THE bronze statue of Andrew D. White which was executed by the late Karl Bitter will be placed before Goldwin Smith Hall, within the angle formed by the front wall of the building and the north side of the portico. That site was chosen with the presumption that some day the University will have a statue of Ezra Cornell, which may be placed at the other side of the portico. The choice was made by the Trustees' committee on buildings and grounds upon the recommendation of Mr. White himself; Henry R. Ickelheimer '88, the donor of the statue, and Thomas Hastings, the architect of Goldwin Smith Hall. The Trustees' committee on general administration has chosen the afternoon of Commencement Day as the time for the unveiling of the statue, and has entrusted the arrangements to a sub-committee consisting of Chairman Van Cleef, President Schurman, and Comptroller Williams.

REGULAR MEETINGS of the two standing committees were held in Ithaca last Saturday. Those who were present at the meeting of the administration committee were Trustees Van Cleef, A. D. White, Cornell, R. B. Williams, Edwards, Hiscock, Wilson, Westinghouse and Pound, and Comptroller Williams. In attendance at the meeting of the buildings and grounds committee were Chairman Edwards, President Schurman, Trustees Westervelt, Blood, and J. Du Pratt White, Comptroller Williams, and Superintendent Walker.

BIDS WERE OPENED last week at the Treasurer's office for the construction of Buildings B and C, the third and fourth of the new group of residence halls. There were six bidders and the lowest of them was the Amsterdam Building Company, of New York. Its bids were: For Building B, $83,250; for Building C, $83,400; for both buildings, $165,700. These figures were but a little lower than those submitted by the Matthews Construction Company, of Princeton, N. J., which is constructing the first two halls. The matter of awarding the contract for B or C or both, together with details, was referred by the buildings and grounds committee to a sub-committee consisting of Chairman Edwards, Mr. Boldt, and Mr. Westervelt, with power within the amount of funds available. An anonymous gift of $100,000 has provided for B, and funds may be found for C before the committee awards a contract. These are to be twin structures flanking the main entrance court at the northeast corner of the group.

ONE OF THE FOUR FINAL competitors for the Rome Prize in architecture this year is Raymond M. Kennedy, of New Brighton, Pa., a senior in the Cornell College of Architecture. He was elected alternate in the preliminary competition, and the withdrawal of one of the principals has made him eligible to the final competition, which will end about the last of this month. The prize is a fellowship in the American Academy at Rome, good for $1,000 a year for three years. The other competitors are one each from the University of Pennsylvania, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Georgia Institute of Technology.

DEAN IRVINE, who is now on sabbatical leave from the law school and is serving on the State Public Service Commission, has received an extension of his leave during the first term of the college year 1915-16. For the same period DeWitt B. Wyckoff, LL.B., '10, has been reappointed acting assistant professor of law. Dean Irvine's term as commissioner will expire on February 1st, 1916.

A PETITION from students, asking that practitioners of osteopathy be permitted to give treatment to patients in the Cornell Infirmary who may desire such treatment, was referred to the committee on general administration and was granted.

TWO SERIES OF LECTURES which have been given here recently are to be published by the University. They are Professor Roscoe Pound's course on "Modern Justice," given this term on the Goldwin Smith Foundation, and the lectures on the origin and growth of the German Empire which Professor Erich Marcks gave here in 1913 on the Jacob H. Schiff Foundation. The income of the Goldwin Smith Fund in the one case, and of the Schiff Fund in the other, will be drawn upon if necessary to meet any expense of the publication above the sale of the book. The lectures which Professor Marcks gave he has since published in German, and the University's publication of them will be in English.

THE COURSE OF STUDY required for graduation in the Veterinary College is to be four years instead of three. The change has been recommended by the faculty of the college and has been approved by the committee on general administration. The optional four-year course which has been in operation since 1910 will be revised, and, beginning with the session of 1916-17, it will be required for the degree of Doctor of Veterinary Medicine.

HARRY L. TAYLOR, A.B. '88, LL.B. '93, a justice of the State Supreme Court, lectured before the students of the law school last Saturday on "Criminals and Others." Judge Taylor had an experience of seven years as county judge of Erie County and as a result he came into contact with hundreds of offenders in the city of Buffalo. He had been led by this experience to classify delinquents. He had found that in many cases they had been led into crime by misfortune rather than by malice. He favored reforms with respect to the treatment of criminals, but not to the point of sentimentalism. A probation board, he said, had had good results in Buffalo. His especial plea was for more discrimination by courts in the treatment of offenders. He believed that reform was possible in a large percentage of cases.

