

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company

16, 18, 20, 22 William St., New York
Branch 475 5th Ave.

LONDON..... 15 Cockspur St., S. W.
26 Old Broad St., E. C.

PARIS..... 41 Boulevard Haussmann

LETTERS OF CREDIT
FOREIGN EXCHANGE
CABLE TRANSFERS

N -Bement-Pond Company

111 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Largest Builders of Machine Tools
and Cranes

R. A. Heggie & Bro. Co.

135 East State Street, Ithaca, N. Y.

JEWELERS

and makers of special Cornell goods. Watches and diamonds
a specialty

"The Leading Fire Insurance Company of America"

CASH CAPITAL $5,000,000.00

WM. B. CLARK, President

Vice-Presidents

HENRY E. REES A. N. WILLIAMS
Secretary, E. J. SLOAN

Assistant Secretaries

E. S. ALLEN GUY E. BEARDSLEY

RALPH B. IVES

W. F. WHITTELSEY, Jr., Marine Secretary

OPPORTUNITY

HIGHEST GRADE RAILROAD BONDS

can be purchased at present on an exceptionally favorable income basis.

ACTIVE MARKETABLE SECURITIES
A SPECIALTY

We invite inquiry.

SCHMIDT & GALLATIN

BANKERS & BROKERS
111 Broadway
New York

J. Prentice Kellogg } Members of the
Frederic Gallatin, Jr. } New York
Chas. H. Blair, Jr., '98 } Stock Exchange
Geo. P. Schmidt } Albert R. Gallatin

SHELDON COURT

Private Dormitory
Adjoining Cornell University Campus

Fireproof; furnishings and equipment the best. An ideal rooming place for college students. Prices very moderate. Catalogue and full information on request.

A. R. Congdon, Mgr.. Ithaca

Jas. H. Oliphant & Co.

ALFRED L. NORRIS, FLOYD W. MUNDY '98
J. NORRIS OLIPHANT '01

BANKERS and BROKERS

(Members New York Stock Exchange and Chicago Stock Exchange.)

New York Office, 20 Broad Street.

Chicago Office, J. J. Bryant, Jr., '98
Manager, The Rookery

A CONVENIENT AND QUICK WAY TO REACH ITHACA FROM EAST OR WEST. CONNECTS AT AUBURN WITH
NEW YORK CENTRAL TRAINS.

LIBRARY BUILDING
TIOGA AND SENECA STREETS
The cuts used in the Cornell Alumni News are made by the

Stanley Engraving Co.

"OLD AND TRIED"

Glens Falls

INSURANCE CO.

of Glens Falls, N. Y.

PROPERTY OWNERS, Trustees, Mortgagees desiring the best will select the Glens Falls. THE COMPANY behind the policy is the whole thing, and yet few insurers know the names of the companies whose policies they have bought, much less their record and financial conditions.

SIXTY-SECOND YEAR

ITHACA TRUST COMPANY

ITHACA, NEW YORK

ASSETS TWO MILLION DOLLARS

Courteous Treatment

Every Facility

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

VOL. XV. No. 39

ITHACA, N. Y., JULY, 1913

PRICE 10 CENTS

SUMMER enrollment of students at the University was 1,369 after registration had been in progress for one week. A few will be added to this total in the next week or two. The figures indicate a healthy growth of the Summer Session and particularly of the Summer School of Agriculture. There are 135 more students than there were at the same time in 1912, and 211 more than at the same period of the 1911 session. By grand divisions the present registration is as follows: Summer Session of the University, 1,069; Summer School of Agriculture, 331; summer students in the Graduate School, 40; total (deducting 71 for names counted twice), 1,369. There are 100 in the faculty.

THE PROGRAM of the six weeks Summer Session has been pretty well standardized. Recent changes have been for the purpose of keeping pace with approved new ideas and methods in elementary and secondary education, because "the primary object of the Summer Session is to advance education by helping those engaged in it." A large proportion of the students are teachers in high schools and grammar schools; last year eighty-one were school supervisors or superintendents. In order that they may make the most of their sojourn here, outside their regular work, there are lectures of general interest, and musical recitals in Sage Chapel, besides excursions to various places on Saturdays. The excursions are for students in geology or zoology or botany, but most of them are open to any student.

A NEW FEATURE of the Summer Session is a daily newspaper. Its name is Cornell Summer Daily. The editor is Edgar A. Hamilton '11, and Alexander T. Hayes '14 is the manager. Their paper consists of four pages five columns wide—about the size of the Sum of the early nineties. They started it as a private enterprise, but Director Bristol thought so well of the idea that he made it the official publication of the Summer Session. It contains official announcements, reports of lectures, and local and telegraphic news, including the weather forecast and yesterday's baseball scores.

BUILDING OPERATIONS are extensive on the Campus again this summer, chiefly at the College of Agriculture. The new Auditorium is practically complete except for the interior fittings. The new Forestry building is in progress. So is the Animal Husbandry building, at the eastern end of the athletic field. The heating plant of the college will be ready for use next winter. There is a little more work to be done on the new buildings of the Veterinary College. All the dormitories in Prudence Risley Hall will be ready for use when the University reopens in the fall.

FORMER STUDENTS of Professor Ralph S. Tarr wish to place on the Campus a permanent memorial of his work here. They have thought that a suitable memorial would be a boulder carved so as to form a seat and bearing an inscription. A boulder large enough for the purpose has been found in Fall Creek just above Forest Home. But it is so large that the problem of getting it out of the creek bed and moving it a couple of miles, crossing a bridge on the way, would be a large one. The rock is about nine feet in diameter each way and probably weighs more than thirty tons. If a boulder is found that can be brought to the Campus without too great expense, it will probably be placed on the brow of the hill near McGraw Hall, where Professor Tarr taught for twenty years.

TWELVE MONTHS, instead of nine, is to be the length of the college year in the College of Agriculture, beginning probably in the summer or fall of 1914. On the recommendation of the Faculty the Trustees have so voted. No officer will teach more than nine months in any one year except by special permission of the Director and then only for very exceptional reasons. The whole year's salary is to be paid on a basis of nine months' teaching; but if any officer teaches for more than nine months he will receive additional compensation pro rata. This plan of payment is essentially in force at the present time, by authorization of the Trustees, in connection with the summer school. The present plan contemplates a summer term of twelve or thirteen weeks rather than one of six weeks, making a continuous college year. It is expected that each department shall bear the responsibility of so arranging its staff and organization as to carry its work the entire year; and at the beginning of the year each department is to submit to the Director its plan for that year, with a statement as to the persons who are to be absent and the various terms of absence. That means that ultimately there must be in each department at least one person of approximately equal rank with the head of the department, although there will still be a single administrative head; and additional teaching force will be necessary to carry the work throughout the twelve months.

DR. JOHN H. FINLEY, president of the College of the City of New York for ten years past, becomes a member of the Board of Trustees of Cornell University by virtue of his office as State Commissioner of Education, to which he was elected this month by the State Board of Regents. His term of office is indefinite. He succeeds the late Andrew S. Draper. Dr. Finley is a graduate of Knox College, class of 1887. He was a graduate student in history and economics at Johns Hopkins University, and then became secretary of the State Charities Aid Association of New York. From 1892 till 1899 he was president of Knox College. He resigned to undertake editorial work for Harper's Weekly and McClure's Magazine. Shortly afterward he succeeded to Woodrow Wilson's professorship of politics at Princeton. He was at Princeton for three years and then, in 1903, he accepted the presidency of the College of the City of New York.

THE REV. DR. CHARLES MELLEN TYLER, emeritus professor of the history and philosophy of religion and of Christian ethics, after more than forty years residence in Ithaca has gone to live in Scranton, Pa., where his daughter, Mrs. James Gardner Sanderson, has her home. Dr. Tyler was pastor of the First Congregational Church of Ithaca from 1872 till 1891, and from 1891 till he retired in 1906 he held a professorship in Cornell.

The Associate Alumni

Minutes of the Forty-second Annual Meeting

The 42nd Annual Meeting of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University was called to order by President Albert J. Himes '87, at 10 a. m. on Saturday, June 14, 1913, in the old auditorium of the New York State College of Agriculture, at Ithaca.

The minutes of the 41st Annual Meeting were approved as published in the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS. (Vol. XIV, pp. 458-464.)

It was moved and carried that the register at alumni headquarters be taken as the roll of those present at the meeting. This showed the following members present:

The Alumni Register

1871—R. G. H. Speed.
 1872—W. P. Halliday, D. W. Bowman.
 1873—G. W. Harris, F. T. Brinkley, George B. Turner, John W. Chamberlin, John W. Hill, W. T. Morris, Thomas Worthington, Murray A. Shotwell, Clarence Finster, S. F. Forgeus, Albert C. Almy, Ansel H. Phinney, C. D. Smith, John L. Moffat, Elias H. Bartley, Francis W. Halsey, John G. Moore, I. P. Church, William Hazlitt Smith, Charles W. Livermore, E. M. Howard, Frank N. Hagar, W. H. Denham, G. C. Morehouse, W. H. French, Howard E. Ames, C. S. Dutton, G. E. Patrick, John W. Boothby, M. W. Van Auken, W. K. Pierce, F. J. Root, Roswell Leavitt, James W. Finch, Frederick E. Wadhams, S. F. Avery, F. J. Knight, M. S. Bierce, C. Levings, J. H. Owen, Eaton L. Moses.
 1874—J. L. Stone, A. J. Lamoureux, J. H. Comstock, William R. Lazenby, Mynderse Van Cleef.
 1875—Jared T. Newman, Frank H. Hiscock, G. S. Moler.
 1876—David N. Salisbury.
 1877—Edith Van Dusen, S. H. Gage.
 1878—Albert W. Smith, Eugene Baker, W. L. McKay, L. F. Jones, F. Cary, F. M. Kendall, W. S. Gottheil, James S. Lehmaier, C. S. Thacher, E. B. Green, Charles M. Rexford, Anna Botsford Comstock, R. H. Treman, Willard Beahan, F. W. Mann, Bessie DeWitt Beahan, T. P. Borden, J. McKee Borden, Charles G. Brown, Thomas D. Merrill, Mrs. M. M. Sherman.
 1879—Mary Merrill Pitcher, Edmund L. Magner.
 1880—Frank Irvine, M. E. Poole, F. J. Whiton.
 1881—George L. Burr, H. H. Wing, William C. Brown, Ira A. Place.
 1882—Herbert Dana Schenck, Mary Fowler, F. S. Newman.
 1883—John Lyon, H. W. Smith, Charles D. Avery, Carrington Avery, Mary R. Diefendorf, H. N. Hoffman, E. T. Turner, E. H. Preswick, Franklin Matthews, C. R. Browning, W. B. Ruggles, F. A. Holton, Arlington Mapes, H. C. Elmer.
 1884—Henry P. de Forest, Lucretia H. Kellogg, Charles M. Thorp.
 1885—Andrew C. White, Anna Botsford Comstock, James McCall, E. H. Bostwick.
 1886—Charles H. Hull, Luzerne Coville, Stephen Ryder, Ernest Merriitt, George McCann.

