CORNELL ALUMNI NEWS

VOL. XXIX, No. 26

ITHACA, N. Y., MARCH 31, 1927

PRICE 12 CENTS

AS YOU have no doubt observed, President Hopkins of Dartmouth has issued, in time to catch the dull Monday morning papers, a plan to strip football of its present garment of iniquity. He proposes, first, that eligibility be limited to sophomores and juniors; second, that major games be arranged on a reciprocal basis, that is, for instance, that Cornell play Dartmouth simultaneously in Ithaca and Hanover; and third, that paid coaching be abolished, and that all coaching be done by seniors.

PRESIDENT HOPKINS' PROPOSALS have aroused less interest and discussion than one would have anticipated. Student intellectual apathy seems to have benumbed even the discussion of the Theory of Football. The local athletic hierarchy refuses to be interviewed, on the principle, no doubt, that accused felons should be wary of reporters. The Faculty members approached, oblivious dwellers on the slopes of Etna, had not even bothered to read Mr. Hopkins' proposals.

IT ALL SEEMS somehow a little peculiar. Nearly everyone likes football, the drama of the big games, the mimic, well-regulated warfare of October and November, the annual emotional charging of the Campus which goes off with a vast explosion on Thanksgiving Day. Everyone knows that it doesn't make any difference in the march of civilization, but the emotion is none the less real for that reason. Football is the one thing that undergraduates can do better than their elders, the one student activity that can attract the country's attention on its own merits. For this reason the students and alumni want it to be conducted as well as possible. President Hopkins thinks that the conditions of football will be improved if it is done worse. This conclusion is not supported by this disillusioned observer's notes on student and human nature. If football is reduced to a sort of romp between colleges, will the student body in desperation turn to scholastic competition? One is inclined to doubt it.

MEANWHILE, REGISTRATION for Spring football practice was held on Friday in Schoellkopf Lecture Room. In those three words lies a subject for much editorial reflection.

BENEATH AN UNSCHOLARLY epidemic of faculty-student backbiting lies a thick stratum of misunderstanding, says a Sun editorial. And the teachers of English hang up their fiddles in that Slough of Despond wherein the silver linings of the clouds are turned to gall and wormwood.

THE RED KEY SOCIETY held its annual dance on March 25 at the Phi Delta Theta House. Jimmy Day's Night Hawks' Orchestra furnished the music.

ITHACA'S NIGHT CLUB is open again, with its name changed from the Owls' Club to the Elmside Inn, and with H. Lee Merriman '28 of Beaver Falls, Pa. and Harold Herson of Ithaca in charge. Merriman promises to do tricks of his own and to provide other entertainment. The club is located in the McKinney cottage down the east coast of Cayuga, at Elmside-on-Cayuga.

SOCCER SHINGLES have been awarded to the members of the Arts College team who played last fall: James M. Arnold '27 of Newark Valley, Richard M. Kochenthal '27 of Rochester, Raymond C. Morse '27 of Brooklyn, Arthur L. Nash '27 of Flushing, Stanley R. Noble '27 of Yonkers, Richard B. Wagner '27 of Dayton, Ohio, Vernon Woodward '27 of Norwood, Ohio, Benjamin W. Brown '28 of New York, Edwin H. Kiefer '29 of Richmond Hill, and Albert R. Scharping '29 of Albion.

PROFESSOR MARTIN W. SAMPSON read poems of Wordsworth, Shelley, Keats, Blake, and Robert Herrick at a gathering at the University Club on March 23.

CLASS DAY OFFICIALS this June will be Jervis Langdon, Jr., '27 of Elmira, historian; Victor L. Butterfield '27 of East Lansing, Mich., orator; John R. Young '27 of Wayne, Pa., poet; Walter K. Nield '27 of East Aurora, prophet; and Eugene P. Balderston '28 of Philadelphia, junior custodian of the pipe. Charles M. Werly '27 of Ithaca and Forbes D. Shaw '27 of Brooklyn will be marshals.

THE JEWISH TEMPLE plans have been approved, and construction will start in a few weeks. The new synagogue will be erected at North Tioga and East Court Streets. The architect, Eli W. Goldstein '11 of Buffalo, has donated his services.

A SURVEY OF STREAMS in the Oswego watershed, including the Finger Lakes district, will be made this summer for the New York State Department of Conservation under the direction of Professor George C. Embury, Ph. D. '10. Similar work was done in the Genesee Valley last summer for the purpose of drawing up an intelligent stocking policy with regard to fish population. A study of stream pollution problems will also be made, under the direction of Professor Peter W. M. Claassen, Ph. D. '18, and a botanical investigation will be carried on by Professor Walter C. Muenscher, Ph. D. '21. Assisting in the work will be Instructors Dana J. Leffingwell '22, Paul Needham '24, and John R. Greeley of Ithaca, Albert S. Hazzard of Brewster, Russell P. Hunter of Colorado Springs, Colo., Myron Gordon of Ithaca, and Robert D. Harwood of Ithaca, graduate students.

