CORNELL is tenth in the list of American universities from the point of view of the number of full-time students; and eleventh if all resident students, including the summer session students, be considered. The first nine are California, Columbia, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Ohio State, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and Harvard. The next ten after Cornell are Boston, Chicago, Nebraska, Iowa, University of Washington, Texas, Northwestern, Syracuse, Missouri, and Iowa State College. Cornell's engineering school is fourth in size. Her agricultural college is at the top of the list. Her architectural college is second in size only to that of Pennsylvania. Her Veterinary College is surpassed in size only by that of Ohio State. Her Summer Session is eighth in the list. The total enrollment showed an increase of 137 over that of 1920.

A NEW TRACK ORGANIZATION was suggested by a committee of four prominent athletes, at the twenty-third annual track get-together held on February 20 in the Assembly Hall of the Domestic Economy Building. The general idea involves an organization similar to the Cross Country Club, the purposes of which shall be the promotion of clean spirit among the members of the track team, the provision of prizes for intramural track contests, and the increase of the interest of track alumni in the sport at Cornell.

RELIGIOUS DISCUSSION has been given a new impetus at the University, through the inauguration by the C. U. C. A. of two discussion courses of ten weeks' duration each. In addition to these courses, registration in which is overcrowded, arrangements are being made to have a dozen smaller groups meet in dormitories and fraternity houses, under the leadership of members of the C. U. C. A. and the Faculty.

A SMOKING ROOM for the convenience of Sibley students has been installed in the basement of Sibley Dome, where the Sibley Cafeteria used to be. Besides furnishing the only place in Sibley where men may smoke, it will be used as a meeting-hall for engineering societies.

SHORT HORNS to the number of three hundred twenty-nine attended the twenty-ninth winter course in the College of Agriculture, which ended February 18. Twenty-one of this number were American Indians.

A PETITION carrying four hundred signatures, asking permission to institute a varsity boxing team, has been refused by the Committee on Student Affairs, on the ground that the committee deemed it inadvisable at this time. Fifty men now under the instruction of Coach John J. Fallon '20 have decided to form a boxing club, by means of which they hope eventually to gain official recognition of boxing as a varsity sport.

THE WIDOW has entered the college wits' contest, conducted by Judge, in which two years ago it won the silver trophy awarded as first prize. Both copy and drawings will count in the point score on the basis of which the prize is awarded.

THE LACROSSE SEASON was noisily anticipated at a smoker held February 23. Coach Nick Bawlf, with his usual red-hot enthusiasm, forecast a successful season in spite of the difficulty of the schedule, which includes the usual Southern trip and a not improbable game with Oxford University. In his speech to the men, Coach Dobie praised lacrosse as an excellent spring training for football men, and expressed his delight that so many of his charges had registered for lacrosse practice.

"JIM" HALSEY, an Ithaca character well known to alumni as an athletic "fan," and for many years an express carrier, died suddenly on February 25 of heart disease at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles E. Courtney.

"THE COLLEGIATE FIVE," which is putting Ithaca on the basketball map in games with surrounding cities, is composed of old Cornell players not now eligible for the varsity team, including Edward H. Cornish '22 and Joseph H. Porter '22 of this year's team, Joaquin Molinet '21, captain of last year's team, Paul W. Eckley '17, coach of the freshman team, and Mortimer E. Moriarity '21.

MRS. LIVINGSTON FARRAND and Professor Arthur W. Browne, Ph.D. '03, were recently elected trustees of the Ithaca City Hospital, to fill the vacancies made by the resignations of Mayor Louis P. Smith and Robert H. Treman '78. Miss Vi A. Graham '17, instructor in biological chemistry in the Medical College, volunteered her services to the City Hospital to assist in the installation of equipment for the microscopic examination of tissues and for blood tests.

THE SAGE CHAPEL Preacher for March 5 will be the Rev. Dr. J. Ross Stevenson, Presbyterian, President of Princeton Theological Seminary.

LECTURES for the week include "Rafael Cansino Assens" by H. C. Berkowitz before the Menorah Society, and "The Unfinished Business of Democracy" by Dr. Fred Eastman before the Current Events Forum in Barnes Hall.

AN EXHIBITION of the work of the Faculty of the College of Architecture is being held in the exhibition room, on the third floor of White Hall, from February 27 to March 4 inclusive. It is open from nine to five o'clock daily.

THE STUDENT FRIENDSHIP FUND campaign was launched February 27, by W. H. Tinker, executive secretary of the national committee, who came here from New York for consultation with the Student Council. The purpose of the fund, which is being raised under the general direction of John R. Mott '88, is to alleviate the sufferings of university professors and students in the afflicted countries of Central Europe. The Student Council has appointed a general committee of one hundred thirty undergraduates, to conduct a whirlwind forty-eight-hour campaign, under the chairmanship of Emmet J. Murphy '22, of St. Paul.

CORNELL DEBATERS lost to the representatives of the University of Virginia by a two to one decision, at a contest held on February 25 on the neutral platform of the University of Pennsylvania. The resolution debated was "That a cabinet system similar to that of England should be introduced into the United States, constitutionality being waived." Cornell's representatives were Abraham E. Gold '23, of Plattsburgh, and James A. Smyth '23, of Corona, with Milton Rosenkranz '24, of West Hoboken as alternate.