1887—Albert J. Himes, V. A. Moore.
 1888—W. W. Rowlee, Mary M. Wardwell, J. R. Chamberlain, G. W. Bissell, H. G. Johnson, A. H. Eldredge, E. E. Johnson, M. W. Barnum, F. B. Pitcher, J. H. Edwards, C. L. Becker, R. S. Miller, G. J. Tansey, W. H. Fisher, Albert E. Hoyt, W. H. Sawyer, William W. Parshall, J. C. E. Scott, Thomas Shannon, C. W. Curtis, Stephanie Marx Curtis, W. S. Farrington, M. F. Webster, A. E. Metzger, Charles H. Blood, Harry L. Taylor, Esther Sanford Lovelace, Andrew S. White, Charles S. Fowler, W. M. Mead, W. H. Bostwick, C. A. Martin, Charlotte A. Foster, George Donaldson, F. L. Clock, David N. Heller, George McCann, Andrew Spencer.
 1889—G. S. Hopkins, John H. Barr, Leon Stern, C. E. Treman, Elizabeth Boynton Coville.
 1890—James E. Rice, Arthur N. Gibb, Pierre A. Fish, William H. Morrison.
 1891—Louis Rouillio, E. W. Olmsted, Arturo Rodriguez, Willard Austen, Frank Johnson.
 1892—S. H. Burnett, Julia Lorraine Melotte, Robert T. Mickle, Bert Houghton, C. D. Bostwick, George L. Hoxie, F. W. Rane.
 1893—C. W. Ashby, H. G. Wessling, Hermann von Schrenk, M. A. Federspiel, W. S. Brayton, E. V. Stebbins, F. W. H. Clay, A. Lee Olmsted, H. M. VanBergen, Mary R. Fitzpatrick, Clark S. Northup, August Merz, W. H. Brown, B. S. Cushman, Edwin B. Katte, H. D. Newcomb, Anna Barrett Fox, Elias J. Durand, J. S. Pettesbone, J. S. Shearer, Robert A. Jacobs, W. H. Loomis, Wells Gilbert, Floyd K. Smith, Andrew S. White, Ernest I. White, Waldo S. Kellogg, Ben M. Jaquish, A. C. Howland, Henry D. Coville, Clayton I. Miller, George W. Cavanaugh, William C. White, Carlton E. Ladd, Charles Perrine, T. C. Henderson.
 1894—Wallace B. Beardsley, Anna L. Van Benschoten.
 1895—Mrs. S. H. Burnett, Mrs. C. R. Buck, Emily Berry Howland, Alice H. Bruere, Leona Bowman, Minnie T. Murray, Abram T. Kerr, Woodford Patterson, Roger Lewis, S. E. Banks.
 1896—H. C. Troy, Glen W. Herrick, Mary Rogers Miller, B. S. Monroe, Jessie Manley Cushman.
 1897—Emma Bowers, L. L. Tatum, Fred Asa Barnes, Mary Wall Troy, H. H. Crum, Charles W. D. Parsons.
 1898—W. A. Stocking, jr., F. R. Wright, C. O. Harris, F. W. Midgley, Jesse Fuller, jr., Kate M. Schutt, Edgar L. Andrews, Gilbert Crossman, J. H. Gannon, jr., Ida Ross Sanders, L. H. Hood, Mary E. Macauley, H. V. Humphrey, Harriet Bliss Stocking, J. E. Rutz, John T. Gorman, F. A. Richmond, S. Edward Rose, E. W. Personius, S. L. Sheldon, Frank E. Gannett, Charles L. Henry, A. E. Whiting, Burton Fenton.
 1899—Eads Johnson, C. E. Coyle, Walter Mulford, Charles L. Durham, Charles V. P. Young, C. C. Whinery.
 1900—F. S. Porter, Nina Angell Roe, Davis Hawley, jr., George Young, jr., Kelton E. White, Philip Will, Gertrude S. Martin, Edgar S. Mosher, W. S. Ford.
 1901—Heatley Green, Warren G. Ogden, John H. Blair, Richard O. Walter, George D. Crofts, W. H. Udall, John S. Gay, Bryant Fleming, H. W. Riley.
 1902—O. A. Johannsen, Lawrence Hendee, Edgar S. Mosher, M. R. Whinery, Mary Heughes Donoghue.

1903—John H. Agate, R. R. Patterson, Charles N. Pinco, George S. VanWickle, T. S. Ramsdell, Silas Taber, Edward N. Weber, F. D. Grant, Whitney Merrill, H. C. Shattuck, Frederica K. Westfall, Caroline Lewis, E. D. Beals, George H. Turner, John C. Pearson, A. C. Beal, Henry E. Epley, George D. Crofts, E. E. Walker, Juliet C. Kent, Kate Gay Eells, Byron L. Thompson, J. H. Weidman, Jacob G. Smith, Arthur S. Whitbeck, J. S. Fowler, J. B. Chase, Mary Lathrop Holden, Arthur Wright, E. B. Nell, Thomas B. Roberts, M. L. McKoon, L. F. Hawley, L. S. Hulburd.

1904—C. R. Crosby, C. S. Wilson, E. W. Shattuck, Alexander B. Clark, C. A. Rogers, A. R. Mann, L. T. Ketchum, C. A. Costello, H. J. Milks, F. X. Richtmyer, V. S. Graessle Crum, Caroline H. McFerran.

1905—William A. Vawter, H. S. Warner, C. R. Crosby, Frances G. Wick, Frances Johnson Crofts, Margaret W. Edwards, Frank N. Decker, Alfred B. Wray, J. C. Argetsinger.

1906—Emmeline Moore, Bessie F. Speed, N. Frances Weller, C. J. Yorkey, J. V. McKelvey.

1907—Eugene D. Montillon.

1908—John P. Dods, J. P. Halstead, S. B. Eckert, J. W. Parker, Harry L. Sharp, Helen E. Blake, Royal Gilkey, Anna C. Stryke, B. C. Skidelsky, W. G. Mennen, A. P. Allen, Robert F. Chamberlain, E. H. Anderson, Earl Sunderville, Joe N. Pew, T. M. Jackson, A. J. Boardman, William L. Lance, Mabel Rollins, Henry P. Gage, Stephen L. Vanderveer, Victor D. Herriman, Harry K. Wilson, R. T. Turner, jr., G. A. Wortman, F. J. Decker, M. H. Landis, Margaret M. Reidy, O. D. von Engeln, Helena H. Haight.

1909—F. F. Koenig, James W. Cox, jr., Robert E. Treman, Florence M. Ward, O. V. Kruse, Martha Van Rensselaer, H. O. Taylor, Creed W. Fulton, Anna Allen Wright, J. T. Lloyd, Reta E. Keenan, Lewis Henry, Mrs. O. D. von Engeln, William H. Richie, K. C. Livermore.

1910—Sara C. Walsh, Edith T. Loux, Anna E. Biddle, H. D. Kneeland, C. L. Follmer, W. E. Caldwell, R. D. Anthony, Edith J. Munsell, Catherine Allen Sharp, George G. Becker, J. B. Smith, jr., D. M. Crossman, H. R. Ferris, T. J. McInerney, H. E. Baxter, W. W. Fisk, H. E. Riegger, M. S. Heffenger, C. B. McCarthy, P. W. Thompson, I. E. Behrman, Andrew J. Whinery, Roy Taylor, J. C. O'Brien, Frances M. Driscoll, Ruth M. Lance, Laura T. Cooper, Marion Collins, Helen R. Wansboro, Elizabeth Van Denburgh, Anna Fielden, E. E. Barker, Marguerite Decker, O. W. Boies, Cornelia F. Kephart, W. C. Acklin, Laura K. Johnson, Ida E. Schnirel, Bertha K. Patterson, Mae Davis Waring, Elosia Fish Hase-man, Felix Thomas, Harold F. Welch, M. Maud Fish.

1911—Edna M. Foster, E. M. Pickens, David C. Comstock, Austin P. Evans, Lawrence M. Mintz, Earl W. Benjamin, Thomas T. Cox, Emma R. Speed, James S. Gutsell, Luanna M. Carman, Peggy Switzer, Erma Lindsey, Gertrude D. Kellogg, H. B. Reynolds, Anna May Emley, W. J. Corwin, Elizabeth J. Genung.

1912—J. Raymond VanKleeck, Edward L. Markell, Ralph S. Nanz, C. L. Bowman, Anna E. Hunn, E. V. Hardenburg, C. E. Mitchell, R. H. Wheeler, B. L. Edwards, J. L. Strahan, Margaret B. Thorp, H. B. Knapp, A. J. Forsyth, Fritz W. Krebs, George L. Walter, jr., A. M. Thompson, R. R. Bolton, C. E. Ladd, H. Embleton, Francis P. Cuccia, Marie A. Beard, Harry Edwin Smith, E. M. Williams, G. G. Crowell, Austin Dunbar, Hattie M. Barnes, J. R. Du Priest.

Report of the Directors

The annual report of the Board of Directors was read by Richard O. Walter '01, and upon motion was adopted, as follows :

The by-laws of The Associate Alumni of Cornell University, adopted June 21, 1911, require that the Secretary "shall prepare and after approval by the Board of Directors present to the Annual Meeting of the Association, an annual written report of the board and also mail a copy thereof to every secretary of every club, association and class entitled to delegates and shall furnish a copy to any member of the Association upon request." The by-laws further require that the Board of Directors shall prepare and present at each annual meeting a report of the business transacted during the year preceding.

The Board of Directors elected by the annual meeting in June, 1912, consisted of persons to a large extent unacquainted with each other and many of them unfamiliar with university affairs, especially during recent years. In order that they might get acquainted with each other and with their duties, a special meeting of the board was held in New York City on August 3, 1912, with ten members present. Among other things considered was the question of holding a forum. After discussion it was decided to hold the regular November meeting of the Board of Directors in New York City November 16, 1912, and to invite all Cornell clubs and other organizations to send representatives to meet with the board and to present such suggestions as they may desire regarding the work of the board with a view to informing and assisting it in its duties. In accordance with this call an open meeting of the board was held in the Assembly Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City on Saturday, November 16, 1912. At this meeting there were fifty alumni present, most of whom were delegates representing alumni organizations. Acting President Crane, Trustees Boldt, Edwards and Sackett, and Deans Hull and Moore were also present at the meeting. Addresses were made by Dr. H. D. Schenck on the organization of the Associate Alumni; by Dr. H. P. deForest in behalf of the Association of Class Secretaries; by Ira A. Place, President of the Cor-nellian Council; by Colonel Henry W. Sackett, representing the Board of Trustees of the University; Acting President Crane on behalf of the University Faculty; Mr. John Ihlder on civic and social work in its relation to alumni organizations.

A VIEW IN FALL CREEK GORGE, BELOW TRIPHAMMER FALL. THE BRIDGE CONNECTS THE CAMPUS WITH CORNELL HEIGHTS.

Photograph by J. P. Troy.

