RECREATION BUILDING CASCADILLA SCHOOL ITHACA, N. Y.

THE LOCATION of this institution commends itself to everyone familiar with the general healthfulness of the Central Lake Region of the Empire State. Added to this there is the educational atmosphere and stimulating influence of the great University under whose shadow Cascadilla lies. Here are two prerequisites of a good school, healthful location, intellectual environment. The proximity of Cornell University makes it natural that fully 80 per cent. of its graduates enter that institution.

Boys are prepared for all departments of Cornell in accordance with Cornell standards. The instruction is individual in its character, and each boy's course at the school is planned with reference to his particular needs.

As a separate house is provided for the members of each class, pupils are grouped in the residence according to their age and advancement in their studies.

UNIVERSITY EMBLEM.

Prizes Awarded—Further Consideration of the Matter Next Fall.

With the authorization of the Board of Trustees, the committee empowered to award the prizes offered for the most artistic design that may be used either in whole or in part toward the formation of a University emblem has awarded the first prize of $200 to Messrs. Bailey, Banks & Biddle, of Philadelphia. The second prize of $50 has been awarded to Edwin S. Healy, of Bloomfield, N. J., a sophomore in the College of Civil Engineering, and honorable mention to a design submitted by Jessie Blanche Parks. Further consideration will be given the selection of a University emblem at the October meeting of the Faculty.

Greeting to Be Sent to the University of Berlin.

Next fall the University of Berlin will celebrate its one hundredth anniversary. A message of greeting from Cornell University is to be sent by the hand of Professor J. W. Jenks, who will be in Europe at that time on sabbatical leave. Following is a copy of the message, which has recently been engrossed:

"Cornell University sends to the Friedrich-Wilhelms University at Berlin cordial felicitations and greetings on the auspicious occasion of the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of its foundation.

"Established in the time of Germany's need by wise statesmen, the great Berlin University by its promotion of exact research in all the fields of human inquiry and by the unfolding of scientific principles salutary for the State and Society, has been an ever-flowing source of the people's strength, a wise guide in the learning and culture of the Fatherland and of all lands

"In recognition of this world-wide service, of which the American Republic is a grateful beneficiary, Cornell University has delegated Jeremiah Whipple Jenks, Professor of Economics and Politics, to bear its message of greeting and good-will to the Rector and Senate of its illustrious sister institution.

"May the Friedrich-Wilhelms University through future centuries continue its high, unhampered mission of enlarging the domain of beneficent truth and of enlightening and quickening the ideals of human progress."

Two New Fellowships.

The department of plant pathology of the New York State College of Agriculture announces the establishment of two more industrial fellowships. This makes four industrial fellowships which have already been established for the investigation of the diseases of plants. The two new fellowships are:

The Herman Frasch fellowship, established by the Union Sulphur Company of New York City. This provides for the investigation of the use of dry sulphur as a fungicide both to the plants and in the soil. This fellowship carries an annual appropriation of $3,000 a year for four years and provides for a senior and a junior fellow. Two thousand dollars is to be used as salaries for the fellows and $1,000 a year for carrying on the work.

The John Davey fellowship, established by the Davey Tree Expert Company, of Kent, Ohio, provides for the investigation of heart rots of trees. It carries with it an annual appropriation of $750 a year, of which $500 is used as salary for the fellow and $250 for carrying on the work.

Governor Hughes has vetoed the bill appropriating $10,000 to establish a school of sanitary science at Cornell University. It was one of a large number of appropriation bills which the Governor refused to approve at this time for reasons of economy.

THE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Sixty-eight Graduated—President Schurman on Medical Education.

The twelfth annual commencement of the Cornell University Medical College was held at the college in New York city last Wednesday, June 15. Sixty-eight persons received the degree of M. D. President Schurman conferred the degrees and addressed the graduating class on "Progress in Medical Education." Dean Polk read the honor roll.