AN APPROPRIATION of five hundred dollars has been made by the Trustees, payable from the income of the Goldwin Smith Fund, for the publication of a series to be entitled "Cornell Studies in English." The publication will be under the control of the Department of English.

THE NAME Hart Memorial Library has been given to the collection of books on English philology which Professor James Morgan Hart gave the University.

IRA A. PLACE '81 has been reappointed a trustee member of the Medical College Council.

Instructors to Be Exchanged

Plan Adopted by the Wisconsin and Cornell Agricultural Colleges

A plan for the exchange of instructors between the agricultural colleges of Cornell University and the University of Wisconsin has been proposed by Dean Russell of the Wisconsin college, approved by the dean and faculty of the college here and ratified by the Board of Trustees.

The plan is to exchange for one or two terms instructors of the same grade in similar departments in order that the instructors may obtain a wider point of view through association with men and methods in other institutions. All teachers who are thus exchanged will be below the grade of assistant professor.

The dean of the college was authorized by the Trustees at his discretion to execute such exchanges.

Rural Community Service

Professor Mann to Head a New Department—His Successor as Registrar

There has been organized in the College of Agriculture a rural community service. Its function will be to investigate all matters that may make for better business and better life in the open country. There has been much discussion of that subject, but the authorities of the college feel that facts are needed.

For work in that department a professorship of rural social organization has been created. Professor A. R. Mann, now secretary and registrar of the college, has been appointed to the professorship. The appointment will take effect on July 1st next. Professor Mann has received a sabbatic leave of absence for next year, and he is going to spend this summer and all of next year in the graduate school of the University of Chicago in order to fit himself, by the study of social science, for his work in the investigation of rural social problems.

Professor Mann's title as registrar and secretary will be taken by Professor Cornelius Betten of Lake Forest College, whose appointment has just been ratified by the Board of Trustees. Dr. Betten received his A.B. degree from Lake Forest in 1900, and his A.M. in 1901. From 1901 to 1903 he was in charge of biology in Buena Vista College, where he had much contact with administrative work. From 1904 to 1906 he was in the graduate school of Cornell University, and received the degree of Ph.D. from Cornell in 1906. Since that time he has been in charge of the biology department of Lake Forest, with the title of professor of biology. At the same time he has been responsible for the registration work of the college. He is a member of the society of Sigma Xi. Dr. Betten has been chosen for the position both because of his own scientific ability and because of his talent for administrative work.

Agricultural Appropriations

Legislature Has Allowed Increases for the College Aggregating $130,000

At last week's meeting of the Agricultural College Council the Dean reported that the legislature had allowed increases for the college aggregating $129,557; the items covered by this increase include cost of maintenance, $66,557; summer school, $8,000; deficiency contingent item, $10,000; heating plant, $35,000; grading roads and walks, $10,000. The regular appropriations for the college amount to about $600,000.

The estimates for appropriations were this year submitted in detailed printed form to the members of the state legislature, and noted all the increases or decreases, and gave a reason for each recommended change.

The new act provides for one additional professor, three assistant professors, three new instructors, and sixteen assistants in the general staff, and one assistant professor and one new assistant on the extension staff. In connection with co-operative relations with the federal government it is shown that federal appropriations available for use in the state in connection with agricultural education during the coming year will amount to about $80,000, $33,000 of which is for extension work under the Lever act, and the remainder under the Nelson, Hatch, Adams, and other funds.

PROFESSOR OF ORNITHOLOGY

Dr. A. A. Allen has been appointed assistant professor of ornithology in the College of Agriculture. He has been for some time an instructor in the Arts College. His main work in his new position will be in connection with economic ornithology, but he will give other courses in general ornithology and in advanced systematic ornithology. He will also be able to give some of his time to work in nature study.

AN EXHIBITION of paintings by forty or more artists will be held in Goldwin Smith Hall beginning May 17 and continuing till June 5.

Extension Work in Agriculture State's Assent to Lever Act Will Give College Large Funds

The College of Agriculture will receive about $33,000 next year under the Smith-Lever act, a law which was passed by Congress last year "to provide for co-operative agricultural extension work between the agricultural colleges in the several states receiving benefits of the act of Congress approved July 2, 1862, and of acts supplementary thereto, and the United States Department of Agriculture."