Resolutions were presented from the Northeastern Ohio Cornell Alumni Association, from the Cornell Alumni Association of Michigan, from the Cornell University Association of Chicago, from the Cornell Club of New England, from the Cornell Women's Club of Washington, and by Mr. H. D. Mason on behalf of the Trustees' committee appointed to arrange for annual alumni reunions.

Full minutes of this meeting were recorded and manifolded and all local Cornell organizations were notified that copies of these minutes would be loaned them for their meetings. The exchange of views at this meeting was very free and it is believed by the Board of Directors that its results will be very far reaching and that it will mark the beginning of unity of sentiment toward Cornell University as an institution.

A meeting of the Board of Directors was held during the evening of the same day and resolutions offered by representatives of Cornell clubs were considered. Some of them were adopted by the Board, others were referred to committees to consider and report.

Reflections of a Graduate after Revisiting the Campus for His 25th-Year Reunion

684 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, June 20, 1913.

Dear Rowlee :—

Wasn't our reunion just great? Now that it is all over, my memory keeps harking back to the delightful days we had together after a quarter of a century. It was my first reunion with the "old boys," but it shall not be my last. In fact from this time forth I shall be found in the ranks of Continuous Reunion Club. I mean to make an annual pilgrimage to Ithaca, even though I am forced to hit the pike and walk.

In the lapse of twenty-five years my interest in our class and University generally had lost its keen edge (I confess it regretfully), but it has all come back to me with a rush, thanks to the enthusiasts of old '88 who welcomed me so warmly. I had but vague conception of what it all signified until I got back to our haunts of other days. But now it is different. I am prouder than ever before to have been associated with such fine fellows and shall always be looking forward to meeting them year after year "Far above Cayuga's waters."

The marvelous changes in the University, its wonderful expansion and the promise of still greater things for the future were simply astounding to one who had been drifting afiel for twenty-five years. At first, I must confess, the transformation was something of a shock to me. But in the end it only served to arouse my flagging loyalty and make me truly proud of my alma mater.

Yes, it was all simply great, my week with the "old boys."

Ever sincerely yours,

E. E. JOHNSON.

The regular March meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the Hotel Iroquois, Buffalo, N. Y., March 1, 1913. There were eight directors present. A report was presented by Mr. F. M. Kendall who attended a meeting of a newly organized association of alumni secretaries of various institutions. It was voted that the secretary of the Cornell Associate Alumni should not participate in the National Association of Alumni Secretaries at the present time.

At this meeting the Board discussed and took action in regard to their budget for the year 1913-14; also as to the disposal of the Life Membership Fund of the Associate Alumni, voting to recommend to the annual meeting to turn this over to the Cornellian Council as a contribution to the Alumni Fund. The Board further urges upon all alumni the support of the Cornellian Council as the one practical way in which every one interested in Cornell can share in the great work of the University.

The procedure for nomination of alumni trustees was discussed and a committee appointed by the board has considered the question involved and its report that no change is desirable was adopted by the board.

Other committees have attended to legal matters necessary to complete the rearrangements of plans for the annual meeting of the Association; have worked out details of relations with other alumni organizations and with the University; have prepared biographical sketches of candidates for the office of Alumni Trustee; and have had charge of arrangements for special meetings of the board and the annual meeting of the Association.

Individual members of the board have served local associations at their gatherings. Distinct progress toward more hearty and intelligent cooperation between the various local associations and a more helpful and united support of the University has been made.

The Board wishes to emphasize the fact that under the present organization every one who has ever attended Cornell is by that fact alone a member of this association, that each is entitled to present his views to the Board, and that the cooperation of each one is needed to make the work most effective.

Alumni Trustees' Report

The report of Harry Leonard Taylor '88, and Albert Henry Sewell '71, retiring alumni trustees, was read by Judge Taylor. (That report is appended to the minutes.) It was moved and carried that the report be accepted and that a vote of thanks be extended to Judges Taylor and Sewell.

The Cornellian Council

A report from the Cornellian Council was given by the president of the Council, Ira A. Place '81, as follows :—

"I wish to express my appreciation of the interest and desire to help which has been evidenced here today, and which has prevailed in the Board of Directors during the last year of the work of the Council. We feel that this Board has been anxious and very desirous of giving to the Council whatever support it could and this is greatly appreciated. In regard to the work of the Council up to this time: We have been at work for only three years. I do not imagine that any member of the Council had any idea what the task was when it was started. I also want to say that in this time and in doing what little we have been able to do, we have become greatly interested in the work. We have all come to believe that the great strength, reliance and hope of the University is in her children; that the men and women who have gone out from her doors are the one solid reliance that Cornell has. Cornell is a privately endowed institution partially and only partially. She has always been and she always must be something very much more than a privately endowed institution. It is proper that it should be so. We of Cornell all believe in Cornell as one great unit which shall give to the people of this state, of this nation, education in the lines of study and investigation which are to meet the needs of this time, and we believe that no institution is better equipped than is Cornell for this work.

"We have practically no men of great wealth among us. They are at least very few. Among the older alumni there are no men of great wealth. They have generally been successful, but they are not in a position to make large gifts. They are the working men, the working people of the world, and not the men who have millions to give. From men of that class, not Cornellians, our hopes can only rarely be benefited. We must rely upon the great body of Cornellians, and therefore we ask the support of everyone. We want every alumnus to feel that he or she is a part of the University; and we want the University to feel that it has that solid phalanx back of it. That is what we hope to accomplish. This method, as distinguished from the method of our sister colleges, is a very slow process. Nearly 16,000 graduates have gone out from this University. The alumni who give five dollars or ten dollars—they are the support of the University.

"The results from the newer and larger classes show a definite trend—1909, '10, '11, '12, and last and most splendid of all the present graduating class. They are going to stand by this proposition. This class of 1913, as you have all learned from the college papers, has added nearly 700 subscribers, bringing in nearly $7,000 annually. It brings the total amount of subscriptions up to about $34,000. Receipts are going up and expenses are going down.

"When we first undertook this work I had certain hopes. As I say, the amount subscribed is about $34,000 annually. We have a clean net balance of over $20,000 and my belief and my hope is that by three years the annual subscriptions will reach the sum of $50,000 and I hope it will be $50,000 net. If the alumni of Cornell can add $50,000 to the permanent endowment of the University it will insure Cornell in her present unique position. This means 5 per cent of $50,000 or $2,500 added to the yearly income. It also means the keeping of good men who would otherwise have to be sacrificed. Five hundred dollars difference in a salary will very often save to this University a man whom it can ill afford to lose. This increase is necessary to keep the pace which we have been striving to keep through all these years."

Alumni Field

Charles H. Blood '88 reported for the Alumni Field Committee, as follows:

"With reference to Alumni Field, I think that the alumni as a body are very much interested. I think we all appreciate the words that have been spoken this morning in reference to the cooperation that is needed. I think we all appreciate what has been said by Mr. Place in regard to the lack of funds to support the University. The help must come from the alumni. With reference to Alumni Field I would say that, all-important as is the work of the Cornellian Council, there is a wide diversity of work connected with the University. There is the Veterinary College supported by the state and the College of Agriculture, supported by the state, besides all the other colleges connected with the University. The place where all the students from these different colleges will get together will be on the Playground. It is a tract of land that is not surpassed in the country.

"Of course the question of finances has been a great obstacle. We have, however, finally graded this beautiful field. We have the work of grading, which has involved a great expense, finished, and we hope to accomplish the seeding within a year. During the past year we have been able to construct what is known as a baseball cage. It is a large building where the work of the teams during the winter months may be conducted. The alumni would do well to go through this building and see the result of our work.

"Through the great generosity of one of our alumni, a friend of Mr. Schoellkopf and in his memory, we are on the verge of constructing a training house. This training house is to cost approximately $100,000.

"To report the progress of the Alumni Field Committee, I would say that the fields are graded, the baseball cage is practically completed, the training house will be finished in about a year from this time, but the one thing needed and for which we have no funds at this time is the bringing of the games up to these grounds. We cannot do this until we have a stadium. We are without funds. At the present time what we hope to do is to produce this stadium in order to transfer all our athletic activities to the new fields. It is our great hope that some of our alumni may see their way clear to follow the example of the one generous man who has helped us with the training house, and secure for us a football and baseball stadium."

The Class Secretaries

Dr. Henry P. de Forest '84 reported for the Association of Class Secretaries, as follows:

"I have no report prepared at this time. However, I can say that yesterday there was a meeting held which was well attended. One or two matters of interest were discussed. One was the book entitled Class Secretaries and Their Duties. This book will endeavor to present certain facts which we have been striving to secure and to establish a standard for future classes. With the issuing of this book, as will be done some time during the summer, we hope that some of the errors in the past will be corrected and that the younger secretaries will have definite information as to what they should try to do."

Report of the Treasurer

The report of the Treasurer, Richard Oliver Walter, '01, for the year ending June 14, 1913, was read, as follows:

RECEIPTS
Balance on hand June 12, 1912—
Life membership dues.....	$540.00
Accumulated interest.....	86.66
General fund.....	77.52
	<hr/> $704.18
Receipts, 1912-13—
Interest, life membership fund.....	22.11
	<hr/>
Total.....	$726.29
EXPENDITURES
Andrus & Church, stationery and printing.....	$ 9.25
Expense incident to meeting of Board of Directors in New York, Nov. 16, 1912.....	115.90
W. W. Rowlee, sec'y, express85
Andrus & Church, printing 1,000 copies of by-laws.....	18.00
Reporting meeting of Board of Directors at Buffalo	5.00
A. J. Himes, President, postage and stationery.....	4.24
W. W. Rowlee, secretary, stamps and supplies.....	6.90
	<hr/> 160.14
Total on hand, June 14, 1913	$566.15
On January 22, 1913, the accumulated interest, $108.77, in the Life Membership Fund, was transferred to the General Fund.

RICHARD O. WALTER, Treasurer.
Examined and vouchers found correct.

ROGER LEWIS,
CHARLES D. BOSTWICK,
Auditing Committee.

Election of Officers

The report of the nominating committee (as published in the CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS of March 26, 1913, Volume XV, Number 25, Page 296) was read by the chairman of the committee, Dr. Herbert D. Schenck. There being no other nominations than those made by the committee, the secretary was, on motion, instructed to cast the ballot of the Association for the persons nominated by the committee, and the following persons were thereupon declared to be elected for the terms of office respectively provided in the by-laws of the Association:

President, Roger Lewis '95, New York City; vice-presidents, Mrs. Frederick V. Coville '89, Washington, D. C., and E. H. Hooker '94, Greenwich, Conn.; secretary, Willard W. Rowlee '88, Ithaca; treasurer, Richard O. Walter '01, Boston, Mass.; directors: James H. Edwards '88, Passaic, N. J.; Charles Monroe Thorp '84, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Simon L. Adler '89, Rochester, N. Y.; Fred Rollin White '95, Cleveland, Ohio, and Alfred D. Warner '00, Wilmington, Del.; members of the nominating committee: Leland O. Howard '77, Washington, D. C.; David F. Hoy '91, Ithaca, and Joseph Porter Harris '01, Cleveland, Ohio.

