

Cornell Chronicle

Volume 13, Number 17

Thursday, January 28, 1982

The Browsing Library in Willard Straight Hall is a popular place during cold weather.

North Campus Heavily Damaged by Flooding

'Remarkable Efforts' Get Rooms Open on Time for Students' Return

Thanks to the "remarkable efforts" of the service and maintenance personnel and residence life staff, the Upper North Campus dormitories reopened last week as scheduled for returning students. The dormitories sustained extensive water damage when heating pipes froze and burst during the severe cold weather a couple of weeks ago.

About 200 rooms housing 300 students in seven different buildings were affected by the flooding that began Sunday, Jan. 10. Students have been away since mid-December and returned last week to begin the Spring term.

"The students have been very supportive and understanding and are appreciative of the way we handled the situation," said William P. Paleen, director of the Department of Residence Life. Paleen also noted that nine students had to be relocated for a short period of time but have been offered their rooms back.

Most heating and plumbing system repairs were completed by Monday, Jan. 18, but other work, such as wall and ceiling repairs and painting, will continue for several weeks, according to Paleen.

Upper North Campus residents have been advised that, although the university is not legally liable for personal property losses, it does accept a moral obligation to be helpful to those students who have suffered uninsured losses. Students were asked to inventory damaged personal property and to check their personal property insurance or their parents' or guardians' homeowner's or tenant's insurance for coverage before requesting university assistance. The university will review all losses and will make decisions on a case-by-case basis.

Noting the speed with which the buildings were repaired and returned to service, Cornell Senior Vice President William G. Herbster said, "We regret the inconvenience to the residents of the Upper North Campus dormitories. But the damage to the buildings and to personal effects would have been much worse were it not for the dedicated efforts of the Buildings and Grounds and the Residence Life staff members. They readily agreed to put in long hours to bring the situation under control, and the university owes them a debt of gratitude."

The problem began during the weekend of Jan. 9-10 when an underground leak in the hot water distribution system limited heat to the seven Upper North Campus residence halls. Although the initial leak was located and repaired Sunday night, unusually low temperatures (reaching -5 degrees F. Monday morning according to Cornell Atmospheric Sciences) combined with a wind chill factor of -60 degrees F., caused heating lines and domestic water system pipes to freeze and burst.

Personnel from the Department of Buildings and Grounds and from Residence Life immediately began attempts to halt the damage and to salvage personal belongings of dormitory residents. A plumbing and heating contractor was called in to supplement efforts of university workers as the repairs and clean-up procedures continued throughout the week, day and night.

Preliminary estimates place damages to buildings at at least $200,000 to $300,000, according to Residence Life Director Paleen. "We expect that the university's insurance policies will be helpful in covering damage to university buildings and property and repair costs. However, the university insurance does not cover damage or loss of students' property."

Damaged by leaks from heating and domestic water lines were carpets, ceilings, walls and furnishings, said the Residence Life director, adding that the low-rise dormitories were most severely affected. A black-colored additive to water in the heating system caused considerable staining.

Residence Life staff members checking rooms gathered and tagged clothing and bedding that had been water-damaged, and much of that material has now been cleaned at no cost to residents. Because of the unavailability of heat control mechanisms, radiators in some rooms were repaired without these devices, which will be reinstalled later this year when the system is shut down at the end of the heating season.

"The cleaning process — getting the water up first, then deodorizing and drying things out — has been a massive undertaking," Paleen said. "A lot of people have worked a lot of extra hours and have been willing to work nights. If it weren't for that willing contribution, we wouldn't be where we are."

Trustees Meet This Weekend in New York City

The Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees of the university will meet in New York City today through Saturday. The agenda for the open session of the Executive Committee, Thursday, Jan. 29, will include the following items:

A report of the president. A recommendation, subject to approval of the Buildings and Properties Committee, that the administration be authorized to construct a facility for the Department of Floriculture and Ornamental Horticulture within a budget of $215,000 as part of the Cornell Plantations Improvement Program. A recommendation, subject to approval of the Buildings and Properties Committee, that the southwest corner of the Tower Road and Judd Falls Road intersection be designated as the site for the proposed food processing and development laboratory for the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences.

A recommendation, subject to approval of the Buildings and Properties Committee, that the administration be authorized to install a telecommunications system for the College of Veterinary Medicine within a project budget not to exceed $400,000 to be funded partly by the College of Veterinary Medicine and partly by an advance from current funds to be repaid within four years through general Veterinary College resources.

A report of the Buildings and Properties Committee.

The agenda for the closed session of the Executive Committee meeting will include the following items:

A report of the president. Approval of minutes of the meeting of the Executive Committee Dec. 8, 1981.

A recommendation, subject to approval of the Buildings and Properties Committee, that the project budget for the Geological Sciences facility (approved on October 16, 1980) be increased from $6 million to $12.5 million to reflect trustee authorization on March 26, 1981 to plan an integrated facility for geological sciences on a site between Hollister Hall and Cascadilla Creek in lieu of an addition to Kimball Hall previously considered. Funding to be from gifts in hand plus gifts to be obtained from fund-raising efforts.

A recommendation, subject to approval of the Buildings and Properties Committee, that the budget for the Rockefeller/Goldwin Smith Halls renovation program be increased from $3,678,250 to $3,778,250 for architectural and engineering fees related to planning the next stage of the rehabilitation project.

A report of the Buildings and Properties Committee. Agenda items for the open session of the full Board of Trustees on Friday, Jan. 29, will include the following:

A report of the president. Memorial resolutions for Trustee Emeritus H. Victor Grohmann and former faculty Trustee Norman S. Penney.

A report by the secretary of the re-election of Bernard W. Potter as president of the New York State Agricultural Society for 1982, continuing Potter's ex-officio membership on the Board of Trustees.

A report by the secretary that the State Senate has confirmed the governor's appointment of Sol M. Linowitz to a third five-year term as university trustee.

A report of the Investment Committee.

A report by the chairman of the resignation of C.K. Poe Fratt as a member of the Board of Trustees, and a recommendation for election of a successor to him as chairman of the Audit Committee.

A report of the Audit Committee. A report from the Executive Committee from the open sessions of meetings of Dec. 8 and Jan. 28. A report on the status of women and minorities at Cornell University.

A report of the Ad Hoc Committee to study the structure and functioning of the Board of Trustees.

A report on the outlook for budget and financial aid policies.

A report on the College of Veterinary Medicine.

A report of deaths occurring since the last meeting of the Board.

A report of the Cornell Fund and the Tower Club.

A report of gifts received through Dec. 31, 1981.

A recommendation that the on-campus enrollment goal for the undergraduate and professional schools and colleges be held at the current level (13,075) and that the current limit of 3,600 in Graduate School enrollment be removed, with the expectation that it would not exceed 3,860.

Agenda for the closed session of the full board meeting on Saturday, Jan. 30, will include the following items:

Approval of minutes of the Board of Trustees meeting held Oct. 30-31, 1981 and ratification and confirmation of Executive Committee minutes of July 14, 1981.

Reports and recommendations from the Executive Committee meetings of Dec. 8, and Jan. 28.

A report of the activities of the Academic Affairs Committee.

A report of the Medical College.

A recommendation that the president be authorized to confer degrees at the end of appropriate periods in January, May and August.

7 Open Meetings Scheduled

Seven open sessions are scheduled in connection with the January meeting in New York City of the Cornell University Board of Trustees.

Open sessions include: — Buildings and Properties Committee, 9 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, M-109 Memorial Hospital, 1275 York Ave.

— Audit Committee, 2 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, 117 Whitney, New York Hospital, 525 E. 68th St.

— Executive Committee, 2 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, Executive Faculty Room A-126, Harkness Building, 1300 York Ave.

— Academic Affairs Committee, 5 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, Room 304, Cornell Club, 155 E. 50th St.

— Development Advisory Committee, 8 a.m. Friday, Jan. 29, Doctors' Dining Room, New York Hospital Cafeteria, 525 E. 68th St.

— Board of Trustees, 10 a.m. Friday, Jan. 29, Executive Faculty Room A-126, Harkness Building, 1300 York Ave.

— Land Grant and Statutory College Affairs Committee, 8:15 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 30, Doctors' Dining Room, New York Hospital Cafeteria, 525 E. 68th St.

FCR Apportionment

The Organization and Procedures of the University Faculty (OPUF) establishes that there shall be a periodic reapportionment of FCR seats. It further establishes that all decisions shall be made, and all questions and disputes concerning the same shall be resolved by the Committee on Nominations and Elections. Apportionment by constituencies for the period 1982-85 is listed below. In addition to these apportioned seats, there are 10 members elected at large.

	1976-81	1982-85
Africana Studies and Research Center	1	1
Agriculture and Life Sciences	25	22
Geneva Experiment Station	4	4
Architecture, Art and Planning	3	3
Arts and Sciences	28	26
Business and Public Administration	2	2
Engineering	11	11
Health Services	1	1
Hotel	1	2
Human Ecology	5	6
Industrial and Labor Relations	3	3
Law	2	2
University Libraries	1	1
ROTC	1	1
Veterinary Medicine	5	6
Total	93	91

Judge Rules No Class Action

The university has received a decision in the motion for class action brought by plaintiffs in the Federal District Court action entitled "Zahorik et al v. Cornell University," according to University Counsel Walter J. Relihan Jr.

He said the memorandum decision and order denies the plaintiffs' application for certification of the lawsuit as a class action.

The decision, Relihan said, indicates that the plaintiffs were unable to meet all of the legal requirements which would entitle them to prosecute the lawsuit as a class action.

He said, "The lengthy decision will require some analysis before it is possible to determine the effect which it will have on the future conduct of the lawsuit."

Relihan said, "The university is extremely pleased with the judge's decision' The immediate effect...is that the action remains one brought by five individual plaintiffs against the university."

Cornell Chronicle

Editor, Randall E. Shew. Staff writers, H. Roger Segelken, Robert W. Smith, Barbara Jordan-Smith, Martin B. Stiles. Photographer, Sol Goldberg. Circulation Manager, Joanne Hanavan. (USPS 456-650)

Published weekly during the academic year and once each in June and August. Distributed free of charge to Cornell University faculty, students and staff by the University News Bureau. Mail subscriptions, $13 per year. Make checks payable to Cornell Chronicle and send to Editorial Office, 110 Day Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853. Telephone (607) 256-4206.

