

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

Pound and Senior Win Alumni Trustee Election Which Better Last Year's Record by 900 Votes

Cornellian Council Announces Gift of $50,000 from Mrs. A. Graham Miles for New Dormitory

Reunion Records Shattered as 1,431 Come Back for Second Gathering Under Dix Plan

Baseball Team Defeats Pennsylvania First Alumni Week Game in Years—Wins from Alumni

PROVIDENCE HARTFORD

ESTABROOK & CO.

Sound Investments

New York Boston
24 Broad 15 State

ROGER H. WILLIAMS, '95,
New York Resident Partner

SPRINGFIELD NEW BEDFORD

HEMPHILL, NOYES & CO.

37 Wall Street, New York

Investment Securities

Philadelphia Albany Boston Baltimore
Pittsburgh Lebanon Scranton Syracuse

Jansen Noyes '10
Charles E. Gardner
Stanton Griffis '10
Harold C. Strong
Clifford Hemphill

Member of the New York Stock Exchange

Trustee Executor

"For the purpose of accomodating the citizens of the state"

Chartered 1822

The
Farmers' Loan and Trust Company

New York

No. 16-22 William Street
Branch: 475 Fifth Ave
at 41st Street

Letters of Credit
Foreign Exchange
Cable Transfers

Administrator Guardian

Member Federal Reserve Bank and New York Clearing House

Ithaca Trust Company

Resources Over Five Million Dollars

President.....Charles E. Treman
Vice-Pres.....Franklin C. Cornell
Vice-Pres. and Sec., W. H. Storms
Treasurer.....Sherman Peer

The Cascadilla Schools

GRADUATES GO TO CORNELL

College Preparatory Boarding School
SEPTEMBER TO JUNE
A High-Grade School for Boys—Small
Classes—All Athletics—Individual Attention
Special Tutoring School
OCTOBER TO JULY
Private Instruction in any Preparatory Subject

Trustees
F. C. Cornell Ernest Baker
C. D. Bostwick

Our 1923-24 Catalog will appeal to that school boy you are trying to interest in Cornell
A postal will bring it

F. B. CHAMBERLIN, Director
Box A, Ithaca, N. Y.

Stop Over at Ithaca

is permitted by the Lehigh Valley Railroad on practically all tickets. Cornellians travelling between New York or Philadelphia and Chicago can, by reason of the Lehigh Valley's service, take advantage of this without loss of additional business time, as shown by the following schedule:

(Daily) Westward 8:10 P. M. Lv.....New York (PENN. STA).....Ar. 8:40 P. M. Lv....Philadelphia (Reading Term'l).....Ar. (a) 4:37 A. M. Ar.....Ithaca.....(b)Lv. 11:40 P.M. 4:53 P. M. Lv.....Ithaca.....Ar. 12:37 Noon 8:25 A. M. Ar.....Chicago (M.C.R.R.).....Lv. 3:00 P. M.	(Daily) Eastward 8:26 A. M. 7:49 A. M. 11:40 P.M. Noon 3:00 P. M.
---	---

Sleepers { New York to Ithaca
 { Ithaca to Chicago

Sleepers { Chicago to Ithaca
 { Ithaca to New York

(a) Sleeper may be occupied at Ithaca until 8:00 A. M.
(b) Sleeper ready for occupancy at 9:00 P. M.

PENNSYLVANIA STATION—the Lehigh Valley's New York Passenger Terminal—is in the heart of the city, convenient to everywhere.

Be sure your next ticket reads via Lehigh Valley. Your stop over arrangement can be made with the conductor.

Lehigh Valley Railroad

♦ The Route of the Black Diamond ♦

FLOWERS by WIRE

delivered promptly to any address in the civilized world.

"Say it with Flowers"

Every event is an occasion for flowers.

The Bool Floral Company, Inc.

"The House of Universal Service"

Ithaca, New York

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

VOL. XXV. No. 37

ITHACA, N. Y., JUNE 21, 1923

PRICE 12 CENTS

COMMENCEMENT, moved up and concentrated, was a success, with the baccalaureate sermon an integral part of the occasion instead of an isolated premonition that came during the recovery from final examinations.

REUNIONS, too, were of the best since the Semi-Centennial, without a hitch or a jar. Kaleidoscopic, classy as that word is, fails to do justice to the riot of color that filled the baseball diamond during and after the alumni contest, in which so few were greatly interested that there were no regrets when the umpire called the game about the middle of the seventh inning, with the score about 8 to 2 in favor of the varsity.

CONFUSION about the score arose largely from the manipulations of the score board by members of the Class of '13, who tried to disprove the old adage about the veracity of figures. Some say the umpire called the game because of wet grounds, though the sun was shining bright and there had been no rain for days. At any rate, it would have been impossible to enforce ground rules, even if rules could have been made to cover the combinations of lacrosse, football, baseball, and general monkey tricks that were being indulged in by the carnival-clad old fellows, who were younger that day than the youngest sub-freshman.

REUNION BANDS deserve comment. If there is anything sadder than a reunion band on the third day, it has yet to come to light. They are literally played out. The B-flat cornet holds up pretty well, the drummer can still make a bit of noise, and a few oom-pahs are left in the tuba; but all the rest are shot. The swarthy Duca d'Abruzzi's concert band from the Italian quarter of Elmira, dressed in class-reunion colors, got along well until the zig-zag parade in the Drill Hall stopped suddenly, and the trombone player, coming upon the man in front without warning, swallowed all that part of his instrument which did not bend double and save him from complete catastrophe. When they recovered the instrument without the aid of an emetic, it was fortunate that most of the auditors did not understand Italian, though most of them got the tenor of the trombone-player's remarks.

THE ALUMNI LUNCH in the Drill Hall was all that it should be. The service was rapid, the viands good and abundant; some idea of the number who partook may be gained from the fact that one ton of chicken salad was served; and that required about seven hundred chickens, on an average of about three pounds of meat to the chicken. Of rolls, there were 5,460; it took 225 square feet of cake, 50 gallons of strawberry ice cream, 4 gallons of orange ice, and 396 pints of ginger ale and grape juice for the punch. On Friday and Saturday, the two days of lunches, 1,241 persons were served at one time on the first day, and 3,500 on the second.

THE HIGH SPOT of the Saturday luncheon was the parade of the Class of '73, on its fiftieth anniversary, followed by the rest of the classes, with the white-clad 1913, on its tenth reunion, most in evidence, from numbers and vociferations.

THE WEATHER could not have been better, except that evenings were a bit cool for final trystings, and both alumni and graduates felt that a vote of thanks and a testimonial were due to the weather man, Professor Wilford L. Wilson, local forecaster and head of the meteorology department.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOUR of the classes at their Saturday evening dinners was an enjoyable event that will, we hope, soon take on the designation, "tradition." In turn he visited '73, '78, The Early Eighties, the '99, '00, and '01 women, and the '13 women, dining in various rooms in Sage. Across the street he spoke to '88 in the Coffee House in Barnes Hall.

AFTER A PRESIDENTIAL CIGARETTE, he then spoke to the men of '17, '18, '19, '20, and '21 in the Old Armory—the war classes, whose services to the country he memorialized and suggested they continue in the less spectacular calls of civil life. Next in turn came the ten-year class, feeling pretty fit and proud of hanging up a new reunion record. The President's talk interrupted their imported 425-pound pianist in his powerful rendition of the accompaniment to popular songs. At Sheldon Court next, the Class of '08, with about four square feet of space per member, heard an excellent talk on meteorology with special reference to humidity, and the President slipped over into the quieter but no less enthusiastic meetings of '93 and '98 in Cascadilla.

FROM CASCADILLA the itinerary took him to Baker Cafeteria, where the men of the classes from '99 to '03 were greeted, and where John Hoyle's crew squads had the opportunity of listening to the talk to the men of the preceding generation. Possibly the most spectacular dinner was that of the women of '17, '18, '19, '20, and '21, in the stately Risley dining hall, with their masses of brilliant color and their unexpected large attendance, the last to be visited that evening.

THE TOUR COVERED thirteen dinners by twenty-one classes, of which eight held separate affairs for their men and women. The ALUMNI NEWS editor, who had the good fortune to conduct the President, was enabled to hear all thirteen addresses, each designed especially for the auditors, each charming, each as different as though they had been thought out for so many personal friends. Apparently there was a question of the advisability of making the tour an annual affair in the mind of but one person. Naturally enough, Dr. Farrand is not quite as enthusiastic about it as were the alumni he addressed.

THE SADNESS of commencement days will some day be written,—the long, long thoughts that come at the end of the four years with all their zests and comradeships, the knowledge that such days can come back no more, that for some the music of the Chimes floating over the valley shall never be heard again,—these are things that all may feel but that few can or will express.

TWO BOYS under the stars on a cloudless Ithaca night with the sound of waterfalls in their ears; they do not talk as they watch the Great Dipper circle across the northern sky and see the Pleiades wheel up in the east, for there are so many things they would say, and so many that they can not say. To-morrow one goes south and east, and the other north and west; never again will their paths lie so close together; never again will their lives be laid in such pleasant places, and they know it. Though their hands do not touch, their spirits are bound each to each. After a while, even the solace of pipes silently smoked loses its savor. And thus they wait, thus they feel the cool breath of the first stirrings of the morning breeze, thus they see the first pre-sage of light in the east, thus they hear the trial notes of the earliest robin. Then they stand at hand-clasp, before they go their respective ways, with no other words than "Good-bye, old man!" "Good-bye!"