AN EXTENSION SERVICE has been organized by the C. U. C. A., to meet the demand of neighboring rural communities for speakers. Arrangements have been made to furnish free of charge, to any community within a reasonable distance of Ithaca, entertainment and speakers on subjects germane to the work of the Association.

THE MYSTERY WOMAN of Ithaca, Miss Belle Cowdrey, died on February 26 at the estimated age of eighty-three. For forty years Miss Cowdrey had lived alone in the large gloomy house at the foot of State Street Hill opposite the entrance to the old car-barns, and so rarely went outside her spacious, weed-tangled grounds that it was hard to believe that anyone lived there. Her dislike for human society included workmen or caretakers, so that the property, once one of the most beautiful estates in Ithaca, deteriorated into a gloomy dilapidated house set in a wilderness of old trees and unkempt shrubbery, with an atmosphere of uncanny mystery.

Convention Days Announced

Second Annual Gathering to Be in Chicago
April 21, 22, and 23—Some of Subjects for Discussion

The second annual convention of the Associate Alumni will be held in Chicago, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 21, 22, and 23. The place was determined at the convention held in Cleveland last May, when the invitation of Chicago for 1922 was accepted. The dates have just been established by the officers of the Associate Alumni and the Cornell Alumni Association of Chicago.

Official announcements have been mailed this week by Edwin E. Sheridan '11, president of the Associate Alumni, calling upon each alumni club and association to consider and suggest questions for discussion at the convention, and to select delegates who will officially represent the clubs and associations in the business meetings. There will be this material change in the convention as it was conducted at Cleveland last spring, that clubs will be represented by voting delegates, in addition to the individual representation by all alumni who attend in person. It is pointed out that delegates should be sent to Chicago either instructed as a result of action taken by the clubs and associations in advance of the convention, or should be sent with free voice to vote after participating in the discussions.

In his letter Sheridan states that several questions have already been proposed for discussion and action, among them the following:

1. In what manner should Cornell conventions be perpetuated, for what purpose, how, when, and where?

2. In addition to the reunions in June shall we inaugurate a big general homecoming jubilee week-end reunion to be held in Ithaca at the time of a major football game every fall—to be free from business discussions or organized meetings—solely for the pleasure of the party and called irrespectively of classes, primarily for reunions of clubs and fraternities, editorial boards, athletic teams, etc.?

3. Should there be effected a reorganization of Cornell alumni organizations whereby all are responsible to a single body? (At the convention in Cleveland last May it was voted that each of the four organizations, the Associate Alumni, the Cornell Association of Class Secretaries, the Cornellian Council, and the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, appoint two representatives to meet as a committee together with a representative from each alumni club that may choose to make such appointment, to consider this question and report at the next convention).

4. How shall interest in alumni trustee elections be stimulated, both to attract a greater number of candidates and a greater vote?

5. In our definition of the words "alumnus" and "alumna" do we make a mistake in considering as full-fledged Cornellians all who have ever attended the University, even though that attendance may have been no longer than a day or a week or a month? Should we admit only those who have been at the University long enough to have an academic record, i.e., a term at least?

The Cornell Alumni Association of Chicago has already started preparations for the entertainment of the visiting alumni. Announcements of these features will be made later.

The committee in charge comprises: Samuel L. Bingham '05, Thomas N. Bishop '12, William H. French '73, Frank S. Porter '00, Glenn W. Sutton '18, Waldo F. Tobey '95, Joseph E. Ward '99, Charles C. Whinery '99, Erskine Wilder '05, Bennett B. Young '20, Edwin E. Sheridan '11, and Newton C. Farr '09, ex-officio.

Professor Orth Dies

University Community Shocked by Announcement of Sudden Death at Nice, Following Long Illness

The University community was shocked on Sunday by a cable from Mrs. Orth at Nice saying that Professor Samuel P. Orth had just died. No details were given. President Farrand cabled the following reply: "Please accept deepest sympathy of entire University in your great sorrow."

Professor and Mrs. Orth were on their way to Egypt, where he hoped to recover more fully from the effects of his accident of last spring. They sailed on the White Star liner Lapland on February 4 and had planned an itinerary that would take them through Italy, Switzerland, and France on their return.

Professor Orth had not been in good health for some years. What is believed to have been the original cause of the condition that led to his death, however, was an automobile accident which occurred on April 3, 1921, when Professor and Mrs. Orth both sustained fractures of the skull and other injuries, Miss Grace A. Seely '04 was severely injured, and Miss Campbell, a niece of Mrs. Orth's, sustained minor bruises and cuts.

After a long stay at the City Hospital, Mrs. Orth and Miss Seely completely recovered, but Professor Orth had serious complications which made his initial recovery unusually slow, and when pleurisy set in, his condition became serious. It was later found that he had sustained a fractured jaw, and the setting of this with the resultant infection and loss of strength added to the strain to which he had been subjected. Professor and Mrs. Orth left Ithaca on September 15 for Atlantic City, where it was hoped that he would soon be in condition to travel to Europe, where he planned to spend his sabbatic leave, having abandoned his original plans of studying in the Orient. For six weeks in Atlantic City he gained steadily in strength and weight, when his old trouble recurred and made an operation necessary to find the cause of a serious infection which had set in. The operation was apparently successful, and for two weeks Professor Orth gained rapidly, until, near the end of November, he had another relapse, and hope for his recovery was practically abandoned. He successfully rallied, however, and word was received from Mrs. Orth shortly before Christmas that within two weeks she expected her husband to be in better physical condition than he had been in for two years. They returned to Atlantic City for several weeks' additional rest, and to New York on February 4, sailing four days later. George S. Tarbell '91, of Ithaca, who saw Professor Orth on the day of sailing, said that he appeared to be in excellent condition and was in good spirits. This was the last report on his condition until the receipt of the cablegram telling of his death.

