Faculty Votes to Abolish Easter Recess and End Instruction in May.

Important changes in the University calendar have been decreed by the University Faculty, subject to the approval of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees. The Faculty has voted in favor of abolishing the Easter recess, which has consisted of about ten days; allowing only one holiday at Thanksgiving instead of two and doing away with the holiday on May 30. If this change is adopted, the only intermissions in University work, outside of the Christmas recess, will be Thanksgiving Day and Founder's Day, Jan. '11, and three days, commonly known as "Junior Week," allowed at the end of the first term, about the end of January, for the reading of examination papers. Furthermore, the Faculty has voted in favor of ending the University year about a week earlier than now, which would bring final examinations into the last week of May.

This action of the Faculty was taken at a meeting held on Monday evening of last week. That proposed changes in the calendar were under consideration was known, but the news of the Faculty's decision caused general surprise. No official statement of the approved changes has been made. They are, however, substantially as reported above.

Vigorous opposition to the plan has been shown by the undergraduates, and a petition has been circulated during the past week for signature by students opposed to the changes. This petition was to be presented to the executive committee on Tuesday of this week. It was signed by hundreds of students. It reads as follows:

"We, the undersigned students of Cornell University, firmly convinced that the proposed change of the University calendar whereby the June block week is brought forward into May and the spring holidays abolished, to be practically destructive of our spring athletic activities as well as injurious generally to the moral spirit of the undergraduate body, do hereby place ourselves on record as being unalterably opposed to the above mentioned change and respectfully petition the Board of Trustees of Cornell University to prevent its adoption."

It is understood that the desire of the Faculty in making these changes is to raise the standard of university work by reducing the number of interruptions to which it is now subject. Occasional holidays would not in themselves be objected to, it is said, except for the students' practice of taking an extra day or two before and after each holiday in order to go home. Some classes are decimated for several days at every holiday period, and this has been found to be a serious drag on effective teaching.

Not only among the undergraduates but among the faculty as well, there is much discontent with the idea of abolishing the spring recess. Many members of the teaching staff feel that five months of uninterrupted work from January to June would be even harder on the teacher than on the student.

Athletic schedules would be sadly upset if the new calendar were adopted. It would be virtually impossible for the track team to take part in the intercollegiate meet in the last week of May, for final examinations would be in progress at that time. The Harvard-Cornell regatta and the Memorial Day baseball game with Pennsylvania would be prevented. The southern trip of the baseball team would be a thing of the past.

DEAN OF GRADUATES.

New Office Filled by the Appointment of Professor Merritt.

Ernest Merritt '86, professor of physics, has been appointed dean of the new Graduate School. He will be the first to hold the office. The Graduate School was organized a few weeks ago from that division of the University formerly known merely as the graduate department. The direction of that department was in the hands of the Dean of the University. Hereafter it is to have a separate faculty and a separate director. The faculty of the school will consist of those professors and assistant professors who are actively engaged in supervising the work of graduate students as members of the special committees in charge of major and minor subjects.

Professor Merritt became a student in Sibley College in 1882 after a year spent in Purdue University and graduated in 1886 with the degree of M. E. He remained at Cornell for post-graduate study in physics, and in 1888 he was made an instructor in that subject. In 1893-4 he studied at the University of Berlin. He was promoted to an assistant in 1892 and to a professorship in 1903.

TRUSTEE BILL IS LAW.

Governor Signs Act Giving the State Direct Representation on the Board.

Governor Hughes last week signed the bill providing that five members of the Cornell University Board of Trustees shall be appointed by the Governor and the bill is now a law of the State. The Governor has not yet made any appointment under the new statute, and it is reported that he may defer this action till next winter, since his appointments must be confirmed by the Senate, and that body will not be in session again until next January.

There are five vacancies in the board, and they will be filled by the Governor's appointees, who will hold office for terms of one, two, three, four and five years respectively. Ultimately, under the new law, the Governor of the State will each year appoint one member of the board for a term of five years. Thus there will be five direct representatives of the State on the board, the total number of trustees remaining the same as before, but the board itself having the selection of five fewer members than formerly. The composition of the board will be as follows: Members ex-officio, 8; from the family of Ezra Cornell, 1; elected by the State Grange, 1; elected by the board, 15; elected by the alumni, 10; appointed by the Governor, 5.