ALUMNI back, and graduates going! Why do the boys of '23 call one another "old man" while the members of the classes in the seventies greet their chums as "young fellow?" Is it because they would wish to persuade themselves that they are what their greetings signify?

MOST TRAGIC of all, the boy or girl who just fails of graduation, with father, mother, and little sister come to see the exercises. There are no words for that!

EXAMINATIONS for free scholarships in any of the musical departments of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music are to be held in Ithaca on September 15, 1923. The one hundred scholarships vary in value from eighty to six hundred dollars.

Pound and Senior Elected

Mrs. Comstock a Close Third—Nine Hundred More Ballots Cast than at 1922 Record Election

In an election in which 7,716 ballots were presented, nine hundred more than in the record election of 1922, Cuthbert W. Pound '86, of Lockport, New York, and John L. Senior '01, of Winnetka, Illinois, were elected Alumni Trustees for terms ending in 1928. Anna Botsford Comstock '85, of Ithaca, although receiving about 120 more votes than last year, lacked 110 of equalling the count in favor of Senior.

Cuthbert W. Pound '86

Seventy ballots were rejected for one reason or another, the voter not having followed the instructions printed on the ballot, a gain in literacy of 43 over last year's rejections of 113.

An unusually large number of voters took this opportunity of letting the world know of their approval of some other person than those on the ballots. Each year the committee of seven, counting the ballots, has its monotonous task brightened and its work increased by these complimentary votes. This year fifty-four votes were thus cast for thirty-six candidates, one receiving six; three, four; four, two; and twenty-eight, one each.

The report of the committee, presented at the Associate Alumni meeting by its chairman, Andrew J. Whinery '10, is as follows:

Ballots for two nominees.....	7,030
Ballots for one nominee.....	616
Total ballots counted.....	7,646
Illegal ballots.....	70
Total ballots cast.....	7,716

THE VOTE:

Cuthbert W. Pound '86.....	5,966
John L. Senior '01.....	4,380
Anna B. Comstock '85.....	4,270
Scattering (36 names).....	54

SPORT STUFF

The reunions were highly useful and enjoyable. Old friendships were renewed and I was able to gather much valuable material for my thesis "On the Relation of Beer to Singing Tenor."

All scientific men have realized for years that a relationship exists, but, as far as I know, no other savant has attempted to reduce the phenomena of the subject to fixed laws and formulae.

Just about two more reunions and I ought to be in shape to publish. (Boy! Page Sir Isaac Newton and see if Dr. Pasteur is down in the wash room.)

Seriously, however, it will be rather fun for a change to wear my Doctor's hoods and swimming medals and march in the academic procession at Commencement instead of standing on the edge and whispering ribald remarks to swelled up friends as they prance by, high hatting their regular buddies.

The crews leave tomorrow for Poughkeepsie. Our clients are advised that bets on them are highly speculative and are not to be classed as investments legal for Trustees and Savings Banks. R. B.

FAVOR CLASS RECORDS

The annual meeting of the Cornell Association of Class Secretaries, held in the west dome of Barnes Hall on June 16, was attended by representatives from twenty-eight classes. Of these, twenty were secretaries of classes and eight were delegates.

In order to stimulate interest in the publication of class records it was voted that the Association would underwrite the expense of the first book to be published by any class up to twenty percent of its cost, with the understanding that the limit of possible appropriation would not exceed $250. A committee consisting of William J. Norton '02 as chairman, Henry W. Sackett '75, and Foster M. Coffin '12, was appointed to determine which class should receive this award.

New secretaries of classes were announced as follows: '79, Clayton Ryder; '98, William W. Macon; '01, Clarence H. Fay. All of the officers of the association were re-elected, as follows: Andrew J. Whinery '10, president; Charles D. Bostwick '92, vice-president; Clark S. Northup '93, treasurer; and Foster M. Coffin '12, secretary; executive committee, R. G. H. Speed '71, Willard Austen '91, and Ross W. Kellogg '12.

LOUIS A. EUERTES '97 gave his lecture on snores before the Syracuse Rotary Club on June 1. From all accounts it was much appreciated.

PROFESSOR ALMA BINZEL, who is now at the University of Wisconsin, gave a lecture on "The Importance of the Earlier Years" at a community banquet in Fort Wayne, Indiana, on May 21.

Announce New Dormitory

Cornellian Council Receives Gift of $50,000 from Mrs. A. Graham Miles for Construction of Boldt Tower

A gift of $50,000 by Mrs. A. Graham Miles for the construction of one of the towers in the group of residential halls was announced at the annual meeting of the Cornellian Council on June 16. This unit will be named Boldt Tower, in memory of the late George C. Boldt. Mrs. Miles is the only daughter of Mr. Boldt, who as a Trustee of the University, conceived the plan for the group of residential halls for men.

John L. Senior '01

Boldt Tower will adjoin Boldt Hall, now being completed as the gift of alumni to the University. It will face University Avenue just to the west of Boldt Hall.

Although Mrs. Miles is not herself a Cornell graduate, she has been closely connected with the University. Her father was for years chairman of the Board of Trustees; her husband is a member of the Class of 1897; and her brother, George C. Boldt, Jr., is a Cornellian of the Class of 1905.

No announcement has been made as to when Boldt Tower will be constructed.

WOMEN who are in or near New York and were formerly members of college glee club or choral and choir members are invited to join the Women's University Glee Club, of which Margaret L. Stecker '06 is an officer. The first meeting of the coming season is announced for October 1, 1923, at the Allerton House, 130 East Fifty-Seventh Street, New York. Seniors and Cornell alumnae who may be interested are asked to communicate with Mrs. Wesley Hunt, 471 Park Avenue, New York.

Second Year of Dix Plan Breaks Reunion Records

More Than Fourteen Hundred Alumni Claim Campus for Colorful Gathering—Ten-Year Class Leads in Attendance Again

BREAKING all records since the Semi-Centennial Celebration in attendance, number of classes holding formal reunions, and in general enthusiasm for Cornell, 1,431 men and women of the twenty-one reunion classes and others registered in the Drill Hall on Friday and Saturday. The registration for the two days exceeded that of last year by 252. Many remarked on the advantage of the Dix plan, in effect this year for the second time, of bringing back together groups of classes that attended the University at the same time. As was the case last year, the ten-year class had the largest attendance, but 1913 with 165 registered exceeded the high record set last year by 1912 with 145. The younger classes were next in attendance, '21 having 141 registered, '18 having 135, and '19 and '20 each having 103.

As usual all classes paraded around the Drill Hall headed by their bands, both imported and composed of their members, before both baseball games. Each of the twenty-one had its own costume; they ranged from red and orange boleros with sombreros, Turkish costumes, peppermint striped swallowtails, sailor suits, and purple pajama suits, to fancy hatbands, jockey caps, and orange colored leis. Women of all classes, but particularly of the younger group, were much in evidence this year, most of them with distinctive scarfs to differentiate classes. Incidentally, it is said that their programs were most carefully thought out and provided something doing every minute they were in Ithaca, including picnics, boat-rides, auto rides, and reunion breakfasts, indoor and out.

Reunion visitors began to arrive in Ithaca on Thursday, and early Friday morning the class secretaries were at their tents on the Drill Hall floor to outfit visitors as soon as they had registered. Immediately after luncheon in the Drill Hall Friday, the classes formed to round up their members for the parade to Hoy Field. For about an hour the building echoed with music from several bands and from numerous fifes, drums, and tin whistles, leading the multi-colored lines about the drill floor. Clarence B. (Kid) Kugler '03 maintained his continuous reunion average by appearing again in person with his band.

Many of the classes had their own doings after the baseball game with Pennsylvania, but most of the visitors and many Commencement guests gathered on the Quadrangle at sundown for the singing of Cornell songs on Goldwin Smith steps by seniors and alumni. Following this, class smokers and other meetings occupied most of the gathering places in town, and the Senior Ball in the Old Armory kept many from sleeping that night.

Annual meetings of the Cornellian Council, The Associate Alumni, the Law Association, and other official bodies occupied most of Saturday morning, but '19 found time to defeat '18 in a baseball game on Alumni Field, and reunion costumes were to be seen on the golf links and on the streets of the town as well as on the University Campus.

Approximately three thousand alumni and their families, seniors and their guests, and members of the Faculty and their guests and families were the guests of the University at luncheon in the Drill

Hall on Saturday. President and Mrs. Farrand received them. The Class of '73 made a brave showing with its thirty-four members, bettering the attendance of last year's fifty-year class, which had thirty registered.

The group of five younger classes had its banquet together, the men in the Old Armory, and the women in Prudence Risley. Other classes held their banquets at various places about town Saturday night, and as he did last year, the President spoke a few words of greeting to each group.

The fifteen-year class were hosts at a rally of all classes in Bailey Hall, which was packed to the doors. Although '13 was much in evidence before the program got underway, presenting several impromptu stunts from the stage, the members of '08 finally managed to find seats there, and the meeting was started by John W. Taussig '08, who presided. Professor James T. Quarles gave several selections on the organ, and President Farrand greeted the alumni for the University. Louis A. Fuertes '97 and John T. (Terry) McGovern '00 rendered duets on fifes, which greatly pleased the audience. Cass W. Whitney '13 sang the Alumni Song, and Eric Dudley led the singing of Cornell songs.