The law requires any state to make a supplementary appropriation and to assent to the provisions and requirements of the law before its benefits are available in that state. Such assent was given by the New York legislature at the recent session. The amount receivable at Cornell will increase annually until in 1922-23 it will be about $170,000 a year. The Trustees of the University are to receive the grants of money and to organize and conduct agricultural extension work, which is to be carried on in connection with the State College of Agriculture.

At last week's meeting of the Agricultural College Council the dean reported that plans had been outlined for co-operative work with the federal government under various projects which have been approved by the University and by the Secretary of Agriculture. All the extension work is co-ordinated under a system of projects and is administered through the extension department of the college. These projects include: Demonstrations through the rural school in which the extension work of the college will be conducted through the principal of the school; instruction and demonstrations in the control of insects affecting various crops; demonstrations among the farmers for the improvement and fertilization of field and forage crops; the conducting of demonstration schools in agriculture and in household management; instruction and demonstrations in business methods on the farm, and instruction in fruit culture.

Plans were ratified for co-operative work with various state agencies which will lead, for example, toward the training of teachers for rural high schools to work with young people in the organization of clubs and agricultural contests, this latter to be known, possibly, as junior extension work.

A great deal of this co-operative work will be done in connection with the state educational authorities, with the secondary schools throughout the state, particularly those teaching agriculture, and with the state experiment stations.

CORNELL MEDICAL SOCIETY

The Cornell Medical Society, which is composed of members of the teaching staff of the Cornell University Medical College, announces the first Annual Day, to be held on Friday, May 21, at the college, 477 First Avenue, New York. The Annual Day is for the purpose of acquainting the alumni with the work now in progress at Cornell and of maintaining a closer affiliation between them and the institution. The regular college exercises in accordance with the curriculum, except for the fourth year class, will be in progress throughout the day. In the evening the society will give a dinner at the Manhattan Hotel, when the members of the senior class will be the society's guests.

WERE ON THE LUSITANIA

Miss Catharine Dougall, of Pretoria, South Africa, who had just completed a course in the College of Agriculture, was on the steamship Lusitania, returning to her home. She is believed to have perished. She had been here two years, after pursuing courses of study in Scotland and Canada.

Robert Rankin '04 is one of the survivors of the slaughter.

Tenth Music Festival

Two Metropolitan Opera Singers Helped to Make It a Success

The tenth annual Music Festival under the auspices of the University's department of music was a complete success. The use of the larger auditorium now enables Professor Dann to bring better artists to Ithaca, and he is showing a tendency to improve the quality of his programs. Apparently he is finding, too, that the better the music the larger the audience.

The Chicago Symphony Orchestra, formerly Theodore Thomas's orchestra, was here for the three days of the festival. Only the highest praise was heard for its work. The chorus of two hundred voices which Professor Dann had trained was better if possible than ever. Clarence Whitehill of the Metropolitan Opera Company, one of the soloists at the festival, said the chorus was the best of its kind he had heard in this country. He had heard it at the first concert in three stirring numbers by Russian composers. Its work was fine in Thomas's "The Swan and the Skylark" and in the Manzoni Requiem of Verdi. Selections especially for the orchestra were the Pathetic Symphony and the "1812" Overture of Tchaikowsky and a number of passages from the Wagner music dramas.

Pasquale Amato was the star in the first of the four concerts. He was heard in the recitative and aria, "Eri tu," from "The Masked Ball;" the aria, "Largo al factotum," from "The Barber of Seville," and the prologue from "I Pagliacci." He sang as an encore the "toreador song" from "Carmen." Mr. Whitehill sang "Wotan's Farewell" at the Wagner concert and took part in others. Other soloists were Miss Florence Hinkle, Miss Olive Kline, Miss Margaret Keyes, Lambert Murphy, Evan Williams, and Mr. Quarles, the University organist.

COLLEGE BUSINESS SYSTEM

The Trustees have approved a system adopted for systematizing and centralizing the business of the College of Agriculture. This involves a uniform system of accounting for all the departments, with an itemized, detailed report on the various sources of income within these departments. All bills for collection are handled by the central business office, which keeps a full set of records with references to the detailed records of the departments. The system also provides for detailed monthly and annual balance sheets, which show exactly the cash receipts, the outstanding accounts, and the amounts expended for each department of the college.