Second-Class Postage Rates paid at Ithaca, N.Y. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Cornell Chronicle (USPS 456-650), Cornell University, 110 Day Hall, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853.

It is the policy of Cornell University actively to support equality of educational and employment opportunity. No person shall be denied admission to any educational program or activity or be denied employment on the basis of any legally prohibited discrimination involving, but not limited to, such factors as race, color, creed, religion, national or ethnic origin, sex, age or handicap. The university is committed to the maintenance of affirmative action programs which will assure the continuation of such equality of opportunity.

Jobs

The following job openings are new this week. For information on vacant positions listed in previous issues of the Chronicle, contact Personnel Staffing Services, 130 Day Hall. Cornell is an affirmative action employer.

Administrative/Professional Project Manager (Construction Management)

Program Officer for Training (International Agriculture)

Res. Support Spec. II, CP4 (Seatuck Wildlife Refuge, Lab. of Ornithology)

Assistant Director, Alumni Programs, CP4 (Alumni Affairs)

Applications Programmer II, CP4 (Computer Services (APS))

Applications Programmer I, CP3 (Computer Services (APS))

Research Support Specialist I, CP3 (Agronomy)

Counselor, Financial Aid, CP2 (Financial Aid)

Clerical Budget Assistant, GR22 (Endowed Budget Office)

Administrative Aide, GR21 (Residence Life)

Accounts Assistant, GR20 (State Finance & Business Office)

Secretary, GR18 (B&PA)

Secretary, GR18 (Office of the Bursar)

Secretary, GR18 (ILR School)

Accounts Assistant, GR18 (Unions and Activities)

Office Assistant, GR17 (B&PA)

Secretary, GR17 (Residence Life)

General Service Maintenance Mechanic, GR25 (Buildings and Properties, Geneva)

Animal Technician, GR20 (DCS-Mastitis Control, Earlville)

Clinic Aide, SO17 (Lab Animal Services)

Custodian, SO16 (Varied)

Technical Technician, GR19 (Poultry and Avian Sciences)

Research Aide, GR18 (Chemistry)

Part-time and/or Temporary Secretary, GR16 (Education)

Research Technician, GR20 (Clinical Sciences)

Research Aide, GR20 (International Population Program)

Temp. Secretary, T-2 (Vegetable Crops)

Temp. Reserve Assistant, T-2 (University Libraries-Uris)

Academic Assist./Assoc./Full Prof. of Soil Science (Agronomy)

Assistant Professor (Agricultural Engineering)

Senior Res. Assoc. II, CA8 (Agronomy, Soil Science)

Senior Res. Assoc. II, CA8 (Agronomy, Cerrado Center, Brazil)

Research Associate (Vet. Microbiology, Baker Institute for Animal Health)

The Job Opportunities list is mailed to all Cornell departments. In addition, it is posted in the following places: Day Hall Information Desk, second floor lobby; at the Circulation and Reference Desks of all university libraries; in the Map and Newspaper Section, Olin Library; all college and technical libraries; Roberts Hall Post Office substation and in the Upper Activities corridor, Willard Straight Hall.

WILLIAM MARSHALL

Black History Programs Scheduled

The Africana Studies and Research Center will mark the 56th annual African-American History Month with a series of discussions, lectures, dramatic presentations, poetry readings, and films during the month of February.

Among the planned activities, all of which are free and open to the public:

— 4:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1, Africana Center Main Lounge, 310 Triphammer Road. "Black History/Black Liberation: Lessons for Today and Tomorrow," a discussion by the Africana Center faculty of the meaning of black history, what it tells us about the road black Americans have traveled, and future directions of their journey.

— 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 4, Africana Center Main Lounge. "Black Women's History/Black Family History: Where are the Boundaries?" a lecture by Purdue University Professor Darlene Clark Hine, director-elect of the Association of Black Women Historians. Professor Hine is vice provost at Purdue and author of two books,

"Black Victory: The Rise and Fall of the White Primary in Texas" (New York, 1979) and "When the Truth Is Told: A History of Black Women's Culture and Community in Indiana, 1875-1950" (Indianapolis, 1981). Her lecture is co-sponsored by Women's Studies, Human Development and Family Studies, and the History Department.

— 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 7, Kaufmann Auditorium, Goldwin Smith Hall. "Frederick Douglass, Recently a Slave, Speaks Tonight," a dramatic presentation by Emmy-Award-winning actor and producer William Marshall. The dramatization captures the majesty of the great nineteenth century freedom fighter, and is co-sponsored by COS-EP (The Office of Minority Educational Affairs), and the Third World Program Board.

— 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 14, Andrew D. White House. Poet Dudley Randall, publisher of Broadside Press and author of many historically-inspired poems, will read selections from his work and that of other black poets with an emphasis on black history. Many of the selections will relate to the life and times of Frederick Douglass. Randall's reading is co-sponsored by the English Department and the Council on Creative and Performing Arts. A reception at the Andrew D. White House will follow the reading.

— 4 p.m. Monday, Feb. 22, Hollis Cornell Auditorium. "The Death of a Prophet: The Day Malcolm X Died," the first campus showing of the film written by Woodie King Jr., which features Morgan Freeman and the film debut of Martin Luther King's daughter, Yolanda, as Malcolm X's wife, Betty Shabazz. The film is based on five years of intensive research into 30 volumes of previously unavailable and unpublished government documents secured through the Freedom of Information Act. Sunday, Feb. 21 is the 17th anniversary of the assassination of Malcolm X. Woodie King Jr. will discuss the "Life of Malcolm X" after the screening of the film.

— 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 25, Africana Center Main Lounge.

"Black Students/Black History/Black Struggle," a discussion by Africana Studies graduate and undergraduate students. Participants will reflect on the significance of black history for them and the insight gained from the month's activities.

The tradition of observing black history began in 1926 when the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History established the second week in February as "Negro History Week." The organization's founder, Dr. Carter G. Woodson, selected that week to embrace the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass, as a time to reflect on the struggles and contributions of black Americans.

In 1976, during the nation's bicentennial, the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History expanded the observance to African-American History Month in the belief that a week was not long enough to give full meaning to the history of black people in this country or to their heritage from Africa.

Evening Blue Light Bus Service Resumes

Route Is Expanded and New Stops Added

The Evening Blue Light Bus on campus resumed service Monday with additional service Sunday evenings, an expanded route and new stops, according to William E. Wendt, director of transportation services.

The free service was instituted several years ago for the protection of women on campus. The Sunday evening service is on a trial basis, according to Wendt. The Blue Light bus service has operated Monday through Friday only during its five-year history. The recent addition to service was authorized by the Committee on Transportation Services as a result of concerns over personal safety, prompted by a number of recent assaults on and near campus, Wendt said.

The expanded route provides increased service to sororities and fraternities in the area of Heights Court, Highland Avenue, and Thurston Avenue.

The four new stops are on Sisson

Place at Kappa Delta, the corners of Highland Avenue and Heights Court, Highland Avenue and Thurston Avenue and the Foundry on University Avenue.

The bus will continue to travel the entire route in one-half hour, according to the schedule published in the fall. The service operates from 6:39 p.m. through 12:12 a.m. while classes are in session.

Buses travel from the Dairy Bar to North Campus student residences, West Campus, and College town. Bus stops are at the Dairy Bar, Plant Science, the corners of Tower Road and Garden Avenue, Tower Road and East Avenue, Clark Hall, Balch Dormitory, Sisson Place at Kappa Delta, Donlon Circle, North Campus Dormitory Number 7, and the A Lot exit, the corners of Jessup Road and Triphammer Road, Dearborn Place and Wyckoff Avenue, Highland Avenue and Heights Court, Highland Avenue and Thurston Avenue, Thurston Avenue and Wyckoff Avenue, Risley Dormitory, the Foundry, Baker Flagpole on West Avenue, the corner of Campus Road and Central Avenue at Anabel Taylor Hall, Cascadilla Hall in College town, the corner of Campus Road and Central Avenue near Carpenter Hall, Uris Hall, Plant Sciences, and the Dairy Bar.

Blue Light Bus schedules have been distributed to dormitories and living units in areas where service is provided, as well as central campus locations. Copies may be obtained from the Information and Referral Center in Day Hall, the Office of the Dean of Students, 103 Barnes Hall, and the Office of Transportation Services, 116 Maple Avenue.

Wendt said individuals are encouraged to walk in groups at night and use available bus services. There are also many Blue Light phones around campus which provide a direct line to Public Safety in an emergency.

Wendt also said that Ithaca Transit now provides evening service on Route 2A, which travels from Cornell to Ithaca College via the Commons and many student residential areas. This service operates Monday through Saturday until 1:17 a.m. Call Ithaca Transit at 273-7348 for more information.

'Perspective on Common Learning'

Conference Explores Theme at Cornell

Some 50 Cornell faculty, students, administrators and visiting educators took part here Saturday in a day-long conference on the theme "A Cornell Perspective on Common Learning."

The conference is the first of three discussions planned on campus during the coming year and was inspired in part by the essay "A Quest for Common Learning," co-written by Arthur Levine and Ernest L. Boyer, President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

The day's activities included three workshop discussion groups from which a series of recommendations were developed.

President Frank Rhodes opened the conference in the unexpected absence of Boyer who was unable to get into Ithaca because of bad weather. Rhodes presented a summary of the arguments Boyer and Levine put forth in their essay. He referred to Boyer's and Levine's argument that there is a need for students to understand themselves, their society, and the world they inhabit. They suggest six areas that should constitute an example of what a general education program might involve. These are: the shared use of symbols, shared memberships in groups and institutions, shared activities of consumption and production, shared relationships with nature, a shared sense of time, and shared values and beliefs.

President Rhodes posed several questions that the workshop participants might consider during their deliberations. "But the basic question," he said, is "How valid are the propositions that Boyer and Levine make, in two senses: the first concerning the need for general education; and the second, concerning the purpose and content of general education?"