Professor Orth was born at Capac, Michigan, on August 1, 1873, and was the son of the Rev. John and Katharine Troeller Orth. He graduated B.S. from Oberlin in 1896, and afterward studied law and political science at the University of Michigan and Columbia, where he held a fellowship and from which he received the degree of Ph.D. in 1903. From 1897 to 1902 he was professor of political and social science in Buchtel College. For the next nine years he practiced law in Cleveland; from 1904 to 1910 he lectured on international law, economics, and political science at Western Reserve, the Case School, and Oberlin. He was president of the Cleveland Board of Education in 1904-5 and was assistant U. S. attorney in 1905-8.

In 1912 he came to Cornell as professor of political science. He won the confidence and respect of his students, and was regarded as an efficient teacher, for whom his pupils worked hard. He had peculiar gifts as an orator, and was in constant demand for patriotic and civic addresses. In the war he was active in campaigning, and was considered one of the most effective speakers in the State. He was one of the four professors who were chosen to give the S. A. T. C. course in War Aims. He also took an active part in the Semi-Centennial Campaign.

He was the author of "The Centralization of Administration in Ohio" (1903), "Five American Politicians" (1903), "A History of Cleveland" (1909), "Socialism and Democracy in Europe" (1913), "Readings on the Relation of Government to Industry" (1915), "The Imperial Impulse" (1916), "The Boss and the Machine" (1918), "The Armies of Labor" (1919), "Our Foreigners: a Chronicle of Americans in the Making" (1920); (the last three reviewed in the ALUMNI NEWS for August last), and many articles in professional and literary periodicals.

He married Miss Jane Davis, of Youngstown, Ohio, on August 17, 1899. He was a member of the American Political Science Association.

William Metcalf, Jr., '01

Some Facts About First Nominee for Alumni Trustee of University

William Metcalf, Jr., '01, whose nomination for election as Alumni Trustee was announced in the ALUMNI NEWS of December 1, 1921, was born at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1870. He graduated from Shattuck Military School, Faribault, Minn., in 1889, entered Cornell with the class of 1894, ran on his freshman track team, but left in 1891 to enter business.

He reentered the University in 1898, graduated in Law with the class of 1901, and is a member of Quill and Dagger and Chi Psi. He has been on the Athletic Council for about fifteen years, was a director of the Associate Alumni when the Cornellian Council was formed, has served on the Cornellian Council since about the time of its formation, and is at present a member of the Cornellian Council Executive Committee, attending practically all meetings. Metcalf has served as president, and on the board of governors, of the Cornell University Association of Western Pennsylvania, and is a member of the Cornell Club of New York. Several years ago, as a memorial to A. H. R. Fraser, late Law librarian, he established the Fraser Law Scholarships in the College of Law.

During the period from 1891 to 1898 Metcalf helped build, and became foundry superintendent of, the Frank Kneeland Machine Company, Pittsburgh, and while thus engaged contributed, through technical journals, to the literature on improved foundry design and practice.

He was admitted to the bar of the State of Pennsylvania in 1902 and practiced law in Pittsburgh until 1909, when he became president of the Braeburn Steel Company, Pittsburgh.

In 1906 he was elected a select councilman of the city of Pittsburgh and took charge of a reform movement called the Pittsburgh Vice-Graft Investigation which resulted in the successful prosecution of several city officials.

From 1906 to 1909 he was a member of the Board of Trustees of Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, serving on the Committee on Buildings and Grounds. During this period Carnegie Institute, consisting of the Museums, the Music Hall, the Library, with nine branch buildings throughout the city, and the School of Technology, was greatly expanded and the larger units of what is now the Carnegie Institute of Technology were planned and constructed.

In 1918 Metcalf sold the entire Braeburn Steel Company, and, at the age of forty-eight, entered the Army for service in the war. He was commissioned captain in the Chemical Warfare Service, sent to France, trained at Choignes, and had charge of organizing the gas training area at Chinon.

He has been a director of the United Engineering & Foundry Company, Pittsburgh, since 1904, is a director of the Wyckoff Drawn Steel Company and the Lava Crucible Company, both of Pittsburgh; a member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, and the Allegheny County Bar Association. He belongs to the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh, the Civic Club of Allegheny County, the Duquesne Club, the University Club of Pittsburgh, of which he has been vice-president, the Oakmont Country Club, and the Montour Heights Country Club.

Metcalf is married and has three children, one son and two daughters, and resides in Pittsburgh.

In placing his name before Cornell alumni for election to the University Board of Trustees Metcalf's friends submit that he is of the necessary calibre, being exceptionally well qualified to discharge the duties of the office by reason of his outstanding belief and interest in Cornell, his broad experience in both industry and the law, and the fact that he possesses the requisite leisure.