PLAN FOR STUDENT COUNCIL

A plan to substitute a Student Council of fifteen members for the present system of class governments, as described in the NEWS last week, was submitted to a student convocation in Bailey Hall on May 5 and was adopted. Before it becomes effective it must be ratified by the several classes.

SPECIAL NUMBER ON SIBLEY

The June number of the Sibley Journal will be a special issue devoted to a history of Sibley College, told in a series of interesting articles. Dr. Andrew D. White has written for the Journal about the beginnings of the college. There will be articles about three men whose work had a strong influence on the growth of the college—John L. Morris, written by Professor Kimball; John E. Sweet, by Dean Smith, and Robert H. Thurston, by Professor Carpenter. Professor Herman Diederichs has written on "The present Sibley College, the development of forty years," and an introduction to the series has been contributed by Professor William N. Barnard.

No pains have been spared to make this issue a worthy and interesting work such as every Sibley man would wish to preserve. It will be published on May 25. Copies may be obtained by others than regular subscribers only by placing orders in advance. The price of the issue will be twenty-five cents a copy, and remittances for that amount must be sent in with orders. Address Sibley Journal of Engineering, Ithaca.

BIG CROWD FOR SPRING DAY

A large advance sale of tickets points to a big attendance from out of town on Spring Day, May 22. The railroads are preparing to handle large crowds. The Lehigh Valley will run extra trains into and out of Ithaca. The Lackawanna announces a special train, "The Cornell Limited," leaving Hoboken at 11:30 o'clock Friday night and arriving in Ithaca at 7 a. m. Saturday. This is in addition to the regular "Lackawanna Limited" the same night. A special train on the Lackawanna will leave Ithaca for New York on Sunday noon, with through parlor cars.

APPEAL BY THE PRESIDENT

President Schurman has written a letter to Governor Slaton of Georgia recommending the exercise of executive clemency in the case of Leo M. Frank.

$88,000 for Sibley College

Report of the Inventory of the Estate of Joseph L. Stichter

An inventory of the estate left by the late Joseph L. Stichter '11, of Reading, Pa., puts the value of the property at $88,338.55. Stichter left a will in which he bequeathed practically the whole bility for their debts, and upon the death of the survivor to transfer the said residue to Sibley College, Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, the proceeds thereof to be added to the endowment fund of the said college and the income thereof to be used for maintenance as the faculty see fit."

Stichter was a graduate of Sibley College in the Class of 1911. The news of his bequest was a surprise to the college faculty, and the information received last week that the amount of the bequest was more than eighty-eight thousand dollars was another surprise. Since the testator's mother and two sisters have a life interest in the estate, many years probably will pass before the trust which he established for their benefit will expire.

"RURAL CITIZENSHIP"

Kenyon L. Butterfield, president of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, delivered this week's lecture in the Course in Citizenship. His subject was "Rural Citizenship." There were three ways, according to Mr. Butterfield, by which rural citizenship might be improved: first, the development and organization of the rural communities or neighborhoods; second, the advancement of the farming class as a whole, and, third, the adjustment of rural and urban interests. He cited as an example of the first method the case of a small town in New England which started by calling a community meeting, at which a series of committees was organized. These committees set about drafting plans for the improvement of rural conditions, and soon had established a definite agricultural policy. The second avenue toward the improvement of rural citizenship, namely, the advancement of the farming class, was simply a state and national manifestation of the same tendency. In urging the third method, the co-operation of city and country, Mr. Butterfield quoted the words of Dean Bailey, "We do not want a benevolent urbanism." What was needed, he said, was an intelligent urban interest in rural affairs.

THE BUILDING now occupied by the departments of soil technology, rural education, and rural engineering (the new soils building) has been named Caldwell Hall in honor of the late George Chapman Caldwell, who was professor of agricultural chemistry in Cornell from 1868 till 1903 and was chemist of the experiment station from its inception.

Faculty Promotions

Several Members of the Staff Attain the Rank of Professor

The following promotions in the Faculty were made by the Trustees' committee on general administration at its meeting last Saturday:

GEORGE YOUNG, JR., assistant professor of architecture, in the theory of construction, to the grade of professor.