DR. HU SHIH '14 was the guest of honor and principal speaker at a special luncheon held at the University Club on March 26 and in the Presbyterian Church on March 27. Dr. Hu Shih, who recently spoke at Cornell on the Schiff Foundation, is making an extensive lecture tour through the United States.

INTERCOLLEGE TRACK SHINGLES have been awarded to Arthur L. Somers '27 of Brooklyn, Leo J. Gainey '28 of Ithaca, Adrian N. Lefebvre '29 of Geneseo, William E. Martin '29 of Washington, and Jesse C. Nichols, Jr., '29 of Ithaca, all of the Arts College team.

THE BEETHOVEN CENTENARY was observed by a special program given at the weekly organ recital last Thursday. Assisting Professor Harold D. Smith were Mrs. Theodora L. Faust, soprano, and Walter H. French '19 flutist. They gave Beethoven's Andante, from Symphony Number 5, Opus 67; two songs, Busslied, from Opus 48, and An Die Geliebte; Scherzo, from Sonata, Opus 26; Romance, Opus 50; and the Overture to "Egmont" from Opus 84.

THE CENTENARY also was observed at Willard Straight Hall on Sunday. At the afternoon musicale a Beethoven program was played by Lynn B. Bogart, violin; George Daland, viola; Professor Harold C. Perkins '15, cello; and Walter H. French '19. Gordon Watkins of the Ithaca Piano School played the Sonata Appassionata. In the evening Professor Otto Kinkeldey spoke on "Beethoven and His Personality."

A SOCIALIST LABOR party representative Adolph Silver, gave three lectures on March 23, 24, and 25, under the auspices of the Social Problems Group: "Lessons from the British General Strike," "Wage, Labor, and Capital," and "The Paris Commune."

CORNELL SONS of Rotarians were guests of honor at a dinner given by the Ithaca Rotary Club on March 23. President Farrand and Professor Martin W. Sampson were among the speakers, the latter telling the forty young visitors just where Mencken is right and where he is wrong about papa's club. R. Warren Sailor '07 as president of the Club presided.

Six Alumni Nominated for Three Trusteeships

Candidates Now Include Mary M. Crawford '04, Frank G. Gardner '91, Joseph P. Harris '01, Nicholas H. Noyes '06, Wiley Wakeman '99, and Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00—Others Possible

On the basis of nominations which have thus far been filed with the treasurer of the University, six alumni will be candidates this year for Alumni Trustee. Unless other nominations are filed before midnight of April 1, the candidates will be Dr. Mary M. Crawford '04 of New York, Frank G. Gardner '91 of Highland Park, Ill., Joseph P. Harris '01 of Cleveland, Nicholas H. Noyes '06 of Indianapolis, Wiley Wakeman '99 of Quincy, Mass., and Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00, of Wilmington.

In view of the sudden death on March 19 of Fred M. Randall '00 of Detroit, who had served less than two years of his five-year term, three Trustees will be elected this spring. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected to the full five-year terms, while the candidate running third will be elected to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Randall.

As soon as practicable after April 1, the last date for filing nominations, the treasurer of the University will mail to every degree holder a ballot, together with biographical sketches prepared by the secretary of the Cornell Alumni Corporation. These ballots must be returned to the treasurer by Monday, June 6. The results of the election will be announced at the annual meeting of the Alumni Corporation, to be held in Ithaca on Saturday, June 11.

Under the plan authorized at the alumni convention held in Philadelphia last November the directors of the Corporation were charged with the responsibility of seeing to it each year that there should be at least one more than twice as many candidates running as there are positions to be filled.

The directors of the Corporation met in January and after studying the situation from all angles made up a list of alumni who might be asked to present their names as candidates. The directors do not endorse any candidate. Their only interest is in taking such steps as may be possible to insure a larger field of choice than has been available of recent years.

Appended below are biographical sketches of the six candidates who have been nominated.

DR. MARY M. CRAWFORD '04

Mary Merritt Crawford was born in New York City in April, 1884, a daughter of Gilbert Holmes Crawford of the law firm of Page, Crawford and Tuska. She received an A. B. degree from Cornell University in 1904 and an M. D. in 1907. Her undergraduate activities resulted in her election to sophomore, junior, and senior women's honorary societies. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Dr.

Crawford is one of a family of five Cornellians who, from 1900 to 1913, were prominent in undergraduate affairs.

Since graduation, she has maintained a consistent interest in alumni activities. She has been vice-president and director of the Cornell Alumni Corporation, has served on special committees for this organization and was a member of the Constitutional Committee which drafted its by-laws. She has been an officer of the Federation of Cornell Women's Clubs. She has been President and Director of the Cornell Alumni Medical Association. At present, she is chairman for the women of the War Memorial Committee.