The plan inaugurated last year of housing the men together met with general approval again this year, although members of the five younger classes, who were assigned to the Drill Hall towers, were heard to wish for more dormitories so there would soon be room for them there. The older classes lived together in the dormitories up to their capacity.

"The Early Eighties," composed of members of '79 to '87, inclusive, which was formed last year for the purpose of holding annual reunions, was in evidence this year. These nine classes had their headquarters together and shared their program with mutual enjoyment.

Some indication of the increased number of visitors over last year may be gained from the fact that the railroads report 470 reduced fare certificates validated, as compared with 390 last year.

Registration for Reunions

CLASS	TOTAL	MEN	WOMEN
'72	6	6
'73	34	34
'74	4	4
'75	4	4
'77	5	5
'78	15	14	1
'79	9	7	2
'80	7	6	1
'81	9	7	2
'82	2	2
'83	9	8	1
'84	10	6	4
'85	2	2
'86	6	6
'88	28	25	3
'89	6	6
'90	9	7	2
'91	9	7	2
'92	7	6	1
'93	58	55	3
'94	4	4
'95	7	7
'96	8	6	2
'97	9	6	3
'98	76	64	12
'99	17	16	1
'00	38	28	10
'01	59	52	7
'02	8	6	2
'03	59	47	12
'04	11	7	4
'05	12	10	2
'06	10	9	1
'07	12	11	1
'08	107	92	15
'09	17	13	4
'10	11	6	5
'11	13	12	1
'12	22	16	6
'13	165	144	21
'14	12	9	3
'15	16	12	4
'16	19	13	6
'17	59	44	15
'18	135	80	55
'19	103	65	38
'20	103	51	52
'21	141	81	60
'22	42	18	24
	1,431	1,043	388

Cornellian Council Elects

Announce Increase in Alumni Fund Nearly Fifty Percent Greater Than in Any Previous Year

The Cornellian Council announced at its annual meeting on June 16 that $115,115 in cash and securities had been collected and that it expected approximately $10,000 more before June 30, the end of the present fiscal year. New subscriptions totaling $45,000 were reported received during the year, most of which are to be duplicated annually.

Both in total amount collected and in number of new subscriptions this year's gifts to the Alumni Fund exceed by nearly fifty percent the record of any previous year.

Of the $115,115 collected, $67,000 was in unallocated gifts, and the balance was given for specific purposes, largely for construction of new dormitory units or as additions to permanent endowment. The Council recommended to the Board of Trustees that $10,000 of the net cash balance in the Alumni Fund at the end of the fiscal year be appropriated toward the further cost of Boldt Hall, and that the balance, after paying the salary of the Alumni Representative and adding gifts made during the year to the Cornell Alumni Endowment Fund, be used as an emergency fund by the University.

George D. Crofts '01 was elected president of the Cornellian Council for the coming year; with Frank E. Gannett '98 as vice-president. The newly elected executive committee consists of J. DuPratt White '90, Walter P. Cooke '91, Harrison D. McFaddin '94, Frank E. Gannett '98, George D. Crofts '01, Thomas Fleming, Jr., '05, and Walter L. Todd '09.

Charles M. Russell '95, Lewis L. Tatum '97, Frederick E. Jackson '00, Walter C. Teagle '00, and William Metcalf, Jr., '01, were elected members at large of the Council, and Harrison D. McFaddin '94 and Walter L. Todd '09 were elected to fill two vacancies in the membership-at-large.

Members of the Council present at Saturday's meeting were Dr. Herbert D. Schenck '82, Ebenezer T. Turner '83, Mrs. Anna B. Comstock '85, Albert E. Metzger '88, Leon Stern '89, J. DuPratt White '90, Walter P. Cooke '91, Robert T. Mickle '92, E. Vail Stebbins '93, Edward S. Sanderson '94, Edwin P. Young '94, Harry J. Clark '95, Ernest M. Bull '98, Frank E. Gannett '98, Wilfred L. Wright '00, George D. Crofts '01, William Metcalf, Jr., '01, Ezra B. Whitman '01, Edward L. Robertson '01, Raymond P. Morse '03, Thomas Fleming, Jr., '05, Paul A. Schoellkopf '06, William G. Mennen '08, Karl W. Gass '12, Weyland Pfeiffer '16, Charles C. Bailey '21, and Harold Flack '12, executive secretary.

JAMES G. WHITE '85

The following article by Charles Beaver White was recently reprinted by The Penn State Alumni News from The Penn State Engineer:

That perseverance along with the will and determination to see things through are qualities which spell success, is well brought out in the career of James Gilbert White, head of the J. G. White Engineering Corporation in New York. Because he was a leader in small things Mr. White earned rapid advancement until he became head of one of the best known engineering corporations of the day.

At the age of sixteen Mr. White entered Pennsylvania State College, taking the course in arts, and graduated with the degree of A.B. in 1882. During the college period he spent his summer vacations engaging in engineering work which paralleled his studies, thus giving him a deeper insight and a more thorough knowledge of theory and practice as related.

Returning to Penn State, he concentrated upon a study of civil engineering. He immediately applied his newly acquired knowledge by engaging during the following summer on the reconnaissance and location survey of a steam railroad in Central Pennsylvania.

In 1883 he entered Lehigh with the intention of studying mining engineering, but shortly afterward he became interested in electrical progress and prospects, and decided to adopt electrical engineering as a profession. Consequently he entered Cornell in 1884, where he specialized in electrical engineering and physics.

He spent the summer of 1884 in the office of the Master Mechanic of the Cambria Iron Company. In 1885 he received the degree of Ph.D. at Cornell. Subsequently he was instructor in physics in the University of Nebraska. Later he became one of the organizers of the Western Engineering Company. That company, of which he was president, did a large amount of construction work in connection with the building of electric railways, and was purchased in 1890 by the Edison United Manufacturing Company.

Mr. White then went to New York, where he took charge of the Department of Electric Railway Construction and Equipment for the Edison interests. Soon after the formation of the Edison General Electric Company he resigned and started an engineering and contracting business on his own account under the title of J. G. White & Company. Subsequently, with O. T. Crosby, he formed the White-Crosby Company. That company was, however, dissolved in 1897; the title of J. G. White & Company was resumed and the company was incorporated.

During these years Mr. White personally supervised the design and construction of a large number of power houses, both

(Continued on page 458)

Establish Memorial Fund

Class of '01 Subscribes $10,000 to Assist Chinese Students in Honor of Willard D. Straight

At a business session held just before its reunion dinner at the Senate on Friday evening, the Class of 1901 established the Willard Straight Memorial Fund of approximately $10,000 the annual income from which shall be given to "worthy industrious, but needy Chinese students at Cornell to assist in their education." The President was given sole authority over the distribution of the income from the fund.

At its reunion in 1921 the Class appointed a committee of which Manton Wyvell was chairman, to draft a resolution which would form the basis for the Willard Straight Memorial. At the dinner on Friday Supreme Court Justice James O'Malley, who was senior president of the Class, called upon Wyvell to report.

The resolution, which was unanimously adopted, refers to Mr. Straight's interest in the Chinese people and his desires to cement the friendship between China and the United States, expresses appreciation of his character and achievements in the fields of statesmanship and finance, and goes on to stipulate the terms of the gift to be known as the Willard Straight Memorial.

The funds are to be invested by the Trustees of the University and the annual income placed at the disposal of the President to be used at his discretion for the assistance of "worthy, industrious, but needy Chinese students at Cornell."

The establishment of the memorial by the class of 1901 seems particularly fitting in view of the fact that the Class's interest in China has been stimulated not only by Mr. Straight but also by the achievements in international politics of the Honorable Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, who is a member of the class and was present at this reunion.

Within half an hour the forty members present at the dinner subscribed $5,200 and it is expected that others not present will easily increase the fund to $10,000.

President O'Malley appointed the following committee to collect the fund and perfect the memorial:

Manton Wyvell, chairman; Sao Ke Alfred Sze, Walter Moffat, Edward T. Robertson, Edward R. Alexander, William H. Miller, William Metcalf, Jr., John L. Senior and Walter E. Phelps.

Major Straight's widow was elected an honorary member of the Class.

NEW YORK GOLF TOURNAMENT

The annual golf tournament of the Cornell Club of New York, held June 6 at the Westchester Biltmore Country Club.

Rye, New York, was attended by about forty alumni.

The players having the four lowest gross scores (36 holes) who qualified for the Haviland and Becker Cups were Joseph F. Taylor '96, Elihu W. Fowler '10, Howard Hasbrouck '90, and Reginald E. Marsh '06.

The finals for these cups were played at match play at the same course on June 20. The winner will be Club champion for 1923.

The prize winners of the day were: Low Gross, 36 holes, Joseph F. Taylor '96; Low Net, 36 holes, Edward T. Magoffin '00; Low Net, 18 holes, Morning Class A, Edward W. McCallie '09; Low Net, 18 holes, Morning, Class B, William L. Bowman '04; Low Net, 18 holes, Afternoon Class A, Elihu W. Fowler '10; Low Net, 18 holes, Afternoon, Class B, Harrison D. McFaddin '94.