'86 Memorial and Other Prizes.

Abraham Levine, of Elmira, a member of the senior class in the College of Arts and Sciences, won the '86 Memorial Prize in declamation at the twenty-third annual contest on Friday evening. This prize consists of about $86, being the interest on a sum of money given as a memorial by the Class of 1886. Levine's declamation was entitled "Boss, Graft and the Citizen," and was an adaptation of an article by Lincoln Steffens. The judges of the contest were James T. Rogers '93, of Binghamton; R. H. Whitbeck '01, of Trenton, N. J., and William R. Lee '05, of Utica. The other contestants were: William Palen Rose '11, Kingston; Robert Earl Coulson '09, Buffalo; Roscoe Claudius Edlund '09, Brooklyn; Amy Grace

Mekeel '10, Trumansburg; Sanborn Olds Houser '11, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Hymen Max Barr '10, Brooklyn; James Cyril O'Brien '10, Rochester; John Alfred Stalfort '10, Baltimore, Md.; Abraham Louis Doris '10, Brooklyn; Harry Nathaniel Wilson '10, Dansville, and Philip Lewis Yang '11, Soo Chow, China.

At a recent meeting of the University Faculty the following awards were announced:

The Barnes Shakespeare Prize, founded in 1887 by Mrs. Alfred Smith Barnes, of Brooklyn, was won by William A. Shea '09, of Brockport. The subject of his essay was "Shakespeare's Tragedy of Passion." The prize consists of the income of $1,000. Shea is a senior in the College of Law. He won the Guilford Essay Prize two years ago.

The Corson Browning Prize was won by Marion Collins '10, of Amsterdam. The subject of her essay was "Character in Browning's Dramas." This prize was founded in 1902 by Professor Hiram Corson and consists of a gold medal of the value of $50 or that sum in money.

The Corson French Prize, also founded by Professor Corson, went to George I. Dale '10, of Schenectady. His subject was "Paul Verlaine's Poetry." The prize consists of a gold medal of the value of $50.

As previously announced, the Guilford Essay prize was won by T. E. Fassett '09, of Elmira.

The Fuertes medals, awarded annually to a graduate student and an undergraduate in the College of Civil Engineering, were won by William M. Torrance '95, of East Orange, N. J., and George F. Wieghardt '09, of Baltimore, Md.

After a competition extending through the term, Harold E. Riegger '10, of New York city, has been chosen chimemaster for next year and H. T. Critchlow '10, of Prospect, Pa., has been appointed assistant.

It has been decided to install a pool and a billiard table in the old trophy room in Barnes Hall if a fund can be raised to cover the expense. The trustees of the University have given their consent.

JUNIOR CREW WINS.

Defeats Harvard and Pennsylvania in Record Time.

In the race for junior collegiate eights at the "American Henley" on the Schuylkill river last Saturday afternoon, Cornell's junior crew won. Harvard's junior eight was second and Pennsylvania's third. Cornell's time for the distance, one mile 550 yards, was 6 minutes 26 4-5 seconds, breaking by one-fifth of a second the former record for the course made last year by Yale. Although the water was choppy, the wind was favorable for fast time. Cornell's crew was, with two exceptions—the stroke and number three—the eight which won the freshman race at Poughkeepsie last year. It was made up as follows: Bow, C. N. Seagrave '11, Wellesley, Mass.; 2, L. D. Simson '11, Tonawanda; 3, F. B. Kelley '10, Newark; 4, W. M. Aitchison '11, Morristown, N. J.; 5, S. H. Sutton '11, Naples; 6, P. L. Day '11, Queensland, Australia; 7, S. Names '11, Baldwinsville; stroke, R. W. Weed, jr., '09, Brooklyn; coxswain, H. J. Kimball '11, Watertown.

At the start Harvard took the lead and held it for a quarter of a mile, but at this point Cornell, rowing a steady and much longer stroke than Harvard, moved up on even terms and soon was a few feet in advance of the Crimson. From this point on Cornell was never headed. Harvard spurted for the last quarter mile, rowing a stroke six more to the minute than Cornell, but Cornell won by a length. Harvard finished two lengths ahead of Pennsylvania.