Life Membership Fund

On motion of Roger Lewis '95, a recommendation of the Board of Directors was adopted, authorizing and directing the Treasurer of the Association to turn over to the Cornellian Council, as a contribution to the Alumni Fund, the Life Membership. Dues now in his hands, amounting to five hundred and forty dollars.

On motion of J. L. Moffat '73, it was voted that the Association request Ex-President White and Acting President Crane to have records of their voices made on the dictaphone.

Notice having been given, as provided in the by-laws of the Association, of a proposed amendment to the by-laws, namely, that Section 12 of the by-laws be amended by striking out the words: "The president, secretary, and treasurer must be elected from the Board of Directors," and this proposed amendment having been moved, the question was, on further motion, referred to the Board of Directors for report and recommendation at the next meeting of the Association.

Date of Annual Meeting

On behalf of a special committee appointed at the fortieth annual meeting of the Association to secure an amendment to the law fixing the date of the Association's annual meeting, the secretary reported that the said law had been amended by act of the Legislature of the State of New York, and he read the amended law, as follows:

AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to the election of trustees of Cornell University.

Section 1. Subdivision two of section ten hundred and thirty-one of chapter twenty-one of the laws of nineteen hundred and nine, entitled, "An act relating to education, constituting chapter sixteen of the consolidated laws," as amended by chapter one hundred and forty of the laws of nineteen hundred and ten and chapter two hundred and forty-eight of the laws of nineteen hundred and twelve, is hereby amended to read as follows:

JOHN DE WITT WARNER '72, RECENTLY NOMINATED BY GOVERNOR SULZER TO BE A MEMBER OF THE UNIVERSITY BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

2. The board of trustees shall elect each year three trustees, and as many more as may be necessary to fill vacancies, among members elected by them caused by resignation or death. The alumni of said university shall meet annually in Ithaca, on the day within the seven days before commencement, designated by the directors of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University at their regular preceding November meeting. In case the directors at such meeting fail to designate a day, the meeting shall be had upon the same day prior to commencement as that on which it was held in the preceding year. [and at] At the meeting of the alumni at each annual commencement said alumni shall elect two trustees, and as many more as may be necessary to fill vacancies arising from resignations or deaths among the number previously elected by them. Except as herein otherwise provided the term of office of each elective trustee shall be five years from the annual commencement at which he is elected; but if elected by the board of trustees at a meeting thereof during the academic year, his term shall then be five years from the commencement immediately preceding his election; but every trustee shall hold over until his successor is elected or appointed as above provided.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

The meeting was then adjourned, to be resumed at 10 a. m., Tuesday, June 17, in the same room, to canvass the vote for Alumni Trustees.

Election of Alumni Trustees

The adjourned meeting of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University was held in the old auditorium of the College of Agriculture on June 17, 1913. The meeting was called to order by President Albert J. Himes.

The report of the Committee on Elections, which had canvassed the vote for Alumni Trustees, was read by the chairman, C. L. Crandall '72, as follows:

Total number of ballots presented.....4589
Illegal and defective ballots..... 46

Total number of ballots counted.....4543
(Necessary for election, 1515.)
For two candidates.....4322
For one candidate..... 221
For C. W. Pound '87.....4024
For F. Matthews '83.....2690
For M. Connolly '97.....2140
Scattering..... 11

Committee on Elections:

C. L. CRANDALL,
C. S. NORTHUP,
HENRY H. WING,
B. S. MONROE,
S. G. GEORGE,
FRED ASA BARNES.

The president thereupon declared that Cuthbert Winfred Pound and Franklin Matthews had been duly elected by the alumni to be Trustees of Cornell University for a term of five years ending with the Commencement of the University in the year 1918.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

W. W. ROWLEE, Secretary.

Alumni Trustees' Report

One of the duties of an alumni trustee of Cornell University is to make a report to the alumni on his retirement from office. The exact nature and scope of each of such reports must rest with the maker thereof. The many such documents which have been submitted have contained matter historical, statistical and advisory. In this—our report—we shall avoid the historical and the statistical. Our alumni, we believe, are by this time well informed as to the founding and physical development of Cornell. By means of written reports, newspaper articles, visits to Ithaca, etc., we are generally aware that on our campus many new buildings have appeared in the last ten years; that we have a marvelous, though still uncompleted greater College of Agriculture; that our student body in numbers has now passed the once seemingly unreachable five thousand mark; that our graduating classes will soon number one thousand each; that we are failing to properly care for the students who come to us and pay for good attention—in that our class rooms, our residential buildings, and our general physical equipment are inadequate and not up to date, our teaching force insufficient, and our teachers poorly paid, wherefore the quality of the teaching is, in some instances, necessarily not up to the right standard. We know that Cornell needs endowments, funds. We realize, alas, that the number of persons of wealth who turn with outstretched and generous hands toward Cornell has in recent years been few.

While Cornell may and probably will receive gifts from rich men and women who recognize the importance of the work of the University, it must look to a large extent to its alumni and former students to provide means for its work. The greatest strength and hope of the University is in the character and support of its former students. Its principal asset is in the 12,000 or more alumni. The Cornellian Council is making this asset available. It has formed a plan for a yearly gift to the University. Through its efforts $37,838.09 have been collected and turned over to the Treasurer of the University. In addition to this 2798 Cornellians have agreed to give annually $26,576.50. This includes the interest payment by the classes of '09, '10, '11, and '12. It is the duty of each and every one of the 12,000 alumni to rally to the support of the University and lend a helping hand; not only to give himself but to interest, so far as possible, his wealthy friends in the University. We know that an institution founded and developed as Cornell has been cannot greatly wane; that the Cornell graduates of today are increasingly strong, clean, polite, brave, and in all essentials manly and womanly; and that the splendid spirit of Ezra Cornell and Andrew D. White is still dominant in the hearts of latter day Cornellians. Therefore, we have cause to rejoice now in 1913, and to look with confidence toward the future.

Nor—choosing to be neither historical nor statistical—would we be too advisory. However, there is one word we desire to say to the alumni of Cornell. It is this: we feel that there is not a sufficient bond of understanding and, therefore, not one of sufficient confidence between the alumni and the trustees. From our experience on the Board we can truthfully say that we hardly expect to again be of a body of men more earnest, conscientious or capable than the trustees of Cornell University, and that we have never observed a single circumstance tending to indicate any attempt or desire on the part of any trustee to act in any particular otherwise than for the best interests of the University as he viewed them. We speak thus, not by way of defense of the trustees, for that is unnecessary. But within the last few years there have been occasional manifestations of a rather indefinite character indicating unrest on the part of some of our alumni, some doubt as to whether affairs were being handled by the University authorities wisely in all respects. These manifestations have not been in such form as to give the trustees any opportunity to be of assistance, or to lend any formal attention to them, and that has been a matter of regret to the trustees. This is not as it should be. Your Board of Trustees must be conceded to be a well constituted body of governors; a large proportion of them are chosen by you; and they and the body of the alumni, being equally interested in promoting the welfare of the University, should freely and fully co-operate toward that end. To be more definite—if any Cornellian or body of Cornellians ever has anything in mind of sufficient importance in the nature of suggestion, advice or adverse criticism to warrant any consideration of it at all, such matter, instead of being harbored or improperly promulgated, should be promptly and formally communicated to the Board of Trustees with all possible directness and completeness. Thereby much can be accomplished, not only toward the more efficient management and uplifting of the University, but toward preventing discontent, dissatisfaction, misunderstanding and unfairness. Without this your Board cannot give you nor the University the best service of which it is capable.

Perhaps we cannot hope ever to have a Cornell where literally any person can find instruction in any study, but let us be big and frank and fair as well as zealous; let us strive in the right way, not only to give Cornell good officials but so to assist them in their arduous duties that any man who comes to our Alma Mater to make it his, may—largely as a result of that co-operation—receive such full encouragement and help along his chosen lines of endeavor as to make him feel all his life that the contract he made with Cornell was on her part fulfilled. Entire working accord and confidence between trustees and alumni is essential, if we are to do our full part in realizing the wonderful vision of Ezra Cornell.

HARRY L. TAYLOR.
ALBERT H. SEWELL.

A MEETING of the Agricultural College Council will be held in Ithaca on July 26. At that meeting an acting director of the College of Agriculture may be appointed.

Home Economics Convention

More than 200 Delegates Here—The New Building Dedicated

More than two hundred delegates attended the meeting of the American Home Economics Association, at the College of Agriculture, June 27 to July 4. The association had held several annual conferences at Lake Placid; this was its first summer meeting, and its largest. Sessions were held in the new home economics building, which was dedicated during the convention.

Miss Martha Van Rensselaer and Miss Flora Rose, professors of home economics, told about the organization of their department at Cornell and the work done in the new building. Other papers that were read were:

The working girl in France, Mme. Alice de la Ruelle, Inspector of Labor, France, on a mission from the French Republic.

Economics in the home from a man's point of view, Dr. Thomas Nixon Carver, Director of Rural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

The need of the immigrant, Miss Mabel Hyde Kittredge, Association of Housekeeping Centers, New York City.

The needs of the working child, Miss J. J. Eschenbrenner, Membership Secretary, National Child Labor Committee.

Vocations and culture, President George E. Vincent, University of Minnesota.

The girl in industry, Mr. C. E. Prosser, Executive Secretary, National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education.

Preparing the girl for industrial vocations, Miss Mary E. Parker, William Penn High School, Philadelphia.

Home economics and rural extension, Professor Otis W. Caldwell, University of Chicago.

Some results from a study of the factors in bread making, Miss Anna W. Williams, Kansas State Agricultural College.

Problems in the preparation and use of foods, Miss Cora E. Gray, University of Illinois.

Can chemistry be taught at its best in relation to home economics? Mr. Frederick W. Howe, State Normal School, Farmington, Massachusetts.

The basic work of science, Professor J. F. Snell, MacDonald College, Quebec.

The basic work in art, Miss Mary Quinn, Pratt Institute.

An experiment in teaching economics, Miss Sarah J. McLeod, Pratt Institute.

Problems of rural life, Dean Liberty Hyde Bailey.

The housekeeper's side, Dr. Benjamin R. Andrews, Teachers' College, Columbia University, presiding.

Efficiency in the household, Mrs. J. George Frederick, author of "The New Housekeeping."

The relation of house planning to home economics, Mrs. Helen Binkerd Young, Cornell University.

Standards of living, Dr. Ira S. Wile, Member of Board of Education, School Lunch and Food Committee, New York City.

Organization, man power, and rewards, Mrs. Annie Dewey, Lake Placid Club, New York.

School lunch rooms, Miss Mary E. L. Small, chairman, Head of Department of Domestic Science, Public Schools, Buffalo.

Report of Committee on Dietaries, Miss Florence Corbett, Teachers' College, Columbia University.

Report of Committee on Laundry Management, Miss S. Maria Elliott, Simmons College, chairman.

Provisioning and equipping for large numbers, Mr. Allen J. Dean, Hotel Expert, Kansas City, Missouri.