SENIOR SINGING, by general consensus of opinion, has been better this year than ever before.

Women's Federation Meets

Elects Officers and Discusses Larger Alumnae Representation on Trustee Board

Among the clubs represented at the annual meeting of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs on June 15 were Buffalo, Cleveland, New York, Bridgeport, Connecticut, Pittsburgh, and Ithaca. Mrs. Charles W. Curtis '88 presided, and reported that the executive committee of the Federation had asked the Board of Trustees for consideration of more direct representation on the Board, and that a copy of the resolution had also been sent to the Associate Alumni.

Miss Elizabeth Neely '19 gave a report of her publicity work for the Federation in the interest of Mrs. Comstock's election.

Dr. Mary Crawford Schuster '04 was elected first vice-president, and Mrs. Blin S. Cushman '96 was re-elected second vice-president.

Miss Mary E. Donahue '21 gave the secretary and treasurer's report, showing a balance of approximately $270 in the treasury. Mrs. Anna B. Comstock '85 gave a report of the use which had been made during the year of the Dearstyme Fund to help Cornell women working their way through the University.

Miss Lois C. Osborn '16 presented a proposal that the Federation should take part in the raising of the Ellen Richards Prize, given by the American Association for Scientific Research, in which a number of women's colleges are interested, and the Federation voted to contribute $50 to this fund, clubs to be assessed by size.

The report of the president showed that the Federation now has seventeen clubs, including five organized during the year.

Dr. Georgia L. White '96, dean of women, gave a brief report on dormitories.

More than three hundred alumnae and senior women attended a breakfast on Saturday morning at the Home Economics Cafeteria, when the members of Mortar Board gave reports of women's activities.

SENIOR AND ALUMNI SINGING FRIDAY EVENING

Photo by Troy

Published for the alumni of Cornell University by the Cornell Alumni News Publishing Company, Incorporated.

Published weekly during the college year and monthly in July and August; forty issues annually. Issue No. 1 is published the last Thursday of September. Weekly publication (numbered consecutively) ends the last week in June. Issue No. 40 is published in August and is followed by an index of the entire volume, which will be mailed on request.

Subscription price $4.00 a year, payable in advance. Foreign postage 40 cents a year extra. Single copies twelve cents each.

Should a subscriber desire to discontinue his subscription a notice to that effect should be sent in before its expiration. Otherwise it is assumed that a continuance of the subscription is desired.

Checks, drafts and orders should be made payable to Cornell Alumni News.

Correspondence should be addressed—

Cornell Alumni News, Ithaca, N. Y.

Editor-in-Chief R. W. SAILOR '07
Business Manager E. P. TUTTLE '18
Managing Editor H. A. STEVENSON '19
Circulation Manager GEO. WM. HORTON

Associate Editors

CLARK S. NORTUP '93 BRISTOW ADAMS
ROMEYN BERRY '04 WARREN E. SCHUTT '05
H. G. STUTZ '07 FOSTER M. COFFIN '12
E. P. TUTTLE '18 FLORENCE J. BAKER

News Committee of the Associate Alumni

W. W. Macon '98, Chairman
N. H. Noyes '06 J. P. Dods '08

Officers of the Cornell Alumni News Publishing Company, Incorporated; John L. Senior, President. R. W. Sailor, Treasurer; Woodford Patterson, Secretary. Office, 123 West State Street, Ithaca, N. Y.

Members of Alumni Magazines, Associated

Printed by the Cornell Publications Printing Co.

Entered as Second Class Matter at Ithaca, N. Y.

ITHACA, N. Y., JUNE 21, 1923

THE REORGANIZED ALUMNI

THE fifty-second annual meeting of the Associate Alumni was an epoch making meeting in several ways. Alumni who remember the wordy battles that the Association has staged in the past over the mere amendment of a section of the by-laws may be puzzled to learn that the whole document in all its many sections was replaced in toto by a new set of by-laws in the space of fifteen minutes and without a dissenting vote.

At the same time the name was changed after having lasted for fifty-one years, again without a dissenting vote and with virtually no discussion.

It is a high compliment to the personnel of the by-laws committee that its amendments were accepted without argument, on its endorsement, and with merely its explanation of the fundamental changes. Possibly the document had been read by all and they were satisfied. This we doubt. There is now considerably greater interest in general alumni affairs than at many times in the past. It probably does not manifest itself in the reading of by-laws set in six-point type.

The advocates of the Federation of Cornell Clubs have had their way. They have not, however, been obliged to destroy, or even maim, the existing body, the Associate Alumni, to gain their point. Bit by bit, duplicate representation has been eliminated until the suffrage belongs only to those who are not members of Cornell clubs but who are present at meetings, and to the club members through their chosen delegates. The responsibility for, and the support of, general alumni affairs are assumed by the only logical groups of alumni that are in a position to actually meet, discuss, and vote upon Cornell problems.

The gain in power is obvious. It was obvious before, but at that time there seemed no possibility of a compromise. The compromise has come without its being suspected.

The net result is a going concern so organized that everyone can give it allegiance and wholehearted support. The old association, with its new name and its new form, is still empowered to transact the business required of it by law. It is also able to do anything it has been able to do in the past, and anything that the Federation of Cornell Clubs could have done.

SEND VACATION ADDRESS

Subscribers contemplating long summer vacations could help our mailing department by sending us the addresses to which they want the ALUMNI NEWS continued during the vacation periods.

JAMES G. WHITE '85

(Continued from page 456)

steam and water-driven, as well as complete systems of track and overhead construction, bridges, electric light and railway distribution circuits.

In 1900 he organized J. G. White & Company, Limited, of London. That company has carried out many important projects, several of which received Mr. White's personal attention. It built many miles of railways in Great Britain and her Colonies, and in South America the activities directed by Mr. White included the construction of tramways in various cities, hydro-electric plants, electric lighting properties, gas plants, etc.

A building company was also formed by Mr. White in England about 1904 which engaged extensively in building construction and built some of the finest structures there, including Cotton Exchange, Liverpool, the Ritz and Waldorf Hotels, London, and the Automobile Club, London.

In 1913 Mr. White formed the J. G. White Engineering Corporation and The J. G. White Management Corporation, both of which corporations are controlled by J. G. White & Company, Inc., and were formed for the purpose of assuming the functions previously exercised respectively by engineering-construction and management departments of the parent company. Since their formation these corporations have maintained the prestige to which they succeeded, by undertaking and satisfactorily carrying out an extremely diversified and impressive list of work. Since the formation of the Engineer-

(Continued on page 461)

OBITUARY

William P. Thompson '74

William Palmer Thompson died on February 16.

He came to Cornell in 1871 and received the degree of B. S. in 1874. He was a member of the Tom Hughes Boat Club and rowed No. 4 on the Thompson Crew. He had been a resident of Fresno, Calif., for many years.

Alexander M. Curtiss '81

Dr. Alexander Main Curtiss died on June 12 at the home of his son, Coleman Curtiss, in Buffalo.

Curtiss was born in Utica, N. Y., on October 6, 1856, the son of Charles G. and Cecelia May Curtiss. When he was four years old his parents moved to Buffalo, where he received his early education. After graduating from the Central High School, he attended the New York Homeopathic Medical College and the Pulte Medical College in Ohio, entering Cornell as a junior in 1879, for special work. He was a member of Alpha Delta Phi.

He opened his first office in Pearl Street, Buffalo, later moving to Elmwood Avenue, but he had not practiced for about thirty years. He was at one time connected with the Railroad Y. M. C. A. in Buffalo, and was in the malting and grain business through a sort of legacy from his father.

Dr. Curtiss married Miss Sophie J. Coleman of Dunkirk in 1880. She died in 1902, and in 1917 he married Miss Mary O. Lebossier of Marlborough, Mass., who died about two years ago. Surviving him are three sons, Coleman, Geoffrey, and Charles Gould Curtiss, all of Buffalo, and a brother, Harlow C. Curtiss.

John J. Chapin '89

John Jewett Chapin died at his home in Port Washington, N. Y., on June 8, of angina pectoris.

He was the only son of the late Dr. John Bassett Chapin, for many years superintendent of the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane in Philadelphia, and previously founder and first superintendent of the New York State Hospital for the Insane at Willard. He attended Williams College, and entered Sibley College in 1886 as a member of the class of 1889. He was a member of Chi Psi.

Chapin had invented attachments for adding machines and typewriters, and numerous other appliances. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Chapin, and three sisters, Mrs. W. M. Gilbert of Yonkers, Mrs. J. M. Mosher of Albany, and Mrs. Charles Bodine of Geneva.

Andrew Y. McDonald '91

Andrew Young McDonald died in Dubuque, Iowa, on April 20. He was a student in the University in 1887-8, and a member of Zeta Psi.

Associate Alumni Becomes Cornell Alumni Corporation

General Alumni Association Changes its Name and its Type of Organization

THE fifty-second annual meeting of the Associate Alumni was held on Saturday, June 16, in Barnes Hall. The meeting was well attended, there being over a hundred and fifty present when President Thomas Fleming, Jr., '05 called it to order at 10.45 a. m., and a constant flow from the various organization meetings as they adjourned ran up the total to perhaps two hundred.