"We should not begin by simply accepting this argument," Rhodes said, "we should challenge it."

This conference and subsequent discussions are being co-ordinated by Larry I. Palmer, vice provost for undergraduate education.

The visiting educators taking part in Saturday's conference were Allen Grossman, professor of English, Brandeis University; Robert Kiely, professor of English and master of Adams House at Harvard University and Diane Middlebrook, associate professor of English and associate dean of undergraduate studies at Stanford University.

The workshops dealt with aspects of the general theme: the non-curricular aspects of common learning; curricular reforms and requirements for majors and a common freshman experience at Cornell.

In planning the conference President Rhodes said, "The goal of the conference is to develop specific recommendations that could be considered by the various educational policy committees of the undergraduate colleges. Our hope is that, after the educational policy committees have reacted to the recommendations of the conference, the colleges might sponsor some campus-wide discussion of the issues."

Some of the provisional recommendations from Saturday's conference are:

— "there should be a university-wide committee for general education;"

— "each entering freshman should be assigned a faculty adviser in the student's area of academic interest. The faculty member's role would not be to provide information or keep student records; rather the role would be to aid the student in making both immediate and long-range educational decisions, and to engage — with the student — in general discussions of academic life."

— "Incentives and support for faculty to become more involved with students need to be developed. Many faculty do not perceive that it is their responsibility to be involved with students outside the classroom."

Women's Studies Seeks Nominations

The Women's Studies Program is seeking nominations and self-nominations of Cornell faculty members through Feb. 18 to serve on its executive board.

Cornell faculty who wish to nominate themselves or others should contact the Women's Studies Program, 332 Uris Hall, 256-6480, for details immediately.

Nominations for student, staff and community members to the board will be solicited in March.

Women's Studies, a permanent program in the College of Arts and Sciences, aims to encourage the development of teaching and scholarship about women and sex roles for both women and men at Cornell and also to cooperate in public service activities with the university's extension services. Policy is set by the executive board, composed of faculty and students at Cornell and members of the Cornell and Ithaca communities who have an intellectual interest in women's studies.

Calendar

All items for publication in the Calendar section, except for Seminar notices, must be submitted by mail or in person to Fran Apgar, Central Reservations, 532 Willard Straight Hall, at least 10 days prior to publication. Seminar notices should be sent to Barbara Jordan-Smith News Bureau, 110 Day Hall, by noon Friday prior to publication. Items should include the name and telephone number of a person who can be called if there are questions, and also the subheading of the Calendar in which it should appear (lectures, colloquia, etc.). ALL DEADLINES STRICTLY ENFORCED.

*-Admission charged.

Announcements

Olin Library Tours

Tours of Olin Library will be offered for new and rejoining graduate students and faculty. Tours are scheduled Thursday, Jan. 28 at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday

Jan. 30, 7:30 p.m. Anabel Taylor Auditorium. Cornell India Association presents "Indian Republic Day Celebration," entertainment program.

Academic Survival Workshops

Study Skills Workshop begins Feb. 3. Classes meet Tues. 4:30-5:30 p.m. Topics include: Cornell Note-Taking Method, time management, textbook mastery, test preparation and strategies, and research paper skills. Reading Skills Workshop begins Feb. 8. Classes meet Mondays and Wednesdays, 4:30-5:30 p.m. for a period of two weeks. Please sign up in advance at the Learning Skills Center, 375 Olin Hall or call 256-6310.

Reading and Learning Strategies

A full semester, 2 credit, s/u course which meets on Tues. and Thurs., 11:15 a.m. or 3:15 p.m. There is also a weekly lab requirement. The course objective is to promote the use of more effective reading and learning strategies, leading to improved comprehension and rate, more efficient study methods and time management, and vocabulary development. The registration cut off date is Feb. 9. For more information contact the Learning Skills Center, 375 Olin Hall or call 256-6310.

Writing Workshop Walk-In Service

Service is open Mon. through Thurs., 3:30-6 p.m. and 7:30-10 p.m.; Sun., 3-8 p.m.; Service is closed Fri. and Sat. You need no appointment, just drop by during our hours. Phone 256-6349. 125 Rockefeller Hall.

Weigh Station

Weight Reduction Classes are held every Thurs., noon-1 p.m. at the Block Building in Barton Hall. Everyone is welcome. If you have questions, call 277-3418 or 257-0853.

Legal Advice or Representation

The Office of the Judicial Advisor provides free legal assistance to students, faculty and staff accused of violating any of the university rules and regulations, i.e., the Campus Code of Conduct, the Statement of Student Rights and the Code of Academic Integrity. All consultations are kept strictly confidential. Call 256-6492 for an appointment or drop by B-12 Ives Hall.

Menswork

Menswork, a confidential support group for men who batter their female partners, meets Tuesday evenings. For further information call 277-4003 or 273-1154.

Sperry Needs RAs

Persons interested in applying for Resident Adviser positions in Sperry Hall, which is located on the West Campus, can pick up application packets at the Office of the Resident Director on the ground floor of Sperry. Application deadline is Feb. 18.

Colloquia

Monday

Feb. 1, 4:30 p.m. Clark 700. General Physics Colloquium: "Results from CESR," B Gittelmann, Cornell.

January 28, 1982

Dance

Every Thurs., 8 p.m. Anabel Taylor One World Room. Israeli Folk Dancing.

Exhibits

Herbert F. Johnson Museum "Art of the Olmstead Landscape," Feb. 3-March 7.; "Golden Day, Silver Night: Perceptions of Nature in American Art, 1850-1910." Feb. 3-March 28.

John M. Olin Library "Mapping the World from Top to Bottom," a tour, sponsored by the Library Associates, 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28. Barbara Berthelsen will lead the tour.

Films

Wim Wenders, a German filmmaker, will visit Cornell in conjunction with the screenings of five of his films here in February.

At 9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1, Wenders will introduce "The Lusty Men," a film by Nicholas Ray, to the members of the Cornell Cinema Film Club in Uris Auditorium. On Tuesday, he will conduct an informal workshop for area filmmakers at 3 p.m. in the Meeting Room of the Tompkins County Public Library, 312 N. Cayuga St.

Also on Tuesday, Wenders will introduce his 1976 film, "Kings of the Road" at 8 p.m. in Uris Auditorium. Admission will be $2.

Wenders' most recent film "Lightning Over Water (Nick's Movie)," will have its regional premiere at Cornell Cinema on Friday and Saturday, Feb. 5-6. The film was made by Wenders and the late American director Nicholas Ray, who made "Rebel Without a Cause," and who once taught film at Harpur College (now SUNY-Binghamton).

Some footage from Ray's never-released film, "We Can't Come Home Again" (1973), which was made in Binghamton, is included in "Lightning Over Water," which centers on Wenders' and Ray's relationship as the well-known American director faces death from cancer.

Other Wenders films to be shown on Tuesday evenings in February at Cornell Cinema include: "Alice in the Cities" on Feb. 9; "The Wrong Move" on Feb. 16 and "The American Friend" on Feb. 23.

Thursday

Jan. 28, 8 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "To Love, Honor and Obey," produced by Third World Newsreel, sponsored by Bernadette Powell Defense Fund.

Friday

Jan. 29, 7:30 p.m. Uris Hall Auditorium. Pentangle II Free Film Series: "L'Age D'or" directed by Luis Bunuel with Lya Lys, Gaston Modot, Max Ernst.

Friday & Saturday

Jan. 29 & 30, 8 p.m. *Statler Auditorium. "Days of Heaven" (1978), directed by Terrence Malick, with Richard Gere, Brook Adams, Sam Shepard.

Jan. 29 & 30, 10:15 p.m. *Statler Auditorium. "Decline of Western Civilization" (1981), directed by Penelope Spheeris, with Alice Bag and, Black Flag, Catholic Discipline, etc.

Friday

Jan. 29, 9:45 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. The 16th International Tournee of Animation.

Saturday

Jan. 30, 7:30 & 9:45 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. The 16th International Tournee of Animation.

Sunday

Jan. 31, 8 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Tarzan of the Apes" (1918), directed by Scott Sidney with Elmo Lincoln, Enia Markey, shown with "Trader Horn" (1931), directed by WS van Dyke, with Harry Carey, Edwina Booth, Duncan Renaldo. Co-sponsored by the New York State Council on the Arts.

Monday

Feb. 1, 9 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "The Lusty Men" (1952), directed by Nicholas Ray, with Robert Mitchum, Susan Hayward, Arthur Kennedy. Film Club members only.

Tuesday

Feb. 2, 8 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Kings of the Road" (1976), directed by Wim Wenders, with Rudiger Vogler, Hanns Zschler, Lisa Kreuzer. Wenders will be at the screening.

Wednesday

Feb. 3, 8 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Story of a Love Affair" (1950), directed by Michelangelo Antonioni, with Lucia Bose, Massimo Girotti, Ferdinando Sarmi. Co-sponsored by the Arts College. Short also shown: N.U. by Antonioni.

Friday

Feb. 5, 7:30 p.m. Uris Hall Auditorium. Pentangle II Free Film Series: "Northern Lights" (1978), directed by John Hanson and Rob Nilsson, with Robert Behling, Susan Lunch, Joe Spane.

Feb. 5, 9:45 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Lightning Over Water" (1980), directed by Wim Wenders, Nicholas Ray. Co-sponsored by the Comparative Literature Dept.

Friday & Saturday

Feb. 5 & 6, 8 p.m. *Statler Auditorium. "Breaking Away" (1979), directed by Peter Yates with Dennis Christopher, Dennis Quaid, Dan Stern.

Feb. 5 & 6, 10:30 p.m. *Statler Auditorium. "Stardust Memories" (1980), directed by Woody Allen, with Woody Allen, Charlotte Rampling, Jessica Harper.

Feb. 5 & 6, 11:45 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "How I Won the War" (1967), directed by Richard Lester, with Michael Crawford, John Lennon, Michael Horndern.

Saturday

Feb. 6, 2 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "The 39 Steps" (1935), directed by Alfred Hitchcock, with Robert Donat, Madeleine Carroll, Godfrey Tearle.