An experiment: The visiting housekeeper's work in Detroit, Mrs. Bessie Bishop Bothwell, Visiting Housekeeper, The Associated Charities, Detroit, Michigan.

Two years of work as domestic educator, Mrs. Annie L. Hansen, North American Civic League for Immigrants.

Home economics in social work, Miss Winifred Gibbs, Supervisor, Home Economy Department, The New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

Possibilities in the work of the municipal visiting housekeeper, Miss Emma Winslow, lately Visiting Housekeeper of the Young Women's Christian Association, Cleveland, Ohio.

Unit costs, Dr. William Morse Cole, Professor of Business Administration, Harvard University.

Institutional farm management, K. C. Livermore, Professor of Farm Management, and other members of the staff of the New York State College of Agriculture.

The new Home Economics building was formally dedicated on July 4, the last day of the convention. Director Bailey read one of his poems. The flag was raised on the building, and Dr. Andrew D. White made an address on "The American Flag." "My office today," he said, "is simply to call your attention to the flag of our own country. I need not tell you how poets and orators and historians and philosophers, men and women of light and learning in every field, have looked with joy and hope to the American flag. Devotion to the flag, devotion to a symbol, devotion to the nation which it represents even in the most simple and plain way, and to the ideals on which the nation is founded justly becomes a part of the religion of the country." Speaking of the battle of Gettysburg and of the heroism of the men who fought there, Dr. White said: "They were the instruments of Providence, delegated to decide one of the greatest questions ever presented. We are to honor all who fought. They fought very nobly on the side against us, and we should honor them. The time has come when the motives of both sides should be forgotten. We may hope that that war was the final struggle on this continent." He concluded by saying that there were ways of honoring the flag and the country in peace as well as in war.

Several excursions to points of interest around Ithaca, including the George Junior Republic at Freeville, were arranged for the visitors. Most of them must have gone away feeling that they had had a profitable week.

Miss Sarah Louise Arnold, dean of Simmons College, Boston, was re-elected president of the association. Miss Van Rensselaer and Benjamin R. Andrews '01, of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, were elected vice-presidents.

Country Life School

Third Annual Session Has Ninety Persons in Attendance

Ninety persons from twenty states and several foreign countries attended the third annual session of the School for leadership in Country Life, at the College of Agriculture from June 24 to July 4. This school is intended especially for rural ministers, secretaries of rural Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, officers of men's brotherhoods and other religious organizations; school superintendents, principals and teachers; boy scout masters, editors, officers of granges, institute lecturers, and other persons who occupy positions of leadership and influence in the open country.

The school is now permanently established as a part of the work of the College of Agriculture. A three-years graded course will be given at these summer conferences and persons who complete the course will be entitled to receive a certificate to that effect.

Most of the students at the recent school lived in a tent village on the south bank of Beebe Lake and many of the conferences were held there in the open air.

Some idea of the work that is done in this school is given by the following summary of the topics of lectures and discussions: The psychology of leadership, study of human nature, pedagogy of leadership, group organization, development of rural character, rural personal ideals, the family and the rural problem, social aspects of rural life, principles of rural sociology, social functions of rural institutions, co-operation and federation of rural social agencies, field of rural economics, some application of economic principles to the problems of rural social life, business organization and co-operation, the farm boy, the farm girl, the farm woman, leadership for farm women and girls, rural social survey, the community program, extension teaching in agriculture, rural play, and rural athletics.

The instruction was supplemented with carefully chosen and arranged exhibits. These exhibits were arranged in the following groups: The community as a whole; the church; the grange; agricultural education institutions; country work of the Young Men's Christian Association; home economics; agricultural extension enterprises; country-life literature. The exhibits were made up of photographs, drawings, charts, models, apparatus, and books and other printed matter.

John R. Boardman, of the Good Will Home Association, New York City, had charge of the work. Other lecturers were Wilbert L. Anderson, Amherst, Mass.; Fred M. Hill, state secretary of county work of the Young Men's Christian Association; Edwin L. Earp, professor of sociology, Drew Theological Seminary; Thomas N. Carver, professor of economics, Harvard University; Jessie Field, secretary of small town and country work, national board of Young Women's Christian Associations; E. K. Jordan and W. H. Baxley, county secretaries of the Y. M. C. A.; Franklin K. Mathews, chief scout librarian of the Boy Scouts of America, and Director L. H. Bailey.

The Social Clubs

A Western Alumni Association Supports the Senior Societies

Editor, Cornell Alumni News:

Considerable interest has been aroused among the Cornell alumni of this section in the matter of the attitude taken by the Senior Societies as to the status of certain social clubs which have heretofore existed among the undergraduates. Accordingly, the officers and executive committee of the Rocky Mountain Cornell Association deem it not improper that they, acting for the Association, make known their views and future position concerning the so-called controversy.

We are of the opinion that primarily, owing to lack of knowledge of present-day conditions on the part of the vast majority of the alumni, the question of undergraduate social clubs is one that is to be settled by the undergraduates themselves with the least possible interference emanating either from a faculty or from an alumni source. A body of university students is certainly capable of reaching the proper adjustment of conditions of this character as they exist in a university at a given time. A college man is not a school boy. This premise is doubly true in the case of Cornell University, since the prevailing characteristic of faculty, alumni and undergraduates is that of advancement in accordance with modern ideas, due largely to the independent, unrestricted thought and actions of its constituent elements.

Furthermore, we believe that the Senior Societies are of substantial importance in the University community. In case the faculty or the alumni care to deal with the undergraduates, it is to the Senior Societies they turn both for aid and for counsel. The Societies are reliable and can be counted on to fulfill what they undertake. No social club, on the other hand, is in any sense of the word a necessity, and it can in no way be said that such a club affects the university life to any appreciable extent. The social club is not a necessity and its presence or absence will not be noticed for any period of time.

Accordingly, as between the Senior Societies and the social clubs, the officers of this Association desire to state that the Association will do all in its power to support the position taken by the Senior Societies. We have faith in the Senior Societies; they are composed of men with whom we would not hesitate to deal; they exist for a purpose.

Without entering into the merits or the personnel of any social club in the University, whether or not it be one which has incurred the displeasure of the Senior Societies, we do not for a moment hesitate to unequivocally favor the Senior Societies in any question of divergence opinion between them and the clubs.

PAUL S. RATTLE, President,

JAMES Q. NEWTON, Vice-President
EDMUND ROGERS, Secretary.

In Defence of the Clubs

Editor, Cornell Alumni News:

I have followed the discussion relating to the so-called Social Clubs in the University press very closely, and have talked with a large number of men who have been for or against Beth L'Amed and Majura. It is a ticklish job to reply to the criticisms without employing the same methods as those used by the critics, which, in all cases, are not honest or impartial,—that is, without bringing in personalities.

I have always looked back to the associations and friendships formed in the Mummy Club as the pleasantest experiences at Cornell, and have been proud of the democratic feeling pervading in this club, which excels that found in any of the fraternities or the Senior Societies.

The Senior Societies, as a matter of fact, are the real offenders against democracy at Cornell, and the very reasons which they give for discriminating against Beth L'Amed, and many more accusations of a more serious nature, can be urged against the Societies. I am a firm believer in both institutions at Cornell when neither goes outside its proper sphere. The Senior Societies have just as much right to limit their membership as any other club, but, in limiting their membership by class distinctions, they necessarily hurt Cornell's reputation for fairness and democracy, in so far as they do not select men who have earned Senior Society elections by their work for Cornell.

As the fight of the Social Clubs progresses, the Senior Societies are bound to be severely criticised, and, no doubt, undergraduate and graduate sentiment will be turned against them as soon as the real facts become known. I have learned of men this spring discriminated against in competitions, and either forced to resign membership from the Social Clubs against their convictions or give up their elections to managerships. Nearly every means known to unclean politics has been employed this spring to force the views of a few men upon a large number. It must be remembered that this move started ostensibly as an investigation, but several men who have been bitter have been able, by their influence, to make their views felt and carried through.

These actions do not conform to my conception of fairness, nor do they conform to my conceptions of the practices that should be employed by Senior Societies. I attach hereto a copy of a letter which I wrote some time ago to the Cornell Daily Sun, which has in the past given considerable space to the fight against the Social Clubs. Of course, I am only an alumnus, but when I wrote the letter I thought that the editor would be fair enough to print it, but he was a Senior Society man and doubtless did not care to. The disregard for fair play by the Senior Societies is typical in the manner of extending their bids. They gave a candidate thirty minutes to decide whether he would resign from a Social Club and join a Senior Society or reject the election. This may not be true in the case of both Senior Societies, but it is, I am informed, true of one of them.

Those men who refused Senior Society elections under such conditions are to be congratulated. Cornell needs all the men she can get of their stamp. A senior said to the writer, "There must be something in this if the University press and all the prominent men are against the Clubs." There is something in it—for the Senior Societies.

VICTOR D. HERRIMAN '08.

June 25, 1913.

NEW YORK, May 15, 1913.

Cornell Daily Sun:

I have followed carefully the letters and articles in the Sun, Era, and Alumni News in regard to former upper class hat clubs at Cornell and I am now reliably informed that the Senior Societies, Sphinx Head and Quill and Dagger, have decided that in the future the Beth L'Amed and Majura, among others, must be abolished and that their members will not be eligible for membership in the Senior Societies. This action by the Senior Societies has been based upon various representations by non-members and members of the above mentioned clubs. The clubs have scarcely replied to accusations brought against them, the main argument being that the former hat clubs are undemocratic and tend to hurt Cornell.

We now have a picture of most undemocratic institutions at Cornell, viz., the Senior Societies, deciding that a number of clubs are not desirable and forthwith practically running them out before such action was taken. The organization of these clubs is somewhat loose, but nevertheless loyal. In any case, where there is an honest difference of opinion of this kind, public sentiment will correct the evils.

The action recently taken savors very strongly of that sort of politics which should be condemned, not only in public, but in University activities.

I am not attempting to go into the merits of the case, but protest strongly against the manner in which the reforms sought for have been arbitrarily and summarily attempted. I ask, in the spirit of fair play, that the Senior Societies withdraw their recent decision and put the matter up to a board composed of members from the Faculty and all the clubs interested. If the alumni were given the opportunity and the clubs properly approached in the first place, there would have been no need for a spiteful play of politics and washing of "dirty linen" in the University and public press.

Are the alumni of New York asking for too much when requesting fair treatment?

VICTOR D. HERRIMAN '08.

SUBSCRIPTION—$3.00 PER YEAR

Published by the Cornell Alumni News Publishing Company. John L. Senior, President; Woodford Patterson, Secretary and Treasurer. Office 110 North Tioga Street, Ithaca, N. Y.

Published weekly during the college year and monthly in July and August; forty issues annually. Issue No. 1 is published the first Wednesday of the college year in October and weekly publication (numbered consecutively) continues through Commencement Week. Issue No. 40, the final one of the year is published the last Wednesday in August and contains a complete index of the entire volume.