The John Metcalfe Polk Memorial Prizes for general efficiency (founded in commemoration of John Metcalfe Polk, an instructor in the college, who graduated from the medical department of Cornell University on June 7, 1899, and who died on March 29, 1904) were awarded as follows: First prize, $300, to Berton Lattin, Glens Falls, N. Y.; second prize, $125, to Josephine Bicknell Neal, Lewiston, Me.; third prize, $75, to Earl Vincent Sweet, Phoenix, N. Y. Mr. Lattin is an A. B. of Cornell, 1907; Miss Neal an A. B. of Bates College, 1901, and Mr. Sweet an A. B. of Colgate, 1901.

Professor Whiting's prizes for the best work in otology were awarded, the first, $50, to William Patrick St. Lawrence, Paterson, N. J., and the second, $25, to John Francis Cowan, Los Angeles, Cal. (Stanford '02). No prize for efficiency in neurology was awarded.

Following is the honor roll:

1. Berton Lattin.
2. Josephine Bicknell Neal.
3. Earl Vincent Sweet.
4. Maud Loeber.
5. Gustave Frederick Boehme.
6. Jennie Archer Dean.
7. Adeline May Wescott.
8. Benjamin Harrison Betts.
9. Jacob Sachs.
10. Williams McKim Marriott.

The following elections to the honorary medical society of Alpha Omega Alpha were announced: From the class of 1910—Wesley Manning

Baldwin, Benjamin Harrison Betts, James Harrington Biram, John Francis Cowan, Berton Lattin, Maud Loeber, William McKim Marriott, Josephine Bicknell Neal, William Patrick St. Lawrence, Earl Vincent Sweet. From the Class of 1911 — Helen Dudley, Henry Robert Kutil, Roscoe Conkling Borst, Charles Fleet Scudder.

Sixty of the sixty-eight graduates (88 per cent. of the class) have won hospital appointments.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

President Schurman said in part: "No first class medical school in the United States to-day possesses a hospital of its own. The Johns Hopkins hospital, though a separate organization, has, however, formed an alliance with the medical department of Johns Hopkins University. And this medical department with a total annual income of $102,429 has been greatly strengthened by this reinforcement of hospital facilities.

"The greatest need of our first class medical schools to-day is the free and unhampered use of hospitals which they own or absolutely control on the medical and educational side. The only way in which these schools can utilize hospitals is by appointing to their faculties gentlemen who are already members of hospital staffs. But this fatally limits the choice of the authorities of the University in selecting professors for their medical school.

"In every other professional school of Cornell University we select the best men we can find in the United States or in the world to fill vacancies. But in the case of our medical school we are limited, not merely to the State of New York but to the city of New York, and not merely to the city of New York but to the comparatively small number of physicians and surgeons who are already on hospital staffs in the city of New York. The system is altogether vicious.

"The way to establish medical education and medical research on a high plane in this city is for the best hospitals to offer positions on their staffs to the professors in our best medical schools. If the Roosevelt, New York, St. Luke's, the Presbyterian, or Mount Sinai hospitals would adopt such a policy they would in a short time win a place in medical education and research that would rank them with Guy's and St. Bartholomew's in London, the Royal Infirmary of Edinburgh, the Charité of Berlin, the Hôtel-Dieu of Paris, and that too, without sacrificing, but on the contrary while enhancing their reputation as humane and philanthropic institutions for the care of the sick and injured."

Dr. C. F. Wheelock's Appointment.

Dr. Charles Francis Wheelock '73, present chief of the examinations division of the State Education Department, has been chosen by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, on the nomination of Education Commissioner Draper, to be Second Assistant Commissioner of Education. He succeeds Dr. Frank Rollins, resigned. This is an important position, the Second Assistant Commissioner being in charge of secondary education throughout the State. All the high schools are under his supervision. Dr. Wheelock has been connected with the State Education Department for nineteen years and since 1904 he has been chief of the examinations division. St. Lawrence University conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws upon him in 1906.

The Regents appointed as three of the five members of the state board of veterinary examiners Professor James Law; Dr. Raymond Clinton Reed, Ph.B. '96, D. V. M. '01, of Elmira, and Dr. H. S. Beebe, D. V. M. '02, of Albion.

Fuertes Medals Awarded.