Feb. 6, 7:30 & 9:45 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Lightning Over Water" (1980).

Sunday

Feb. 7, 2 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "The Point" (1971), directed by Fred Wolf, with animated characters with Oblio and his Faithful Dob, Arrow. Co-sponsored by The Ithaca Youth Bureau.

Feb. 7, 8 p.m. *Uris Hall Auditorium. "Black Girl" (1965), directed by Ousmane Sembene, with Mbissine Therese Dlop, Anne Marie Jelinck, also shown with "Mandabi" (1968), directed by Sembene, with Mamadou Guye, Ynousse N'Diaye, Issa Niang. Co-sponsored by New York State Council on the Arts.

Intramural Sports

Volleyball (Women)

Deadline on entries is Thurs., Feb. 4 at 4 p.m. in the Intramural Office, Gruman Squash Courts Bldg., across from Teagle Hall. Play will be in Helen Newman Gym. Specify your preferred day of play (1st, 2nd, 3rd choice). Mon., Tues., Thurs. 9-11 p.m.; Wed., 10-12 p.m.; Fri., 7-11 p.m. Minimum of 9 to enter. Play will begin Mon., Mar. 1. $10 forfeit fee due with entry. Post-date check May 14.

Lectures

Tuesday

Feb. 2, 4:30 p.m. Goldwin Smith 24. Renaissance Colloquium Lecture: "The Shape of Time at the Park of the Monsters (Bomarzo)," Esther Dotson.

Thursday

Feb. 4, 10 a.m. H.F. Johnson Museum. "Golden Day, Silver Night," an exhibition of 19th Century American landscape paintings drawn from Upstate New York collections, Gwendolyn Owens, Associate Curator, Herbert F. Johnson Museum. Sponsored by Campus Club of Cornell. These lectures are open to all members of the University Community and to the general public.

Meetings

Every Mon., 5 p.m. Anabel Taylor G-27. Committee on U.S.-Latin American Relations (CUSLAR).

Monday

Feb. 1, 4:30 p.m. Straight Loft II. Cinema Advisory Board meeting.

Every Tues., 9 p.m. Hug Ivri-Hebrew Club meeting. Speakers of Hebrew at all levels welcome. For more information, call Michael at 277-2168.

Every Sun., 7:30 p.m. Anabel Taylor 314. The Anthroposophy Study Group will take up the topic "The Spiritual Science of Rudolf Steiner." Everyone welcome. For more information call 277-1459 or see the secretary in Anabel Taylor Hall.

Every Thurs., 7:15 p.m. Willard Straight 207. Gay PAC business meeting followed by 8 p.m. discussion. Different topic each week.

Music

Dutch baritone Max van Egmond will join Cornell University's fortepianist Malcolm Bilson in a free public recital at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Feb. 5, in Barnes Hall. The program will feature Franz Schubert's song cycle, "Die Winterreise."

The cycle consists of 24 "Winter Journey" poems by Wilhelm Muller, which Schubert set to music in 1827. The songs tell of a rejected lover's departure from his home town and of his increasing sadness and despair as he travels afar.

The Friday evening performance should be particularly interesting because of the instrument used, Cornell's 1979 replica of a fortepiano from Schubert's own time. The instrument, built by Thomas McCobb of Klamath Falls, Ore., is modeled after a fortepiano made by Conrad Graf in Vienna in 1926. The Graf has a tight action but is stronger than earlier fortepianos.

One of Europe's leading baroque singers, van Egmond is well known in the United States and Canada for his performances and master classes and seminars on baroque singing at Oberlin College's Baroque Performance Institute, the Castle Hill Festival and the Mount Orford Festival in Quebec. In addition he has performed oratorio, lieder and opera throughout Europe, in South America, in Canada and this country.

Born in Indonesia, at the time a Dutch colony, van Egmond grew up in Holland, studied at the University of Utrecht and worked for some years as a radio announcer. His prestigious career as a baritone began in 1959 when he won first prize at the International Vocal Competition at 's-Hertogenbosch. He has won several international prizes and awards since then. He is professor of voice at the Amsterdam Sweelinck Conservatory.

Malcolm Bilson, an international authority on the Viennese fortepiano, is a professor of piano at Cornell. He appears frequently throughout the country as soloist and teacher of master classes and seminars. His tours this season have taken him to the West Coast and to Hungary. His recording of Beethoven's Tempest Sonata was listed by the New York Times among its "best recordings" of 1981.

The Friday evening presentation of "Die Winterreise" is co-sponsored by Cornell's department of music and Council of the Creative and Performing Arts.

Friday

Feb. 5, & 9:30 p.m. *Bailey Hall. The Center for Religion, Ethics and Social Policy presents a benefit concert: "A Musical Tribute to Harry Chapin" with Pete Seeger, Mary Travers, Peter Yarrow, Steve Chapin, Tom Chapin. Tickets for the shows are $7.50 advance and $8.50 at the door. Tickets available at Willard Straight Hall, Egbert Union, Borealis Book Store, Record People, and the DeWitt Mall.

Feb. 5, 8:15 p.m. Barnes Hall. Max van Egmond, bass-baritone, and Malcolm Bilson, piano. Schubert's "Die Winterreise."

Saturday

Feb. 6, 4 p.m. Barnes Hall. Graduate recital: Christopher Been, piano, assisted by Deborah Pfautsch, soprano. Works of Beethoven, Chopin, Prokofiev, Mussorgsky.

JANUARY
S	M	T	W	T	F	S
					1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31

Religion

Sunday

Jan. 31, 11 a.m. Sage Chapel Convocation. Alain Seznec, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Cornell.

Sunday

Feb. 7, 11 a.m. Sage Chapel Convocation. James C. Kelly, O.S.B., University Catholic Chaplain.

Every Fri., 5:30 p.m. Anabel Taylor Founders Room. Shabbat Conservative Service.

Every Fri., 5:30 p.m. Anabel Taylor Chapel. Shabbat Reform Service.

Every Fri., 7:30 p.m. 106 Eastern Heights Drive. Baha'i fireside discussion. For details call 273-4240.

Every Fri., 1 p.m. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room. JUMA Prayers organized by the Muslim Educational and Cultural Assoc. of Cornell.

Every Sat., 9:15 a.m. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room. Shabbat Orthodox Service.

Every Sat., 9:45 a.m. Anabel Taylor Founders Room. Shabbat Conservative Service.

Every Sat., 5:15 p.m. Anabel Taylor Auditorium. Catholic Eucharist.

Every Sun., 9:30 a.m. Anabel Taylor Chapel. Episcopal Eucharist Worship Service. Nursery and Church School provided. Faculty and students welcome. Coffee hour after.

Every Sun., 9:30 & 11 a.m. Anabel Taylor Auditorium. Catholic Eucharist. Church school and nursery provided.

Every Sun., 9:45 a.m. Anabel Taylor Edwards Room. Ithaca Society of Friends (Quakers) adult discussion followed by meeting for worship at 11 a.m.

Every Sun., 10 a.m. Straight North Room. Korean Church at Cornell.

Every Sun., 11:15 a.m. Anabel Taylor Chapel. Protestant Church at Cornell. Coffee and conversation after.

Every Sun., 5 p.m. Anabel Taylor Auditorium. Catholic Eucharist.

Every Thurs., 7 p.m. Anabel Taylor Founders Room. Christian Science Organization Testimony Meeting. Faculty and students welcome.

Seminars

Biochemistry: "Analysis of C-Type Viruses in the AKR Mouse," Nancy Hopkins, MIT, 4:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 29, 204 Stocking Hall.

Biochemistry: "Uncoupling of Photophosphorylation by Energy-Dependent Modifications of the y Subunit of Coupling Factor 1," James V. Moroney, 12:20 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1, 125 Riley Robb.

Biophysics: "Mechanisms of the Interaction and Fusion of Phospholipid Bilayers," Peter Rand, Brock University, 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 3, 700 Clark Hall.

Center for Applied Mathematics:

"Chaos and Non-integrability in Hamiltonian Mechanics," Philip Holmes, 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 29, 165 Olin Hall.

Ecology & Systematics: "Tales of a Neanderthal Grandmother: New Fossil Evidence of the Evolution of Anatomically Modern Man (Homo sapiens sapiens) from Asia," Kenneth A.R. Kennedy, 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 3, Langmuir Lab. Penthouse.

Floriculture & Ornamental Horticulture: "Current Research Topics" Jim Boodley, 12:15 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 4, L.H. MacDaniels Room, 37 Plant Science.

Food Science: "Oxygen Free Radicals and Lipid Peroxidation," Joseph Kaner, Volcani Institute, Israel, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 2, 204 Stocking Hall.

General Chemistry: Title to be announced. John M. Hayes, Indiana University, 4:40 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, 119 Baker Lab.

Materials Science and Engineering:

FEBRUARY
S	M	T	W	T	F	S
	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28

"Diffraction and Microscopy Studies of the Structure Of Grain Boundaries," S.L. Sass, 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 4, 140 Bard Hall.

Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering: "Monroe County Comprehensive Resource Recovery Program—1982 Status Report," Richard A. Kenyon, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 2, 282 Grumman.

Neurobiology & Behavior: "Mating Competition and Sexual Behavior in Lions," Craig Packer, Allee Lab., Chicago, 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, Langmuir Lab. Penthouse.

Operations Research: "Analysis of Inventory Systems for Substitutable Recoverable Items," Carol Shilepsky, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 2, 305 Upson Hall.

Organic/Organometallic Chemistry: "Applications of Organometallic Reagents in the Synthesis of Quinone Antibiotics," Martin F. Semmelhack, Princeton University, 8:15 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1, 119 Baker Lab.

Physiology: "Hormonal Assessment of Parturient Hypocalcemia in Cattle," Bruce Hollis, Case Western Reserve, 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 2, G-3 Vet Research Tower.

Toxicology: "Metabolism and Activation of Tobacco-Specific Nitrosamines," Stephen S. Hecht, Naylor Dana Institute for Disease Prevention, 12:15 p.m. Friday, Jan. 29, N207 MVR.