Single copies ten cents each. Foreign postage 40 cents per year. Subscriptions payable in advance.

Should a subscriber desire to discontinue his subscription notice to that effect should be sent in before its expiration. Otherwise it is assumed that a continuance of the subscription is desired.

Checks, drafts and orders should be made payable to the Cornell Alumni News.

Correspondence should be addressed—

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS,
Ithaca, N. Y.

WOODFORD PATTERSON
Editor.

EDWARD F. GRAHAM
Assistant Editor.

ROYAL K. BAKER
Business Manager.

ROBERT W. WHITE
Assistant Business Manager

Printed at the shop of The Cayuga Press

Entered as Second-Class Matter at Ithaca, N. Y.

Ithaca, New York, July 1913

READERS are again reminded of the index which will be printed soon after the August number of the NEWS is off the press. With the index, a volume of the ALUMNI NEWS provides a unique record of the University's year. A copy of the index will be sent free to any reader of the paper who asks for it.

IN THIS NUMBER is the official publication of the minutes of the annual meeting of the Associate Alumni of Cornell University. Most of the events of that meeting have already been reported concisely in the NEWS; the report printed here is complete. In former years the minutes were published in a pamphlet by the association. That method was expensive, and in order to save the association that expense, the NEWS now includes the minutes in one of its numbers. This number has been enlarged to twenty pages, so that ample space may be given to other matters of interest.

THE CONFLICT between the senior societies on the one hand and the so-called social clubs on the other is evidently going to continue into the fall. A trial of strength will come when the senior societies make their second election of members from the class of 1914, in October. And the full force of the societies' edict against the clubs may be expected to show itself when the club elections take place later in the year. Few events of late years have so interested graduates and undergraduates alike as this contest. It is more than a mere rivalry between certain organizations: it appears to be a conflict of tendencies in undergraduate life. We are reprinting on this page an editorial article from the July number of The World's Work, entitled "Ancient Customs in Colleges," which may or may not be pertinent to the discussion which is raging here at Cornell.

IN THE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY the Art Metal Construction Company, of Jamestown, N. Y., is putting in steel shelving for about 80,000 additional volumes. The Trustees made the appropriation for the new shelving last November, on the urgent request of the Librarian for more room. The new shelves are going into the east end of the basement. They will take the last foot of available space in the old library lecture room. The larger part of that room was filled with stacks several years ago. The normal growth of the library is about 12,000 volumes a year. The new shelving, therefore, will take care of the normal increase for five or six years. Above the topmost story of stacks in the main room there is a ten-foot space which may be used for shelves, but not very conveniently. If the Library building cannot be enlarged within the next five years, a good many books will then have to be packed away in boxes. Librarians say that for proper classification and growth of collections, books should be arranged so as to fill not more than three-fourths of the available shelf room. In the Cornell University Library lack of space has caused many of the stacks to be packed full of volumes.

THERE WERE 423,570 volumes and 64,000 pamphlets in the Library on June 30, 1913. The accessions during the year were 13,870 volumes and 2,000 pamphlets. As the University expands there is a constantly increasing demand for more books and periodicals. The income from the Sage endowment, the chief reliance for the growth of the Library, has year by year become less adequate to provide for the reasonable needs of the various departments of instruction. This year, by action of the Trustees, one-third of the free income from the Fiske Endowment was made available for books, periodicals, and binding, in addition to the income from the Sage fund. Even with this added provision, the resources of the Library are no greater proportionately than they were a dozen years ago.

ANCIENT CUSTOMS IN COLLEGES (From The World's Work)

The social life of our colleges, particularly the life at Harvard, Yale, and Princeton, has lately been much in public discussion. Mr. Wilson, when president of Princeton, was the centre of a fine struggle for democracy and scholarship. President Lowell, at Harvard, has quietly been making many changes with the same ends in view. At Yale, the sophomore class precipitated a revolt against the oligarchy formed by the members of the three senior societies.

A college course is four years, and a practice can become an old and sacred tradition of many generations in less than a generation of the outside world. The sanctity of custom is strong to the college man, particularly in those colleges where undergraduate sentiment looks upon criticism of anything that bears the college name as disloyalty. Moreover, a healthy revolt against ancient absurdities has hardly the time to succeed before the revolvers have passed their four years and are gone into the world.

Once in a while, as recently at Yale, an insurgent cause will gain confidence enough to demand a change, but usually "ancient custom" rules supreme. With this situation among the students it is necessary for the authorities to give every encouragement to any initiative and constructive imagination that may come up among the students in the management of their lives in college; to encourage every undergraduate to find out what kind of a place he is in and to use his own brains and character in determining his ways, in other words to encourage him to be a man with some training in meeting new situations. It is a very happy sign of the times that such a tendency is in sight in many parts of the American college world.

THE ALUMNI FUND
New Subscribers

The Secretary of the Cornellian Council announces the following additional subscribers to the Alumni Fund for the general support of the University:

Ben Johnson '78, L. E. Forbes '79, Hervey B. Jones '82, Miss Anna M. Johnson '83, Arlington Mapes '83, J. H. Grotecloss '84, Frank C. Wolfe '95, E. L. Bossinger '04, Arch M. Gilbert '03, George W. Foote '05 Mrs. E. L. Bossinger '07, Thomas H. Olds '07, G. C. Hanson '08, S. F. Willard, jr., '09, Miss Anna B. Genung '09, Hubert L. Watson '10, Charles A. Scharschu '10, James H. Peterson '11, H. A. Vanderbeek '11, Charles H. Lord '11, G. Everett Hunt '11.

CORNELL CLUB OF NEW ENGLAND
Annual Wash—Fourth Splash

The red-letter day of the year for the alumni of New England has been named in a notice recently sent out by the committee in charge of arrangements for the Annual Wash. On Saturday, July 26, the clans of the Odd and Even Classes will gather at one of the Boston Harbor resorts to fight out their annual baseball battle and to indulge in the sacred rite of a bath in the Atlantic. All alumni are invited to attend and indulge.

Last fall we challenged the Princeton Alumni Club to meet us on the diamond, but their manager, Bill Bottger, now reports that their star pinch hitter has moved to New York, that their pitcher has a broken arm, and that their entire outfield has been laid up since July 4th. Princeton is therefore defeated 9 to 0, but the glorious victory has but increased our ardor.

There will be doings, large and small, for all. Arthur "Cully" Bryant will captain the Evens, and "Punta Arenas" Furlong will lead the Odds. On these teams will cavort such sterling players as Smith '04, Sheppard '08, Nunez '10, Roberts '08, Phillips '06, Tewksbury '10, Bohler '05, Pierce '07, Hunter '05, and Walter '01.

Bill Neary says—but that's another story. The New England Club says Welcome to All. Watch for that second notice saying "All aboard for Pemberton Inn." Steamer leaves 1:20 p. m.

PROFESSOR ALLYN A. YOUNG, a new member of the department of political science, has been appointed by Governor Sulzer one of a board of five to act with the State Board of Tax Commissioners in revising the tax and assessment laws of the state.

T. C. POWER, Helena, Mont., Pres.
I. P. BAKER, Vice-President
G. H. RUSS, Jr., '03, Cashier.

BISMARCK BANK
BISMARCK, N. D.

Issues certificates of deposit, drawing 5 per cent interest per annum. Interest payable semi-annually.

Depository for the State of North Dakota, County of Burleigh and City of Bismarck.

Correspondence invited.

Herbert G. Ogden
E. E., '97

Attorney and Counsellor at Law
PATENTS AND PATENT CAUSES
2 RECTOR STREET, NEW YORK

SHIRT MAKER

Prices
$1.50 to $3.00

FIT AND WORKMANSHIP THE BEST

Write for samples and Measurement Blanks

CLARENCE E. HEAD
210 East Seneca Street

THE STURGIS SCHOOL

Ithaca, New York
SUMMER TERM

July 10 to September 19

Fall Term opens September 30, 1913
Boarding and Day Departments

The Mercersburg Academy

PRERAPES FOR ALL COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES: AIMS AT THOROUGH
SCHOLARSHIP, BROAD ATTAINMENTS
AND CHRISTIAN MANLINESS

ADDRESS
WILLIAM MANN IRVINE, Ph.D.,
President,
MERCERSBURG, PA.

Burroughs School

Great Neck, Long Island

A School for Boys in which general culture is not sacrificed for college entrance examinations.

CHARLES E. BURROUGHS, A.B., '97
HEADMASTER

A pamphlet is sent on request.

WE CAN POST you most anything that you used while here in college should your present work demand it—or obtain for you from some source such things as we might not have in stock. We are continually serving old grads the world over and would like to include you. Ask us.

THE
CORNER
BOOKSTORES

ITHACA, N. Y.

PROFESSOR H. MORSE STEPHENS

An Appreciation by President B. I. Wheeler

In the American Magazine for July Dr. Benjamin Ide Wheeler contributes to the department entitled "Interesting People" an article on Professor H. Morse Stephens, who was professor of modern European history at Cornell from 1894 to 1902 and who is now a member of the faculty of the University of California. A part of the article is as follows:

"His memory of names, faces, characters and occurrences is for accuracy most unusual; it would sometimes be a bit uncanny were it not that his gift seems so largely the purpose of cheering his fellow beings along the pathway. People like to be recognized, particularly by name; and Morse Stephens's recognition, say of an old student, is a very hearty affair, including the name and generally the John or Bill or Stub that goes with it. There are few men in this country who have more acquaintances—most of them outright friends—than Professor Stephens.

"He has them scattered all over the land wherever Cornell and California boys have gone, and wherever his own peripatetics have taken him, whether to Boston or Sonora. To be adopted by Morse Stephens as a friend means something very definite—like being initiated into a fraternity. It means that he surely will let you know when he comes to town—not merely promise to,—and that he will come right home and stay with you if you have an extra bed. But that is nothing compared with what he is ready to do when you come his way. When you are absent from him you are the person and thing which characterizes the face and fate of the city or institution where you reside. When such city or institution is mentioned he commends you. One friend, as far as Stephens is concerned, would save Sodom. At the club, in his rooms or in the "Grove," he moves and lunches in the midst of a plurality of the friends initiate. Some day there will be a society organized and called the Phi Sigma (Friends of Stephens). One reason why they love him is that he can be counted on to be found where they left him; another is that he is a pretty good lover himself."

THE NEXT TERM of the University will begin on Thursday, September 25.

OBITUARY

H. H. Seymour '71

Henry Hale Seymour, of Buffalo, died at Dr. Jackson's sanitarium in Dansville, N. Y., on July 8. The cause of his death was heart disease brought on by acute indigestion. He was born at Mount Morris, N. Y., and was sixty-three years old. It was after a year at Dartmouth College that he entered Cornell, in 1868, and he graduated in 1871 with the degree of Bachelor of Science. He won a prize offered by Professor Goldwin Smith for essay writing in connection with the lectures in English History. He studied law in the office of his uncles, McNeil Seymour and George Hastings, in Mount Morris, and was admitted to the bar in 1874 at Buffalo. After a year abroad he opened an office in Buffalo, where he practiced till a short time before his death. He was at various times a commissioner of jurors, a bar examiner, and a lecturer in the Buffalo Law School. In the National Guard he reached the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He wrote a book on one of his hobbies, entitled "Ceramic Art in Egypt." He was a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity and belonged to several clubs in Buffalo, of one of which, the University Club, he had been president. He was unmarried.