The most important item of business transacted by the association was the adoption by unanimous vote of its new by-laws giving direct representation on its board of directors to each of the twelve geographical districts into which the country has been arbitrarily divided, and the transferring of many important matters of regular business from the June meeting in Ithaca to the annual fall convention outside of Ithaca.

Theoretically of less importance, the resolution to change the name of the Associate Alumni to the "Cornell Alumni Corporation" is likely to be as important in its results as the reorganization by districts. The motive underlying this change was to offer to the alumni in general a name that indicated the purpose and construction of the organization.

The business transacted by the meeting was as follows:

The reading of the minutes of the fifty-first annual meeting was dispensed with. The report of the Board of Directors was read by the acting secretary, R. W. Sailor '07, accepted, and filed.

The joint report of the retiring Alumni Trustees, John L. Senior '01, and Cuthbert W. Pound '86, was read by President Thomas Fleming, Jr., '05. It was accepted and filed, and votes of thanks were given to them for their services to the alumni.

Treasurer William W. Macon '98 read his report for the fiscal year just ended. It was accepted and filed and a vote of thanks was tendered to him for his long and valuable services.

The proposal to amend the by-laws produced some little discussion in which John H. Scott '09, chairman of the committee, replied to requests from the floor for information as to the purposes of the fundamental changes embodied in the new document. The responses brought out clearly the development of the federation of clubs idea and the changes in the distribution of representation, as well as the purpose in limiting suffrage to the delegates and to the individuals present who were not members of Cornell clubs.

After discussion the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

RESOLVED: that the By-Laws of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University be and the same hereby are amended so as to read as published in the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS of May 24, 1923, pp. 409-410, and the existing By-Laws be hereby repealed.

Another resolution, notice of which had been given in the same issue, called for the changing of the name of the association from the "Associate Alumni of Cornell University" to the "Cornell Alumni Corporation." This resolution, authorizing the board of directors to change the name of the corporation, was also unanimously adopted.

A vote of thanks was given to the committee on by-laws.

Andrew J. Whinery '10, president of the Association of Class Secretaries, reported for the Association the increasing success of the present plan of reunions and the efforts already initiated for the reunions in 1924.

Mrs. C. W. Curtis '88, president of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs, reported for the Federation that its executive committee had met with the Committee on General Administration of the Board of Trustees of the University and discussed with them the problem of securing representation of the alumnae on the Board of Trustees. Their request included having one woman Trustee elected by the alumni and one by the Board itself, as well as one appointed by the Governor. This action would contemplate increasing the number of University Trustees by three. The Trustee committee recommended that the Federation present the problem to the alumni for discussion and for action by the fall convention. Mrs. Curtis's report was accepted and filed.

Foster M. Coffin '12, as chairman of the committee on the revision of the ballots and method of voting for Alumni Trustees, reported that the 1923 ballot represented all that could be done without change in the University charter, and that the proposal to advance the date of the closing of nominations could not be adopted until such change in the charter was deemed advisable.

The committee on resolutions offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS we have learned of the illness of Willard Winfield Rowlee '88, who for many years was secretary of this Association, a devoted alumnus, and a very interested member of this Association and who by his counsel and advice and knowledge of the affairs of our Association has performed invaluable service to the alumni and to the University, therefore

'08 PARADES ACROSS THE FIELD

Photo by Troy

The fifteen-year class was only one of those whose antics interfered with players and amused spectators at the Varsity-Alumni baseball game on Hoy Field.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Association extend to him its sincere sympathy and cordial good wishes for an early recovery.

Andrew J. Whinery '10, chairman of the elections committee, announced the result of the election of Alumni Trustees. The report was accepted and Cuthbert W. Pound '86 and John L. Senior '01 were declared elected.

The report of the nominating committee was received, and on motion the secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the reelection of the retiring officers, directors, and members of the nominating committee for terms ending ostensibly in 1924 and 1926, respectively. Actually, however, it was pointed out that all the present officials would go out of office with the convention election in October, 1923.

Walter P. Cooke '91 renewed the invitation of Buffalo to all alumni to attend the convention in that city in October, and sketched the plans for the convention as they then stood.

On motion it was unanimously voted that a committee be appointed by President Fleming to place the matter of women's representation on the Board of Trustees before the alumni, with the object in view of obtaining action at the October convention for the guidance of the University Trustees in considering the problem.

Mr. Scott spoke briefly of the desirability of each alumnus who was present doing what he could toward increasing the attendance from his own club at the convention in Buffalo.

The meeting adjourned shortly after 12 m.; elapsed time 1:18.

Lack of space in this week's issue of the ALUMNI NEWS compels the postponement of the printing of the reports of the retiring Trustees, the board of directors, the treasurer, and possibly several others, until a later issue.

PRESIDENT FARRAND urged education as the only possible way to build up a healthy nation before the annual convention of the Central New York Public Health Association in Syracuse on June 1. He gave the commencement address to the nurses graduating from the Rochester General, the Homeopathic, and Highland Hospitals at public services in Convention Hall, Rochester, New York, on June 6.

PROFESSOR GEORGE F. WARREN '05 is the speaker at the two-year commencement exercises at Massachusetts Agricultural College, Amherst, Massachusetts. Dr. Warren has recently been chosen by ballot of the cooperative and marketing associations of the district comprising division three of the Springfield Federal Land Bank as bank director for that division.

ATHLETICS

Varsity Crew Improves

The crews left Tuesday night for their rowing headquarters, the Oaks, at Highland, there to tune up for the Intercollegiate regatta on June 28. No changes have been made in any of the eights since the reorganization of the Varsity reported last week, and in all probability Coach Hoyle will stand pat on the combinations as they are now boated.

The new Varsity has made steady improvement; in form and power it is distinctly better than the original crew, and the scraps between it and the fast freshman crew are now real tussles. The men are rowing together better and there is a fine spirit in the eight. The hope is that they will keep gaining steadily until the day of the race.

Bickley Baseball Captain

George Bickley of Philadelphia, Pa., a junior in the College of Agriculture, was elected captain of the baseball team just before the Pennsylvania game last Friday. Bickley played on his freshman team and last year was a utility infielder and outfielder. This season he started in the infield, but later became an outfielder and developed into one of the most consistent players on the squad.

Team Defeats Pennsylvania

Playing snappy baseball, the Varsity defeated Pennsylvania by a score of 7 to 3 in the Commencement week game on Hoy Field last Friday, thereby securing revenge for the Memorial Day defeat at the hands of the Quakers in Philadelphia, and by the same score reversed. It was the first time in some years that Cornell has beaten Pennsylvania in Alumni Week, and the victory was well earned. This team has seldom played as good baseball. Better pitching, better fielding, better all around play won for the Cornellians. The Quaker fielding was ragged, five errors being charged against them.

Except for the sixth inning, when Pennsylvania got to him for three hits and two runs, Henderson was effective. He struck out but one man, and allowed ten hits, but kept them well scattered and managed to work out of one or two tight situations.

Cornell drove Rohrer from the mound in the fourth inning, having secured five hits and five runs by that time. Yadusky, his successor, allowed but four hits, but scored a Cornell run by a wild pitch.

The visitors scored in the opening inning on a base on balls to Goldblatt, a sacrifice by Westgate, and Farrell's single to left field. Cornell came right back, however, in their half of the inning, scoring three runs on hits by Woodin and Frantz, a base on balls to Fox, Bickley's sacrifice, and a wild throw by Shuff. The home team increased its lead in the fourth by adding two runs, on a hit by Hulnick and errors by Shuff and Farrell.

In the sixth, Pennsylvania made a determined effort, scoring two runs on hits by Farrell, Shuff, and Allen, but Cornell clinched the game in the seventh. Fox doubled, Capron singled, Sullivan muffed a throw to third, allowing Fox to score and Yadusky's wild pitch scored Capron. The box score:

Cornell (7)		AB	R	H	O	A	E
Woodin, 2b.....	5	1	2	3	2	0
Bickley, cf.....	4	0	0	1	0	0
Fox, 1b.....	3	2	1	13	0	0
Capron, ss.....	4	2	2	1	4	1
Hulnick, 3b.....	3	1	1	3	3	0
Frantz, lf.....	3	0	2	3	0	0
Telfer, rf.....	3	1	0	0	0	0
Tone, c.....	3	0	1	3	2	0
Henderson, p.....	3	0	0	0	1	0
Totals.....	31	7	9	27	12	1

Pennsylvania (3)		AB	R	H	O	A	E
Goldblatt, c.....	2	1	0	2	1	0
Maher, c.....	2	0	0	2	1	0
Westgate, lf.....	2	0	1	0	0	0
Sullivan, 3b.....	5	0	1	1	3	1
Farrell, ss.....	5	0	4	3	1	1
Shuff, 1b.....	4	1	1	8	0	3
Miller, rf.....	2	0	0	0	0	0
Holloway, rf.....	2	0	0	0	0	0
McMullen, cf.....	3	1	1	2	0	0
Allen, 2b.....	4	0	1	4	3	0
Rohrer, p.....	2	0	0	0	2	0
Yadusky, p.....	2	0	0	1	2	0
*Huntzinger.....	1	0	1	0	0	0
Total.....	36	3	10	23	13	5

*Batted for Westgate in ninth.