The undergraduate Fuertes Medal has been awarded to Lionel Montefiore Levine, of New York city, a senior in the College of Civil Engineering, for the highest rank in scholarship. The graduate Fuertes Medal has been awarded to Richard Collier St. John '87, of St. Louis, for "a meritorious paper upon some engineering subject tending to advance the scientific or practical interests of the profession of the civil engineer." Mr. St. John's paper was entitled "Supplemental Report on Transportation Subways." These medals were founded by the late Professor E. A. Fuertes.

THE AGASSIZ CLUB.

The Agassiz Club, probably one of the best of Cornell undergraduate organizations, has recently closed its work for the year. Started in 1905 by five or six men interested in the world of nature around them, the club has since then grown to such proportions that the membership has had to be limited. These charter members had been in the habit of going out on field trips every little while, until the desire to get closer to one another led them to form the Agassiz Club.

At first, meetings were held every two weeks and excursions were irregular, but in 1907 regular field trips were instituted, in the beginning on every other Sunday, and afterward on every Saturday in connection with the regular programs. At present an indoor meeting is held every Friday evening at which a paper is read and some biological question is discussed. Once a month, in place of the usual undergraduate paper, a member of the Faculty or an outsider who has done something in the way of exploration or nature work is invited to deliver a lecture on his specialty. Recently L. C. Bement spoke on the trip he made some years ago to the Arctic regions, and Louis A. Fuertes lectured on his travels. The day following the indoor meeting, a field excursion is made into the country around Ithaca, led by a man who is well acquainted with some phase of the biological sciences.

One special feature of this organization is that it is a club held together not by a system of fines and rules but by a community of interest. The aim is to keep the social element subordinate to the serious work that the men are capable of doing. For this reason the membership has been limited to the number of papers that can be read during any one year. There are a number of associate members who enjoy all the privileges of the club, but they have not the right of voting and they are not depended upon to help in the regular programs.

Even with this restriction there are active members from all the colleges of the University—men who regard this work as a fascinating hobby and are willing to give up to it almost all of their spare time.

Even when these students have become graduates their interest in this hobby and in the club has not flagged, and every now and then interesting articles from Honolulu or South Africa come from alumni who in their undergraduate days sought valuable diversion in the Agassiz Club. Owing to the arduous nature of the work performed in connection with these outdoor activities, the membership is confined to male students in the University.

Last year the custom of having an annual banquet was instituted. The difficulty here, however, is not the perplexing question of wet or dry bills of fare, but of making the eatables as scientifically biological as the institutors of the custom have prescribed. It would be impossible for a mere layman to enumerate all the features of this interesting bill of fare, but some of the dishes were fried lampreys caught at the Inlet and cooked at the camp fire, water-cress sandwiches prepared on the spot, dandelion coffee, greens and birchbark. To be eligible, a food must have as little connection with an institution of civilization such as a grocery store as the circumstances of the meal will permit.

An Expression of Good Feeling.

June 15, the date of the third Penn-Cornell baseball game, was Commencement Day at the University of Pennsylvania, and many graduates were there for their class reunions. The game was scheduled for that day at the request of the Pennsylvania management, as an attraction to the Pennsylvania alumni. Their appreciation was expressed in the following telegram, sent from Philadelphia on June 15 to the Cornell University Athletic Association through Dean Irvine:

"General Alumni Society University of Pennsylvania wishes to express its appreciation of Cornell's good will in giving us a game on Commencement Day.

"S. F. Houston, President."

Another telegram was received by the Cornell association, as follows:

"Class of Eighty-seven Pennsylvania sends thanks for good feeling shown in arranging for game today."

BASEBALL.

CORNELL 3, YALE 0.

The 'varsity nine closed its season on Saturday at New Haven, shutting out the Yale team by a score of 3 to 0. Goodwillie pitched in excellent style, allowing only four scattered hits, three being due to bad bounds taken by infield grounders. All Cornell's runs were made in the fourth inning, when five hits were made off Freeman. After Magner had struck out, Rutherford singled. Fast fielding by the Yale left fielder prevented the hit from being a two-bagger. Williams sent a single to left field, and Thompson hit safely, filling the bases. Howard's single brought in two runs. Matchneer made the fifth hit of the inning, and Thompson scored when the center fielder dropped Goodwillie's fly.

