads from other Classes, so I can chisel beer at their tents every June."

Joseph A. Rooney of Puerta Ordaz, Venezuela, is very reticent. Under business record & hobbies he writes "Nothing New." But he does report two additional grandchildren and regrets that his plans to attend the Reunion were changed through no fault of his. We hope he'll make the next one.

Carroll G. Griminger of 37 Suburba Ave., Rochester, writes Sally Beard that since her retirement from Harris Seed Co. in August, 1958 she is having a glorious time with her avocations: The 4H Council, the Bergen Swamp Preservation Society Council, volunteer work at the YW, and helping friends with their gardens, and travelling to see birds and plants "that were always just pictures in books for me." Dorothy Lamont has a new address. She is now located at 179 Harrison St., East Orange, N.J. Dorothy is a buyer of dresses at Muirs in East Orange.

Brought in on the best Reunion weather in years, eighty-three men of the Class of '25 registered for our Thirty-five-year Reunion. An increasing number of wives came along this year with fifteen comfortably accommodated in the married couples dormitory.

We can't quite pin down the responsibility for the costume selection. The tri-colored striped blazer and cap in red, white, and blue were admittedly striking, but they did cause some cases of astigmatic aberration. Your reporter, who was responsible for keeping a watchful eye on some of the Faculty Forum lectures, is not able to provide a first hand account on the popularity of the '25 tent on Alumni Field, Friday. The consensus is that our band outdid the rest. Incidentally, there was a good showing of the tri-color jackets at all the lectures despite the appeal to be outdoors in the delightful weather.

The steak barbecue held on the lawn of Moakley House, Friday evening, and the banquet, Saturday night, were the highlights of the joyous week end. It was agreed by all that a true feeling of friendship prevailed, promoted to a large extent by many nostalgic references of incidents of our undergraduate days.

At the banquet, it was announced that Harold D. Uris and his wife had contributed a generous sum to help complete the construction budget of the new John M. Olin Library. We are indeed proud and grateful to our Classmate. Prizes were awarded three Classmates who had traveled the farthest to Reunion: Bjorn ("Baron") R. Edstrom and wife came from Sweden; Francisco da

Silva, from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; and Daniel G. O'Shea, from Tacoma, Wash.

Class President Guy Warfield had considerable difficulty in attempting a business session during the banquet. It seems that a new and impromptu glee club group in one end of the room held forth with such vigor and eloquence that no one wanted to listen to business anyhow. Eventually, officers for the coming year were railroaded through: president, Guy T. Warfield; treasurer, Stuart H. Richardson; secretary, D. Harvey Krouse. One mistake was made in calling on Ed Proctor. It was agreed beforehand that no speeches would be made although brief remarks would be acceptable. Ed, however, presented a well prepared though incoherent talk and it was only after admission by Ray Ashbery that he wrote the speech that we were able to terminate the ordeal.

Much credit and appreciation is to be given to our genial friend Frank Henderson, the Reunion chairman who so capably managed this wonderful affair.

'25—Mrs. Lucy Edwards Kerr of 228 Park Avenue, Oneida, is assistant to the dietitian at Oneida City Hospital. "It's a pretty big place and services a large section of central New York," she writes. "At times I work in emergency, where all accidents, etc., come. Three years in emergency nights in Bellevue in New York City gave me a better background for that than for dietetics."

Hugh S. Fifield is president of American Microfilming Service Co., 44 Laura St., New Haven, Conn. A nice note from Hugh advises that his business is mushrooming both locally and on a national level, which pleases him very much. He has been treasurer and member of the board of directors of the National Microfilming Association for many years. He reports that the last annual meeting of the Association held in New York City in April was attended by thousands of representatives of government and important corporations and institutions from every section of the US. Hugh and his wife, Cynthia, were in Ithaca a year ago for the Yale game and it was a pleasure to have a chat with them in the Big Red Barn. They live at Halstead Lane, Pine Orchard, Conn.

G. Norman Scott, Class secretary-chairman, called to order a Class council meeting at the Cornell Club of New York, May 26. Those present were Tom Deveau, Gordon Mitchell, Norm Davidson, Jesse Van Law, Phil Hoyt, Dick Mollenberg, and Ray Reisler. Treasurer Van Law reported the Class endowment fund amounts to $2137, plus the income fund now equal to $2928.37. Vice-president Mitchell reported $2620 collected in Class dues, out of which $2460.35 was paid in full for 935 Class members receiving the ALUMNI NEWS. '27 was the first Class to have collected enough dues, the first year, to underwrite the full cost of the Group Subscription. This is most gratifying, 'silent '27.'

I have quite a few questionnaire dues payers not reported on; be patient. In the meantime, here are some more dues payers but no questionnaires sent in:

Wistar Ambler, Norm Bissell, Dr. William Cassebaum, Francis Miller, Stan Ferguson, Sid Leonard, Larry Lay, Bill Leahy, Dr. Dan Lipshutz, Gerald Lanterman, Art Lewis, Dick Masters, Reg Leuder, Jim Marshall, Wilfred Malone, Martin Maloney, Gerald Murray, Ulric Moore, Iz Needleman, Bill Ogden, Herb Olmstead, Herm Palestine, Dr. Louis Penn, Dr. Warren Pashley, Carlton Rowand, Alex Russin, Sam Rossman, Sam Ramage, Hal Ruland, Bill Summerson, Norm Sanders, Stew Strong, Ernest Schilling, Herb Soloway, Art Shaw, Les Schade, Lee Schaenen, Dr. Jacob Schneider, Elias Schwarzbart, Leon Telsey, Ed Trimble, Jr., Dr. Samuel Teich, Elton Tibbitts, Al VanSchoick, Adolph Villepique, Charles Wagner, Charles Werly, Howie Ware, Bill Warren, Ed Wilson, Al Woodford, Norm Wager, Fred Whitney, Jr., Dick is senior partner of Richard C. Rea & Associates, accountants, with offices in New Philadelphia. The Reas live at 152 North Broadway, New Philadelphia.