More than two thousand alumni have personally placed their signatures on the petition nominating Metcalf; among them, the following:

Albany, Randall J. LeBoeuf '92, J. C. Finch '02, Thomas F. Fennell '95, Frederick D. Colson '97; Auburn, N. Y., George B. Turner '73, J. Carrington Avery '83; Boston, George S. YONKERS IS ON THE MAP

The Cornell University Club of Yonkers is up and doing. Its last meeting, on February 4 at the Amackassin Club, brought out more than thirty Cornellians, despite a heavy snow storm. The club includes the neighboring towns of Hastings-on-Hudson and Dobbs Ferry in its membership territory in addition to the city of Yonkers.

When notices of meetings are sent to members a list of coming Cornell events is appended, with instructions to the recipient to tear it off and put it where he can see it. In addition, the club gets out post-cards to its members before the games and other Cornell events scheduled near Yonkers, and on occasion a block of seats is reserved for the group.

The big event of the year is to take place on May 12, when the club will "rush" the prep-school boys, with speakers from Ithaca, movies, and a general good time. Even this early, preparations are being made to entertain fifty young guests that night.

Frederick R. Slater '94 is president of the club; Fraser Brown '99 is vice-president; and Coleman H. Sherwood '20 is secretary-treasurer. The secretary's address is 408 Bellevue Avenue, Yonkers, and his telephone number is Yonkers 6799.

DR. ELMA C. GRIGGS, well known to a generation of alumni, died suddenly in New York on February 25, while en route to take a much needed vacation at Atlantic City. She was attended by her daughter Elma, wife of Norman C. Chambers '05.

ATHLETICS

Track Men Win

The track team made its debut at Boston last Saturday in a meet with Harvard and Dartmouth, and won a handsome victory. The score was, Cornell 48 1-2, Harvard 38 1-2, and Dartmouth 29. A large delegation of New England alumni saw the team "come through."

The Cornell team captured five first places, six seconds, and three and one-half thirds. The relay team finished second to Harvard, and the freshman relay team third.

Characteristic strength in the distance runs, and the double victory of David W. Kimball '24, in the hurdles and broad jump, were the biggest factors in Cornell's triumph. Jack Moakley's men captured the first two places in the two-mile run, Robert E. Brown, the intercollegiate two-mile champion winning over N. P. Brown, also of Cornell, in 9:53 1-5, sixteen seconds better than the record for this meet. C. C. Carter won the 1,000-yard run, and H. O. Chapman the 600-yard run. In the mile Burke of Harvard, a seasoned runner, beat out Kirby and Strickler of Cornell after a lively battle.

The Browns, who set the pace in the two-mile run, shook off their opponents three laps from the finish, and with one lap to go R. E. drew ahead and won handily by four seconds. In the 1000-yard run Carter set the pace all the way. In the 600-yard run Chapman ran in fourth place until the last turn, when he spurred and went out to win. Both Carter and Chapman repeated the victories they had won in the same events last winter.

Righter and Niles of Cornell finished second and third in the 40-yard dash, the distance being too short for Lovejoy to show up to advantage. The Cornell sprinters were shut out of the 300-yard race. In the relay race Dartmouth and Cornell fought it out—Cornell was third until the last relay, when Carl John, the anchor man, overhauled the Dartmouth runner and cut down to but a few yards the lead Harvard had obtained early in the race.

Kimball's victory in the 45-yard high hurdles over the experienced Whitney of Harvard was something of a surprise. It was known that the Cornellian was a dangerous man in the low hurdles, but that he would do so well over the high sticks was a revelation. He also furnished a surprise in the broad jump, which he won with a leap of 21 ft. 6 3-4 inches.

In the other field events Gouinlock by winning the toss that broke a tie, scored second in the pole vault at 12 feet, Lathrop won second in the high jump with 5 ft. 11 1-2 inches, Wager second in the 35-pound weight and Stone tied with Morse of Harvard at 5 ft. 10 1-2 inches in the high jump.

LeRoy T. Brown of Dartmouth established a new world's record for the indoor high jump when he leaped 6 ft. 4 3-4 inches.

The victory gave track a fine start and promises much for the future. The next meet is the dual contest with Penn State in the Drill Hall on March 4. On March 11 Cornell will enter the indoor intercollegiate in New York, and on March 25 will meet Michigan at Ithaca. The summary:

40-yard dash: won by C. H. Wausker, Harvard; second, F. I. Righter, Cornell; third, E. D. Niles, Cornell. Time, 5 seconds.

We Defeat Pittsburgh

The Cornell five had no trouble in defeating Pittsburgh in the Drill Hall last Thursday, running up 38 points to 14 for the visitors. The game was ragged and loosely played. Cornell at times uncovered a pretty passing game, but in the first half, particularly, missed many open shots at the basket. Pitt was outclassed, however. The score at half-time was 20 to 4. Luther with five goals from the field and a perfect foul score of six was high man. Capron and Barkelew stood next with four goals each. Jordan starred for Pittsburgh. The summary:

Cornell (38)	Pittsburgh (13)
Luther.....R.F.....	Jordan (Capt.)
Barkelew.....L.F.....	Levinson
Rippe.....C.....	Clawson
Crabtree.....L.G.....	Byers
Capron.....R.G.....	Young

Substitutions: Cornell, Stone for Barkelew, Barkelew for Stone, Downs for Capron, Raymond for Crabtree, Stone for Barkelew. Myers for Luther, Capron for Downs. Pittsburgh, Rose for Jordan, Jordan for Clawson, Shaner for Byers, Carr for Levinson.