Yale got only one man to third base and that was in the fourth inning, when Badger, who had gone to first on balls, dashed all the way to third on Logan's scratch hit to Magner. Magner's shortstop playing was declared to be the best seen at Yale this year. He killed several apparently safe hits by wonderful stops and throws.

PENN 2, CORNELL 1.

Pennsylvania won the third and deciding game from Cornell on Franklin Field last Wednesday by a score of 2 to 1. Carvajal pitched a strong game, and held his own with Schultz until the eighth inning, when a home run won the game for Penn. It was Commencement Day at the University of Pennsylvania, and hundreds of alumni marched in procession to the field, headed by Provost Harrison and Vice-Provost Smith. Mayor Reyburn of Philadelphia tossed the ball upon the field.

Magner reached third base in the first inning, assisted by two errors, but the side was retired without a run. In the second inning Cornell scored. Thompson was safe on Aldendifer's error and Howard sacrificed. Thompson went to third on Matchneer's out and scored on a passed ball. In the fourth inning Cornell filled the bases with only one out, but Howard fouled out to Cozens and Carvajal was out on a fly to Aldendifer.

Penn's first run was obtained in the seventh inning, when Hayden reached first safely on his infield drive, took second when the next batter was hit by a pitched ball, and scored on Smiley's hit to left field. In the eighth inning Smith, Penn's right fielder, drove the ball far over the center fielder's head for a home run, the deciding run of the game.

The Crews.

The only news from the Cornell crews at Poughkeepsie during the week, outside of the regular routine of practice, was that Day, number 2 in the 'varsity eight, was slightly ill and that Backus had taken his place. Day was expected to be back in his seat in two or three days.

MacArthur Track Captain.

Edward Gaul MacArthur, of Hudson, N. Y., a member of the next year's senior class in the College of Law, has been elected captain of the 'varsity track team. He took second place in the 440-yard dash in the intercollegiate meet last month. For the past two seasons he has played end on the football team. He is president of the class of 1911 and is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and of Sphinx Head.

ONE OF THE CARTOONS IN THE FRIEZE OF THE CAFE.

There are two interesting novelties at the Sage greenhouse. One is a Philippine lily, which is just now coming into bloom, and the flower of which is much like that of the Easter lily, but more waxy and fragrant even than that species. The foliage, however, is wholly unlike the Easter lily and consists of very long and narrow leaves. The bulbs from which these lilies come were sent by Mr. F. W. Foxworthy, formerly assistant in the department of botany, from the Philippine Islands, last fall. Unlike most of the other lilies, this one requires hothouse culture. It is very rare.

The other novelty is a collection of calceolarias produced by the head gardener, Mr. Shore, through the crossing of two varieties. This collection has displayed a most remarkable variety of color during the past few weeks. The flower is suggestive of a lady slipper.

The green house is open to visitors from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the afternoon, and will well repay a visit.

It is announced that Edward Holmes '05 will sing "My Own United States" at the Glee Club concert this evening. Other alumni singers are expected to take part in the concert.

THE LIBRARY.