The annual Class dinner, at the Cornell Club of New York, May 25, was a huge success. Our speaker was John Summerskill, University Vice-President for Student Affairs, who brought us up to date on numerous interesting happenings on the Hill. In the absence of President Jim Stewart, who was in France (lucky boy), and Vice President Phil Will, your secretary presided. It goes without saying that Al Koehl and a few other members of the Class enlivened the party with some excellent stories which were well told and dramatized. Those who attended were Earl Adams, Ted Adler, Don

Bates, Ray Beckwith, Hank Boschen, Paul Buhl, Lee Forker, Dave Goldstein, Kent Hall, Syd Hamburger, Al Koehl, Dick Kochenthal, Stan Krusen, Ned Johnson, Bob Leng, Al Manileff, John Reed, Lew Seiler, Kip Stalter, Dave Taub, Ed Warren, Tom Wyman, and Johnny Young.

Congratulations to Lewis W. Adams, recently promoted to corporate secretary of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association of New Haven, Conn. Lew joined First Federal in 1938 as a clerk and has subsequently advanced through the ranks to his present position. He is past-president of the Connecticut chapter of the American Savings & Loan Institute, treasurer of the New Haven Lions Club, and secretary-treasurer of the Connecticut chapter of the Society of Residential Appraisers. The Adamses have two children and live on College Rd., Orange, Conn.

This is the last column until September. Sometime during the summer, I hope you'll take a few minutes to send me a note telling me what you're doing (promotions, interesting vacations, additions to the family, Classmates you've seen), so we'll have a lot of news in the fall. Send a recent photo, too. Have a good summer!

'29 Men—The North Shore Hospital on Long Island recently announced the appointment of Dr. John G. Connell (above) as chief of the administrative section of general practice. Our active '29er also is president of the medical board of Manhasset Medical Centre. Dr. Connell resides at 718 Plandome Rd., Manhasset. From 1942-46, he served with the Army Medical Corps at the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington and later with the 97th General Hospital in England, France, and Germany. He is a member of the Nassau County Medical Society, American Medical Association. Daughter, Carolyn, attended Cornell; is now Mrs. Paul Standel. Mrs. Connell is the former Carrie Meyer '30. We are mighty proud of the whole clan.

Irving E. (Chips) Cantor, 3143 Upland Terrace, NW, Washington 15, D.C., writes with understandable pride, that his son, James W., has just completed his Sophomore year in Arts & Sciences at Cornell and that his daughter, Mary Ellen, graduates from Wilson High School, Washington, D.C., this June and has been accepted at Cornell and will be graduating at the time of the Class of '29 Thirty-five-year Reunion. Irving, this column salutes you and your wonderful family.

The Class of '30's tremendously successful Thirty-year Reunion began and ended at the Heasleys. We gathered there Thursday afternoon for refreshment and a delicious steak supper, which some of our new crop helped cook and serve outdoors, and a fine looking lot of youngsters they are.

The Class council held a business meeting at Walt's and prepared a slate of Class officers, who were elected at the Class dinner, Saturday night. They are president, Bob Bliss; vice-president, George Failla; secretary, Doc Paine; and treasurer, Joe Wortman. Art Hibbard was appointed newsletter editor and George Castleman, Reunion chairman for 1965. Art Hibbard, Ike Aigeltinger, Doc Paine, Al Berg, and Bud Sharood were elected to the Class council.

Friday night, we journeyed to the Babcock farm for one of Monroe's incomparable chicken dinners. It was magnificent. Saturday night brought us together in the Big Red Barn for our Class dinner. During cocktails we were entertained by the Sherwoods and later by our Class band. Professor Morris Bishop '14 was our guest speaker and was delightful, as always.

One hundred and sixteen members of the Class registered at our headquarters, but we had many more wives and children than at any previous Reunion. They added a great deal to our week end and I hope that many more will join us in the years ahead. Our congratulations to Bob Bliss for a beautifully planned, smoothly run, completely satisfying Reunion, and our very special thanks to the Heasleys and Babcocks for their generosity, graciousness, and hospitality in all things at all times. It was a wonderful week end, thanks to them—in large measures.

May I remind you again that all news items should now go to Arthur Hibbard, Geyer-McAllister Publications, 212 Fifth Ave., New York City. Please let him hear from you regularly, so that we can all hear from you, regularly.

'30 Women's Reunion — Reunion 1960 will be forever remembered by the women of '30 as the year they turned milliner and decorated their own hats! Some very high-style fashions were produced, as they arranged ribbon, flowers, and bees into whatever style suited individual fancies.

Wherever the girls gathered, the conversation turned to careers, families, and ideas about education, Cornell admission policies, and the '30 men's hospitality. Friday night's supper as guests of the men of '30 at Monroe Babcock's farm, with its marvelous food, excellent jazz, and lively company, was much enjoyed, as was the perpetual hospitality at the tent, "the home away from home." For once, the sun smiled consistently on us during all the Reunion activities, and it was not until Sunday morning that "Ithaca weather," in the form of a down-pour, returned to make us feel that Ithaca had not changed so very much while we were away.

Class dinner in Balch 3 was a homecoming for many of us. Helen Coldwell Floreck had decorated the tables with small white daisy corsages, tied with purple ribbons, sitting in small Cornell mugs, which were our favors to take home. On head table was a large bowl of purple and white asters and snapdragons. During dinner, every member had a chance to tell us briefly of her exploits, troubles, and triumphs.

At the business meeting, after dinner, all former officers were returned to office, with the exception of Caroline Dawdy Bacon, who retired after being Alumni Fund representative for ten productive years. Before retiring, she had achieved a mighty goal: our Class was the first women's Class to donate $5000 in a year! Martha Fisher Evans is our new Cornell Fund representative, to be assisted by these area chairmen: Helen Coldwell Floreck, Helen Baker Hopkins, Louise Marks Steuber, Betty Lynahan Mettenet, Caroline Dawdy Bacon, Sylvia Robinson Kurnitz, and Isabelle Rogers Richardson. You will all be hearing from them!