Lacrosse Team Defeats Stevens.

In a game with the lacrosse team of the Stevens Institute of Technology, at Hoboken on Saturday, the Cornell team won by 10 goals to 2. The field was slippery from rain, but the 'varsity played a fast game. Thatcher, who covered goal, was like a stone wall and stopped the ball many times when a goal seemed certain. The Cornellians got busy in the first minute of play and Christiansen shot a goal, but immediately after the ball was put in play Stevens gained a goal, tying the score. At this stage it looked as if Stevens had a chance, but Cornell scored four more goals in rapid succession on some clever passing, Chamberlain, Walbridge, Fries and Christiansen making the goals. In the second half the play was faster by both teams, but the home players were foiled by Cornell's defense. Christiansen shot a goal in the first ten seconds of play; Walbridge shot two more in less than five minutes and Kiep added another to Cornell's credit. Just before the half closed Walbridge got Cornell's tenth goal. Stevens scored once in the second half. The Cornell team played as follows: Thatcher, goal; Haist, point; Chapman, cover point; Carlton, first defense; Henry, second defense; Dewitt, third defense; Fries, center; Chamberlain, third attack; Kiep, second attack; Walbridge, first attack; Taylor, inside home; Christiansen, outside home.

Civil Engineers Win Boat Race.

Over a half mile course along the east shore of the lake, finishing off the end of the Renwick pier, the eight-oared crew of the College of Civil Engineering on Saturday won the fourth annual intercollege boat race for the trophy given by John H. Barr '89. In the final heat the Arts crew was second, only a quarter of a length behind the winners and half a length ahead of the Sibley eight, which was third.

In the preliminary heats Sibley defeated Agriculture, the civil engineers defeated the lawyers, and Arts won from Architecture. A special heat was rowed by the three losing crews and was won by Agriculture.

In the first trial heat, Sibley and Agriculture locked oars near the finish, and a foul was claimed by Agriculture. It was not sustained by the judges, because the trouble had been caused by a misunderstanding of both coxswains as to the finish point.

The Barr trophy, which has been in the possession of the College of Arts and Sciences since last spring, will be kept in Lincoln Hall for a year.

Professor R. S. Tarr will head another expedition to Alaska this summer for the study of glaciers. Lawrence Martin '04 will accompany him.

THE HUNTINGTON HOUSE AT PARK AVENUE AND THIRTY-EIGHTH STREET, LEASED BY THE CORNELL UNIVERSITY CLUB OF NEW YORK.

Northern California Club.

On Saturday evening, May 8, the Cornell University Club of Northern California held a meeting to which the wives and friends of members were invited. This meeting was held in the banquet hall of the Bismarck Café, San Francisco. Thirty-two persons were present.

President Daggett introduced the Rev. Harry B. Miles, who addressed the club on the subject of "College Graduates and Citizenship." Mr. Miles pointed out that the country must rely upon citizens of trained and active mind to hold themselves to right thought and right action in matters pertaining to the good of the community in which they live.

Other speakers who dwelt on the same subject were Mrs. R. O. Moody (Agnes Claypole '94), John M. Chase '72 and Ransom Pratt '82.

Mr. Chase introduced to the meeting his guest, Colonel Homer B. Sprague, who was the first professor of English literature at Cornell University. Colonel Sprague spoke most entertainingly of the early days at Cornell, of Andrew D. White, Ezra Cornell and many of the professors of that time, a few of whom are still in the University. The speaker paid particular tribute to Dr. White, whose achievements, he said, entitled him to the foremost rank of Americans; in Col. Sprague's opinion, "He is the greatest living American, not excepting Theodore Roosevelt." Colonel Sprague pointed out that college graduates, university clubs and associations would do well to take up the discussion of peace and arbitration, in which field Dr. White is a world's figure.

Two other speakers of the evening, who gave interesting reminiscences of days at Cornell, were Samuel J. Brun and N. E. Otterson '99.

The meeting was brought to a close by singing "Alma Mater" and the "Evening Song", after the long yell had been given for Colonel Sprague and Mr. Chase, the seniors of the gathering.