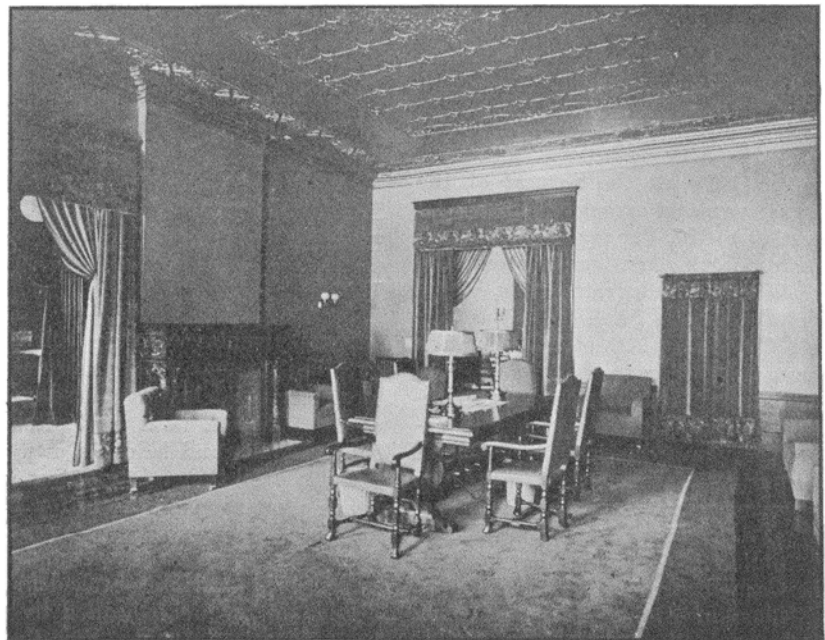

CORNELL CLUB OF NEW YORK.

In this number are presented several views of the interior of the new home of the Cornell University Club of New York.

By careful management the club has already been placed on a paying basis. A considerable sum of money was borrowed to meet the expense of alterations to the club house and for the furnishing thereof. The club has regularly paid the interest upon its obligations, as the interest has fallen due; and funds are being set aside to meet the principal as it falls due.

Already it is recognized that the club will outgrow the present house before the expiration of the ten year lease. Though the club has occupied the new house less than a year consideration has been given to plans for the procurement of a larger house upon the expiration of the present lease. It is even hoped that by that time the club will be strong enough in numbers and financially to enable it to build a house of its own.

The annual dues for non-resident members (those neither residing nor having a place of business in New York city) are $10. A non-resident member does not pay any initiation fee. The initiation fee for resident members is $10. The dues of resident members are $20 per year, payable semi-annually. In order to extend the privileges of the club to those who were only recently students and who may therefore be less able to bear the expense, the dues for those who have been out of the University less than three years are only $15 per year, payable semi-annually; and such members may defer the payment of their initiation fees until they shall have been out of the University for three years. By the payment of $350 one may become a life member, thereafter being excused from the payment of dues.

Buildings and Museums.

All the buildings of the University are open for inspection on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of Commencement Week from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The following museums and collections may be found of particular interest to visitors: the conservatories in Sage College; the Museum of Casts in Goldwin Smith Hall; the White Historical Library; the Museum of Geology and Zoology in McGraw Hall; the Collection of Entomology in the main building of the College of Agriculture; and the drawings in the College of Architecture in White Hall.

Most of the undergraduates left Ithaca during the week.

REUNION WEEK is here. As this paper goes to press, however, the events of the week are just beginning, and so we are unable to give the number very much of a reunion flavor. The program was published in last week's issue.

THIS COMMENCEMENT PERIOD will be notable for one thing, if for no other. A report will be made showing the beginning of systematic support of the University by its alumni. The Secretary of the Cornellian Council, who took up his duties this spring and has had really only a few weeks in which to get the work started, is able to report, it is understood, the pledging of several thousand dollars already. The pledge does not mean merely a single gift of money at this time by each contributor, but also yearly gifts of the same amount as long as the giver wishes to continue them. The fact that so much progress has been made in a few weeks is rich in promise for the University.

BY THE DEATH OF C. C. Dickinson '91 on May 24 a vacancy was created in the alumni membership of the Board of Trustees. As we go to press it is stated that that vacancy will undoubtedly be filled at the meeting of the Associate Alumni on Wednesday of this week. The vacancy must be filled from among the candidates nominated for this election. There were only two candidates named on the official ballot this year (only enough for the regular term) but several nominations for the unexpired term of Mr. Dickinson's election have been made by persons who have written an additional name on the official ballot and voted the ballot. As a voter may write any name he pleases on the ballot, the effect has been to put five or six candidates in the running for the three places to be filled.

Instructors Appointed.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees held on June 14, the following appointments were made for the year 1910-11:

Charles Dudley Corwin '08 to be instructor in machine design.