Our after-dinner speakers were Betty Lynahan Mettenet, who took us "Around the World in Six Seconds," Rose Margolin Fishkin who drew on her wealth of experience to tell us about "Community Service as the Rent We Pay to Live in the Universe," and Mary Cunningham, one of our most successful business women, whose topic was "Thirty Years Late."

After the All-Class Rally in Barton Hall, many of us gathered in the Class headquarters in Clara Dickson Hall for a last long talk. Pictures and letters from absent members were passed around. Caroline, who seems to know everything about everyone, answered questions about many from whom we had not heard as a Class. We knew that absent members were thinking about us: Rachel Wood telephoned from Ohio during the afternoon. And two members appeared too late to register: Emily Sullivan Connolly, with her fourteen-year-old son, drove from Little Falls just to spend a few hours with us. And Frances Crossman Bailey arrived, accompanied by her new husband, Stanton Bailey, in time for her to join us for the Class dinner.

Asa was formerly with the Department of Buildings & Properties at Cornell. William D. Morrison has two young sons; Kerry, 1, and Michael, 2½. The Morrisons live at 15 Memorial Dr., Cambridge, Mass.

Howie Heintz is a divisional merchandise manager for Stix, Baer & Fuller, the leading department store in St. Louis. The Heintzes live at 651 E. Monroe St., Kirkwood. They have five sons, the oldest of whom hopes to enter Cornell in the fall. Jerome J. Weiss- man is an executive with Sun Chemical Corp. and lives at 135 Glenwood Rd., Englewood, N.J.

In the Military Intelligence Department, please note two new addresses: Lieutenant Colonel John J. Gillespie, 1521 12th St. North, Arlington, Va.; Lieutenant Colonel Donald L. Keeler, 4409 DeRome Dr., Fort Wayne, Ind.

Worden Waring lives at 1180 May Brown Ave., Menlo Park, Cal. He is head of the chemistry section in research & development at Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. His company makes transistors and diodes. Worden advises us that this is a fascinating scientific field with a great deal yet to be discovered. For this reason his job is both work and fun to him. He is the father of one daughter, 9.

Theodore R. Elkins is an executive of Elkins Paper Co. He has two sons, the older one a senior at Adelphi College and the younger a junior at Brooklyn Tech High School, who hopes to enter Cornell in the fall of 1961. Ted and his family live at 67-38 108th St., Forest Hills.

The most important news item is a report from Jim Reid who tells us that as of June 1 we are slightly past the 35% mark in our goal of collecting $10 apiece from each member of the Class for annual dues and News subscription. If you're one of the 65% who have not sent in your check yet, please do so at once.

Preston D. Carter writes from his home at 415 Thomas St., Kalamazoo, Mich.: "Cecilia Lee Carter, daughter, born May 17. First child and both Jane and I are delighted. Also, January 1, our company, through merger, doubled in size and became the KUP-Sutherland Paper Co. with seventeen plants in US and Canada; a far cry from the one plant concern where I worked during the summer between my Sophomore and Junior years at Cornell. Although located at our main offices in Kalamazoo, I had the pleasure of locating, planning, and manning one of the subsidiary plants."

John E. Hough is now president of Hough Manufacturing Corp. in Janesville, Wis.

Robert A. Rosevear tells us his son Fred is matriculating in Chemical Engineering at Cornell next fall and has a McMullen Regional Scholarship. Bob is on a sabbatical leave as professor of music at University of Toronto and can presently be reached at Oak Hall, Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind. where he is studying for the Doctorate. Besides his teaching and administrative duties during the last year, he has been busy planning for a new 3½-million-dollar Faculty of Music Building scheduled for completion in another eighteen months. Bob expects to return from his sabbatical in plenty of time to move into this splendid new structure.

R. David Thomas, Jr., 103 Avon Rd., Narbeth, Pa., sent us a nice letter. In addition to being president of Arcos Corp., Philadelphia, he was recently elected president of American Welding Society. In this connection, he and his wife recently visited Los Angeles and Hawaii and Dave is planning a trip to Belgium for the Association. Dave's oldest son, Niel, is a Sophomore in Electric cal Engineering. Dave has three other children. He spends his summers at Stone Harbor, N.J., racing Comets and Moths.

Harvey Scudder lives at 8805 Spring Valley Rd., in Chevy Chase, Md., where he is with the National Cancer Institute. Harvey writes this interesting and hopeful bit of news, "I find myself becoming more and more involved in a very convincing idea, which is now on its way to becoming a major program in cancer research, that viruses may cause human cancer just as they do in many laboratory animals. My own work is in research support; by grants, contracts, and coordination through efforts of various consultants who assist the Government's staff. Very interesting and demanding work with quite a goal! We hope it pays off."

Harold Cunning is competing with his wife, four daughters, and a female dog for the position of master of the house on Gilbert Rd., New Hartford. He writes that he is still product planner for the radio receiver department of General Electric in Utica. Judging from the change of address cards, Jim Pendergrass is back from Australia and now lives at 1965 Edgewood Ave., Norfolk, Va. Jim has been in Melbourne for two and a half years and returned with his wife, son, and daughter via Hong Kong, Bangkok, Rangoon, Delhi, Beirut, Cairo, Istanbul, Athens, Monteaux, and Paris to complete the world circuit. He is now on the staff of Supreme Allied Commander, Atlantic, and has been selected for captain (Navy) and hopes he can put on stripes by July 1.

Ed Stewart, who sent the information about Brud Holland in the last issue, moved his office to 110 Genesee St., Auburn, in February and has Cliff Brew '58 with him until the fall. Says he saw Holley Gregg '38 recently. Those Classmates who did not read Clint Rossiter's article in Life Magazine's Great Debate on the National Purpose should get the June 13 issue and read it.

'39 Women—Thanks to Mrs. Ernest Lowens (Madeleine Weil), our hard-working Cornell Fund representative, we have news of several Class members. If it has been slow in appearing in print, the fault lies not with Madeleine, but with your correspondent's unfortunate filing system.

Mrs. Thomas Ahern (Alice Kennedy), Farrell Rd., Storrs, Conn., is to be congratulated on the birth of a daughter. Congratulations also to Mrs. Nathan Drizen (Florence Morgenstern) on her election, after a hotly contested race, to the school board of her district in Rockville Center. Her address is 476 Laurel Rd., North Rockville Center.