Upon her graduation from the Cornell Medical College, Dr. Crawford became an interne and ambulance surgeon at the Williamsburgh Hospital in Brooklyn. At the outbreak of the war, she served under Dr. du Bouchet and Dr. Joseph A. Blake in the American Ambulance at Neuilly. Later she was appointed to the French division and served under M. Mignot, a Médecin Major assigned to the American Ambulance from the French War Department. In this assignment she was house surgeon. After the United States entered the war, Dr. Crawford served as a physician in the Red Cross medical station in New York. She has been on the executive committee of the American Women's Hospital as secretary and as chairman.

Dr. Crawford has, for the past eight years, had charge of the Medical Department of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. This position entails the yearly physical examination of 2300 employees and through a staff of visiting nurses, the superintendence of their general health. In addition, Dr. Crawford has general supervision over the bank cafeteria and dining room.

Mary Crawford married Edward Schuster in 1915. He is a Texan who has from Columbia University both his A. B. and LL. B. degrees. After eight years of practice in Mexico and Chile Mr. Schuster has continued in New York in his specialty—civil law in the Latin-American countries. He has attained a prominent position in his field and has an extensive practice. He is well known as the author of articles in his special field.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuster have one daughter, Mary. They live in New York, spending their summers in their country home near Weston, Connecticut.

FRANK G. GARDNER '91

Word has just come from the Cornell Club in Chicago that they are nominating their president, Frank G. Gardner, LL.B. '91, of Highland Park, Ill. Gardner is an officer of several Chicago banks and corporations. At present he is recovering from a severe illness, which accounts for the lateness of the nomination. A more detailed biography will appear later.

JOSEPH P. HARRIS '01

Joseph P. Harris '01, of Cleveland, was born August 14, 1880, the son of Owen Harris '74 and Jennie White Harris, at Perry, N. Y. His brother was Professor Clarence O. Harris, A. B. '98, Ph. D. '06. Harris was educated in the public schools of Perry and Warsaw, attended Adelbert College at Western Reserve University from 1896 to 1898, and took the degree of A. B. at Cornell in 1901. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa in his senior year and is also a member of Quill and Dagger.

For five years following his graduation Harris was private secretary to President Jacob Gould Schurman. From 1906 to 1908 he was with N. W. Harris & Company in New York, and then returned to Cornell for a year, when he became the first secretary of the University. From 1909 to 1916 he was manager of the Cleveland office and Ohio territory for N. W. Harris & Company, and beginning in 1916 was for four years vice-president and director of the Citizens Savings & Trust Company of Cleveland.

Harris is now vice-president of the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, which position he has held since 1920. He is in charge of the bank's investments. He is president and director of the Kalamazoo, Allegany & Grand Rapids Railroad, vice-president and director of the Cleveland Southwestern Railway & Light Company, and of the Western Reserve Power & Light Company, director of the Una Welding and Bonding Company of Cleveland and of the Glidden Company, is a trustee of the American Defense Society of New York and of the Cornell University Christian Association, and is chairman of the Life Saving Committee of the Cleveland Chapter of the American Red Cross. He has frequently been called upon to deliver public addresses and furnish articles to business and economic journals.

Until recently Harris was director and chairman of the executive committee of the Lake Shore Electric Railway Company and a director of the Lake Erie Power & Light Company. For two years he was a member of the Board of Education of the City of Cleveland. He was a charter trustee and fellow of the Cleveland Museum of Natural History and is a member of the American Archaeological Society, the Council of the National Economic League, the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, the American Institute of Banking, the American Geographical Society, the Union Club, the Mayfield Country Club, the Mid-Day Club, the Bankers' Club, the Cornell Club, and the Castalia Sporting Club, all of Cleveland.

In Cornell affairs Harris was a director of the Associate Alumni for several years and was president from 1920 to 1921. He called the first national convention of Cornell alumni, held in Cleveland in 1921.

Harris is an independent Republican and a Presbyterian.

NICHOLAS H. NOYES '06

Nicholas H. Noyes, of Indianapolis, was born in 1883, in Dansville, N. Y., the son of Frederic W. Noyes '76 and Emma H. Noyes, Vassar '80. He had his preparatory school education in the Dansville High School and in the Lawrenceville School. While in college he was business manager of the Sun, sang on the Glee Club, played on the freshman baseball team, and was a member of Psi Upsilon, Sphinx Head, Aleph Samach, the Savage Club, and the Junior Prom Committee. In 1908 he married Miss Marguerite Lilly. They have three children, two boys and a girl.

On leaving college, Noyes engaged in the publishing business in New York for four years. In 1910 he became associated with Eli Lilly & Company, in Indianapolis and in 1913 became treasurer and director.

From 1917 to 1919 Noyes was president of the Associate Alumni, the predecessor of the present Alumni Corporation. Under the chairmanship of Edwin N. Sanderson '87, whom Noyes appointed, the Associate Alumni assumed charge of the 1919 Semi-Centennial alumni celebration.

The interests of Noyes in Indianapolis aside from those mentioned above are as follows: president of the Paper Package Company; president of the 1926 Chamber of Commerce, Indianapolis; director and chairman of the campaign committee of the Indianapolis Community Fund; director of the Fletcher Savings & Trust Company. He has been president of the Indianapolis Country Club and is now a member of the following clubs: University, Country, Meridian Hills, and Athletic, of Indianapolis; Cornell, and Drug & Chemical, of New York. Noyes is also a member and trustee of the Second Presbyterian Church of Indianapolis.