The "Daily Sun" Banquet.

Last week Tuesday evening, at the Ithaca Hotel, the Cornell Daily Sun held its twenty-ninth anniversary banquet. About a hundred guests were present. Among the speakers were George Gund, representing the Harvard Crimson, and W. M. Wilkins, of the Daily Princetonian. Addresses were also made by Professor Schmidt, Professor Catterall, Dean Hull, and the outgoing and incoming editors-in-chief of the Sun, Lewis Henry and Stanton Griffis. Mr. Wilkins said in part: "I fail to see strained relations between Princeton and Cornell men. Ever since the break in football the Princeton undergraduate body has hoped for a speedy renewal of relations. Princeton men want to see a renewal of relations with Cornell in every major sport and all other activities. One criticism I have to make of Cornellians. You don't come to Princeton enough. Princeton men are more than glad to come here on all occasions, as you have seen, to partake of your unequalled hospitality. Come to Princeton and aid in splicing the rope of new relations, which once spliced will be stronger than before."

The Widow board has elected the following officers for next year: Chairman of the board, Maximilian Elser, jr., '10, Fort Worth, Texas; literary editor, John Philip Swift '10, Union, N. Y.; artistic editor, Edgar Stow Wheelan '11, New York city; business manager, William Brooks Clift '10, Chattanooga, Tenn.; assistant business manager, Arthur Wyllys Hawkes, jr., '11, Phoenix, N. Y.

SPRING DAY.

Fourteen Tents, Good Weather, a Big Crowd and Lots of Fun.

The name of Spring Day this year? Oui-Gneau. Last Friday was a pleasant day, and the clerks in the Athletic Office are still counting the nickels and dimes and quarters and halves and the cartwheels and the bills. The banks were telephoning Manager Dugan before noon begging him to deposit some small change as soon as he could. Everybody carried along plenty of change, for sometimes the ticket sellers don't hand anything back. Oui-Gneau.

It was on the green north of the Armory that the tents, fourteen of them, were pitched, inside a roped inclosure. You entered at the west side, paying not less than fifteen cents. On your right was What—the frosh show. That's what it was called—What. Here was enacted the story of Pocahontas and Captain John Smythe. Just across the "pike" the sophs had a variety show which included a highly proper Salome dancer. In other tents there were clever native shows by the Oriental and Spanish-speaking members of the Cosmopolitan Club. The civil engineers had their time-honored "shoot-the-chute" and the mechanical engineers gave a realistic representation of the Vanderbilt cup race—with a moving canvas background. In the big tent was shown "T. R. in Africa"—the stenographer and the moving picture man not being forgotten. Here was a pasteboard menagerie which had done duty in the preposterous parade up the hill. Before getting this far you had bought lemonade and peanuts, a toy balloon, a copy of the Cornell Daily Bun (a burlesque of the Sun) a "History of Spring Day" by Dick Bishop, chairman of the Spring Day Committee, a class cap (if you were an undergraduate) had ringed the cane and tried to hit the nigger baby and had been arrested and fined in the law school tent. Then, if you had any money left, you saw "New Fangled Farmin'," by the students of agriculture, thought by many to be the best show on the grounds. Here was demonstrated some very up-to-date machinery. Into the hopper of one machine an attendant dropped a hen, and when the crank was turned there came out eggs. Then the demonstrator moved the rheostat and the machine produced chickens. Successive adjustments of the rheostat brought forth a feather pillow, a feather duster, bone collar buttons and a can of soup. The machine was said to utilize "everything but the cackle." Another machine swallowed a live sheep and turned the fleece into woollen garments without harming the sheep. Among the unnatural curiosities in this tent was a hideous hum-bug. During the show there was a tug-of-war between Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Beta Phi. The highbrows won. Perhaps the members of the other society were handicapped by their mortarboards, which were four feet in diameter. It was a great day for the Ithaca Street Railway.

Rain Prevents Baseball Games.

The 'varsity nine invaded Pennsylvania last week, but a severe storm prevented the games scheduled with the Carlisle Indians at Carlisle on Friday and with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia on Saturday. The team had already defeated Carlisle. It will try conclusions with Pennsylvania in Ithaca on May 31. This game will be of great interest, because Pennsylvania has shut out Yale and has twice defeated Princeton.