A sad item to many Classmates will be news of the death, May 15, of Mrs. May Colby, mother of Gladys Frankle. Our most sincere sympathy to Gladys. We of the Class of '39 owe a debt of thanks to Mrs. Colby for her unflinching interest in our Class, and for the beautiful afghans which she so kindly made for us to raffle off at past Reunions.

Mrs. Rulon Wells III (Virginia Bennett) should, if all went according to plan, be happily settled in her new home, Spring Valley Rd., Woodbridge, Conn. She writes, "We have two little ponds on the land which will be good for a small rowboat, mosquitoes and water cress." Mrs. Walter Fedor (Dorothy Bauer), 64 Oak Ridge Ave., Summit, N.J., and her husband are planning to spend most of the summer in Europe, while their two boys are away at camp. Please toss a couple of coins in that famous fountain in Rome for us!

Our Cornell Fund representative wished to give public thanks to all the thirty-two members of her committee who have worked so diligently for their Alma Mater. Lack of space forbids the listing of their names in this issue, but each has spent long hours writing to and calling upon Classmates in the interests of the Cornell Fund. The high place of the Class of '39 in the lists of donors and donations should make all members of the Class proud. It is a tribute, not only to those who continue to show their interest in Cornell by their generosity, and to the work of the committee, but especially to the years of effort and planning Madeleine has given so unstintingly.

May you all have a happy summer, and may we have some more Class news in the fall!—MARION PUTNAM FINKILL

Bright blue skies and red-and-white stripes everywhere! The stripes: handsome '40 jackets which Chuck Stewart got through his new employer, J. C. Penney Co. Ithaca was sunny and beautiful. Just wandering about meeting friends was the best of a many faceted Reunion. Walt Zittle, Stan Russell, and Dave Chambers whiled away most of Saturday afternoon enjoying beer, conversation, the lake, and the hills as they relaxed on the old Glenwood Point. Bill Hadaway, Charlie Langley, and I ran across Harry Copeland, Dean Wallace, and Joe Griesedieck as they absorbed the sun and contemplated the rolling golf course from the 19th hole at the Moakley House.

Mel Blessing, Al Lotz, and Norm Robinson seemed to be headed for the ball game as they ambled past Barton Hall. Ace Magoun and Wright Bronson climbed the Library Tower. George Mueden and a few others got here in time to enjoy lectures and forums Thursday afternoon and Friday morning.

Our first big get-together was a Friday evening picnic (clams, lobsters, chickens, beer) in the court between McFaddin and Lyon. These were our dorms and Larry Lilienthal and a few others wound up spending the week end in their old Freshman rooms. Thirty wives and co-eds ('40 ones) joined us as we dined to the dinner music of the Fingerlakes Five. This young group of six jumping dixielanders was a Campus sensation. Up on Alumni Field, in the evening our tent was jammed. We had the distinction of serving more free beer to interlopers than any other Class. Being the center of attraction was nice, however, as friends from other Classes were sure to drop by. Dan Brasted found this band down in New York and Burch Mayo made it his contribution to Reunion, but didn't get here to enjoy it as he had to stay in Tulsa on business.

Selly Brewer, our Reunion chairman, did everything so well, it seemed impossible that the Saturday night banquet could keep up the pace, but it was the climax. Thanks to our Classmate Bill Conner who manages the Statler Club, we wallowed in big slabs of roast beef in the main ballroom. Our dixielanders and several student groups entertained and we enjoyed being with Professor Harold Reed '14, Economics, Emeritus, our guest of honor.

Overheard at the tents: "Normally, I wouldn't have come back to Reunion, but I happened to be in the area. They are great and I won't miss another." The 129 of us who were here agreed! Selly Brewer hopes to publish a pictorial report of the Reunion week end and would like pictures from anyone who attended. Mail them to R. S. Brewer, 130 Forest Home Dr., Ithaca.

David B. Eames (above), Mead Pond Lane, Rye, has been appointed manager of food services for Eastern Air Lines. Dave has full responsibility for the preparation of four million in-flight meals served each year to Eastern's passengers, and handles relations with forty-eight catering organizations supplying the line in the United States, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Canada, and Mexico. Since 1954 Dave has been director of food services at NYU, serving 41,000 members of the faculty and student body. He also taught senior courses at their school of hotel & restaurant management. He is a past-president of the Michigan-Indiana chapter of the International Stewards & Caterers Association; and is a member of the Executive Stewards & Caterers Association and the New York Hotel Association.

Gilbert E. McCotter, 70 Monmouth Rd., Glen Rock, N.J., is executive representative for Slater Food Service Management. Mrs. McCotter is the former Alice Lentz. They have three daughters. Herbert H. Hinricks, 18 Morraine Pl., Short Hills, N.J., is vice-president of Hans Hinricks Co., Inc., New York City. Herb and his wife Mary Ann have two boys and two girls. Another Classmate from the Garden State is John A. DeSimone, 42 Hazelwood Ave., Livingston, N.J. John is supervisor of biological & parental manufacturing at Warner Chilcott Laboratories, division of Warner-Lambert Pharmaceutical Co. He and his wife Judith have a son, Richard, now fifteen. John's brother is Bruno DeSimone '43, DDS.

John J. Foley, Jr., Pocantico Hills, Tarrytown, is owner of Foley's Dairy. John and his wife Marilyn have two children. Suzanne is sixteen and John III is thirteen. Robert F. Cortright, Milford, is vo-ag teacher at Milford Central School. Mrs. Cortright is the former Thelma Depew. Daughter Linda Rae is sixteen and Gladys Elaine is five. Bob's uncle is Frank V. Fields '18.

Joseph E. Bernstein, 211 St. Cloud Ave., West Orange, N.J., is an owner and manager of Central Glass Distributors and Royal Auto Glass Works. Mrs. Bernstein is the former Estelle Winter. They have two boys. Joe's sister is Aileen Bernstein Wirtenberg '46.