WILEY WAKEMAN '99

Wiley Wakeman '99 is vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., in charge of all the East Coast plants of this corporation, located at Quincy, East Boston, and Baltimore.

At Cornell, he captained the freshman crew and rowed on the varsity crew in 1897, 1898, and 1899. He was elected to Delta Tau Delta, Sphinx Head, and Aleph Samach.

On leaving Cornell, Wakeman started to work at the Newport News shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, and later went to Camden with the New York shipbuilding Corporation.

In 1915 he moved to Quincy in the employ of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, where he has held the positions of general superintendent and general manager, and then became vice-president of Bethlehem's East Coast activities.

Wakeman was born in Bridgeport, Connecticut. He prepared for Cornell at the Bridgeport High School, entering college in 1895. He has been closely identified with alumni activities in each center where he has been located, and movements of benefit to Cornell have received his active support and co-operation.

Wakeman is a member of the American Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers and is now completing his first term as Alumni Trustee of Cornell.

Wakeman is married, has three children, and makes his home in Quincy, Massachusetts.

ALFRED D. WARNER, JR., '00

Alfred D. Warner, Jr. '00, of Wilmington, Delaware, was born in that city in 1878. He was prepared for college at the Wilmington Friends' School, and matriculated at Cornell in 1896, entering the College of Arts and Sciences, from which he was graduated in 1900.

During his four years at Cornell, Warner took an active interest in both athletic and musical affairs. He was a member of his class track team during his first two years, and belonged to the Varsity track team as a junior, becoming manager thereof in his Senior year. He was a member of both the Mandolin Club and the Glee Club, becoming president of the Musical Clubs in his senior year. He was a member of Aleph Samach, Sphinx Head, and Delta Tau Delta.

Since his graduation, Warner has taken an active part in Cornell affairs and interests, having served as a director of the Associate Alumni, and as president of the Cornell Club of Delaware and vice-president of the Cornell Club of Philadelphia. He is now a regional director of the Alumni Corporation.

Warner's business and civic interests are many. He is vice-president and treasurer of the Charles Warner Company, vice-president of the American Lime and Stone Company, vice-president of the National Bank of Delaware, treasurer of the Wilmington Morris Plan Bank, manager of the Wilmington Savings Fund Society, and is identified with the financial affairs of both the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce and the Wilmington Council of Boy Scouts.

He is a member of the Wilmington Club, the Wilmington Country Club, the Gibson Island Club, and the Cornell Clubs of Delaware, Philadelphia, and New York.

OTHER CANDIDATES

As the ALUMNI NEWS goes to press, word is received that other nominations are being considered and that at least one more is likely to be filed before Friday midnight.

1901 REUNION PLANS

The Class of '01 held its Twenty-fifth Anniversary Reunion last June. Under the Dix Plan, this Class is scheduled to hold another reunion this year and not again until 1932. At a Class dinner held at the Cornell Club in New York on January 25, it was decided to recommend to the members of the class that we follow the Dix Plan and return this June. The success and enthusiasm of the last reunion were and are still fresh in mind and everything points to one of the best reunions the Class has yet held.

Notices have been mailed recently to all the class and about fifty have signified their intention of enjoying three happy days in Ithaca in June.

Any member of the Class who has not received a notice or who has not replied to the notice should communicate with the secretary, Clarence H. Fay, 233 Broadway, New York. Classes that have held two reunions in succession report that the second one has been even more successful than the first.

The next "get-together" of the New York City men will be held at the Cornell Club on Friday, April 1, at six-thirty o'clock. All members of the class who are in New York City at that time are urged to be present.

Tribute to Newton

Dr. W. F. G. Swann of Yale Speaks at 200th Anniversary Observance of Famous Scientist's Death

The two hundredth anniversary of the death of Sir Isaac Newton was observed at Cornell by a public meeting held by Sigma Xi, at which Dr. William F. G. Swann, professor of physics and director of the Sloane Laboratory at Yale, was the speaker.

"Sir Isaac Newton was the perfect incarnation of the rising scientific spirit of his age," Dr. Swann said. "The man was curiosity and humbleness and the desire for truth personified. He was and still remains the greatest example of what the scientist should be; and his fame rests upon his character as securely as upon his work—for his works were the result of his character.

"Into a world of confusion, of dogma, and intolerance, Newton entered, and when he died he had made great strides forward in the fields of celestial mechanics, optics, and mathematics." Dr. Swann compared the discovery of the laws of gravitation to the sudden lifting of a veil from the minds of the human race. "For he showed that the laws of motion are simply the laws of gravitation; that the cause of the apple's fall is the same force that sends the spheres whirling in their orbits."