Vegetable Crops: "All You Wanted to Know About Yellow Nutsedge... But Were Afraid to Ask," Ann McCue, 4:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 28, 404 Plant Science Building.

Sports

Friday

Jan. 29, 7:30 p.m. Helen Newman. Women's Basketball-Pennsylvania.

Jan. 29, 7:30 p.m. Oxley Polo Arena. Women's Polo-Fox Lea Farms.

Saturday

Jan. 30, 1 p.m. Helen Newman. Women's Swimming-Pennsylvania.

Jan. 30, 2 p.m. Teagle. Men's Fencing-Princeton.

Jan. 30, 8:15 p.m. Oxley Polo Arena. Men's Polo-Fox Lea Farms.

Tuesday

Feb. 2, 1 p.m. Helen Newman. Women's Swimming-Oneonta.

Feb. 2, 7:30 p.m. *Lynah Rink. Men's Varsity Hockey-Princeton.

Wednesday

Feb. 3, 7 p.m. Helen Newman. Women's basketball-William Smith.

Thursday

Feb. 4, 7 p.m. Helen Newman. Women's Swimming-Rochester.

Friday

Feb. 5, 6 p.m. Barton. Men's Wrestling-Cortland.

Feb. 5, 7:30 p.m. Oxley Polo Arena. Women's Polo-Virginia.

Saturday

Feb. 6, 1 p.m. Barton Hall. Women's Gymnastics-Massachusetts.

Feb. 6, 2 p.m. Teagle. Men's Swimming-Brown.

Feb. 6, 8:15 p.m. Oxley Polo Arena-Virginia.

Sponsored Programs

The Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall, 6-5014, wishes to emphasize that the information in this column is intended for post-doctoral research unless otherwise indicated.

NEW YORK STATE COUNCIL ON THE ARTS

The New York State Council on the Arts has announced its annual receipt of application deadline for all applications to the Council as March 1, 1982. The Council has four divisions composed of thirteen program departments. The Divisions are: Division of Communication Arts - includes: Film, Literature and Media. Division of Performing Arts includes: Dance, Music, Presenting Organizations/National Endowment for the Arts Dance Touring Program and Theatre. Division of Special Programs includes: Arts Service Organizations, Decentralization, Special Arts Services. Division of Visual Arts - includes: Architecture, Planning and Design, Museum Aid, and Visual Artists.

The Council staff will aid in decisions concerning application. The Office of Sponsored Programs has an application package available for examination and guidance. Every effort should be made to have your application reviewed by OSP by 15 February. March 1, 1982 is the only deadline.

THE NATIONAL CANCER INSTITUTE

The National Cancer Institute - initial receipt deadline of February 1 for institutional grant applications for National Research Service Awards NRSA's in "Nutrition as it Relates to Cancer Cause, Prevention, Detection, Diagnosis, Treatment and Restorative Care".

For more information, contact the Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall.

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF ALLERGY AND INFECTIOUS DISEASES

The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases has set a February 15 receipt deadline for applications in response to RFA-NIH-NIAID-82-2, "Epidemiology and Natural History of Genital Herpes."

For more information, contact the Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall.

The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases has set a February 15 receipt deadline for applications in response to RFA-NIH-NIAID-82-3, "Program Projects in Lymphocyte Biology."

THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The U.S. Department of Agriculture - Postmark deadlines in January and February for applications under its program of "Plant Biology and Human Nutrition: Competitive Research Grants Program for Basic Research - FY 1982."

Biological Stress on Plants - January 29, 1982

Human Nutrients Requirements - February 1, 1982

Biological Nitrogen Fixation - February 16, 1982

Photosynthesis - February 16, 1982

For additional information, program guidelines, and a Grant Application Kit, contact the Office of Sponsored Programs, 123 Day Hall.

NIH FUNDING LEVELS FOR FY 1982

On December 15 President Reagan signed a Continuing Resolution that provides support of NIH through March 31, 1982. (It is anticipated that the remainder of FY 1982 - through September 30, 1982 - will work out the same.) Although detailed funding plans have yet to be developed, NIH expects to issue both new and continuation grant awards with an average 4 percent reduction between now and March 31, 1982. Partial restoration of reductions in previous FY 1982 awards that were based on the second Continuing Resolution will be made to bring them to comparable levels. These restorations will be made as soon as workload permits but in no case later than the end of February, 1982.

ALCOHOL RESEARCH GRANTS

The National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) provides grant support to encourage the development of new knowledge relative to the nature, causes, diagnosis, treatment, control, prevention, and consequences of alcohol and alcoholism. Approximately $3,600,000 will be available in the fiscal year 1982 for alcohol research grants. Descriptions of the specific areas of interest that will be supported this year are available at the Office of Sponsored Programs, as well as application kits.

Additional deadlines for new grant proposals will be July 1 and November 1. NIAAA also provides support for Alcohol Research Centers to conduct interdisciplinary research on alcoholism and problems related to alcohol abuse. Deadline for center grants are the same as the research grants.

MENTAL HEALTH RESEARCH

The National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) is calling for applications to their Research Support Programs for a receipt deadline of March 1. NIMH supports the development, testing, and dissemination of knowledge on the epidemiology and need for services, etiology, diagnosis, typology, treatment, and prevention of mental illnesses and emotional disorders and on the biological, behavioral, and environmental factors which affect mental illness and mental health.

Descriptions of the specific topic areas are available in the Office of Sponsored Programs (OSP). Application forms are also available at OSP. Additional deadlines for new grant proposals are July 1, and November 1. Proposals submitted to the March 1 receipt deadline may start no earlier than December 1, 1982.

HUBERT H. HUMPHREY FELLOWSHIP COMPETITION

Doctoral Dissertation research in the field of arms control and disarmament will be supported by one year Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowships sponsored by the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Law degree candidates are also eligible. Fellowship stipends will be $5,000 and $3,400 for tuition and fees. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or nationals. The deadline is February 22. For application materials write to:

Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program

Office of Congressional and Public Affairs
U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency
Washington, D.C. 20451

ADDITIONAL DEADLINE REMINDERS

DAMON RUNYON - WALTER WINCHELL CANCER FUND
Postdoctoral Fellowships - March 15, 1982.

GERMAN ACADEMIC EXCHANGE SERVICE

Short-term grants for research in Germany - January 29, 1982.

INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH AND EXCHANGE BOARD

Special grants for collaborative activities and new exchanges - January 31, 1982.

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Postdoctoral research grants and grants-in-aid - February 1, 1982.

RADCLIFFE COLLEGE
Radcliffe Research Support Program - February 1, 1982.

CORPORATION FOR PUBLIC BROADCASTING/ANNENBERG SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATIONS PROJECTS

Telecommunications Project Grants - April 5, 1982.

DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

New and improved concepts in coal liquefaction - February 5, 1982.

Support for advanced coal research - February 5, 1982.

S AND H FOUNDATION
Lectureship Program - February 15, 1982.

RESOURCES FOR THE FUTURE
Small grants program - March 1, 1982.

THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

A postmark deadline for February 8, 1982 has been set for all applications from institutions of higher education for awards under the "Graduate and Professional Study Fellowship Program"

Graduate Bulletin

The next regular meeting of the Graduate Faculty will be held at 4:30 p.m. on Friday, February 12, in Kaufmann Auditorium of Goldwin Smith Hall to approve the provisional list from January.

Doctoral students registered for the fall term (or those who took a leave of absence dated 8-30-79 or later) who wish to avoid paying the active-file fee of $200 for the spring term must have met all degree requirements by February 12. This includes filing two acceptable copies of the thesis in the Graduate School Office.

Late registration will be held Monday to Wednesday, Jan 25 to 27, in Barton Hall. Starting Thursday, Jan. 28, late registration will be at the Registrar's Office, 222 Day Hall. A $30 processing fee will be charged as of Jan. 25.

REMINDER: Applications for 1982-83 Cornell Graduate Fellowships for continuing students are available at the Fellowship Office, 116 Sage Graduate Center, by tomorrow, Jan 29.

Applications for 1982-83 Cornell Need-Based Financial Aid and Graduate and Professional School Financial Aid Statements (GAPSFAS) are available at the Office of Financial Aid, 203 Day Hall, and at the Fellowship Office. Completed applications must be filed with the Office of Financial Aid by April 15.

Students who have not picked up their January stipend check may do so at the Fellowship Office. Stipend checks for February will be available beginning Friday, February 5.

Check the Fellowship Notebook at your graduate faculty representative's office for information on the awards whose deadlines follow.

Feb. 15: Kappa Kappa Gamma/Graduate Rehabilitation Scholarships — for undergraduates and graduates enrolled in fields that will prepare them to work with handicapped people or the elderly. Applicants must be women who are U.S. or Canadian citizens. Sorority membership is not required.

Feb. 15: Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships at Cornell University — three teaching/research fellowships will be awarded for Sept. 1982. Applicants must be citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. or Canada and must have completed the Ph.D. at the time of application, but after June 1977. A letter of nomination will be required for applicants whose doctorate has not been conferred at the time of application.

Feb. 15: National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) Fellowships — four documentary editing fellowships will be awarded. Applicants should hold a doctoral degree in American history or civilization, or should have completed all of the requirements for that degree except the dissertation.

Feb. 15: Omicron Nu Research Fellowships — for students enrolled in doctoral programs in fields related to human ecology. Two awards of $3000 each will be made. One will be to a U.S. citizen and the other to a foreign student studying in the U.S. Applications are available at the Fellowship Office.

Feb. 16: Indian Education Fellowship

— for Native Americans pursuing a course of study leading to a graduate degree in education, law, medicine and related fields or leading to a graduate or undergraduate degree in business administration, engineering, natural resources and related fields. A sample application is available at the Fellowship Office.

Feb. 22: U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency (ACDA)/Humphrey Doctoral Fellowships in Arms Control and Disarmament — applicants must be citizens or nationals of the U.S. who will have completed, by the start of the fellowship, all of the requirements for the doctorate except the dissertation. Applicants must be enrolled in a U.S. university in fields related to the study of arms control and disarmament policy formulation.