R. L. Daugherty to be instructor in mechanics.

Carlton E. Power to be assistant in physics.

Walter Ernest Koerner '10, James Stevens King '10, and Arthur Romaine Hitch, to be assistants in chemistry.

Professor Ogden's Vacation Plans.

Professor Henry N. Ogden '89, of the department of sanitary engineering and special assistant engineer of the state department of health, will spend the summer vacation in Europe, occupying the time largely with an investigation of sewage disposal works involving special features of construction or operation. He expects to spend about half his time in England and the remainder in Germany.

Governor Hughes has appointed Professor Frank A. Fetter a member of the State Board of Charities.

Crew Celebration of the Cornell Alumni Association of Chicago.

A crew celebration and smoker will be held at the Kuntz Rummler Café on Saturday, June 25, at 8:30 p. m.

Our special representative will give us a detailed account of the races as they are held at Poughkeepsie.

All alumni are most cordially invited to be present, to come and bring as many of their acquaintances as they desire.

Supper will be served à la carte.

A good time is guaranteed to all who attend.

Outing of Rochester Cornellians.

On Friday afternoon, June 10, the Cornellians of Rochester, to the number of about fifty, deserted their posts of duty and went to the Newport House on Irondequoit Bay for a right riotous ruction. The event of the afternoon was a ball game between the odd and even classes, captained by "Dick" Vanderhoef and "Pap" Folger, respectively. The odd side left work so hurriedly that six or seven appeared on the field in their working regalia. One especially, in trying to leave his job, was grabbed by the foreman and the left leg of his overalls was entirely torn off. Modesty compels us to conceal the name. The final score, after nine innings of hard work, and a number of plays which would have done (dis)credit to any bush league team, was 17 to 7 in favor of the Evens.

The following Cornellians attended the outing: E. W. Catchpole '81, George B. Penny '85, C. W. Curtis '88, S. L. Adler '89, C. W. H. Gorsline '89, J. S. Gleason '92, H. W. Clark '92, E. G. Ashley '94, T. J. Tousey '96, Benjamin E. Tilton '97, William H. Burr '97, P. S. Wilcox '97, Edward F. Davison '98, W. O. Boswell '98, H. W. Peck '00, Philip Will '00, E. A. Briner '01, H. E. Vanderhoef '01, F. Will, jr. '01, C. W. Bodler '01, E. L. Wilder, '02, W. E. Bowen '02, E. B. Nell '03, E. J. Thayer '03, J. H. Agate '03, G. C. Wright '03, J. K. Quigley '03, W. B. Zimmer '03, H. W. At the close of the ball game a sumptuous repast was spread, to which the hungry Cornellians did justice, interspersing the courses with fine melody. A band composed of six pieces, playing on silver (?) instruments, dispersed music (one could not tell the kind of music unless one was there to hear it). Every one present voted the occasion a great success and all hoped for many recurrences in the near future.

Philadelphia-Wilmington Outing.

The spring outing of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia was held at "The Orchard," Essington, Pa., on June 4. (The rest is by one who was there.) The kind providence which watches over the widow and the orphan handed out to the Cornell Club on June 4th a day of days—a day of warm, dry sunshine and (say it softly) not a drop of rain. Great was the excitement when the thirty loyal Cornellians from Philadelphia sighted the steam tug Al Warner bearing into port with thirty equally loyal from nearby Wilmington. The battle was on.

First the unmarried men of Wilmington defeated the married men in a hotly contested ball game. Likewise the crusty old bachelors of Philadelphia compelled their married men to bite the dust in ignominious defeat. After the two clans had settled their home differences came the event of the day—the Philadelphia Stars vs. All Wilmington. It developed into a pitchers' battle. The curveless Johnson '99 of Philadelphia cast a spell over the Wilmington sluggers. Jim Lynah did his best with his old glass arm, but the charley horse and the batting of his opponents was too much. The score:

Philadelphia	2	1	0	3	1	0	0	—7	14	2
Wilmington	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—1	4	4

Batteries—Johnson and Chilton; Lynah and Forgy.