Of Newton's unusualness as a man, Dr. Swann said, "The pure mind of him—the genius that was in him—warped his actions to some extent, and made him different from his contemporaries. But none of these contemporaries could deny that beneath the eccentricities, and the shyness and queer silences, and the odd tricks of speech and demeanor there was something, whether it caused them or not, that amply excused the man, rendered their possessor a man to be looked up to with awe—which is what they did, and we still do."

Over six hundred attended the lecture, which was held in Rockefeller Hall.

CHEMISTRY AND WARFARE were discussed at a lecture given on March 22 by Major General Amos A. Fries, chief of the Chemical Warfare Service. Modern poison gas attacks, he said, among other things had their counterparts in Indian days, when the red men set fire to the prairies, generating carbon monoxide, which caused much trouble in the enemy camps.

A DANCE FESTIVAL was given by the women students in the Department of Physical Education on March 25 and 26. Dorothy Sharpe '27 of Ithaca became a handsome young prince who spent three acts looking for the lovely lady, Myrtle M. Pullen '30 of Asbury Park, New Jersey.

A NEW INTERCOLLEGIATE HOTEL

The Muehlebach Hotel in Kansas City is the latest addition to the chain of Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels which now numbers forty-six, situated in nearly every important city in the country.

The Intercollegiate Alumni hotel plan is working out so satisfactorily for alumni and hotels alike that there is little doubt of the eventual extension of the chain of hotels to include a great majority of the cities over 100,000 population.

SPORT STUFF

The morning mail brings an article by a gentleman who claims college sport concentrates too much on a few highly specialized gladiators and encourages the vast majority of the undergraduates to sit in the grand stand. Please comment.

I can't comment today. Today I've got to iron out a jam arising from the fact that more boys want lockers in Schoellkopf than there are lockers. Then a scheme must be worked out whereby the lacrosse squad—varsity, freshman, and intramural—may have an adequate place to play without mussing up intramural baseball on the one side and without getting speared by the infant class in javelin throwing on the other. Afterwards plans must be passed for a new toboggan house at Beebe Lake. The old house is too small and it's falling down anyway.

Comment!

All the situation now requires is to have someone call a conference to do away with over-emphasis on over-emphasis.

R. B.

WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

The women's major officers for next year were filled at a mass meeting held on March 22. Catherine B. MacLeod of Buffalo was elected president of the Women's Self-Government Association; Margery I. Blair '28 of Buffalo, president of Risley; Josephine L. White '28 of Moravia, president of outside houses; Elsie M. Schneider '28 of Warsaw, president of the Women's Athletic Association; Helen D. Worden '28 of Binghamton, president of the Y. W. C. A.; and Constance A. Cobb '29 of Rockaway Beach president of Sage.

In the class elections, Elisabeth G. Clark '28 of Roslyn Heights was chosen president of 1928, Charlotte Gristede '29 of New York, president of 1929, and A. L. Andrews '30 of Schenectady, president of 1930.

At the same meeting, the intramural basketball cup was presented to Delta Gamma. Dorothy L. Sharpe '27 of Ithaca and Elsie M. Schneider received their Cornell Cs.

THE CLUBS

Philadelphia Women

The March meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of Philadelphia was held on March 4, at the Women's City Club, 1622 Locust Street. Mrs. Frederick A. Weisenbach (Clara Koehler) '07, president of the Club, presided.

After the regular business meeting a most interesting talk on the activities and the people of Labrador was given by Miss Ruth A. Ayres '96, who has spent a number of summers there in educational work.

Plans for a rummage sale to be held the third Saturday in May were discussed. Proceeds of the sale are to be devoted to the women's contribution to the War Memorial. All contributions for the sale will be most gratefully received. All Cornellians in the Philadelphia district have been asked to send any articles that their spring house cleaning brings to light to Mrs. Weisenbach, 220 Audubon Avenue, Wayne, Pennsylvania, or to the Cornell Club of Philadelphia. Men's clothes, particularly old evening suits, and shirts have been found among the best sellers in recent sales in this locality.

The regular April meeting of the Cornell Women's Club will be held at the home of Miss Elizabeth A. Anderson '09, 333 Pine Street, Philadelphia, on Saturday afternoon, April 2, and will include an excursion into the highways and byways of Old Philadelphia.

California Women

The March meeting of the Cornell Women's Club of Northern California was held on March 13 at the home of the recording secretary, Miss Frances H. Ufer '20, in Berkeley. The business meeting which was preceded by a luncheon, took up principally the subject of the election of Alumni Trustee of the University. There followed a general discussion of the donations made by alumni to the development of the departments and Campus in Ithaca.

Connecticut Women

The Cornell Women's Club of Western Connecticut met at a luncheon at the Homestead Tea Room in Bridgeport on March 19. Miss Grace Wright '18 and Miss Gladys M. Hall '20 were hostesses.

Plans for a rummage sale to raise funds for the War Memorial were discussed. The question of the election of Alumni Trustee was also brought before the members.

Trenton

At a recent meeting of the Cornell Club of Trenton the following committee chairmen were appointed by the president, Thomas A. Baldwin '07; outing and entertainment, Percy N. Daniels '15; musical, Howard T. Critchlow '10; athletic, Carlman M. Rinck '24.