J. W. McConnell '13

Jacob Warren McConnell, of Kenton, Ohio, a member of the class of 1913 in the College of Civil Engineering, was drowned in the Mississippi River near New Madrid, Missouri, on June 22. He was one of a party engaged in surveying work for the Mississippi River Commission. Thirteen men were in the United States survey boat Beaver when she was capsized in a windstorm. Eight of the men lost their lives. McConnell was twenty-three years old. He was vice-president of the (undergraduate) Association of Civil Engineers, and a member of the honorary college society Semaphore.

E. J. Reichert '16

Edward John Reichert, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., a member of the class of 1916 in the College of Agriculture, was drowned in Lake Erie on Sunday, July 6. He was one of a party of ten young men who were going in canoes from Crystal Beach, Ontario, to Niagara Falls. Near Windmill Point, opposite Buffalo, a squall struck them. Five of the party were drowned.

ATHLETICSFootball

F. J. Guetter, Amherst '13, to Coach the Tackles Next Fall

An addition has been made to the football coaching staff for the coming season. Frederick J. Guetter, who graduated at Amherst College last June, has accepted an invitation from Head Coach Sharpe to come to Ithaca for the season and instruct the tackles and guards.

FREDERICK J. GUETTER.

Dan Reed will again give as much time as he can spare during the season to the work of looking after the line. R. Van Orman will have charge of the ends. Both those men worked with Dr. Sharpe last year. The coaching program, therefore,

THE LAST CORNELL FOUR TO ROW AT POUGHKEEPSIE.

FROM BOW TO STROKE THE MEN ARE C. W. BROWN, E. S. BIRD,

W. F. THACHER AND S. V. HISCOX. IN THE RACE BIRD STROKED THE CREW AND HISCOX ROWED AT NO. 2.

Photograph by H. C. Cable.

will be about the same, with Sharpe taking general charge and giving particular attention to the back field, Reed in general charge of the line, VanOrman coaching the ends, and Guetter, the new coach, instructing the tackles.

Guetter is well known to Dr. Sharpe, for he is a graduate of the William Penn Charter School at Philadelphia and learned football there under Sharpe himself. Since he has been playing at Amherst he has been under Yale coaches. If there is any advantage in having learned the game in a single school, Guetter has that advantage, having always played according to Yale methods. He has played tackle at Amherst, and last fall he was one of the best men on the team. He will be here when the practice begins early in September.

Donald Champaign '13 will coach the freshmen next fall, assisted by H. O. Underhill '13. The freshman coach for two years past has been Stewart E. Robb '11, who has been a graduate student in the College of Architecture. Champaign played football at the Ithaca High School, was tackle on the 1913 freshman team in 1909, and then was three years on the varsity. Last fall, at right guard, he was one of the strong center trio of which the others were J. S. Whyte and Captain-elect Mumms. Underhill was the full-back of the 1913 freshman team and also played on the varsity for three years. Last fall he was laid off on account of injury for several weeks and during that time he helped Robb with the freshmen. Of course the freshman candidates next fall will get a good share of Dr. Sharpe's own attention, as was the case last year.

Rowing

No More Fours at Poughkeepsie—Race of Junior Eights Instead

The Board of Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association has abolished the race of four-oared crews as one of the events of the Poughkeepsie Regatta. In its place, beginning next summer, there will be a race of eight-oared junior varsity crews.

The chief reason for the change is the risk of accident run by the fours and by other crews on the river by reason of the fact that the fours are without coxswains. The bow oarsman controls the rudder with his feet. This is not an easy thing to do, especially in the excitement of a race, and there have been not a few accidents at Poughkeepsie, in practice and in racing, because a four-oared shell ran out of its course. At New London the Yale and Harvard fours have coxswains. The stewards of the Poughkeepsie regatta considered that device to overcome the danger of bad steering, but decided against adopting it. They felt that a race of fours with steersmen would be only a small edition of a regular varsity race, and that a better way would be to have a race of junior eights.

Columbia and Pennsylvania have wished for several years to have a race of junior eights added to the regatta because they thought it would stimulate interest in rowing among their undergraduates by giving more men a chance to compete at Poughkeepsie. At their meeting held after the regatta this year the stewards acceded to that desire and voted to make the change.

The new race will add somewhat to the expenses of the rowing associations because it will compel them to take at four more men to Poughkeepsie.

The four-oared race began at Poughkeepsie as a very informal event and at first it was rowed on the day before the regular regatta. The fours were varsity substitutes. The Cornell and Pennsylvania fours developed so much rivalry in practice that they arranged what they called a "gentlemen's race" to settle their rivalry. The first recorded race was in 1899. Pennsylvania won, and she repeated her victory in 1900, when Columbia, as well as Cornell, was in the race. Then Cornell won for four years straight. Wisconsin entered the race in 1903, and Georgetown in 1904, making five crews.

FINISH OF THE VARSITY EIGHT-OARED RACE AT POUGHKEEPSIE. THE CREWS IN ORDER ARE SYRACUSE, CORNELL, WASHINGTON, WISCONSIN AND COLUMBIA. PENNSYLVANIA WAS OUTSIDE THE PICTURE.
Photograph Copyright by American Press Association.

Syracuse entered a four for the first time in 1904 and won the race. Cornell was the victor the next year, and Syracuse won in 1907 and 1908. In the latter race the Cornell four was away ahead of all the rest when the shell impaled itself on a buoy and the crew stopped rowing. The last five races Cornell has won. Counting the 1899 race as the first of the series, there have been fifteen four-oared races at Poughkeepsie, and Cornell has won ten of them.

EX-PRESIDENT WHITE is determined to have a fine organ for the new agricultural auditorium. That building will no doubt be used for many University events. Mr. Andrew Carnegie gave Dr. White the money for the purchase of an organ for it. Dr. White has made several trips to New York City, New England, and even to Canada, accompanied by Mr. Johnston, the University organist, to hear great organs before he decides on a purchase.

ALUMNI NOTES

'75—William E. Leffingwell, of Watkins, has been nominated by Governor Sulzer to be a member of the State Public Service Commission, Second District (the "up-state" commission). The salary is $15,000. In sending the nomination to the Senate, the Governor made the following statement about Mr. Leffingwell: "He has always been an active Democrat, and has never shirked responsibility to public welfare, to which he has given freely much of his time. He has held many minor offices, such as village trustee, village president, president or commissioner of water, sewer and electric lights. In 1904 he was the nominee of his party for Presidential elector, and in the following year was elected member of Assembly in a district unusually Republican. In 1912 he was again elected as Presidential elector." Mr. Leffingwell has been president and general manager of the Glen Springs Sanitarium Company, at Watkins, since 1890.

'80—Governor Sulzer has announced that he will continue the term of office of Dr. Eugene H. Porter, of New York, a Republican, as state commissioner of health, although Dr. Porter, whose term expired early in the year, placed his resignation in the hands of the Governor several months ago. "It is gratifying to announce," said the Governor, "that Dr. Porter has informed me he will continue in charge of the very important work of reorganizing the state department of health under the new law passed at the last session of the Legislature."

'87, B.S.—Dr. Veranus A. Moore, director of the New York State Veterinary College, is one of three experts selected by the Secretary of Agriculture from outside the Government service to make an inspection of meat packing establishments throughout the country. The others are Dr. W. T. Sedgwick of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Dr. J. A. Conway of the Missouri Agricultural College. Dr. Moore is to investigate factories at Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo and Pittsburgh. This proposed extraordinary inspection follows criticism of the regular federal inspection, and Secretary Houston said that its purpose was to increase the efficiency of the service and to foster public confidence. Dr. Moore is now in California, assisting the director of the state agricultural experiment station in certain experiments.

'88—Walter C. Noyes, of New London, Conn., United States Circuit Judge in the second circuit, has resigned from the bench to become general counsel of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad Company. Judge Noyes has been on the federal bench since 1907.

'91, A.B.—Harry Phillips, son of Captain Ervin L. Phillips, 13th Cavalry, U. S. A., is dead after a long illness.

'96, Ph.D.—The Minnesota Alumni Weekly says that Edward Dana Durand, former Director of the United States Census, has been appointed "director of a university bureau of social statistics with the rank of professor, to give instruction in economics and political science, at a salary of $5,000," at the University of Minnesota. This corrects the paragraph about Dr. Durand's appointment, taken from a newspaper report and printed in the last number of the NEWS.

'00, B.S.A.—The Outlook says: "There are few positions in the park systems of the country of greater importance than that of Landscape Architect of Central Park in New York. This is one of the older parks, and one of the best known in the country. Taking into account its size and beauty, it is unique in its situation, in the very heart of the city of New York, covering an area of land of enormous monetary value. Of late years the park has suffered from lack of intelligent and independent management. Mr. Carl F. Pilat, who has now been appointed Landscape Architect of the Park Department of New York, was chosen by the Park Board and indorsed for the position by the American Society of Landscape Architects. Mr. Pilat has heretofore been engaged chiefly in private work, but he has had exceptional opportunities of dealing with large estates. He is a graduate of Cornell University, where he specialized in horticulture and landscape architecture, and spent a year in travel and further study in Europe. Since his graduation he has been associated with landscape architects of distinction. One of the best known and most attractive of his creations on a small scale is the Orange Playground, which is a delight to the eye of many thousands, not only in that city, but to many passengers on the railway which passes it. It is a lovely background for youthful sport and mirth. Under the charter of the city of New York the Landscape Architect has the power to veto any project which does not meet with his approval; an authority which, in the opinion of political Commissioners, has always seemed in the last degree illogical, but which is of immense importance to the well-being of Central Park. Mr. Pilat is a young man who has shown admirable qualities of taste and skill. He seems well qualified by education and experience and inheritance for his new duties; and it is expected that he will use the larger opportunities now put in his hands for the further development of New York's beautiful playground."

'00, A.B.—Edward A. McCreary, formerly Treasurer of the Province of Occidental Negros, is now Treasurer of the neighboring Province of Iloilo, with headquarters at the city of Iloilo.

'02, A.B.—A second son, Henry L.

Chase, jr., was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chase at their home in Oakland, Cal., on April 26. Chase is with Louis Sloss & Co., bond brokers, Alaska Commercial Company, San Francisco.

'03, A.B.—Irving I. Goldsmith, of Saratoga Springs, has been appointed by Governor Sulzer to be a member of the Plattsburg Centenary Commission which is to have charge of the arrangements for celebrating the one-hundredth anniversary, in September, 1914, of the Battle of Lake Champlain. The other members of the commission are Francis Lynde Stetson, of New York; Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy; Thomas F. Conway, of Plattsburg, former Lieutenant-Governor; and Henry Harmon Noble, of Essex, N. Y.