Other events followed: Relay running the bases—Won by Wilmington. Sack race, fifty yards—Won by Irving Warner, Wilmington; second, R. B. Lewis, Philadelphia. Fat men's sweepstakes—Won by Wiley

Fordham Abolishes Football.

Because the changes in the rules governing football for next season have not met with the approval of the Fordham College faculty, the sport has been abolished at that institution for one year. This action has the effect of cancelling one of the games on the Cornell schedule for next fall, the one scheduled for October 15. Last year Fordham defeated Cornell by a score of 12 to 6.

Receives Appointment in Philippines.

Dr. W. H. Boynton, instructor in pathology in the New York State Veterinary College, has just left for the Philippine Islands, where he has accepted the position of pathologist of the veterinary service. Dr. Boynton spent three years in the University of California and then came to Ithaca to study bacteriology. He decided later to take the veterinary course and since his graduation in 1908 has been retained as an assistant and instructor. He has done excellent work in connection with diagnosis of glanders and rabies and at the present time had important investigations in connection with these diseases under way. While in the University of California he was a student of Dr. A. R. Ward, who was recently made chief veterinarian of the Philippines. In his investigation of rinderpest and other animal diseases of the Islands it was necessary that Dr. Ward should have the aid of an experienced laboratory man in pathology. Dr. Boynton sails on June 28 from San Francisco on the steamer Siberia for Manila.

Dr. Edmund H. Hollands, Ph.B '99, A. M. '01, Ph.D. '05, has been appointed professor of philosophy in Butler College, Indianapolis. Dr. Hollands was instructor in philosophy at Cornell in 1905-06 and 1907-09. During this year he has been acting professor of philosophy at Hamilton College.

Dr. Andrew D. White and Professor Crane returned to Ithaca late last week from a tour of Spain and France.

The Summer Session will begin on July 6.

DEAR ALUMNUS:

No doubt there is some "sub-frosh" in your neighborhood who contemplates entering college next fall. What college? Naturally you would like to have him enter Cornell. You talk to him. How much can you tell him accurately and systematically, about the place, its history, associations, splendid setting, student life, etc.? Would not a book, full of pictures, well written, covering all the points, endorsed by former President A. D. White and many others be the thing to loan or give to that sub-frosh? Such a book has been published within the year. The title is "At Cornell." Undergraduates have bought over a thousand copies, alumni hundreds more. We want you to have the volume. Costs only $1.70 Post Paid. Write today to THE ARTIL CO., Ithaca, N. Y., or to any of the bookstores.

Judicious Investments

This is an age of investment opportunities. Some are real opportunities, others only "chances." The variety of investments offered these days is so extensive and one is so apt to put his money into an unprofitable investment "scheme" that a careful analysis of an advertised opportunity should precede the placing of the investor's money.

If you have a few thousand dollars to invest, put it where you will be reasonably sure of returns, and quick returns. Investments in North Dakota lands are reasonably safe; in fact, they are almost sure—thousands will testify to that. They are legitimate, not a gamble, as an inspection will disclose.

We own and offer for sale in North Dakota 20,000 acres of well-improved lands and over 10,000 acres of fertile raw lands. Our specialty is RED RIVER VALLEY IMPROVED FARMS. Our prices and terms are right. Our capital of $250,000 is in back of all our dealings. Our thirteen years' experience will help you and is at your service if you are looking for an opportunity to make a good investment.

A few thousand dollars invested now in our improved or raw lands will insure a handsome annual return on the investment. We can and will help you to invest your money judiciously if you will give us the opportunity. Write us for particulars.

WHY NORTH DAKOTA LANDS ARE A GOOD INVESTMENT.

Because the prices of our productive raw or improved lands today are so much lower than those of less fertile lands in the other farming states; because land values are steadily increasing—no boom, just a healthy advance, due to natural conditions; because the lands can be bought on easy terms; because the quality, quantity and variety of the crops grown in the State put North Dakota at the top of the list of the country's farming states; because there has never been a total crop failure here and the chances of one coming to pass are so remote that such a probability need hardly be taken into consideration; because there is probably no better farming State in the whole country.