'44, '43 AB—Richard A. Holman, president of the Wall Street stock brokerage firm bearing his name, received the Award of Merit presented by Marine Dealer for outstanding pioneer work in promoting public interest and awareness of the pleasure boating industry. His firm is the first to make available specialized public financing to boating manufacturers and to offer such securities to the investing public. The only individual so honored, Holman received the award during the 1960 National Motor Boat Show. He lives at 130 Dairy Farms Drive, New Rochelle.

'44—Frederick V. McNair III of 1145 Nineteenth Street, NW, Washington, D.C., has been promoted to supervisor at Jefferson Ltd. Life in D.C. A fifth child, David McNair, was born to the McNairs, January 1.

'44, '45 BS; '46, '45 AB—A daughter, Ethel Roberta, was born recently to Robert M. Ready and Mrs. Ready (Ann Grady) '46 of 7 Monmouth Avenue, Rumson, N.J. Ready is executive director of the Gotham Bowl football game, the inaugural of which is to be held at Yankee Stadium, December 10.

'48 Women—Pat Jordan Woudenberg has a daughter, Ruth Sarah, born April 15. Pat and her husband, Richard, also have two sons. Their address is 176 Oldham Rd., Wayne, N.J. Helen Adams Pierce also has a daughter born April 15, Glynis Louise. Her husband, Frank, is a chemist. They live at 199 Halladay St., Jersey City 4, N.J. Helen has been teaching.—HELEN CORBETT JOHNSON

'50 Women's Reunion—Forty women of '50 banqueted in Balch III Friday night of Reunion week end. After dinner, the following slate of officers was elected for 1960-65: President, Margaret Thompson Zimmerman; secretary, Elizabeth Severinghaus Dingle; treasurer, Pauline Rogers Sledd; Reunion chairman, Joan Noden Keegan; and Cornell Fund representative, Patricia Carry.

Our best traveler proved to be Sally Strong De Groot who came from Florida for Reunion. The "best worrier" award went to our able Reunion chairman, Jay Miller Weber. Awarding the "best producers" cup was more complicated as three of those present have five children: Lyn Layton Hepworth, Jean Sequin Edwards, and Marguerite Peluso Agnello. Jean was declared winner of this contest.

During the Saturday parade to Hoy Field, Jo Kessel Buyski's four-month-old Jody almost stole the show as she paraded in her carriage. Not counting this junior miss, our ranks had swelled to 61 registered by Saturday night to tie us with women of '35 for the women's attendance cup. Picture next issue.

'51 Men—This is my last column for the year and I am proud of my record; proud, not for myself, but of the cooperation of the Class, providing me with enough news to be able to write the columns. Don't stop sending it in. I'd be very happy to start off next fall with a substantial backlog. After that commercial, now the news.

James Reavey, 154 Pepper Ridge Rd., Stamford, Conn. is a master of English literature at the Cheshire Academy, Cheshire, Conn. John Ewanicki was elected president of the South Hill Civic Association in Ithaca. Over in Trumansburg, Jacqueline Allen was married to Edwin J. Saeger, May 28. After a honeymoon in Bermuda, they will be living at 93 Elm St., Rochester, where Ed is owner of the Edison Hotel.

Received a fine letter from Ted Blake with news he gathered during his Cornell Fund work. Ted reports John Hanson lives in Lisle, Ill. and works for Wyatt Co. Henry Bussey lives in River Forest, Ill. and is a member of the faculty and director of radio and TV at Loyola University. Reed Deemer lives in Lombard, Ill. where he is an industrial engineer for United Air Lines. Bob Ericsson works for Pepper Construction Co., Chicago, and had a second daughter December 31. Over in Western Springs, Ill., Lloyd Hobson, Jr. works for Plastering Development Co. of Chicago. The Hobsons, who live at 3908 Johnson Ave. in Western Springs, have a daughter, Cynthia, born October 26. Dick Holmberg reports from Berwyn, Ill. that his wife is expecting their third child next October.

Stan Taylor lives in Winnetka, Ill., where he commutes to Skokie for his job as supervisor of industrial analysis at International Minerals Co. Stan is married and has a son. Cal Gage will have a new address after October 1, 613 Pleasant Ave., Highland Park, Ill. Cal works for Leo Burnett advertising agency where he is associate research supervisor. Over in Urbana, Bob Katz is assistant professor of city planning at University of Illinois. Ted Blake, after all the above, also provided some news about himself. He is working for Acme Steel, involving quite a bit of travel. A recent trip led him to Ithaca for a one-day visit. Ted says his next trip back will be for our Tenth next summer. Schuyler Kleinhans and Charles Glasgow, Chief Engineer and Deputy Chief Engineer of the Santa Monica Division, go over air transport needs relating to advanced cargo loading techniques with Donald W. Douglas, Jr., President of Douglas.

How to put wings on a warehouse

Giving overseas air bases what amounts to local warehouse service on important parts is an Air Force objective. Its present system has slashed delivery schedules up to 20 times... saved taxpayers several billion dollars over the past decade. To improve it further, Douglas has been selected to develop specifications for a comprehensive Material Handling Support System involving better communications, data control, cargo handling and loading, packaging and air terminal design. This is another illustration of the variety of opportunities and assignments open to Douglas engineers and scientists.

Douglas is now seeking qualified engineers, physicists, chemists and mathematicians for programs like the above and other exciting new transport, missile and space projects far into the future. Write to Mr. C. C. LaVene, Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc., Santa Monica, California, Section H

With regard to the approaching Ten-Year Reunion festivities, Class Chairman Joe Hinsey and his freespending Class councilors will soon begin round-the-clock planning sessions for the triumphal 1963 return to the tents. Since this is one broth that too many cooks can't spoil, all Classmates with thoughts as to any events that should be included in the Ten-year Commotion are encouraged to transmit their ideas to Brother Hinsey. Among the problems on which special help is needed are: (1) the choosing of a Reunion chairman who has enough political influence to extract any misplaced Classmates from the Ithaca cooler and (2) the choosing of a Reunion costume which will suffice as a distinctive uniform by day and double as a healthful sleeping garment at night.