Feb. 26: Center for International Studies (CIS)/1982-82 Graduate Student Research Grants — grants of up to $750 will be awarded on a competitive basis to graduate students for work with direct relevance to international or comparative studies. Applications are available at CIS, 170 Uris Hall, and at the Fellowship Office.

Feb. 28: Business and Professional Women's Clubs of New York State, Inc./Grace Legendre Fellowships — applicants must be women who are U.S. citizens and residents of New York State and who are enrolled in an advanced graduate degree program at a recognized college or university. Grants provide a stipend of $1000.

Barton Blotter

In the week from Jan. 18 through 24 some $3,124 worth of cash and personal property was stolen on campus according to the morning reports of the Department of Public Safety.

A Panasonic Video Recorder valued at $1,150 was reported taken from 252 Malott Hall sometime between Dec. 22 and Jan. 22. A three-piece sectional couch worth $696.86 was stolen from the lounge of University Hall 1 sometime during Jan. 21 and 22.

In all there were 12 incidents of theft reported on campus during the six-day period. Other losses included two tables worth $262 taken from the first floor lounge of University Hall 5 and a $360 tape deck taken from a student's room in North Campus 6 sometime between Dec. 20 and Jan. 18.

Handbags, textbooks, wallets, cash and clothing accounted for the other larcenies.

A student was turned over to the Judicial Administrator charged with attempting to sell stolen books to the Campus Store. A glass door worth $200 was kicked in at the Noyes Center by an unknown person. Several students reported receiving harassing telephone calls which are being investigated.

Several other cases of criminal mischief were reported including damage to an alarm panel at the North Campus Union and damage to a tree and four bushes on the lawn of Risley Hall.

Foreman Loses Life At Heating Plant

A foreman at the university's Central Heating Plant lost his life and another worker was hospitalized after an incident at the plant Thursday, Jan. 14.

Floyd Fields of Newfield, the supervisor, died of asphyxiation when he went into a partly-filled ash silo to help David Schmohe, who had passed out after going down into the silo to try to break loose some "clinkers" that interfered with the flow of ashes out of the bottom of the container.

The Tompkins County Medical Examiners' office, which made the ruling on the cause of Mr. Fields' death, has sent blood samples from him and Schmohe to the New York State Police Laboratory in Albany for examination. In addition, the Syracuse regional office of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has taken air samples from the silo and is expected to make a report on the incident.

According to Department of Public Safety reports, the following is what happened the morning of the incident:

The silo is one of two on either end of the boiler units of the heating plant, and is used to store ashes from the units before they are hauled away, primarily for use in combatting snow and ice on area highways.

That morning the east silo was clogged so that ashes were not coming out as fast as they should from the bottom. Attempts to free up the ashes from the bottom did not work, and Fields and Schmohe went up to the top of the silo.

Schmohe entered the silo and went down the ladder to the top of the ashes. He was there just a very short time when he realized, he said, that he was getting dizzy and lightheaded. He started back up the ladder to come out of the silo.

He has since said that he got up about six or seven rungs and then remembers nothing until he woke up in the hospital.

Fields, seeing that Schmohe was in trouble, went back into the plant and motioned and shouted for other people to come and help him. He and Donald C. Reed, another worker in the plant, went into the silo to get Schmohe out.

Reed began to feel lightheaded, and Fields told him to get out. Meanwhile, Fields put a rope around Schmohe's waist. Others at the top pulled Schmohe out of the silo and inside the plant. By the time people with self-controlled breathing apparatus arrived and went down for Fields, it was too late.

Meanwhile, another employee of the plant, Guillermo Blas, began cardio-pulmonary resuscitation on Schmohe. Officer Brian Fenner of the Safety Division arrived and tipped Schmohe's head back to open the air passage, and officer Herbert Milliman arrived with a resuscitator and gave him oxygen, which restored regular breathing.

Henry Doney, director of utilities for the university, said the lids on silo hatches on top of the container have cast into the metal the words: "Danger, Do not enter unless empty and well ventilated."

He said the silo was partly full of ashes, which had been carried up into the silo by way of a pneumatic tube system from hoppers at the base of the boilers where the coal is burned.

The Safety Committee at the heating plant, which meets regularly and keeps minutes, had included in its rules one that prohibits entering the silos when they have ashes in them, Doney said.

The committee will continue to meet with others concerned to see what changes need to be made to tighten up procedures, Doney said.

Poisonous Plants, Garden Design, Ski In Nature Among Plantations Courses

Non-credit courses in poisonous plants, botanical illustration, garden design, and skiing through nature are offered in the winter 1982 session of the Cornell Plantations Education Program.

Also planned is a series of free natural history walks through Plantations grounds.

John M. Kingsbury, professor of botany, plant biology and veterinary clinical science, will teach the course, Poisonous Plants, scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, Feb. 9 through March 2. The internationally known authority on poisonous plants will discuss the history and mythology of poisonings, the question of why certain plants are poisonous to vertebrates, and the most dangerous local plants.

Botanical Illustration, a course for both experienced artists and those who have not drawn before but enjoy plants, will be taught by Bente Everhart, botanical illustrator for Cornell's Bailey Hortorium. Observation skills will be sharpened and a variety of techniques covered in the course, which is scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, Feb. 24 to March 17.

Slide-illustrated lectures and a group-participation workshop are planned as part of Topics in Garden History and Design, taught by Jim Clawson, a landscape architect. Students will be able to apply landscape design principles to their own yards in the course, scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 11 through March 4.

Five field trips to a variety of sites in the Ithaca area are planned in the course, Nature on Skis, led by nature educator Julia Smith. Animal tracks, birds, seeds and weeds, trees, plant succession and local geology will be studied in the course, which begins with an evening organizational session Thursday, Jan. 28, and continues with Solanum accrescens as drawn by Bente Everhart, instructor for the Cornell Plantations course in botanical illustration.

Saturday morning excursions Jan. 30 through Feb. 27.

Naturalist Raylene Gardner will lead a series of Sunday afternoon walks — each with a different theme — through the quiet winter world of Cornell Plantations. No registration is required for the walks, which leave promptly from Plantations Headquarters at 2 p.m. Feb. 7 through March 7.

Norman Penney

The Law School has established a memorial scholarship fund in memory of Norman Penney, retired law professor and former dean of the University Faculty.

Penney, 55, was found dead of asphyxiation Dec. 30 in his Washington D.C. apartment. He had been bound and gagged, apparently by burglars. Police in Washington are still investigating the case but have not turned up any suspects.

Contributions to the scholarship fund, which will benefit law school students, should be sent to the Norman Penney Scholarship Fund, Myron Taylor Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. 14853.

Penney had retired from Cornell last August after 25 years on the faculty. He had earned his bachelor's degree at Yale University in 1950 and his law degree at Cornell in 1953.

He was teaching at the Washington College of Law of American University at the time of his death.

The Cornell University Board of Trustees will be presented a memorial resolution at its meetings in New York City this weekend, awarding Penney posthumously the title of Professor of Law Emeritus.

The resolution to be presented by

NORMAN PENNEY

University President Frank Rhodes reads:

"Norman Penney, J.D. 1953, served Cornell University as Professor of Law, Dean of the University Faculty, and Faculty Trustee during the period 1957 until 1981. On December 30, 1981, his life ended prematurely in Washington where he had moved after retirement in August.

"Mr. Penney served other organizations including the New York Law Revision Commission, the New York State Bar Association's Business Law Committee, the United Nations' Commission on International Trade Law, and the Consumer Affairs Division of the Board of Governors for the Federal Reserve System. He was a leading authority in the field of commercial law.

"Whereas, Mr. Penney retired from the university in the summer of 1981, be it resolved, That he be awarded posthumously the title of Professor of Law, Emeritus, and be it further Resolved, That the Board of Trustees express its sense of loss at the untimely death of an outstanding citizen, teacher and colleague, and direct the Secretary to send a copy of this resolution in his honor to his family."

Surviving Penney are his wife Sarah Young Penney, sons John, David and Christopher, and a daughter Celia Penney Flynn.

Lewis W. Morse

Lewis W. Morse, professor of law emeritus and for years law librarian at the Cornell Law School died Monday at his home in Cayuga Heights. He was 78.

A member of the Cornell faculty since 1931, Morse retired in 1969. He had been associate dean for alumni affairs and placement at the law school.

He served as law librarian from 1935 until 1965. A 1925 graduate of Colgate University, he received his law degree from Cornell in 1928. He served with the U.S. Army Judge Advocate General's Office from 1942 until returning to Cornell in 1946.

Donations in his memory may be made to the Lewis W. Morse Law School Scholarship fund.

He is survived by his wife, H. Lorraine Morse; two sons; Lewis W. Morse Jr. of Elmira and Robert C. Morse of Pelham Manor; and five grandchildren.

B&PA Students Compete In Automobile Contest

A team of 10 students in the Graduate School of Business and Public Administration is competing in an intercollegiate marketing contest with students from nine other schools across the country that could raise $7,000 for the university.

General Motors Corp. is sponsoring the contest in which the teams will prepare written treatises and give oral presentations to G.M. on "how to best market and advertise the 1982 Oldsmobile Cutlass Supreme with diesel power."

Each team will have a Cutlass diesel test car at its disposal during the spring term. A major portion of the contest will be to conduct "an attitude survey of the diesel car buyer market."

In May, members of the top three teams will be brought to Detroit to present their ideas to senior G.M. management. A total of $14,500 in awards will be made, with $7,000 going to the university of the first place team.

Heading Cornell's team is Vithala Rao, the Emerson Electric Co. Professor of Marketing at the B&PA school.

Sex Harassment Investigation Procedure Changed

Equal Opportunity Office to Be Involved in All Cases

An expansion and clarification of channels available to persons charging sexual harassment at the university has been announced by Provost W. Keith Kennedy.

"In order to address this issue most effectively, it has been determined that the Office of Equal Opportunity shall be involved in all cases of sexual harassment investigation," according to Kennedy.

Before this revision in university policies and procedures regarding sexual harassment, the OEO was one of several offices to which complaints could be brought. It will now be involved from beginning to end with any university department or office that investigates formally a sexual harassment charge.