Field goals: Cornell, Luther, 5; Barkelew, 4; Capron, 4; Rippe, 2; Crabtree, 1. Pittsburgh, Jordan, 4; Rose, 2.

Foul goals: Cornell, Luther, 6 out of 6. Pittsburgh, Levinson, 1 out of 3.

Referee: A. H. Sharpe, Yale.

Dartmouth Wins

The basketball team was beaten by Dartmouth in a league game at Hanover Saturday by a score of 27 to 22, the second time this year the Green five has defeated Cornell. Although the Red and White led 10 to 9 at the end of the first half, Dartmouth rallied in the second period and largely through spectacular baskets by Millar, and accurate foul shooting by Cullen won a hard earned victory.

The first half was a defensive battle, featured by close guarding on both sides. In the second both teams developed a fast attack, the Green having the edge. Millar, with four baskets, led in scoring from the floor, but Cullen, with one goal and eleven foul goals out of thirteen attempts was high scorer for the evening. Luther led in scoring for Cornell, caging two baskets and making eight foul goals out of twelve attempts. Crabtree showed the way in field goals, dropping the ball into the net three times. The team plays Pennsylvania at Philadelphia Saturday. The line-up and summary:

Cornell (22)	Dartmouth (27)
Luther.....R.F.....	Cullen
Barkelew.....L.F.....	Moore
Rippe.....C.....	Shaneman
Crabtree.....L.G.....	Millar
Capron.....R.G.....	Goldstein

Goals: Cornell, Crabtree 3, Luther 2, Barkelew 1, Capron 1; Dartmouth, Millar 4, Cullen 1, Shaneman 1, Goldstein 1, Moore 1.

Foul goals: Cornell, Luther, 8 out of 11; Dartmouth, Cullen, 11 out of 12.

Wrestlers Beat Pennsylvania

The wrestling team defeated Pennsylvania in a hard fought match in the Drill Hall Saturday night by a score of 18 to 11, the contest remaining in doubt until the last bout, the heavyweight, in which Wright threw Steinberg. This match, and Hanson's victory in the 175-pound class, put Cornell across a winner, for in the first five bouts Pennsylvania had won three and Cornell two.

Of the four bouts won by Cornell, three were on falls and one by decision. Pennsylvania secured one bout by a fall and two by decisions. The summary:

115-class: won by Allen, of Pennsylvania, over Ackerly, of Cornell, on decision, time advantage 6 minutes, 2 seconds. Time of bout, 9 minutes.

125-class: won by Roberts, of Cornell, over Chasens with fall, crotch and arm hold. Time, 5 minutes, 58 seconds.

135-class: won by Davis, of Pennsylvania, over Wigsten with fall, half Nelson and crotch hold. Time, 7 minutes, 4 seconds.

145-class: won by Ayau, of Cornell, over Speer on decision with time advantage of 6 minutes, 11 seconds. Time of bout, 9 minutes.

158-class: won by Rabinowitz, of Pennsylvania, over Strack on decision. Time advantage of 1 minute, 46 seconds. Time of bout, 9 minutes.

175-class: won by Hanson, of Cornell, over Hadden on fall with arm lock. Time 2 minutes, 30 seconds.

Heavyweight: won by Wright, of Cornell, over Steinberg on fall with half Nelson. Time, 4 minutes, 25 seconds.

Pennsylvania, one fall, two decisions; Cornell, three falls, one decision. Referee R. K. Knapp.

SPORT STUFF

The track team was hit a little harder than usual in the matter of busts and probations. Nevertheless it won handsomely in its opening meet with Harvard and Dartmouth on Saturday night. There is nothing like cussing the Faculty to develop the arm muscles and improve the wind.

The ice has gone out of Courtney Inlet for half a mile below the boat house. It will probably freeze up again but the crews are being measured for ear muffs and cough remedies to be ready for the summons when it comes.

The intercollegiate regatta will be held again at Poughkeepsie, on Monday, June 26. There will be an observation train, but six hundred seats are about all Cornell can count on. We haven't decided how they will be distributed. The only thing that occurs to me is to throw them out for the alumni to scramble for and then go down in the Danby hills and hide. How I hate the man who invented observation trains!

Last Thursday was held the third annual University Convocation in honor of the honor students. The Convocation is a kind of intellectual Junior Smoker where you may not smoke. The orator of the day devoted most of his forty minutes to the extra curricular student activities and mentioned scholarship in closing. At the Junior Smoker next month—if history repeats itself—the varsity coaches will get up and plead with the undergraduates to burn the midnight oil and hit their examinations for 95. Ain't human nature grand?

COLLEGE DAY IN WHITE PLAINS

R. B. Daggett '94, and Thomas Howe '96 represented Cornell at an All-College Day held by the White Plains Y. M. C. A. on February 28. All the schoolboys of the city were invited to visit the Y. M. C. A. and obtain any information they might desire which would help them prepare themselves for college, or discover what college might fit their individual needs. Such things as entrance requirements, available courses, and general activities were inquired about, and there was great interest in the chances a boy had of helping himself financially when he got to college.