As to more mundane matters, such as the publication of this column, the stream of incoming news has once again been reduced to a trickle. Since the last issue, news has been received from only three Classmates.

Harold Fishman, MA UCLA '56, PhD UCLA '60, is a man of profuse activities. He is assistant professor of government at Los Angeles State College, a trustee of and commentator on radio station KPFK-FM, teacher of a weekly political science course over Los Angeles television station KPOC, and (yes, there's more) a research associate for the California Bureau of Government Research (where he specializes in the re-writing of the California State educational code.) Between 2 and 3 a.m. each day he can be found resting at 10741 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. Walter B. Hall lists his address as c/o CDR 9th CGD, Main PO Bldg., Cleveland 13, Ohio. Walt is a dentist and reports that in the fall he will be attending the University of Washington school of graduate dental education, working on a specialty degree. He looks forward to seeing Cornellians who will be in Seattle for the Century 21 World's Fair in 1962.

It is with a bit of regret that I return the duty of writing this column to Dottie Clark. Yes, she has returned from her world-circling trip and you may write her care Mrs. H. N. Black, 40 Loring Ave., Mill Valley, Cal. I for one look forward to the next issue of the ALUMNI NEWS when I hope you will tell us, Dottie, about the final part of your world tour.

Ann Woolley Banks writes that she and Neill '52 are now settled and ready for company at 6 Arlington St., Annisquam, Mass. Mrs. Russell C. Voorhis '50 (Dorothy Downey) reports: "We have been in the Philippines for the last two years. Russ is in the international division of Vick Chemical and we went out there in October, 1957 with a 7-week-old daughter. Now we have another daughter, born in Manila, and I'm expecting a son (?) in November. We enjoyed our stay in the Philippines very much and it was a very broadening experience although it certainly was hot! At this time of year, it is usually 95° every day and stays that way even during the evenings. Now we are settling back in the house we built a year before we left." The Voorhis address is Dogwood Lane, Alpine, N.J.

Mrs. George R. Horner '52 (Jean Crawford) and spouse moved to 2312 B Matador St., Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, in September. George graduated from the Air Force Institute of Technology with a degree in electrical engineering just before their move. Jean reports four children: Pam, 7; Cindy, 4; Johnny, 3; and James, one month old. Proud grandfather of these four is Dr. John Crawford '26. The Horners have paid a visit to Joe '53 and Ethelyn (Mallan) Pinchbeck. The Pinchbecks live at 113 Roosevelt Ave., Liverpool, with two daughters, Peggy Jo, 3½, and Paulette, 8 months.

Remember to write Dottie about your summer vacations, new jobs, new homes or addresses, additions to the family, etc. Thanks again to all contributors who made my job as correspondent this last year an enjoyable one.

'54 Women: Mrs. C. S. Everett
59 Helen St.

This column concludes our reporting for this academic year. I am happy to list more women who assisted with our solicitation for the Cornell Fund: Ronny Colen Altman, Betty Wagler Striso, Marilyn Fallick Dunkel, Joan Galton Berman, Jacqueline Leather Mallery, Mildred Cohen Levine, Donna McNeill Wagner, Kay Shipman, Shirley House Spencer, Sally Capron Marchant, Sally Gephardt Killian, Joan Sherbow Lapides, and Nancy Houston Guthrie. To these and all the others who helped we extend thanks on behalf of the Class and of the Class representative, Mrs. Robert S. Fried (Alice Green). If you have ideas or time for next year's drive, write Alice at 12 Luddington Terrace, West Orange, N.J.

Mrs. Robert C. Ready '53 (Sheila "Mickey" McMullen) moved in March to 161 Hillcrest Dr., Wellsburg, W. Va. This is their ninth home so far! Bob is with Dravo Corp. which is building the Pike Island locks in Wheeling. Since this is a three-year job, they hope to stay put for a change. Their two children are Mark, 4, and Dick, 9 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blumenthal '51 (Bernice Rotter) live at 675 Avenue Z, Brooklyn 23. Their daughters are Janet, one year old this month, and Rona, 3. Mrs. Eric L. Grahm (Juliet Bohman) celebrated Mother's Day, May 8, with Lawrence Bohman born that day. She says "he's hale and hearty and, from the sounds coming from the nursery, a good future candidate for the Cornell cheering squad." His 16-month-old sister, Rebecka, seems rather dubious about the newcomer. The Grahms still reside at 232 N. Woodland Dr., Liverpool (outside of Syracuse), and would like to hear from Cornellians in the vicinity.

Now off to vacations! I do hope yours will include a post card to your correspondent who needs news by early August for the next issue.

'55 Men: Gary Fromm
231 Littauer Center
Cambridge 38, Mass.

How time flies! The prospect of returning for a Five-year Reunion must have seemed very far in the future when we arrived at Cornell as uncertain, fledgling Freshmen almost nine years ago. But return we did, and in near record numbers! Those of you who failed to join the 180 '55 men who made the trek missed a whale of a good time (see Class picture next issue).

A quick rundown of the events: superlative Faculty Forums on topics of vital interest, a pasta party with '55 women and the Class of '57, two luncheons in Barton Hall, School breakfasts, the March of the Classes, an excellent baseball game which we pulled out of the fire in the late innings downing Colgate, 8-5, a steak dinner with the women of the Class, the Reunion Rally, and, of course, the tents with their endless supply of music and beer.

There were also tours of the Campus. Because of its natural splendors the face of Cornell hasn't changed too drastically notwithstanding a host of new buildings, and a great deal of internal refurbishment in the older buildings. More buildings are in the initial ground breaking and planning stages. The construction and architectural work have been extremely well done. Basically it's still the same old Cornell, but with a much improved plant for greater advances in research and academic excellence.

More important than all this, however, is the spirit of our institution. The nostalgia in returning after even this brief absence was surprisingly strong for many of us. One could feel the inherent friendliness, interest in the individual, and fellowship that permeate Cornell. What we all found we'd missed most was just this stimulating atmosphere. An incredible number of friendships were renewed and formed. Time and again one would hear the comment, "Where were you in my four years at Cornell and isn't it great knowing you now!"