Michael J. Montgomery, executive director of Cornell's OEO, said a primary reason for the change is the fact that his office has the expertise and the personnel to serve as a resource for any office in the university that receives a formal sexual harassment complaint.

"It is, fortunately, not a common complaint," Montgomery said. "However, for that reason not every office will have the experience to deal with a complaint as efficaciously as possible. We think OEO can help."

The revised policies and procedures are the latest steps at Cornell to combat an issue that is becoming a major concern of women and institutions across the country.

In June 1980, Cornell President Frank Rhodes issued a strongly-worded memorandum to the university community that expressed clear disapproval of sexual harassment. He also described the administrative procedures that can be used if someone encounters sexual harassment at Cornell.

Three months later, Rhodes reissued the memo and gave the OEO the monitoring and reporting responsibility on sexual harassment.

In addition to OEO, other university offices will continue to be available to persons with sexual harassment complaints. These offices include the Ombudsman, the Dean of Students, University Personnel Services and the Offices of the Academic Deans. The OEO will assist all of these offices in formal sexual harassment investigations.

Grievance procedures to address a variety of concerns, including sexual harassment, are also available to the Cornell community.

For nonacademic staff there is the staff employee grievance procedure. For students there are three grievance procedures — student-administrator, student-faculty, graduate school. For faculty there are grievance channels maintained by each school and college.

While all current grievance procedures cover discrimination on the basis of sex, these procedures will be amended to prohibit sexual harassment specifically, according to Montgomery. All procedures will state that the OEO will be involved in all sexual harassment investigations, he added.

Montgomery said that none of these procedures is intended to do away with a person's seeking "informal resolution or personal consultation" on a sexual harassment problem.

"When and if a formal investigation is begun, however, the Office of Equal Opportunity must be contacted," he said.

Persons disciplined for sexual harassment will have the judgment reviewed with the appropriate university officer: provost, senior vice president, dean or director, Montgomery said.

Semiannual meetings will be held to discuss the administration of Cornell's sexual harassment guidelines, according to Montgomery. Offices that will participate include Ombudsman, Personnel Services, Dean of Students, Academic Deans, Department of Residence Life and OEO.

Sixth Black Gospel Festival Here Feb. 12-14

The university's Sixth Annual Festival of Black Gospel will be held Feb. 12-14. The festival, sponsored by Cornell United Religious Work, is being held in conjunction with National Brotherhood Week and National Black History Month. All events are open to the public.

The festival will begin with a concert at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 12, in Bailey Hall and will conclude with a contemporary Black church service at 11 a.m. Sunday in Cornell's Sage Chapel.

William Augustus Jones, author of "The Gospel and the Ghetto, Freedom of Conscience: The Black Experience in America," will be the Sage Chapel speaker.

"Deliverance" from James

Madison University, the William Patterson College Gospel Choir, Pamoja Ni Singers from Cornell and the New Testament Missionary Baptist Church Choir along with several other choirs will provide music for the various events.

"The festival is not only to provide entertainment but to foster a greater understanding of Black sacred music as a cultural experience and to provide greater appreciation for the differences in ethnic preferences," said Lawrence Watson, chairperson of the festival committee and assistant dean in the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Friday, Feb. 12, Bailey Hall concert will feature civil rights leader Wyatt T. Walker, pastor,

Canaan Baptist Church in Harlem, and star Grammy Award-winning songstress Shirley Caesar, "Queen of Gospel Music."

Tickets, at $3 each, are on sale at Willard Straight Hall, Noyes Center and the Bear Necessities in the North Campus Union on the Cornell campus; Calvary Baptist Church, St. James A.M.E. Zion Church and Logos Book Store in Ithaca and at Ithaca College. They will also be available at the door at $4 each the night of the concert.

At 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 13, in Anabel Taylor Hall, there will be a voice workshop on Gospel Music. At 8 p.m. that day the participating choirs will perform at Bailey Hall. The concert is free and open to the public.

Walker, who is one of the principals of the Black Gospel collection, an assemblage of "the world's greatest" gospel music and gospel recording artists, is also author of "Somebody's Calling My Name," which is described as a "carefully documented and provocative" history of music of the Black religious experience and its relation to social change during various periods.

Jones is past president of The Progressive National Black Baptist Convention, and is the current president of The Black Pastor's Conference.

Engineering Celebration Feb. 4-6

Students in the College of Engineering have planned a series of events for Feb. 4 through Feb. 6 as a celebration of engineering at the university.

Thursday, Feb. 4, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. there will be an exposition of new advances in science and engineering by students, faculty and industry in the Memorial Room of Willard Straight Hall. A special performance by the robot Omnivac I is scheduled for noon.

Friday, Feb. 5, in the afternoon on the Engineering Quadrangle there will be an informal "Winter Olympics" including a tug-of-war, ice sculpting, keg rolling, along with music and happy hour beverages.

Saturday, Feb. 6, there will be an Engineer's Ball open to the entire Cornell community at Alpha Delta Phi fraternity at 777 Stewart Ave. from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. The semi-formal ball will feature the music of Small Change and Take Three. Cost will be $15 a couple, $9 single.

The events are expected to be the first of an annual "Engineer's Week" celebration at Cornell, according to Peter Poole, Eng. '82, president of the student committee that has planned the events with the support of Engineering Dean Thomas E. Everhart.

Poole said "The purpose of Engineer's Week is to unite the engineering undergraduate and graduate students and faculty through participation in fun and enlightening activities. The theme of engineer's week is technology and the creative genius. We hope to set a tradition of bringing together creative engineering minds during an annual celebration."

There has been extensive undergraduate and graduate student as well as alumni and faculty participation in the planning of this year's events, Poole said. He also cited a number of organizations involved in the planning:

Agricultural Engineers (ASAE), Civil and Environmental Engineers (ASCE, CHI, EPSILON), Electrical Engineers (IEEE), Materials Science and Engineering, Mechanical Engineering (ASME, SAE, AIAA), Operations Research and Industrial Engineering (AIIE), National Society of Black Engineers, Society of Women Engineers, Tau Beta Pi and Society of Engineers.

African Cinema Series Scheduled

A 10-week film series entitled "Africa and the Cinema from 'Trader Horn to Ousmane Sembene'" will be shown at Cornell University Cinema from Sunday, Jan. 31, through Sunday, April 11.

The screenings, to be held primarily on Sunday evenings at 8 p.m. in Cornell's Uris Auditorium, focus on the changing image of Black Africa as seen in films made by American filmmakers before 1932 and African filmmakers since 1965, according to Cornell Cinema Director William Gilcher.

The series begins with a showing of the original "Tarzan of the Apes" (1918) with piano accompaniment by Dawn Vadney. In February, there will be a number of films by Senegalese novelist and director Ousmane Sembene, who, according to Gilcher, is known internationally for "Black Girl" (1965), a film about a Senegalese woman who goes to work as a maid on the French Riviera. Sembene's "Ceddo" (1977), which is a thriller concerning the kidnapping of a princess and which also examines the confrontation of opposing traditions among the common people, will also be shown in February.

March and April screenings will present further examples of fiction films made by Senegalese, Angolan, Ethiopian and South African directors plus a film by Japanese director Susumu Hani about a Japanese who builds a pre-fabricated house in Africa for a group of Japanese professors. The film, "Bwana Toshi" (1965), will be shown March 14.

The exhibition is being made possible, in part, with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts and is under the joint sponsorship of Cornell Cinema, the Third World Student Programming Board, the Office of Minority Educational Affairs, the Africana Studies and Research Center, the Democratic Socialist Organizing Committee and the Graduate Activities Funding Commission.

All screenings are open to the public. Admission is $2 with tickets available at the door.

Antonioni Retrospective Feature

Cornell University Cinema will present a complete retrospective of the feature fiction films of Italian director Michaelangelo Antonioni during the spring semester.

The retrospective, which runs from Feb. 3 to May 5, will begin with Antonioni's first feature film, "Story of a Love Affair" (1950). The series will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays in Cornell's Uris Auditorium. Admission will be $2.

The exhibition was organized by Cornell Cinema Director William Gilcher in consultation with David Grosvogel, the Goldwin Smith Professor of Comparative Literature and Romance Studies at Cornell. It's the first time a complete Antonioni retrospective has been held in this country, according to Gilcher.

Antonioni, who has been named a professor-at-large at Cornell beginning in September 1982, is best known internationally for such modernist masterpieces as "The Red Desert," "La Notte" and "L'Avventura." He has also made films in English including "Blow Up" (1966) with David Hemmings and Vanessa Redgrave, "Zabriskie Point" (1970) with Mark Frechette, and "The Passenger" (1975) with Jack Nicholson and Maria Schneider.

His latest, "The Mystery of Oberwald," a film produced for Italian television, was featured at the 1981 New York Film Festival. It will be the final feature in this spring's retrospective.

Cornell Cinema is a joint program of the Herbert F. Johnson Museum of Art and the Department of Unions and Activities. The Antonioni retrospective has been made possible through special funding from Cornell's College of Arts and Sciences.

New Service Offers Student Employment

"Short Shots," a referral service for short-term, off-campus employment opportunities for Cornell students, is being introduced this semester by Cornell's Student Employment Office.

"Short Shots" is intended to supplement the existing program of semester-long, on-campus jobs for students with financial need, according to Emily Newton, assistant director of student employment.

"Short Shots" will match students and employers for a variety of jobs — child care, home maintenance, typing or tutoring, for instance.

Potential employers should call 256-3497 and ask about "Short Shots." Interested students should register their skills and get more information at the Student Employment Office, 203 Day Hall.

Brief Reports

Breakfast Program Still Has Openings

Students interested in having breakfast with President Frank Rhodes are reminded to call his office at 256-5201 to make a reservation.

The breakfasts will be held in the Elmhurst Room, Willard Straight Hall from 7:30-8:30 a.m. at various times throughout the semester. Each breakfast will involve approximately 20 students.

Students who sign up will be reminded by mail a few days ahead of time.

Tashi Quartet Tickets Sale Starts Next Week

Tickets for the Feb. 10 performance of Tashi, a clarinet and string quartet, in Statler Auditorium will go on sale Thursday, Jan. 28, at the Lincoln Hall Ticket Office, 256-5144.