ATHLETICS

Fencers Show Class

The fencing team proved its class Saturday by winning the championship of the Central Division of the Intercollegiate Fencing League. The matches were held at West Point.

The scores were: Cornell 41, Army 39, Hamilton 32, Dartmouth 22, and Ohio State 20. Cornell and the Army will now enter the Intercollegiate championship meet, to be held in New York in April. Other contestants will be Yale and Columbia from the northern division, and Pennsylvania and the Navy from the southern division.

The Cornell team was composed of Captain Fernando Chardon, Earl Good, S. S. Robbins, P. P. Pirone, and J. M. Pulvino. The first four, a foils team that has yet to be beaten, won decisively. Chardon won 11 out of 12 foils bouts; Good, 10 out of 12. Pulvino qualified in the épée matches and Chardon in sabres. In the foils matches the scores were Cornell 28, Army 19, Hamilton 18, Dartmouth 16, and Ohio State 9.

Lose Close Track Meet

The track team lost a close meet to Michigan at Ann Arbor last Saturday. The score was 50½ to 44½ and the result was in doubt until well toward the end of the program. Cornell won first places in the 440-yard run, the mile run, the shot put, and the mile relay race; Michigan won the 60-yard dash, both hurdle races, and the half-mile run. The teams divided honors in the two-mile run, which wound up in a dead heat between Benson of Cornell and Hornberger of Michigan, and in the pole vault, while Cornell placed two men and Michigan one at the same height in the high jump. Goodwillie, Cornell's leading sprinter, was unable to enter on account of illness.

The race between Benson and Hollenberger was the feature of the meet. Both hung back for nine laps and then Benson went out ahead, closely followed by the Michigan star. Coming to the last lap they had increased their lead over the pack by fifteen yards. In the last 100 yards each spurted with all he had and they tore across the finish line so close together that the judges called the result a tie.

Hester of Michigan won the dash easily, and Cooper of Michigan was a little too good for Caruthers and Spelman, the Cornell hurdlers. Werly came up from behind to beat the Michigan men in the 440, and a well timed spurt by Brumder gave him victory in the mile run. The relay team won impressively, and Anderson set a new meet record in the shot put. A Michigan sweep in the half-mile proved disastrous to Cornell; even the good work of the high jumpers and the relay team could not overcome that handicap. This meet closed the indoor season.

The summaries:

Mile run: won by Brumder, Cornell; second, Iskenderian, Michigan; third, Willets, Cornell. Time, 4.37.6.

440-yard run: Won by Werly, Cornell; second, Mueller, Michigan; third, Ohl-heiser, Michigan. Time, .52.4.

65-yard high hurdles: won by Cooper, Michigan; second, Caruthers, Cornell; third, Cassebaum, Cornell. Time, .08.4. (Ties dual meet record.)

60-yard dash: won by Hester, Michigan; second, Lasser, Michigan; third Spelman, Cornell. Time, .06.6.

16-pound shot put: won by Anderson, Cornell; second, Lovette, Michigan; third Firman, Cornell. Distance, 45 feet 4½ inches.

Two-mile run: first place tie, Benson, Cornell and Hornberger, Michigan; third, Wuerfel, Michigan. Time, 9.49.5. (New Yost field house record.)

Pole vault: first and second, tie, Oldberg, Cornell, and Northrup, Michigan; third, tie, Williams, Cornell, and Prout, Michigan. Height, 12 feet 6 inches.

880-yard run: won by Lomont, Michigan; second, Beals, Michigan; third, Pfluke, Michigan. Time, 2.01.2.

65-yard low hurdles: won by Cooper, Michigan; second, Caruthers, Cornell; third, Jones, Michigan. Time, .07.9.

One-mile relay: won by Cornell (Mitchell, Fuller, Spelman and Werly). Time, 3.29.1.

High jump: tie for first, Berry and Vollmer of Cornell, and Waldo of Michigan. Height, 5 feet, 10 inches.

Tennis Team Defeats Tigers

Cornell defeated Princeton in a tennis match in the Drill Hall Saturday afternoon, by a score of 4 to 2. Three of the four singles matches and one of the doubles were captured by the Cornellians. Princeton's captain, John Van Ryn, was unable to compete, but his substitute Appel put up a stellar exhibition.

He defeated Captain Eggman of Cornell in two straight sets. Barthen of Cornell had things pretty much his own way in the match with Minary; Hene, Cornell, easily defeated Barker. Levin of Cornell had a closer match with Thurber, but finally won.

After winning the singles Appel paired with Thurber, played Eggman and Levin in a doubles match, and the Princeton star's brilliant service and overhead play were big factors in the Tiger team's victory. Hene and Barker won the second doubles match without difficulty.

The summaries:

Singles: Appel, Princeton, defeated Eggman, 6-0, 6-3; Barthen, Cornell, defeated Minary, 1-6, 6-3; Hene, Cornell, defeated Barker, 6-2, 6-4; Levin, Cornell, defeated Thurber, 6-4, 7-5.