All the colleges were invited to send representatives, to answer the questions peculiar to them.

HONOR SYSTEM HAS TEETH

The most flagrant violation of the honor system code yet brought to the attention of the Central Honor Committee, was passed upon in the second series of cases tried as an aftermath of the recent midyear examinations.

It involved a student in the College of Agriculture, who confessed to have entered burglariously the office of the instructor in charge of the course, on the night before the examination in question, and to have made a list of the questions which he found in the instructor's desk. The discovery of his footprints outside the office window helped to establish the case against the man. His penalty was expulsion from the University, without the privilege of reentering.

Two other cases, less flagrant, were tried at the same session of the Committee. The penalty for each of these was suspension for a term, and cancellation of credits for the courses involved.

A VAUDEVILLE LUNCHEON

The largest crowd that has attended a Cornell Luncheon in Cleveland for a long time turned out Thursday noon, February 23, for the annual Jazz and Vaudeville Luncheon, at the Hotel Statler. About one hundred thirty-five men were in attendance and every one was able to testify when it was over that Bub North '07 is still full of pep. Bub was in charge of this particular luncheon and arranged a fine program, which included several cabaret numbers and considerable music by the Stromberg and Vokoun Orchestra, which had just returned to Cleveland after playing at the Junior Prom in Ithaca.

William (Bill) H. Forbes '06, chairman of the banquet committee, said that the advance sale of tickets for the banquet at the University Club on March 1 indicated that the attendance would be well over two hundred. He promised a real live evening and stated that there would be plenty of "Ithaca Stuff" with the Hoy, Berry, Coffin trio on hand.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION

The call for a convention in Chicago in April, announced by the Associate Alumni elsewhere in this issue, includes for discussion some Cornell questions that in themselves justify the call.

It should be remembered that Cornell alumni affairs are in a state of transition. Starting with the haphazard efforts of amateur alumni officers during the first fifty years, Cornell has undertaken to attend to its alumni business in a business-like manner by the institution of the Alumni Representative. The reunions, under their new schedule, are themselves a problem that will be solved more smoothly after a threshing-out by a convention. What to do about future conventions; how often to visit Ithaca in a body and when; whom to include in the alumni body: these are questions that can be made well worth the time of a convention given to Cornell matters. The days are not far gone when a discussion of Trustee elections would have added to the whole affair a touch of Spanish that would increase the value of ringside seats.

Perhaps the most profitable of the proposed discussions will be that of unification of responsibility for the conduct of alumni affairs, the conducting of all alumni affairs through agencies responsible to one administrative group instead of to at least four. We have already said much of this and expect to return to it again. It is almost obvious, however, that a convention that effects this change alone will save every year as much time as it asks for the discussion, by the simplifying and strengthening of alumni organization.

This convention call, although sent to alumni clubs, is a call to individual alumni as well. The individual, under Associate Alumni practice, has a voice and a vote in conventions. It is expected that individuals will be reached through the ALUMNI NEWS and through clubs, and thus a promise of welcome will be extended to them.

No mention of convention features was made in the first announcement. The Chicago alumni have eight weeks in which to prepare. Their facilities for entertainment are great, and their willingness to entertain in good style leaves the field open for the present to those charged with the preparation of the convention's business.

CORNELLIANS GO TO KANSAS CITY

Dean Dexter S. Kimball of the College of Engineering, as President of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will be in Kansas City on March 6 and 7, when the A.S.M.E. Council will be meeting together with the associated engineering societies. Other Cornellians on the Council who will also attend are: Walter S. Finlay '04, of New York; Henry M. Norris '93, of Cincinnati; and Edwin E. Fisher '91, of Massachusetts.

A Cornell luncheon will be held on March 6 by the Cornell club of Kansas City.

COUNTRY-WIDE '02 COMMITTEE

With a committee of twenty-eight, selected to cover the country, the Class of '02 is set up to make its twentieth reunion next June 16 to 18 a record breaker. The class has the double advantage of celebrating its twentieth at the same time that the newly adopted group plan of reunions brings back '03, '04, and '05, with '07 back for its fifteenth. It would be surprising if '02 did not show the way to many of the other classes.

The committee:

Maurice R. Whinery, chairman, New York; Ralph S. Kent, ex-officio, Buffalo; R. Harold Shreve, Arthur F. Brinckerhoff, Douglas K. Brown, Charles S. Yawger, Richardson Webster, Theodore E. Rhodes, Sidney G. Koon, Guernsey Price, J. André Smith, Charles A. Taussig, New York.

Ralph Ware, Carleton M. Vail, Joseph B. Weaver, Chicago; M. Anthony Beltaire, Detroit; Frank H. Teagle, Cleveland; Alden H. Little, St. Louis; Charles D. Young, J. Rea Patterson, Benjamin O. Frick, Philadelphia; Joseph P. Kirtledge, Charles G. Schluederberg, Western Pennsylvania; Herbert M. Wood, Canada; Harold L. Leupp, Pacific Coast; John M. Francis, Troy, N. Y.; Stewart Burchard, New England; Mrs. R. Harold Shreve, for the women.