To say that our Five-year Reunion was a roaring success would be a great understatement. Most all the plaudits go to Al Spindler, the new Class president, for a really remarkable organizing job. Dick Schaap (rumor has it that he's in line for the sports editorship of Newsweek) has been elected vice-president; Paul Romano, secretary; and Bob Landau, treasurer. There's been a strong movement to revitalize the Class in all its activities and anyone who wants to offer ideas or would like to serve as a Class or regional council member should write to Al at 4724 Alcott St., Apt. 201, Dallas 4, Tex.

I've got some bits of interesting news which, due to space limitations, will appear in the next issue. Really do want to hear from all of you soon. Please send along your current and permanent addresses for the Class directory. Many thanks and have a good summer!

'56 Men: Keith R. Johnson
55 Jane St.
New York 14, N.Y.

A few '56 men were on hand in Ithaca over Reunion week end; we saw Dick Miller and Jack De Korte during a quick visit to the tents, and heard also that Pete Hearn was there.

George Wilkens is a field engineer with the Hazel-Atlas division of Continental Can; he's also the father of a daughter, Lou Ann, born December 7. The Wilkenses live at 139-21 85th Dr., Jamaica 35. Gordon Polley has finished his first year at Harvard business school after getting out of the Navy a year ago and spending last summer in San Francisco. Classmates at Harvard are Dick Jacobstein and Lefty Lewis '55.

Don Phillips, 175 Willoughby St., Brooklyn 1, is a patent trainee with M. W. Kellogg Co. in New York City, and a night-time law student at Fordham. He married Susan Daniell last July; the wedding party included Dan Rathmann, Ted Wilson '57, Jim Doyle '58, and Jeff Weise '58.

Don Goldman is a department manager at Bamberger's New Jersey store in Plainfield. His wife is the former Celia Kandel '57, and they have a one-year-old son. They live at 1727 Walker Ave., Union, N.J. Dick Katzin finished the officers' basic course at Quantico in February; no information about his present station. He can be reached by mail via 81 Parker Ave., Maplewood, N.J.

John Ewers has bought a house at 52 Country Lane, Penfield, and is an industrial engineer with the Todd division of Burroughs Corp. He has a daughter, born last July. Another Boroughs man is Frank Lynch, as an electrical engineer. He completed a two-and-a-half-year tour with the Air Force in March, and now lives at 661 Heather Rd., RD 2, West Chester, Pa.

'56 Women: Linda H. Scanlan
115-C Catherine Ave.
Pensacola, Fla.

Phyllis Mable tells us she is also a resident of the Sunshine State. After receiving a Master's at Indiana a year ago, Phyllis has been a resident counselor at University of Florida in Gainesville.

From another university town comes word of Helen Grant Cicchinelli. She, her husband, Alex, and their daughter, Cecelia Marie, are at 414 East Washington Ave., Ann Arbor, Mich. Alex is working on the PhD at Michigan and Helen is enjoying being a housewife after two years in the Procter & Gamble market research division. Cecelia Marie made her arrival November 11 and Helen writes, "It's well they've stopped calling that Armistice Day for we've had no peace since."

Helen passes on the following news: Judy Cimildoro Jones, Anne Jackson Pantek, Dave Galbraith, and Mort Friedman are all in Ann Arbor. Rosemary Terry teaches home economics in Andes and Pat Holland Chatterton is back in Ithaca while her husband Bob '57 is working on the PhD. The Chattertons have two children, Candy and Billy. Another new arrival that Helen notes is that of James Richards in the household of Nan Olney Richards.

Paula Bussmann Arps also writes of their latest addition, Marilyn, born February 16. Ned '55 is industrial sales representative for Esso around the Boston area. They live at 117 Lexington St., Waverly 79, Mass.

As you'll notice in the next column, I also have a new address. But if you sent letters to the old one, they'll be forwarded. So keep them coming.

'56 LLB—Louis W. Bauman has a private law practice at 70 Church Street, White Plains. A daughter, Dena Robin, was born January 12 to him and Mrs. Bauman, the former Joan L. Robin of Winston-Salem, N.C. Bauman spent two years in the US Army with the Army Judge Advocate at Third Army Headquarters, Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga. He is a member of the New York, Westchester, and White Plains Bar Associations, and of Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. The Baumans live at 121 North Broadway (12J), White Plains.

'58 Men: William R. Hazzard
Box 502, Olin Hall
445 E. 69th St.
New York 21, N.Y.

Word has come since the May 15 issue of other concentrations of '58 men at other medical schools around the country. An anonymous female reporter writes that Jerry Metz, Hugh MacIntosh, Bob Clark, Tom Delaney, Chuck Duvall, Harry Lutrin (we spelled it right this time, Harry), Jerry Moress, and Pete Winter are sailing through their medical studies at University of Rochester. Two other men are doing graduate work at the same medical college: Ed Cope-land, in radiation biology, and Edward Kirk, physiology. University of Michigan has claimed a quintet of Classmates. Floyd

Downs, Hugh Dingle, and Bob Lasiewski are all studying zoology at Ann Arbor, while Roger Johnson and Sam Adams are in the medical college. We hear from Bill Goldstein that he and Brad DeLong are both beginning their final year at Washington University medical school in St. Louis. Bill writes that his "wombmate," twin Dave, graduated from the Cornell Law School in June and is an assistant district attorney for New York City.

Wilson MacIntire, Cortland RD 4, is in partnership with his father and brother in the dairy farming business. He has entered into the community life of Cortland with enthusiasm, being a scoutmaster, Rotary Club member, and Skyline Club skier. Another upStater is Thomas Obourn, who married Sue Clinton of Wilmington, Del. in January and is living at 218 Dyk St. in Wellsville. Bruce Torrance, Au Sable Forks, teaches third grade at Schoharie Central School. John Padget writes, "still single, but looking!"; interested female readers may write him at Mounted Route, Bettendorf, Iowa.

'59 Men: Howard B. Myers
308 Mercer St.
New Castle, Pa.