Doubles: Appel and Thurber, Princeton, defeated Eggman and Levin, 6-4, 6-4; Barthen and Hene, Cornell, defeated Minary and Barker, 8-6, 6-3.

CIVIL ENGINEERS' BANQUET

The Civil Engineering annual banquet was held at Willard Straight Hall on March 23, with some two hundred attending. Director Fred A. Barnes '97 sketched the history of the School, and had the diners all puffed up with pride when he told them how many other civil engineering schools today have acquired their deans and professors from Cornell.

Richard H. Edwards spoke on "An Aspect of the Relations between the Student and the Faculty," stating that the contact between the students and the Faculty at Cornell is closer than at any other school of its size. James A. Younglove '27 of Evanston, Ill., was toastmaster.

THE SAGE CHAPEL Preacher on March 27 was the Rev. Harry L. Reed, president of the Auburn Theological Seminary.

CHART SHOWING COMPARATIVE STANDING OF ARMY AND NAVY CAMPAIGNS TO RAISE FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL ENTRIES.

To date the Cornell men who served in the army have raised $5,500 of the $15,000 necessary to build their Memorial Entry. In the same time the Cornell men of the navy have raised $6,000 toward their Entry. The Army tank and the Navy destroyer are expected to make considerable progress in the immediate future as a result of a special appeal just mailed to all Cornell men who served in the armed forces during the War, by Robert E. Treman '09, general chairman of the War Memorial Committee.

A NEW SPORTING EVENT

BEFORE the next issue of the ALUMNI NEWS a new sporting event will have made its appearance. Catching the spirit of the occasion, the various districts have produced trustee nominees in number and quality highly gratifying to the proponents of the new plan for electing trustees. We venture the prediction that henceforth we shall have a decent number of candidates each year.

To those men and women whose duty in the matter is discharged by voting merely, may we urge that you do your simple duty in the same spirit that the various sections of the country have adopted toward making nominations. Vote at once, as soon as the ballot arrives. If it goes into the pile of papers awaiting future action it may never be voted.

NO ISSUE NEXT WEEK

Following the custom of omitting one of the issues at the time of the Spring Vacation, the ALUMNI NEWS will not appear next week. The next issue will be that of April 14.

THE ELECTION of Carl E. Stare '29 of York Haven, Pa. to the board of managers of The Cornell Civil Engineer and Harry W. Crawford '29 of Verona, N. J. to the board of editors, has been announced.

ALUMNI GREET KIMBALL

Dean Dexter S. Kimball, president of the American Engineering Council, was invited by the American Institute of Electrical Engineers to visit the local chapters of the Institute in Springfield, Hartford, Worcester, and Providence, on March 21, 22, 23, and 24. In each of these cities Dean Kimball held evening meetings which were largely attended by the local engineers.

The Cornell groups in each city took advantage of the Dean's availability to hold special luncheons in his honor. The only exception was in Hartford, where the entertainment was a combination dinner, the Cornell men being invited to cooperate with the A. I. E. E.

BOOKS

Problems in Chemistry

A Collection of Chemical Lecture Experiments. By H. F. Davison, Assistant Professor of Chemistry in Brown University. New York. Chemical Catalogue Co., Inc. 1926. 19.3 cm., pp. 139. Price, $2.50.

The late Professor Davison was a born teacher and devoted himself with rare zeal and great success to the work of what he regarded as the noblest of callings. Believing that the student can often be reached and interested even more through the eye than through the ear, he developed a skill in lecture room demonstration that has rarely been surpassed. Having had an experience of nearly a quarter of a century in teaching, he resolved to pass on to his younger colleagues the methods and discoveries which he had found valuable. His lamented and untimely death did not, fortunately, prevent the execution of the enterprise. Horace B. Pray and L. A. Bigelow have gone over the ms. and seen the book through the press.

There are altogether 69 experiments, illustrated by 23 figures. A classified table of contents indicates the uses of the several experiments: there are 5 with gases, 12 on combustion and oxidation, 4 on hydrolysis, 8 on colloidal work, 4 on the atmosphere, 7 on solubility and solution, 10 on ammonia and its compounds, 3 on time reactions, 6 on the activity of the elements, and 11 miscellaneous experiments. An eight-page introduction gives invaluable advice on the art of lecture-table demonstrating. The volume should be of great service to every progressive teacher of chemistry.

Books and Magazine Articles

In the Publications of the Modern Language Association of America for March Professor Ernest G. Atkins '04, of the University of Wisconsin, writes on "The Supernaturalism of Maupassant."

In The Sibley Journal of Engineering for March Harold F. Kneen '25 writes on "An Organization Largely Functional." Dimiter Ramadanoff discusses "The Alignment Chart and Its Applicability to Engineering Formulas." Professor Charles L. Walker '04 presents "A Study of Former Students."

The Vanderbilt Alumnus for February includes a portrait and sketch of Dr. Smiley Blanton, Vanderbilt '04, Cornell Medical College '14, who goes to Vassar next fall as professor of child study and director of the new Nursery School.