OBITUARY

G. Harold Powell '95

George Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, and one of the best known men in the West, died in Pasadena, Calif., on February 18, a few minutes after being stricken with heart disease at a dinner-dance in the Hotel Maryland.

Powell was born in Ghent, N. Y., on February 8, 1872, the son of George T. and Marcia R. (Chase) Powell. He came to Cornell in 1891, and received the degrees of B.S. in Agriculture and M.S. in Agriculture in 1895 and 1896, respectively. He was a member of Kappa Sigma and was secretary of the class of 1895. He also served on a number of committees, including the Junior Ball Committee, the Senior Class Day Committee, the Cotillion Committee, and the Agricultural Banquet Committee, and in his junior year was president of the Agricultural Association.

From 1896 to 1901 he was horticulturist in the agricultural experiment station of Delaware College, leaving to become first assistant pomologist with the Bureau of Plant Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Then he served for five years as pomologist in charge of fruit transportation and investigation, and in 1910 he became assistant chief of the Bureau. In 1911 he resigned as acting chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry to become secretary and manager of the Citrus Protective League of California, an organization representing most of the producers in the West. The following year he was made general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a corporation marketing fruit for seven thousand orange and lemon growers representing sixty-two per cent of the citrus industry in California, his task having been to reorganize and readjust the citrus fruit raising there. His motto was "Put Science into Business," and it is said that his changes and improvements in methods of handling and marketing saved the fruit growers of the State $250,000 a year. While working as a Government expert he had studied the problems and devised methods to improve conditions. Oranges were rotting in transit and in storage, and he showed growers how to pick them without bruising them. He studied the transportation problems and worked them out; organized the growers into cooperative handling and selling agencies; and devised a plan to have all their railroad losses and damage claims handled by one man.

In 1917, at the invitation of Herbert Hoover, National Food Administrator, he went to Washington to take charge of the distribution of all perishable goods in the United States, having been loaned to the Government by the Citrus Exchange for the period of the war. As a result of his untiring efforts toward Belgium while he held this office, King Albert conferred upon him the Cross of Chevalier of the Order of the Crown.

In addition to his pioneer work for the citrus fruit industry of California, Powell was the author of bulletins dealing with this subject, issued by the Department of Agriculture, and of "Cooperation in Agriculture," published in 1913. He was third vice-president of the Third International Congress of Refrigerating Industries in Chicago in 1913, and was a delegate to the first congress in Paris. He was a member of many learned societies.

Mr. Powell was married in 1896 to Miss Gertrude Eliza Clark '95, who survives him with three sons; H. Clark Powell, a senior in the University of California, Berkeley; George H. Powell, Jr., a student in Stanford University; and Lawrence C. Powell. He leaves also his parents, now residents of South Pasadena, Calif.

Mrs. Nelson C. Dunlap '05

Mrs. Nelson Campbell Dunlap died of pneumonia on February 21 at her home in Ellis, near Ithaca.

Mrs. Dunlap was formerly Miss Elnora May Palmer, and was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Palmer of Ithaca. She was born on June 30, 1878, and prepared for college at the Ithaca High School, entering Cornell in 1901, and receiving the degree of A.B. in 1905. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

On June 28, 1905 she married Nelson Campbell Dunlap '05, and they made their home in Kearney, Nebr., for a number of years. For the past three or four years they had lived in Ellis.

Mrs. Dunlap is survived by her husband, a son, Palmer, a daughter, May, a brother, Raymond T. Palmer '07, of the Town of Dryden, and a sister, Mrs. R. E. Hungerford (Maude R. Palmer '05), of the Town of Dryden.

Robert Max DeGarmo died in a hospital in Key West, Fla., on February 14 of injuries received that afternoon when a motor inspection car on which he was riding jumped the track at a point near Big Coppit, nine miles north of Key West.

DeGarmo was born on February 2, 1885, and was a son of Dr. Charles DeGarmo, formerly professor of the science and art of education at Cornell, and Mrs. DeGarmo, of Coconut Grove, Fla.; he attended the 1902 Summer Session, and entered the College of Civil Engineering in 1904, receiving the degree of C.E. in 1909.

He became associated with the Florida East Coast Railway immediately after his graduation, as a member of the engineering staff of the company's extension work, in charge of concrete arch construction. He went to France with the 17th Engineers (Railway), and remained overseas with this regiment for twenty months, rising to the rank of major. On his return he resumed his position with the Florida East Coast Railway as special maintenance engineer.

He had lately been in charge of a camp at Cudjoe established for the purpose of hauling materials to be used for viaduct construction work, and had been in the habit of using a private motor car in this work. On this particular day his car was out of order; so he got the crew of another motor car to use their car to push his car. The car in which he and several other men were riding suddenly jumped the track, and he was caught underneath. He was taken on a work train to Key West, where he died a few hours later.

In France he distinguished himself by the construction of the docks at St. Nazaire, at the mouth of the Loire River, a feat which had been declared impossible by the French engineers. When the work was completed, American ships could enter the harbor, unload and reload for the return trip in two days, whereas it had required weeks to accomplish this.

He was an Elk, a thirty-second degree Mason, a Shriner, and a member of the Scottish Rite order, and Masonic services were held on February 19. Members of the Miami Post of the American Legion, and of the Lindley H. DeGarmo Post, Coconut Grove, Fla., named in memory of his cousin, Lindley H. DeGarmo '12, and the Miami Lodge of Elks, attended in a body.