Hudson-Fulton Week.

The following program for the celebration of the Hudson-Fulton anniversaries in September next has been adopted by the Faculty:

Tuesday Evening, September 28—Introductory Addresses—1. On "Geographical conceptions of America in 1608," by Professor G. L. Burr of the Department of Mediaeval History. Lecture to be illustrated by lantern slides and to be accompanied by an exhibition of maps, etc., in the University Library, which will be continued throughout "Hudson-Fulton Week." 2. On "Political and Economic Conditions of Europe in 1608," by Professor R. C. H. Catterall of the Department of Modern European History.

Wednesday Evening, September

TALCOTT, CORNELL, AND DWIGHT, PRINCETON, CLEARING THE LAST OBSTACLE IN THE HIGH-HURDLE RACE. THEY WERE TIED FOR FIRST PLACE AT THE FINISH.

R. W. HITCHCOCK WINNING THE QUARTER-MILE RACE. R. B. HURLBURT, WHO WAS DISQUALIFIED, IS SECOND. THE WINNER'S FATHER, RIPLEY HITCHCOCK, IS IN THE GROUP AT THE RIGHT.

The Princeton-Cornell Track Meet.

29—An address on "Hudson's Discovery of the Hudson River and its Historical Significance," by Professor C. H. Hull of the Department of American History.

Thursday Evening, September 30—An address on "Fulton's Application of Steam to Navigation," with a history of steam navigation in this country and an exhibition of models, pictures, etc., of steamships from the time of Fulton's Clermont to the present time, by Dean A. W. Smith of the Sibley College of Mechanical Engineering and Mechanic Arts.

These elections for next year have been made by the Masque Council: Business manager, C. E. Chase '10, Omaha; assistant business manager, N. L. MatLeod '11, Chicago; stage manager, A. P. Kelly '10, Baltimore; assistant stage manager, T. R. Ludlam '11, Montclair, N. J.

The final term examinations will begin on June 1 and end on June 9.

THE CALENDAR.

If the Faculty is agreed that holidays at Cornell are so numerous and so frequent that the work of the University is injured, there will have to be fewer holidays. There is no question about that. The University exists for work and not for play, and the Faculty is held responsible for keeping up the educational standard. The changes which the Faculty has proposed, however, seem to us to be open to criticism. To bring the final examinations of the year back into the last week of May would be virtually to forbid the students to take any part in the intercollegiate track meet and it would also be a veto on the Harvard-Cornell regatta and on several of the most cherished baseball games. This would be a humiliation to the whole body of undergraduates. It cannot be that the Faculty is taking this step expressly to curtail the number of intercollegiate athletic contests, for that would be an unmannerly way of going about it. There is no intent on the part of the Faculty, so far as we know, to forbid these contests, but forbidden they will be if the proposed changes in the calendar are adopted. If all that the Faculty seeks to do it to omit holidays it should be possible to find a better way—a way that would not by indirection deprive the students of something that public opinion has taught them to consider an honorable and worthy possession—their athletic relations with students of other universities. Whether or not these relations are as necessary to their happiness as the undergraduates believe is beside the question. They are a part of our college life and the feeling of undergraduates—and graduates, too, for that matter—regarding them might well be taken into account.

The Cornellian Council.

A meeting of the Cornellian Council will be held in the main building of the College of Agriculture on Tuesday of Commencement week, June 15, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. When the Council last met it adjourned to that day and left the hour and place to be fixed by the temporary secretary. Mr. Robert J. Eidlitz '85. Mr. Eidlitz now authorizes the above announcement. At this meeting the Council will hear reports of nominating committees and will probably complete its organization by electing a president, a vice-president, an executive committee and perhaps a permanent secretary.

Article by G. H. Marx '93.

Professor Guido H. Marx '93, of Stanford University, who prepared the report on salaries at Cornell University that was published by the Cornell Club of Northern California a year ago and printed in the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS, contributes to Science of May 14 an article which covers the same general subject but is not confined to Cornell. Professor Marx has extended his study to Harvard, Wisconsin, California and Stanford Universities. He shows the growth of attendance, composition of teaching staffs, trend of salaries, etc.