Score by Innings		Penn.	Cornell
1.....	1	0	0
2.....	0	0	0
3.....	0	0	0
4.....	0	0	0
5.....	0	0	0
6.....	0	0	0
7.....	3	0	0
8.....	0	0	0
9.....	0	0	0
Total.....	3	0	0

Two base hits, Fox, Westgate, McMullen; stolen bases, Woodin (2), Fox, Capron, McMullen; sacrifice hits, Bickley, Hulnick, Westgate; left on bases, Cornell 7, Penn 10; first base on errors, Cornell 2, Penn 1; base on balls, off Henderson 3, Rohrer 1; hits off Rohrer, 5 in 3 1/3 innings, off Rohrer 5 in 3 1-3 innings, off Yadusky 4 in 4 2-3 innings; hit by pitcher, by Rohrer (Tone), by Yadusky (Henderson); Struck out by Yadusky 2, Henderson 1, Rohrer 1; losing pitcher, Rohrer; wild pitch, Yadusky; passed ball, Goldblatt; time of game 1 hour 55 minutes; umpires, Courneen and Buckley, Rochester.

Varsity Defeats Alumni

The Varsity won the annual game with the Alumni Saturday afternoon by a score of 8 to 2. The contest had to be called in the seventh inning to permit the Varsity to make a train to Hanover, New Hampshire, but had it gone the limit, it is doubtful if the Alumni could have overcome the Varsity's lead. Also it is doubtful if the game would have gone nine full innings anyway, because of the impatience of the spectators to get down on the field and play a while themselves. As it was, the fun in the stands, and in front of them, divided with the game itself the interest of the spectators.

The batting order of the Alumni team was: Henry P. Murphy '20, first base; Francis J. Clary '17, catcher; Clyde Mayer '21, third base; Howard Wolff '22, third base; Paul W. Eckley '17, shortstop; Horace F. Davies, Jr., '20 right field;

LITERARY REVIEW

A New Concordance

A Concordance of the Latin, Greek, and Italian Poems of John Milton. Compiled by Lane Cooper, Professor of the English Language and Literature in Cornell. Halle a. S. Niemeyer. 1923. 24.7 cm., pp. xiv, 212.

The Latin poems of Milton do not bulk out large; in the Oxford Edition they fill fifty pages out of a total of about 550, that is, about one-eleventh. Moreover, most of them were written in the early part of his life. Still, they are not to be neglected for either of these reasons. There is no law regulating the time of the poet's supreme utterance; genius is not subject to rules. And as a matter of fact, the importance of Milton's Latin poems is considerable. The student who wants to understand Milton's personality must know, e.g., the Epistola Ad Patrem, the Epitaphium Damonis, with its beautiful

*Ite procul, lacrymae, purum colit aethra
Damon,
and the Fifth Elegy In Adventum Veris,
where Nature imparts her deepest lessons,
Et mihi fana patent interiora Deum.*

It must be added that in his Latin poems the author said some things that for one reason or another he did not wish to say in English. Here, then, a distinct side of his personality is revealed.

As to the utility of a concordance for exact and detailed studies in style and the choice of words, it is now late in the day to argue. Cooper has put both students of style in general and students of Milton in particular under a distinct obligation. After some tests we believe the text to be remarkably accurate, thus supporting the compiler's reputation for a quality which is by no means to be despised even in the study of literature.

Books and Magazine Articles

An abstract of "Igneous Rocks of Ithaca, N. Y., and Vicinity," a paper read by James H. C. Martens '21 at the December meeting of the Geological Society of America, appears in the Society's Bulletin for March.

In The Journal of Philosophy for May 24 Professor George P. Conger '07, of the University of Minnesota, presents "A Critique of Some Idealistic Evaluations of Values."

The Methodist Review for May-June includes an article by Professor Emil C. K. Wilm, Ph.D. '05, of Boston University, on "Self and Person."

To The Historical Survey for June Professor Gertrude B. Richards, Ph.D. '13, of Wellesley, contributes "Notes on Periodicals."

In The Quarterly Journal of Economics for May Professor Abbott P. Usher, of Harvard, formerly of Cornell, writes on

"Soil Fertility and Soil Exhaustion, and Their Historical Significance."

The Saturday Evening Post for June 2 has a story, "The Messenger," by Elsie Singmaster '02.

The Atlantic Monthly Press, Inc., has just published a school edition of "Silas Marner" by Dr. C. Robert Gaston '96, of the Richmond Hill, N. Y., High School. Published as an Atlantic Textbook in Library Form, stamped in gold on red vellum, it will sell for sixty cents.

In Le Revolution Francaise for Janvier-Mars Dr. Louis R. Gottschalk '19, of the University of Illinois, writes on "Marat dans la Journée du 14 Juillet 1789."

The College of Wooster Bulletin for May has a sketch with a portrait of Professor Jonas O. Notestein, who is completing half a century of service at Wooster as instructor and professor of Latin. Professor Notestein is the father of our Professor Wallace Notestein.

The Literary Review of Cornell for June includes "Vultures" and "The Announcement: a Curtain Raiser" by Ira T. C. Dissinger, Grad.; poems, "The Pharaohs" and "Rock Trundel," by George R. Van Allen '18; "A Word to Sad Poets" by Hoyt H. Hudson, Grad.; "And There Shall Be Laughing and Weeping" by Frederick H. Lape '21. The Review will appear next year as a quarterly at twenty-five cents per number.

Alumni interested in track and field sports will be glad to know that the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America has resumed publication of its "Souvenir Year Book," begun in 1908 but omitted since the 1916 meet on account of the war. There has just come from the press a new Five-Year Book featuring the 1922 outdoor championships at Cambridge, as well as the cross country and indoor championships at New York. The text describes the three major meets, while the statistics show what happened to every entrant. A supplement is illustrated with action pictures of the 1918, 1919, 1920, and 1921 meets. These are treated with the same statistical detail as the 1922 championships. Another supplement gives the complete results of all the championship track meets and cross country runs held under the auspices of the I. C. A. A. A. since its organization in 1876. The book is edited by Edward R. Bushnell, of the University of Pennsylvania, who compiled and edited all the books of this series, beginning in 1908. The price of the latest volume is five dollars, and it may be obtained by addressing the Intercollegiate Publication Committee, 187 Maplewood Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Vassar Mediaeval Studies," edited by Professor Christabel F. Fiske '98, of Vassar, has lately appeared from the Yale University Press. Among the sixteen studies are "Homely Realism in Mediaeval German Literature" by Professor Fiske

Creed W. Fulton '09, center field; Charles V. P. Young '99, right field; George E. Cross '18, center field; George F. Ensworth '19, left field; John L. Cowan '22, second base; Neil I. Brookmire '19, pitcher; John M. Maloney '22, pitcher.

The Varsity got away to a flying start by scoring four runs in the first inning on doubles by Woodin and Frantz, singles by Fox and Hulnick, a base on balls to Bickley, and Capron's sacrifice. In the fourth the Alumni scored a run on singles by Mayer and Eckley, but the Varsity made two more in the same inning on singles by Bickley and Hulnick and an error. In the sixth the Varsity sent two more across the plate on a home run by Capron, which also scored Bickley.

The last run of the game, made by the Alumni, came in the seventh when two errors and Eckley's hit scored Wolff.

Lose Final Baseball Game

Dartmouth defeated Cornell in the final baseball game of the season at Hanover Monday by a score of 2 to 1 before a Commencement week audience. Scoring one run in each the second and third innings the Green had a two-run lead when Cornell came to bat in the ninth. With two men on bases Rollo, sent in as a pinch hitter, crashed out a two-base hit scoring Hulnick, but Arling, a relief pitcher, replaced Lyon and prevented further scoring.

JAMES G. WHITE '85

(Continued from page 458)

ing and Management corporations the parent company has been carrying on a successful investment banking business, for which it now has a compact, efficient organization.

To harmonize the efforts of these organizations, and to unify their diverging interests in a manner that secures efficient and satisfying results from a central administration is a difficult task and requires constant attention, industry, initiative, foresight, and executive capacity.

To see Mr. White at work among his associates one can readily understand how he can keep track of so many diversified interests. He is courteous and kind to his employees, democratic in his relations with them, but wastes no time, and does not countenance any waste of time on their part. He is also possessed of the rare ability to keep smiling under conditions which to most people would be rather disheartening. His mistakes are few and far between, but as he is not infallible he abides by his own mistakes and is always willing to condone the mistakes of others if they are made in an effort to do right; consequently he commands the faith and loyalty of his employees.

Mr. White is a rapid and hard worker and in times of stress will bear his full share of the extra work, asking no employee to do a thing which he would not be willing to do himself. He is a man of decisive action, and his conclusions are final and apt to remain unchanged.

and "On the Burning of Books" by Professor Louise F. Brown '03, of Vassar. The book is reviewed in The Vassar Quarterly for May by Edith Rickert.

"The Effect of Climatic Conditions on the Blooming and Ripening Dates of Fruit Trees," a doctoral dissertation by Harry Ashton Phillips, has been published as C. U. Agricultural Experiment Station Memoir 59 for June, 1922.

In The Yale Review for July Professor Wilbur C. Abbott, '92-5 Grad., reviews four books under the title "Memorials of Prime Ministers." Professor William L. Westermann reviews three new books under the title of "Westerners and Turks."