In The New Criterion for January "Psychology and Education" by Professor Robert M. Ogden '01 is reviewed by Herbert Read.

Personal Efficiency (LaSalle Extension University) for March has an article on

Shop by Mail

The new Agricultural Booklist is out

Former students frequently find that they can not get the quality of merchandise where they live which they bought in Ithaca. Students graduated since 1910 probably bought their supplies at the Coop. One of the large items in our mail order business is agricultural books. Many people, from those who want a book on gardening in the city, or a book on home decoration, to a real farmer trying to improve himself and who has never been in Ithaca, buy from us.

Do you want one of the booklists?

At $4.00 the sales have jumped

At this price the balance of the edition should go rather quickly. We do not mean in a day or two but compared to what has been sold. The Book of Views was a bargain at the original figure and even more so now. Beautiful pictures well printed and well bound. Have you ordered one?

Cornell Songbooks at $1.75

Keep yourself fresh on the Cornell songs and if you will be back in June there will be other songs to learn. The old crowd will sing the old song. The Cornell Songbook has a good assortment of other songs besides the Cornell songs. The $1.75 copies are well bound in cloth.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Anna Head Randolph '79

Mrs. Anna Head Randolph died on March 9 in the New York Hospital after an operation.

She was born in Franklin, La., on November 26, 1856. She received her preparatory training at home, entering Cornell in 1875, in the Letters course. She left at the end of the year because of illness, returning in 1878 for a term.

She was married to Nathaniel A. Randolph '79, who at the time of his death in 1888 was a professor in the University of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Randolph recently had spent much time in Europe, but was interested in social and church work in New York and also took an active part in the movement for woman suffrage. Miss Harriet May Mills writes of her, "She had the keenest possible interest in people and a rare power of reaching them, no matter in what walk of life they moved. Every one loved her and found her sympathetic with their misfortunes or their successes."

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Robert Gardner and Mrs. Kenneth Byard of New York, a son, Archer Nathaniel Randolph of Rutherford, N. J., and three grandchildren.

CORNELL'S ARC DE TRIOMPHE

We are not seeking to memorialize war. It matters not what is our opinion of war or of the peace that has followed it. Whatever our opinion of these things, we are of one heart and of one mind in our view of the great human sacrifices of the war. We are seeking to commemorate not war, but the courage and the devotion and the sacrifice of those Cornellians who gave their lives for their fellows, for their country, and for a great ideal.

Amid scenes which they loved and which their presence has made sacred in our hearts, high above the waters of Cayuga, we shall build this monument to their memory. On this hill, with the limitless reaches of nature and the great outdoors for its setting, Cornell will honor her dead. Here will be her tribute to those imperishable sons of hers whose resting places are marked by the white crosses in the fields of France and Flanders and those no less heroic tombs of England and America.

This memorial shall stand so long as stones and universities shall last, a commemoration of the past and an inspiration for the future. Cornell has no unknown soldier whom she will bring back to symbolize the sacrifice of her two hundred and thirty eight sons who gave their lives in this, the greatest of all wars. None the less, she will build a shrine which may take its place among the great memorials of this country. From it the generations yet to come will learn that valor and heroism pass not without the appreciation of a grateful nation.

Here we will build Cornell's Arlington,
her Westminster Abbey, her
Arc de Triomphe.

MAIN FEATURES OF THE INTERCOLLEGIATE ALUMNI HOTEL MOVEMENT

Interested alumni can secure from a clerk at the desk of each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel an information leaflet which describes in detail the Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel movement.

At each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel there will be maintained a card index of the names of all the resident alumni of all the participating institutions. This will be of especial benefit to traveling alumni in locating classmates and friends.

The current issues of the alumni publications of all the participating institutions will be on file at each Intercollegiate Alumni Hotel.

Reservation cards will be available at the clerk's desk in each designated hotel and at the alumni office in each college or university. These reservation cards will serve as a great convenience to travelers in securing advance accommodations.

The managers of all Intercollegiate Alumni Hotels are prepared to cooperate with individual alumni to the fullest extent and are also prepared to assist in the creation of new local alumni associations and in the development and extension of the activities of those already formed.

Owners Repeat and Diversify

JUST a quarter of a century ago four young men, with a broad background of training and experience in the engineering construction field, formed The Foundation Company. Today the company is at work in every continent, in both hemispheres, and on both sides of the Equator, on engineering construction of almost every known type.

First National Bank, Detroit
Complete Construction Since 1915

Woolworth Building, New York
Foundations Only Until 1915

DURING the first decade of this quarter century the skyline of New York began to take new form resting on the secure foundations constructed by this organization; then many owners, in other localities, noting the manner of its building, awarded to The Foundation Company contracts for complete construction, so that now the building of superstructures forms a great part of its work.

AS indicative of the service rendered by The Foundation Company over this period of years, these partial lists of repeat contracts have special significance. In one case no less than thirty contracts have been awarded by one owner.