ALUMNI NOTICES.

Invitation to Faculty Members.

A meeting of the Northwestern Cornell Club (Minneapolis and St. Paul) will be held on Friday evening, July 2, and the club wishes to have a representative or representatives of the Faculty present. Any member of the Faculty who expects to be in the neighborhood of Minneapolis about that time may confer a favor on the club by informing the secretary, Eugene T. Lies, City and County Building, Minneapolis, and he will be welcomed to the meeting. Returns from the boat races at Poughkeepsie will be received.

Smoker in San Francisco.

An informal smoker will be held by the Cornell University Club of Northern California in San Francisco on the evening of July 2 to get returns from the boat races and to celebrate as the outcome may warrant. If any of the boys from the East—undergraduates or alumni—are going to be in San Francisco at that time the club would be very glad to have them at the smoker. At the present time the place of the meeting cannot be given, but anyone who wishes to attend it can find out the place of meeting by writing to H. L. Terwilliger, secretary of the club, 2865 Devisadero street, San Francisco, or calling him on the telephone. His telephone number in business is Kearny 2240.

Philadelphia Club's Outing.

The Annual Spring Outing of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia will be held at the famous Old Mohican Club House, Morris-Junction-on-the-Delaware, on Saturday, June 12, 1909. There will be a ball game in the afternoon which will be followed by a shad dinner.

E. C. BATCHELAR, Chairman.

President Schurman will make an informal address to the members of the graduating classes in Sage Chapel at noon on Sunday, June 6. The President will depart for Europe a few days afterward. The chapel will be open only to members of the graduating classes. On Friday afternoon of this week the President and Mrs. Schurman will give a reception to the seniors and their guests.

The annual inspection of the cadet corps was held in the Quadrangle on Tuesday afternoon of last week. Captain Julius A. Penn, 7th Infantry, a member of the General Staff of the Army, represented the War Department. After inspection considerable time was devoted to putting the men through special maneuvers, and finally the entire corps marched in review. At the end of the review Captain Penn addressed the officers and congratulated them on the good results they had obtained. He spoke of the need of a larger armory and praised the work of Captain Phillips.

Announcement of the SUMMER COURSES of the University Preparatory School

Nineteenth Summer Session—Eleven Weeks

BOARDING AND DAY DEPARTMENTS

Opens July 6th, Closes September 17th

THE SUMMER SESSION of the Preparatory School will be divided into two terms: (a) the first term five weeks, July 6th-August 10th; (b) the second term six weeks, August 10th-September 17th. A Special Three Weeks' Review will be given from August 30 to September 17th, inclusive.

FACULTY—Our faculty collectively represents seventy-seven years of successful experience in college preparatory work.

EXPERIENCE—During the past Eighteen Years the school has assisted over 1,000 students in successfully passing one or more subjects in the Fall Entrance Examinations to Cornell University.

ACQUAINTANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS—Eighteen years of close study of the needs of students entering the various departments of Cornell University, has given us an intimate knowledge of the topics which are at once pertinent and necessary to successfully pass the Entrance Examinations. We are thus enabled to eliminate the unimportant and base our Examination Training on the things that are most needed.

THREE CLASSES OF STUDENTS BENEFITED—Our summer courses are especially designed to meet the needs of three classes of students: (a) Those wishing to prepare for the Fall Entrance Examinations for Cornell University; (b) college students who have either Entrance or College Conditions to make up; (c) those who wish to begin their college preparation in order to anticipate their normal time of entrance under the ordinary conditions.

NEW CLASSES in all subjects will be formed on July 6th and August 10th, respectively. However, students may enter at any time during the summer term.

CURRICULUM—The curriculum includes all of the academic subjects demanded in the Entrance Requirements to any and all of the courses in Cornell University.

GENERAL INFORMATION—Classes are small and carefully graded so as to insure the maximum amount of progress. In the boarding department, rooms are assigned in the order of application. Admission blanks will be mailed on request and any information desired will receive prompt attention.

THE REGULAR ACADEMIC YEAR for 1909-1910 opens Thursday, September 30th, for registration. Illustrated catalogue will be mailed on request. Address all correspondence to