"English Words and Their Backgrounds" by Professor George H. McKnight '92, of Ohio State University, is reviewed favorably by G. Van Santvoord.

Professor Elizabeth H. Haight, Ph.D. '09, of Vassar, contributed to Art and Archaeology for March an article on "The Vassar College Psyche Tapestries."

In The Scientific Monthly for June Dr. Ephraim P. Felt, D.Sc. '94, State entomologist of New York, writes on "The Origin and Evolution of Insects."

In The South Atlantic Quarterly for April Dr. Katherine E. Gilbert, Ph.D. '12, reviews "Legends" by Amy Lowell, "Flower Tablets" by Florence Ayscough and Amy Lowell, and "Coins and Medals" by Charlotte Hardin; and in another article, Cassius J. Keyser's "Mathematical Philosophy: a Study of Fate and Freedom."

In The North American Review for June Dr. Vernon L. Kellogg, '91-2 Grad., writes on "Recent Biology and Its Significance." Frances A. Kellor '97 discusses the question of "Humanizing the Immigration Law."

In The Atlantic Monthly for June Professor Wilbur C. Abbott, '92-5 Grad., of Harvard, reviews James F. Rhodes's "History of the United States from the Compromise of 1850 to the McKinley-Bryan Campaign of 1896" and also his "The McKinley and Roosevelt Administrations, 1897-1909."

In Industrial Management for June Dale S. Cole, M.M.E. '12, of Elyria, Ohio, writes on "Taking the Guesswork Out of Overhead Costs." William E. Irish '12 discusses "The Purchasing Agent and the Plant Engineer." The editor, John H. Van Deventer '03, contributes the tenth instalment of his serial on "Ford Principles and Practice at River Rouge"; and there is a review of "Engineering Economics" by Professor John C. L. Fish '92, of Stanford.

In The Harvard Theological Review for April Professor John R. Knipping '10, of Ohio State University, writes on "The Date of the Acts of Phileas and Philoromus."

In The Educational Review for May Professor Robert M. Wenley, of the University of Michigan, reviews "Man and the Cosmos" by Professor Joseph A. Leighton, Ph.D. '94, of Ohio State University. "A High School Geography" by Professor Ray H. Whitbeck '01, of the University of Wisconsin, is reviewed by M. E. Brannon.

In School Science and Mathematics for June Stephen G. Rich, A.M. '15, writes on "Correlation of Test Scores in Chemistry and Hand-writing." Another article by him is on "The Slide-Rule in Teaching Chemistry." Gilbert J. Rich '15 collaborates with H. F. Popenoe in an article on "The Measurement of Ability in General Science."

Trade Winds, the organ of the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, for June includes an illuminating article by William C. Geer '02 on "The Future of the Rubber Industry."

The New York Mail for June 4 includes an interview with and portrait of Professor Martha Van Rensselaer '09, of the Department of Home Economics.

The Danville, Ill., Morning Press for June 1 printed an extended abstract of the Memorial Day address delivered at Springhill Cemetery there by William F. E. Gurley '77, president of the Illinois Sons of the Revolution.

The Reuning Alumni Liked It

Courtney and Cornell Rowing

By C. V. P. Young '99

was well received and many complimentary remarks were passed by those who read it.

We hope to follow up this valuable book with others on other branches of sport—Track and Field Athletics, Football, Baseball, General Athletics—provided the sales of this one came up to our expectations

Send in your order now.

Bound in green buckram. Embossed in red and gold. With thirty illustrations and the only existing complete rowing record.

Cloth bound, $1.50, postpaid

Cornell Publications Printing Co.

R. W. Sailor, Manager

125 West State St., Ithaca, N. Y.

The J. B. Lippincott Company has just published a new story for girls, "Minglestreams," by Jane Abbott '02.

Studies in Philology for April includes an article on "Shakespeare's Sonneting" by Professor Oliver F. Emerson, Ph.D. '91, of Western Reserve.

In Hispania for May Professor Elijah C. Hills '92, of the University of California, answers in the affirmative the question, "Should Spanish be Taught in the High Schools?"

"The Greater Lehigh: a Study of the Needs of Lehigh University" by President Charles Russ Richards, M.M.E. '95, of Lehigh, is a pamphlet of 69 pages. The president wants new buildings costing $3,495,000 with an endowment for maintenance of $1,330,000; repairs and improvements amounting to $489,900; new equipment for instruction and research amounting to $310,000; an increase in the budget permitting an increase from 1,000 to 1,500 students; and an endowment of $2,000,000 for an Institute of Research; total needs $7,463,860. Concerning the last item Dr. Russ says: "It is imperative that there be a group of men whose undivided attention can be given to the conduct of scientific work under the general supervision of the older members of the teaching staff. It is proposed that an effort be made to form a definite research organization to be known as the Lehigh Institute of Research with a governing board consisting of the President of the University, a Director of the Institute, and an Executive Committee selected from among the heads of the scientific and technical departments, with perhaps representatives from the non-technical departments. This Executive Committee will be charged with the general administration of the Institute, the fixing of its policies, the acceptance of material for publication, and the inauguration of new work. Every member of the staff will be encouraged to devote a portion of his time to scientific work, the results of which when acceptable will be published as bulletins of the Institute, and in addition, research work will be carried on by half-time research fellows under the direction of the heads of the departments to which these fellows are attached. Appointment to these fellowships will be for a period of two years of ten full months each, thus permitting each fellow to render one ten-month period of service to the Institute and to complete the requirements imposed by the University for the Master's Degree. The University should maintain not fewer than twenty such fellowships; and it is expected that similar additional fellowships for the study of special problems will be endowed from time to time by industrial corporations. In addition to this system of fellowships it is essential that the Institute have a number of full-time research workers having academic standing varying from that of full time research assistant to that of research professor."

ALUMNI NOTES

'97 PhB—Newell Lyon is now in the general office of the White Motor Company, Cleveland, Ohio. His mailing address is 1785 East Ninetieth Street.

'00 AM, '02 PhD—Professor Jacob G. Lipman, of Rutgers, has been elected a member of the Swedish Royal Society of Agriculture.

'05, 'c6 ME—Floyd C. Snyder is vice-president and general manager of the American Rubber and Tire Company of Akron, Ohio. He lives in Massillon, Ohio.

'09 ME—John T. Johnson, Jr., resigned his position with the Howe Rubber Corporation of New Brunswick, N. J., last February, and is now factory manager with the American Rubber and Tire Company, Akron, Ohio. His mailing address is 702 East Market Street, Akron.

'13 ME—Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Wipperman announce the birth of their son, Thomas Firth, on January 16. Their WHATEVER your "Choice of a Career", college training has increased your economic value. In any business or profession, adequate life insurance is a proper self-appraisal of value to the State, the family and yourself. The traditions, practices and financial strength of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company are such that you can take genuine pride in a John Hancock policy on your life. It is a distinct asset.

Should you desire to go into a satisfactory business for yourself—to build your own business with the aid of a strong organization, to secure substantial remuneration in return for hard, intelligent work—then it will pay you to sell John Hancock Insurance.

We invite inquiry from you regarding a possible career or an adequate John Hancock policy on your life.

Address Agency Department

John Hancock
MUTUAL
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Sixty-one Years in Business

Largest Fiduciary Institution in New England

home address is changed to 1062 Thornby Place, St. Louis, Mo.

'13 BChem—John L. Osborne is chemist with the American Cyanamid Company, and is located at 257 Westfield Avenue, Elizabeth, N. J.

'14-15 Grad; '19 AB—Mr. and Mrs. David B. Greenberg (Marian Gerber '19) are receiving congratulations on the birth of their daughter, Joan, on May 18. They live at 385 Central Park West, New York.

'14 CE—Austin G. McHugh is with the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, Youngstown, Ohio. He is in need of recent graduates in electrical engineering for development of electrical applications around steel works.

'14 AB—Judge and Mrs. Stephen J. Chadwick of Seattle, Wash., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Hays Matson '14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth W. Matson of San Mateo, Calif. No date has been set for the wedding. Matson is with Blair and Company, Inc., 433 California Street, San Francisco.

'15 BS—James Bowen Clark has just bought the business of Sadie A. Thomas, chrysanthemum specialist, having the largest collection on the Pacific Coast. He will also grow delphiniums as specialties, and will welcome Cornellians at any time to inspect the plant. His new address is 308 Stevenson Avenue, Pasadena, Calif.

'16 AB—Mr. and Mrs. Melancthon W. Stryker have announced the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Woolsey, to George May Stevens '16 on June 7 in Zion Church, Rome, N. Y.

'17, '18 ME—Clinton R. Tobey's office address is changed from 1724 to 1822

Dime Bank Building, Detroit, Mich.; he is still district manager of the Detroit office of the Brownell Company of Dayton, Ohio, manufacturers of engines, boilers, feed water heaters, and tanks.

'17; '17 AB—Mr. and Mrs. Murray McConnel (Dorothy C. Street '17) are living at 75 Fairview Ave., Jersey City, N. J.

'17 AB—Miss Mary R. Hunter of Norristown, Pa., and John R. Whitney '17 were married on June 16 and are living at 415 Westminster Ave., Elizabeth, N. J.