Joe Braff and Boris Goldstein stopped in New York recently to visit an old crony, Larry Schnadig, at Columbia business school. Joe and Boris also inadvertently ran into Donnie Wallens while carousing around near Times Square. Boris planned to marry Barbara Larsen June 26. Joe has word that Jim Horwich, currently at Ft. Leonard Wood, was also contemplating matrimonial steps in the future.

Jerry Finaldi, 224 Heath St., Buffalo 14, is banquet manager at the Hotel Niagara, Niagara Falls. Jerry also announced his engagement recently to Judy Allen with a fall wedding planned. Jerry invites any and all Cornellians, "honeymooners or otherwise," to drop in at the hotel if in Niagara Falls.

John and Nancy Collins '59 Sterling live at 209 Washington St., Hempstead. Nancy teaches school, and John is the assistant county 4-H Club agent for Nassau County, one of the country's largest counties for 4-H Club enrollments.

Jervis Langdon III, Ithaca Journal sportswriter, is now at Fort Dix, N.J. with the US Army. Lieutenant Terry Wilson, 05308678, Co. O, 1st Med. Tk. Bn. 68th Armor, APO 36, New York City, has the usual comment on the Army life and sounds homesick for Ithaca.

The ROTC Department at Cornell has been extremely cooperative in sending along information concerning the following Classmates, all recently graduated from various specialty schools, and all with extremely high standing: Gaines Post, Jr., Robert S. Rich, Ardell G. Everett, Gerald K. Drummond, Donald C. Taylor, Lawrence J. Martin, Stephen W. Fillo, Robert F. Phelps, James B. Boyd, James W. Rider, David J. Mahar, Michael D. Marien, Kenneth J. Riskind, Thomas J. Meier, Donald L. Katz, and John R. Sadowsky. Probably the most interesting assignment is Sadowsky's. John has been made officer in charge of the Quartermaster Museum, with the official title of curator, at Ft. Lee, Va. The Quartermaster Museum at Ft. Lee is one of the oldest and finest of its kind in the country. Anyone having any information and/or pertinent relics for the museum is encouraged to contact Curator Sadowsky 05006-263, Box 477, Ft. Lee, Va.

'59 PhD—In February, Dr. Abel A. Lazzarini, Jr. received US citizenship and changed to original family name of Abel Lazzarini Robertson, Jr. In May, he became associate professor of pathology at NYU school of medicine. His address is 1360 York Avenue, New York City 21.

'60 Men: Peter J. Snyder
822 Columbia St.

Robert E. Cohen, 344 S. Merkle Rd., Columbus 9, Ohio, who graduated in February, spent last term teaching freshman English at University of Massachusetts. His plans for next year include a research assistantship at University of Pennsylvania, while working for the MA in American literature.

Jean-Claude Holland, PO Box 953, Port-au-Prince, Haiti, announced the opening of "Le Reservoir" restaurant, of which he is owner and manager. After Neil Reicher, 139-57 Pershing Crescent, Jamaica 35, transferred to Hofstra College, he switched to a geology major, won a full tuition scholarship, and became a distinguished military student. He recently announced his engagement to Linda Stern.

Martin Veron, 1214 Avenue I, Brooklyn 30, announced his marriage to Enid Levine, a senior at Brooklyn College. Paul W. Newcomb, 2440 Kensington Ave., Snyder 26, planned to marry Jean C. Andrews this June and then continue in school towards the MBA.

As if being a new father wasn't enough to keep Ronald A. Blake, 7-B Maguire Ave., Albany, busy until he enters Albany Law School in the fall, he was a finalist in the Georgetown Intercollegiate Jazz Festival May 7.

'60 Women: Valerie H. Jones
409 Prairie Ave.
Elmhurst, Ill.

With more than a dozen women of the Class of '60 recently married (many June 18), starting new jobs, and out traveling through the US or Europe for a last fling before starting work, this first column for our Class as alumnae will be devoted to some of the Class members who left Cornell before this June and are already established.

From Brazil Heath Heindel de Gouvea writes of an interesting life as the wife of a busy Brazilian surgeon in a small town in the interior of the country. They have a bilingual daughter of one year, five months, and live at R. Adolfo Carvalho 13, Carangola, Minas Gerais, Brazil. Mrs. John Freund (Nora Heller) is now at home in Toronto, Ont. at 931 Avenue Rd. A February graduate of the Hotel School, she is cafeteria manager of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Living in an apartment in Tehran, Iran, except when vacationing in their summer bungalow on the Caspian Sea is Norma Lee Nichols Mahdavi. Her husband, Massud, is a chemist. Address: c/o Magcobar Iran, 264 Eisenhower Ave., Tehran, Iran.

Judy Crouch Hughes is the proud mother of two children, Sheila and Mike. She and husband Skip, '58 Hotel School graduate, invite anyone passing through Norristown, Pa. on Rt. 202 to stop in at Crossroad Motel which he manages.

Although we've only been alumnae for about a month now, the Class of '60 women took our first actions as alumnae by electing Class officers last spring. Our first alumnae officers for a three-year term until the "Baby Reunion" of the Class in 1963 are Louise Clendenin, president; Gail Carney and Sue Phelps, vice-presidents; Sue Jobs, executive secretary; Sue Luther, treasurer; Liz Will, Reunion chairman; Tillie Guttman, Cornell Fund representative; and Valerie Jones, ALUMNI NEWS correspondent.

What's your news? Where are you working? What Class members do you see this summer? This column can contain anything of interest to or about our Class. Just send a card to the ALUMNI NEWS office in Day Hall where your correspondent for the next two issues, Sue Laubengayer, will pick it up.

Micro-Miracles and the Investor

Even before little transistor radios have worn out their wonder in American homes, scientists in industry have found tinier worlds to conquer.

Today, crystals are grown to replace complete electronic units—such as transistors, capacitors, inductors, diodes or resistors.

Investing today is closely linked to the progress of the scientist. Even so, the company that leads in scientific breakthrough does not always lead in exploitation and profits.

In managing investments, the Trust Company devotes much of its attention to selecting the companies that are best qualified to translate new ideas into increased earnings.