Besides his parents, he leaves a brother, Walter C. DeGarmo, B.Arch. '00.

OLD BANQUETS HEAVY

The Cornell University Association of Chicago recently received the menu cards for the first three annual banquets held by the Northwestern Association of Cornell University, the forerunner of the present club. They had been carefully preserved by Louis Falkenau '73, who died last August, and were forwarded to the Club by a member of his family.

The first banquet was held in 1878 at the Palmer House, Chicago. Judging from the menu, they liked to eat in those days. Eleven courses was the average, from oysters through soup, braised capon, red-head ducks, patty of liver, all the way to bon-bons.

These menus were sent by the Chicago Club to the Alumni Representative. Copies will be furnished to any club which prefers to spend an extra hour or two eating, omitting the necessity of after-dinner speaking.

THE SCHOLARSHIP CONVOCATION

The annual University Convocation for the recognition of scholarship was held in Bailey Hall on February 23. President Farrand presided on the platform and Professor Quarles at the organ. The speaker of the day was Dean James Parker Hall '94, of the Law School of the University of Chicago. An account of his address, on

"Why Study?" will appear in our columns next week.

The list of honor students contains about 335 names. The college honor groups are distributed as follows: Arts and Sciences '22, 24; '23, 23; '24, 22; Law '22, 10; '23, 5; Agriculture '22, 12; '23, 16; '24, 18; Veterinary '22, 2; '23, 2; '24, 2; Architecture, 5; Engineering '21, 7 (men who would have graduated in 1921 if they had not distributed their work over two years in order to take instructorships); '22, 22; '23, 23; '24, 29; Medical College '22, 10; '23, 11; '24, 10. This is followed by a list of 38 University Scholars, 66 prize winners of 1920-21, the fourteen editors and managers of The Cornell Law Quarterly, and the senior members of the honorary societies, of whom Phi Beta Kappa has 22, Tau Beta Pi 28 (besides one junior member, D. Edward Brainard), Eta Kappa Nu 18, Phi Kappa Phi 48, Sedowa 8, and Omicron Nu one. The alphabetical list of honor students fills nearly nine pages.

BUFFALO HEARS FARRAND

Something over two hundred men of the western part of the State attended the annual banquet in Buffalo on Saturday evening, February 18, when President Farrand was the guest of honor of the Cornell Alumni Association of Western New York. It was the first visit of the President to Buffalo since his inauguration, and the response of the men in the evening was no more cordial than that of the alumnae who entertained him at luncheon at the Twentieth Century Club. The luncheon was under the auspices of the Cornell Women's Club of Buffalo.

All of the entertainment at the Hotel Statler was provided by Ithacans. Speaking with President Farrand were Dean Dexter S. Kimball of the College of Engineering and Romeyn Berry '04. In addition, three undergraduates were imported to give the Campus flavor of a lighter vein. A. L. Satterthwaite '22 manipulated playing cards to the accompaniment of an interesting chatter; Linton Stone '23 performed gracefully a soft shoe dance, and C. A. Norris, Jr., Sp., entertained with a running fire of monologue. Senator Par-ton Swift '98, retiring president, was master of ceremonies.

President Farrand brought to the alumni of Buffalo not only a vision of the future of this country as he sees it, but an account of social conditions on the Campus and the steps which have been taken, principally by the students themselves, to eradicate the war's aftermath.

During the evening officers for the coming year were elected as follows: president, Ralph McCarthy '96; vice-presidents, Van Loan Whitehead '08 and William E. Harries '08; secretary and treasurer, Carl H. Bowen '17; directors, Daniel F. Potter '16, William A. Moore '09, and W. Morgan Kendall '20.

List of Cornellians Whose Addresses Are Lost

Preparations for the Alumni Directory which is to be issued this spring—the first such publication since the Ten-Year Book of 1908—are delayed by the missing addresses of something more than two thousand former students. While some are apparently irrevocably "lost," others have addresses which were recently adequate but from which mail is now returned undelivered.

Although not optimistic to the extent of expecting to defer publication until the last lone Cornellian has been found, the directory committee believes that a goodly proportion of the list can readily be traced, even though searching of club and class lists, directories, and other sources of information has thus far proved fruitless.

During the next few weeks the ALUMNI NEWS will print the names of the lost legion. Any clues which are sent to the Alumni Representative in Ithaca, at 31 Morrill Hall, will be a distinct contribution to the completeness of the directory.

Note: In the following list, one date is given if a degree was granted; two dates, of entering and leaving, if a degree was not granted. The letters represent the following courses: A, Arts; C, Civil Engineering; Chem, Chemistry; For, Forestry; G, Graduate; H-PS, History and Political Science; L, Letters; M, Mechanical Engineering; Med, Medical; Med Prep, Medical Preparatory; N, Natural History; O, Optional; P, Philosophy; Pharm, Pharmacy; Pharm Chem, Pharmaceutical Chemist; S, Science; S-L, Science and Letters; Sp, Special; V, Veterinary.

A Simple Scale for Weighing Eggs

TO work satisfactorily the scale must not be a spring scale, but rather a balance scale. This new scale we have for weighing eggs is a balance scale having a cup-shaped top instead of a flat top. The price is $1.50, postage paid.