'17 AB—Mr. and Mrs. Norman John Seim (Phyllis Rudd '17) announce the birth of their son, Rudd Gerhard, on May 28. Their home address is 514 Maple Avenue, Blue Island, Ill.

'17 ME—Miss Geraldine Desmond Nelson, daughter of Mrs. William Nelson of New York, was married on June 2 to Ernest R. Acker '17, son of the late Charles E. Acker '88 and Mrs. Acker of Washington, D. C.

'18 ME—Harry C. Moore '18 and Miss Gertrude Waleski were married on January 18 and are living at 13 South Baltimore Avenue, Ventnor City, N. J. Moore is a plumbing and heating contractor, located at 1707 Atlantic Avenue, Atlantic City.

'18-19 Grad—The wedding of Miss Judith Annette Burger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burger of Brooklyn, and Lawrence Meredith Maxson, '18-19 Grad., took place on June 5 in Emmanuel Baptist Church, Brooklyn. Mrs. Maxson attended the Packer Collegiate Institute and the Gibbs School. Maxson received his A. B. degree at Alfred University.

'18; '19 AB—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skelding (Elizabeth M. Drake '19) announce the birth of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, on April 3. They have changed their residence address to 707 Nottingham Road, Wilmington, Del. Skelding is general manager of the Hammond Oil Products, Inc., of Wilmington.

'19, '21 AB—Miss Lillian Louise Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Baxter of Ithaca, and Edward Ellington Neill '19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis D. Neill of Ithaca, were married on June 9 in the First Methodist Church of Ithaca. They will make their home at 121 West Mill Street.

'19, '20 WA—The wedding of Miss Ethel Theresa Mole, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mole, and Willard Ingham Emerson '19 took place in the First Presbyterian Church, New York, on June 2.

'21, '22 ME—George S. Durham '21 was married on April 5 to Miss Dorothy Coe (Columbia '22). He is now with the F., W. Freeborn Engineering Corporation, Mayo Building, Tulsa, Okla.

'22 BS—Theodore M. Warner is now with the Circle Farm, Gates Mill, Ohio, the largest Guernsey breeders in the State of Ohio.

'22 EE—Berlyn M. Werly is in the electrical department of the Eastma Kodak Company, Kodak Park, Rochester, N. Y. He lives at 301 Electric Avenue.

'22, '23 CE—Stanley A. Elkan is in the engineering office of the Central of Georgia Railroad, 217 West Broad Street, Savannah, Ga., working for the valuation and maintenance department. There are four other Cornellians in the office. Elkan lives at the Y. M. C. A., Savannah. His home is 300 Katherine Court, Macon, Ga.

'23; '24—Professor and Mrs. James E. Rice of Ithaca have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ruth Van Buren Rice '23, to William Darrow McMillan '24.

NEW MAILING ADDRESSES

'93—Arthur L. Andrews, 207 Suffolk Road, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

'96—Carl L. Dingens, 221 Elm Street, Holyoke, Mass.

'00—Professor Robert M. Ogden, 246 Goldwin Smith Hall, Ithaca, N. Y.

'01—Kelton E. White, 503 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo.

'08—Harold A. Sturges, South Hamilton, Mass.

'10—Francis X. Ryan, Cragmor Sanatorium, Colorado Springs, Colo.—Dr. Abraham M. Stark, 305 Montgomery Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.—Rodney O. Walbridge, R. F. D. 3, Great Barrington, Mass.

'11—Professor Ralph S. Crossman, Huntington, Long Island.

'12—John C. Barker, 2208 Bellfield Avenue, Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

'13—William Van Kirk, Southport, Conn.

'14—John B. Putnam, 11406 Lakeshore Boulevard, Cleveland, Ohio.

'15—William H. Evans, 2117 Pine Street, New Orleans, La.—Henry G. Lehrbrach, 4155 LaSalle Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif.—John R. Sherman, 221 North New Hampshire Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

'17—Miss Helen E. Murphy, Phoenix, N. Y.

'18—William E. Johnson, 1628 Wesley Avenue, Evanston, Ill.—Miss Mildred A. Youmans, Whitney Point, N. Y.

'19—Miss Marian R. Priestly, 759 Van Cortlandt Park Avenue, Yonkers, N. Y.

'20—Edward S. Weil, 3815 Armitage Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

'21—Lewis B. Gately, 23 Kearney Street, Newark, N. J.—Charles K. Thomas, 211 Murray Street, Flushing, Long Island.

'22—William A. Caine, 161 College Street, Wadsworth, Ohio.—Harold R. Harrington, University Club, Akron, Ohio.—Vivian S. Lawrence, Jr., 6 Chestnut Street, Suffern, N. Y.—Warner L. Overton, 55 Hanson Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.—Miss Esther M. Platt, 403 Myrtle Avenue, Port Jefferson, Long Island.—Arthur W. Post, 18 Springate Street, Utica, N. Y.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS

The Cornell Society of Engineers maintains a Committee of Employment for Cornell graduates. Employers are invited to consult this Committee without charge when in need of Civil or Mechanical Engineers, Draftsmen, Estimators, Sales Engineers, Construction Forces, etc. 19 West 44th Street, New York City Room 817—Phone Vanderbilt 2865

C. M. CHUCKROW, Chairman

THE MERCERSBURG ACADEMY

Prepares for all colleges and universities. Aims at thorough scholarship, broad attainments, and Christian manliness. Address

WILLIAM MANN IRVINE, Ph.D., President
MERCERSBURG, PA.

ITHACA
ENGRAVING Co.
"An Excellent Engraving Service"
Library Building, 123 N. Tioga Street

THE SENATE
Solves the Problem for Alumni
A Good Restaurant
MARTIN T. GIBBONS
Proprietor

Rothschild Bros.

Complete
Assortment of
Cornell Banners,
Pennants,
Pillow Covers,
Wall and
Table Skins at Attractive Prices

Rothschild Bros.

E. H. WANZER
The Grocer

+

Quality—Service

Write for the New Catalogue

SHELDON COURT

Modern, fireproof. A private dormitory for men students at Cornell.

A. R. Congdon, Mgr., Ithaca, N. Y.

R. A. Heggie & Bro. Co.

Fraternity Jewelers

Ithaca - - New York

"Songs of Cornell"
"Glee Club Songs"
All the latest "stunts"
and things musical
Lent's Music Store

KOHM & BRUNNE
Tailors for Cornellians
Everywhere
222 E. State St., Ithaca

The Cornell Alumni Professional Directory

BOSTON, MASS.

WARREN G. OGDEN, M.E. '01
LL.B. Georgetown University, '05
Patents, Trade-Marks, Copyrights
Patent Causes, Opinions, Titles
Practice in State and Federal Courts
68 Devonshire Street

DETROIT, MICH.

EDWIN ACKERLY, A.B., '20
Attorney and Counselor at Law
701 Penobscot Bldg.

FORT WORTH, TEXAS

LEE, LOMAX & WREN
Lawyers General Practice
506-9 Wheat Building
Attorneys for Santa Fe Lines
Empire Gas & Fuel Co.
C. K. Lee, Cornell '89-90 P. T. Lomax, Texas '98
F. J. Wren, Texas, 1913-14

ITHACA, N. Y.

GEORGE S. TARBELL
Ph.B. '91—LL.B. '94
Ithaca Trust Building
Attorney and Notary Public
Real Estate
Sold, Rented, and Managed

P. W. WOOD & SON
P. O. Wood '08
Insurance
158 East State St.

NEW YORK CITY

MARTIN H. OFFINGER '99 E.E.
Treasurer and Manager
Van Wagoner-Linn Construction Co.
Electrical Contractors
143 East 27th Street
Phone Madison Square 7320

DAVID J. NELSON & CO., INC.
Audits - Systems - Taxes
Telephones: Cortland 1345-1346
David J. Nelson, C.P.A. (N.Y.), A.B. '15
President

CHARLES A. TAUSSIG
A.B. '02, LL.B., Harvard '05
220 Broadway Tel. 1905 Cortland
General Practice

ARTHUR V. NIMS
with
HARRIS & FULLER
Members of the New York Stock Exchange
120 Broadway

KELLEY & BECKER
Counselors at Law
366 Madison Ave.
CHARLES E. KELLEY, A.B. '04
NEAL DOW BECKER, LL.B. '05 A.B. '06

ERNEST B. COBB, A.B. '10
Certified Public Accountant
Telephone, Cortlandt 8290
50 Church Street, New York

DONALD C. TAGGART, Inc.
PAPER
100 Hudson St., New York City
D. C. Taggart '16

TULSA, OKLAHOMA

HERBERT D. MASON, LL.B. '00
Attorney and Counselor at Law
903-908 Kennedy Bldg.
Practice in State and Federal Courts

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THEODORE K. BRYANT '97 '98
Master Patent Law '08
Patents and Trade Marks Exclusively
310-313 Victor Building

It has the usual Good Remington Features

Wearing qualities are most important. Seven carbon copies are easy to make with thin paper. The portable has a new and very readable typeface. A very handy typewriter for personal or home use.

Use "Co-op." Cross Section Papers

You will find it to be of the high quality materials you usually use. We use an "all-rag" paper which will last in your file. It will stand handling and the ink lines look well on it. The cross sections are accurate.

CORNELL

Morrill Hall

SOCIETY

Ithaca, N. Y.