Since its New York debut in 1973, Tashi has been hailed by critics for its "unusual programs and joyous performances."

While most chamber music ensembles specialize in either a traditional or contemporary repertoire, one of the hallmarks of Tashi's success has been its ability to perform all types of music as if it were written especially for them, according to critics.

At colleges and universities across the country, the group has been lauded for its Mozart and Brahms performances by audiences of all ages.

Following Tashi's performance of the Stravinsky Septet in the Lincoln Center Plaza as part of New York's Mostly Mozart Festival, a young man told the group that he had never listened to classical music before but that he would become a frequent concert goer after hearing Tashi's music.

"The easy informality of the members of Tashi is balanced by a fierce emotional commitment to the music they play...The players' own joy in performance was visually as well as aurally apparent, and therefore doubly infectious," wrote one New York Times critic.

First Aid Courses To Be Offered

The Department of Health Services will be offering Red Cross Multi-Media First Aid courses for faculty, staff and students at various times throughout the semester. Courses will be held in the Moore Library at Gannett Health Center, which is next to Willard Straight Hall.

Courses for faculty and staff will be held from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Feb. 8 and 9, March 18 and 19 and April 22 and 23. For students, the courses will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Feb. 20, March 13 and April 17.

The eight-hour course teaches standard first aid procedures for injuries and sudden illnesses through the use of films, workbooks and instructor-led practice sessions. Class participants will learn how to administer first aid care for choking, respiratory emergencies, heart attack, bleeding, burns, shock, poisoning, animal bites and a variety of other topics. Red Cross Certification will be given to those participants who meet course requirements.

A pre-registration fee of $2.50 must be paid at least one week before the course. The fee covers the expense of workbooks given to each participant.

To register, call 256-4782 or go to the Health Education Office, which is located on the third floor of Gannett Health Center.

Plantations Seeks A New 'Signature'

A prize of $50 is offered for the design chosen as the new logotype or "logo" for Cornell Plantations.

The design should symbolize the expansion and revitalization of that unit of the University and should include the new name: "Cornell Plantations The Arboretum, Botanical Garden, and Natural Areas of Cornell University." In addition, the design must be easy to "read" and reproduce effectively, must work well at a variety of scales for use on letterheads, signs, decals or T-shirts, and must be submitted in black and white to Cornell Plantations, One Plantations Road, Ithaca, N.Y. 14850.

The Cornell Plantations is responsible for 2,600 acres of University land used for outdoor laboratories, comprising natural areas and an arboretum. Construction of a new 50-acre arboretum expansion is nearly complete and is scheduled for dedication in June of 1982.

Closing date for the contest is March 1, 1982. Entries will be judged by a staff selection committee. The winner will be notified by March 10. For more information call 256-3020.

Ecology Research Proposals Sought

March 1, 1982 is the deadline for proposals to the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, which has provided funds to support student research in the areas of ecology, natural resources and environmental policy.

For 1982-83, at least 10 Mellon Student Research Grants will be awarded. Award money will depend upon the project, but will not usually exceed $1,500. The primary objective is to increase the involvement of students with environmental issues by stimulating original research, especially research embodying synthetic concepts and multidisciplinary approaches.

Proposals should be sent to any member of the Mellon Student Research Grants Committee, who will also provide additional information on request. Committee members are: Brian F. Chabot, Section of Ecology and Systematics, E145 Ecology Laboratories, Tower Road; Harry W. Everhart, Department of Natural Resources, 112 Fernow Hall; and Davydd J. Greenwood, Program on Science, Technology and Society, 628 Clark Hall.

Manual Available

The Academic Appointment Manual, which contains information on the employment of faculty, is available in all departmental offices and at the reference desks of Olin, Mann and the ILR libraries.

Residence Life Needs Resident Advisers

The Department of Residence Life will conduct an information session for students who are interested in becoming resident advisers at 7 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 31, in 200 Baker Lab.

Full-time registered undergraduate and graduate students who are in good academic standing and who have good interpersonal skills are invited to attend the session. Applications will be available at the session only. Remuneration includes a single room and stipend. Freshmen are not eligible.

"The resident adviser positions offer a uniquely challenging, highly rewarding and very satisfying opportunity for students to serve their peers and, at the same time, gain a variety of skills that will enhance their chances for success in today's tight job market," said Ronald J. Kaussner, residence hall director.

Application deadline is Feb. 12.

Anthroposophy Group Meets Sunday Nights

The Cornell Anthroposophy Study Group's weekly meetings at 7:30 p.m. Sundays in Anabel Taylor Hall are open to the general public.

The group's studies, according to graduate student William M. Riggin, center around Austrian philosopher Rudolph Steiner's contention that a spiritual world exists and is comprehensible to pure thinking though fully accessibly only to higher faculties of knowledge latent in everyone.

The group was established at Cornell in 1979 under the auspices of the Center for Religion, Ethics and Social Policy.

For further information call Riggin at 277-1459.

Cross-Country Ski Workshop Offered

The Experimental College will offer a one-day workshop for beginners covering the basics of cross-country skiing. It will be offered twice—Feb. 6 and Feb. 13.

Each group will meet on campus from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and then again in the afternoon for a tour and instruction from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Registration is today and Friday from 10 a.m. to noon and from 3 to 4 p.m. in Terrace Lounge of Willard Straight Hall. Limit is 25 persons per section and the fee is $6 for students and $8 for non-students. For more information call 256-7131.

Sailing Courses Spaces Available

Some spaces are still open in two sections of Principles of Sailing and one section of Intermediate Sailing, offered by the Department of Physical Education.

Courses begin the week of Feb. 15, with lectures during the week and sailing sessions on weekends beginning in mid-April.

Students, staff or faculty may register at the Physical Education office Monday, Feb. 1, from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Principles is the basic course for beginners in small-boat and large-boat sailing. It is eight weeks long. Intermediate is a 10-week course that is more advanced.

Straight Sponsors Folk Guitar Lessons

The Willard Straight Hall Board will again be offering Phil Shapiro's Group Folk Guitar Lessons this spring. Classes, which will be held in the International Lounge of Willard Straight Hall, will be on Tuesday nights, beginning Feb. 2.

The cost for all eight lessons will be $20 payable at the first lesson.

The beginners class will meet on Tuesdays at 7 p.m. For those players who have some experience and who want to learn finger-picking, the intermediate class will be held at 8 p.m. All participants are expected to bring a guitar.

Anyone who is not sure which section he or she should attend may go to both. For further information call Shapiro at 844-4535.

SAGE CHAPEL

Seznec Will Talk At Service Sunday

Alain Seznec, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, will speak at the 11 a.m. Sunday, Jan. 31, Sage Chapel Convocation. His sermon topic will be "What Is Humane About the Humanities?"

Seznec came to Cornell in 1958. He served as associate dean of the Arts College from 1969 to 1973. During that period he also served as director of Cornell's six-year Ph.D. program and as adviser to the provost for the humanities and performing arts. He was named dean of the college in 1978.

Seznec was an instructor at Harvard University for five years before coming to Cornell. He was born in Paris and educated at the Sorbonne.

A specialist in 17th-century French literature, Seznec received the college's Clark Distinguished Teaching Award in 1967. His annotated edition of "La Princesse de Cleves," a 17th-century work by Marie Madeleine Lafayette, was published in 1961.

Modern Dance Course For Faculty and Staff

A course in modern dance for faculty and staff will be held from 12:15 to 1 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays in Helen Newman Gymnasium beginning Feb. 9.

Holly Carlson, instructor, said that the class will be based on the Erick Hawkins style, which she described as "a technique that works toward improved alignment and fluidity of movement with exercise that releases tension and improves flexibility while building strength and control from the body center."

Persons interested in registering for the course can do so by calling the Physical Education Office at 256-4286. Enrollment is limited to 30 people.

The Week in Sports

Four Key Ivy Contests Scheduled

Four key contests with Ivy League Opponents highlight the home action for Cornell athletic teams this week.

The Big Red women's basketball and swimming teams entertain squads from Pennsylvania on Friday and Saturday, respectively (the basketball game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Helen Newman and the swimming meet is set for the Teagle Pool at 1 p.m.), while the men's fencing team takes on Princeton at 2 p.m. Saturday at Teagle and the men's hockey team faces off against the Tigers at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Lynah Rink.

In other home events, the women's swimming team plays host to Oneonta State at 1 p.m. Tuesday, the women's basketball team takes on William Smith at 7 p.m. Wednesday and the men's and women's polo teams meet their respective counterparts from Fox Lea Farms Polo Club this Friday and Saturday night. Friday's polo match is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Oxley Polo Arena, while Saturday's match will begin at 8:15.

The women's basketball and swimming teams' games with Penn will be the first Ivy League action of the season for both squads. The Big Red women's cagers were scheduled to play at Barnard last Saturday, but that game was postponed because of the weather. Cornell, under first-year coach Linda Lerch, has already matched last season's win total and is currently 3-9 on the season. The Big Red's leading player is junior Rhonda Anderson, who is averaging 18.8 points and 10.6 rebounds per game.

The Cornell women's swimming team, also under a first year coach in Peter Orschiedt, is 3-2 on the year, owning victories over SUNY Buffalo, St. Lawrence and Nazareth. The Big Red's top swimmer all season long has been freshman Gretchen Landis, who leads the team with nine individual first places thus far in freestyle and individual medley events.

The Big Red men's fencing team will be looking for its first win of the season on Saturday against Princeton, having dropped matches to Yale and Columbia. Tuesday's contest with the Tigers is an extremely important one for the men's hockey team, as Dick Bertrand's squad must win nearly all its remaining games if it is to make its 18th consecutive appearance in the ECAC playoffs. The Red does come off a big 8-3 victory versus Northeastern on Saturday in Boston, as Roy Kerling and John Olds each had two goals and three assists against the Huskies, which entered the contest as the leader of the ECAC East Region.

The amazing Red basketball team, winner in the last second last Saturday against Columbia, 45-43, on a Mike Lucas jumper, will travel to Columbia this Saturday for, it hopes, an encore.