'04, C.E.—Mr. and Mrs. John Bain announce the marriage of their daughter, Florence Eunice McGowan, to John Kiddie, on June 23, at Los Angeles, Cal. Kiddie is with the Arizona Copper Company at Morenci, Arizona.

'04, A.B.—A daughter, Beatrice, was born to the Rev. Edwin M. and Beatrice (Gilson) Slocombe on March 13 at their home in Worcester, Mass.

'04, M.E.—Lieutenant Samuel H. McLeary, of the Coast Artillery Corps, U. S. A., was married to Miss Louise Lipscomb, daughter of Mrs. Lee M. Lipscomb and the late Captain Lipscomb, on June 11 at the Seventh Baptist Church, Baltimore, Md. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Cordiner, the wife of Lieutenant Douglas C. Cordiner of the Coast Artillery. McLeary was recently transferred to Fort Washington, Md., from San Diego, Cal., where he was detailed to the aviation corps and where he broke the army record for altitude.

'04, A.B.—Charles W. Howard received the degree of Master of Science from the University of Minnesota in June and was promoted from instructor to assistant professor of entomology.

'05, M.E.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mainwaring announce the birth of a son, William Hamer Mainwaring, jr., on July 7, at their home, Marian Highland, Forty Fort, Pa.

'05, M.E.—Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Ruth Blackman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Blackman, of Ithaca, to Ralph Chapman Rodgers, of the department of physics, Cornell University.

Lang's Palace Garage

is situated in the center of Ithaca
117-129 East Green Street

It is absolutely fireproof. Open day and night.
Commodious and fully equipped. A full stock of tires and tubes and everything in the line of sundries.

William H. Morrison '90

Ernest D. Button '99

Frederick Robinson

EAST STATE STREET

Photographer for Senior Class
1913LAW BUSINESS IN ITHACA
Promptly and carefully attended toGeorge S. TarbellAttorney and Notary Public Trust Company BuildingLEGAL DIRECTORY

The lawyers' directory is intended to serve the convenience of Cornell professional men in various parts of the country. Insertion of a card in this column carries with it a subscription to the paper. Rates on application to the Business Manager.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

THEODORE K. BRYANT '97, '98

Master Patent Law '08

Patents and Trade Marks Exclusively 310-313 Victor BuildingNEW YORK CITY.

CHARLES A. TAUSSIG

A.B. '02, LL.B. Harvard '05

220 Broadway

Telephone 1905 Cortland,

General Practice

TULSA, OKLAHOMA.HURLEY, MASON & SENIOR
First National Bank Bldg.General practice: oil and gas titles, leases and rights

Herbert D. Mason, 1900.

John L. Senior, 1901.

ST. LOUIS, MO.

HENRY T. FERRISS '02

General Practice

Trial of causes, Estates of decedents

Commercial litigation

Ferriss, Zumbalen & Ferriss

820 Rialto Building

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS
PLEASE MENTION THE ALUMNI NEWS

'06, A.B.—Laura M. Gildner is teacher of Latin at Hamilton Institute for Girls, New York City, and is engaged in private tutoring. This summer she is tutoring at Elberon, N. J., and is organist and choir director of a summer church there.

'08, C.E.—L. M. Brockway has left the Electric Bond & Share Company, of 71 Broadway, New York City, to accept a position as hydraulic designer with the Ontario Power Company of Niagara Falls, N. Y. His address in Niagara Falls is 706 Buffalo Avenue.

'08, C.E.—Mr. and Mrs. P. Quigley, of Canandaigua, announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Louise, to Joseph Vincent Hogan, on June 24. Hogan is now located at Medina as resident engineer in charge of Residency 10-A, New York State Canals.

'08, M.E.; '12, M.M.E.—T. C. Ulbricht has resigned from the department of power engineering of Sibley College to accept a position in the engineering department of the Havana Electric Railways, Light & Power Company, of Havana, Cuba. He will begin his new work in September. His address will be San Lazaro 14, Havana, Cuba.

'08, M.E.—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Mennen, of Newark, N. J., announce the birth of a son, William Gerhard Mennen, jr., on July 6.

'09, A.B.—A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Loomis Burrell, of Little Falls, N. Y., on June 12. Mrs. Burrell was Miss Lois W. Wing '09, daughter of Professor Henry H. Wing, '81.

'10—Hobart C. Young has been appointed manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania in Warren County and a portion of McKean County. The principal exchanges under his supervision are Warren, Kane, Tidioute, Youngsville and Sheffield. His headquarters will be at Warren, Pa.

'12, M.E.—C. Irving Heikes has recently left the employment of Machinery, New York City, in order to handle the advertising of the Lodge & Shipley Machine Tool Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

'12, M.E.—L. L. Porter is in the engineering department of Deere & Company, Moline, Ill.

John Chatillon & Sons

85-93 CLIFF ST., NEW YORK CITY

Manufacturers of

Spring Scales

for weighing, assorting, counting, multiplying, estimating, measuring, testing and for various other purposes

Stuyler's

Ithaca Agency: Christence-Dudley Pharmacy

PRINTERS FOR PEOPLE

WHO ARE PARTICULAR

ABOUT PRINTING

THAT BOOKLET BROUGHT

Over a hundred "Old Grads" into my Shop Alumni Week. Some bought shirts. Some came to congratulate. Have you thought about ½ dozen shirts for 1 dozen dollars?

L. C. BEMENT

The Toggery Shops

Ithaca

Brooks Clarke, '00

W. A. Shackleton

SUMMER INDUCEMENTS

If you contemplate getting a DRESS SUIT or TUXEDO in the near future, come in and place your order now for one of our $90.00 dress suits at the price of $75.00. Advance Autumn and Winter samples of our Imported Woolens have been received and are here for your inspection. (Make your selection now for September delivery.) (Established 1898)

SHACKLETON

431 FIFTH AVENUE

TAILORS, New York City Between 38th and 39th Streets

Now Received

A full and complete stock for Spring and Summer

We will serve our out-of-town friends
promptly and well

Let us hear from you

CARR & STODDARD

TAILORS
124 N. Aurora St.

Every wearer of the varsity C is an eater of

Burns' Family Bread

He gets it at the training tables.

Why?

Ask your neighbor.

Banners Posters Pennants and College Souvenirs

Cornell and all other important colleges

PENNANTS	BANNERS
9x18.....25c	18x36...$1.00
12x30.....50c	2x4 ...$1.75
18x36.....75c	3x6... $3.00
24x48...$1.00

Mail orders filled promptly

ROTHSCHILD BROS.

WANZER & HOWELL

The Grocers

'Neath the shadow of the hill KLINE'S PHARMACY

(INCORPORATED)

Successor to Todd's Pharmacy

The Rexall Store on Aurora Street

MAYERS

Full line of Imported and Domestic Cigars

203 E. State Street

CORNELL LIVERY

EDWARD P. SAYRE, PROPRIETOR

208 South Cayuga Street
Bell Phone 55 Ithaca Phone 63

THE NEW GLEE CLUB SONGS

FOR COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL
by H. E. Dann and W. L. Wood
Just Issued Price 50c, postpaid 55c
B. F. LENT 122 N. Aurora St.

J. WILL TREE BOOKBINDER

111 NORTH TIOGA STREET

HOLLAND BROS.

The Cleaners

PRESSING CONTRACTS A SPECIALTY
Both Phones

D. S. O'BRIEN DEALER IN FRESH AND SALT MEATS

222 N. AURORA ST. 430 N. CAYUGA ST.
Special Attention Given to FRATERNITY HOUSES

CUT FLOWERS

Large assortment of all seasonable varieties. Floral Decorations for all occasions at moderate cost

THE BOOL FLORAL CO.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad

extends to through passengers
the stop-over privilege at Ithaca.

For particulars, see time table or inquire of your ticket agent

Via the Lehigh Valley, Ithaca is on the highway between East and West.

Route of The Black Diamond Express

PICTURE FRAMES

2000 patterns of mouldings to select from. The most expert frame workers employed. Orders filled as quickly as first-class work will allow. Big assortment of unframed pictures always in stock

H. J. BOOL CO.

THE SENATE

Getting better known each season for the meals and service

M. T. GIBBONS
104-106 NORTH AURORA ST.

THE ALHAMBRA GRILL

113 N. Aurora St., J. B. HERSON, Prop.
Best Food and Best Service in Ithaca
Our Steaks are Famous

FOREST CITY LAUNDRY

E. M. MERRILL.

209 NORTH AURORA STREET

DOWN-TO-DATE. MENDING FREE. CALL EITHER PHONE

EAST HILLIANS SHOULD ORDER THEIR COAL FROM THE EAST HILL COAL YARDS

The Celebrated LEHIGH VALLEY COAL, Cannel Coal and Wood
Main Office and Yard, East Ithaca. Down Town Office, Wanzer & Howell
Bell phone—362 FRANKLIN C. CORNELL Ithaca phone—735.

CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

YOU WILL LIKE TO TRADE AT THE CO-OP.

You do not have to make us be fair in dealing with you. We do it because we believe in dealing fair with everybody. You can be sure of the quality of the goods you buy of us.

CORNELL CO-OP.
Morrill Hall, Ithaca, N. Y.

Quickest and Best Way between
NEW YORK and ITHACA

ELECTRIC-LIGHTED SLEEPER IN BOTH DIRECTIONS
EVERY NIGHT IN THE YEAR

E. J. QUACKENBUSH, D. P. A.

BUFFALO, N. Y.

HIGGINS'

ARE THE FINEST AND BEST INKS AND ADHESIVES
Emancipate yourself from the use of corrosive and ill-smelling inks and adhesives and adopt the Higgins' Inks and Adhesives. They will be a revelation to you, they are so sweet, clean, and well put up and withal so efficient.

At Dealers Generally

CHAS. M. HIGGINS & CO., Mfrs.
271 NINTH STREET, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

BRANCHES: CHICAGO, LONDON

DRAWING INKS
ETERNAL WRITING INK
ENGROSSING INK
TAURINE MUCILAGE
PHOTO MOUNTER PASTE
DRAWING BOARD PASTE
LIQUID PASTE
OFFICE PASTE
VEGETABLE GLUE, ETC.

First National Bank

CORNELL LIBRARY BUILDING

Capital, Surplus & Stockholders' Liability

$600,000.00

Ithaca Savings Bank

(Incorporated 1868)

ITHACA

COVERLEY CLOTHES

You and Spalding

The International Athletic Outfitting House devotes itself to the Individual.

Your own make of Golf Club or Polo Stick; your own idea of stringing a Racket.

When in New York visit our new Fifth Avenue store and see how it is done—also see

"Coverley Clothes"

Made by London's best Sporting Tailors.
For Men and Women

SPALDING FIFTH AVENUE

Between 43d and 44th Streets, New York

HOTEL ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

EUROPEAN PLAN

Rooms $1.50 per day and up.

300 ROOMS
All with Bath

Geo. W. Sweeney, President
Wm. D. Horstmann, Manager
NATIONAL HOTEL COMPANY, PROPRIETORS