GEORGE RAY CHAMBERLAIN, instructor in freehand drawing in the College of Architecture, to the grade of assistant professor.

LANE COOPER, assistant professor of English, to the grade of professor.

ALBERT WILHELM BOESCHE, assistant professor of German, to the grade of professor.

FRED ASA BARNES, assistant professor of railroad engineering in the College of Civil Engineering, to the grade of professor.

WALTER LICHTENTHAELER CONWELL, instructor in civil engineering, to the grade of assistant professor.

EARLE NELSON BURROWS, instructor in bridge engineering in the college of Civil Engineering, to the grade of assistant professor.

THE NEW YORK CLUB

At an annual meeting of the Cornell University Club of New York held last week, the following men were elected to the Board of Governors: John H. Barr '89, Henry P. de Forest '84, Fred H. Potter, jr., '93, and Willard D. Straight '01.

HISTORIANS AT CALIFORNIA

Professor George L. Burr will give a course of eight lectures upon "Phases of Religion, Life, and Manners during the Middle Ages in Europe" at the summer session of the University of California. His course will be given July 19 to 28. He is one of five historians from the East who have been invited to go to California this summer and co-operate with Professor H. Morse Stephens and other members of the department of history at Berkeley in the summer session. The other four are Professor Frederick J. Turner of Harvard, Professor J. Franklin Jameson, the director of historical research in the Carnegie Institution in Washington; Professor Max Farrand of Yale, and Professor Charles H. Haas, dean of the graduate school of Harvard University.

estate to Sibley College, subject to a life interest of his mother and his two sisters.

The Treasurer of the University received a report of the inventory from the Reading Trust Company last week. Stichter's will was dated April 16, 1913. He died on December 12, 1914. The Reading Trust Company, named as executor in his will, received letters testamentary on February 23, and at once informed the University of the bequest, and promised to send a copy of the inventory of the estate as soon as it was filed.

Stichter bequeathed to his brother his wearing apparel, jewelry, watch, furniture, books, typewriter, and like articles, and made the following disposition of the rest of his property:

"I give, devise and bequeath to the Reading Trust Company all the real and residue of my estate, real, personal and mixed, in trust, to pay the income thereof in equal shares to my mother, Josephine Stichter, and my sisters, Gertrude Stichter and Elizabeth D. Glittering and Gorgeous

What the Press Agent Says About the Coming Spring Day Show

Posters illumined with the portrait of a military dandy have excited curiosity in Ithaca. The hero's name (revealed at last) is Major Sport, and he typifies Spring Day. According to the press agent the Major had come to Ithaca all the way from the European war to grace the annual Spring Day Circus, to be held on the morning of Navy Day, May 22, on the Armory Green.

The plans for the great day, already nearing completion, include preparations for twenty-one (21) features. Ten of these are "shows" and eleven are termed speculative enterprises (with the speculation almost entirely on the part of the patron).

Among the numerous theatrical entertainments will be found such sterling performances as "Zuzora and the Clutching Foot," "The Dastardly Dowager's Desperate Devility, or from Princess to Shop Girl and Back Again," by Harold MacRott. The last named production introduces such well known characters as Genevieve Floor Delee, Sir Reginald Vanderbooz, and the inimitable Shurlok Howmes. The juniors, who did not give a show last year, have burst into print this time with a realistic drama, after the style of Robert W. C—s, entitled "Experience, or the Business of Life." The Royal Hawaiian Troupe, a galaxy of instrumental and vocal artists, will please the throng's ears. The freshmen will stage a "reproduction" of the Willard-Johnson fight. The Agricultural College will have a regular county fair, and the College of Civil Engineering will again feature the Nigger Dip, a concession which proved so successful last year. Another big feature will be an African Dodger who dodges eggs (real ones).

The parade will doubtless prove to be the biggest and finest ever. Tompkins County has literally been scoured for wagons to accommodate the different organizations which have demanded floats. Every wagon in Ithaca was chartered long ago, and the authorities are now combing the rural districts for more. Two bands will make the trip.

The parade will start at 9 o'clock. The circus will begin promptly at 10, and will close at twelve with a startling "dare-devil dip" from the top of the Armory.

TRIBUTE TO R. B. WILLIAMS

At a recent meeting the Regents of the University of the State of New York adopted a minute of tribute to the long and valuable services of Roger B. Williams, of Ithaca. He recently retired from the city's board of education after a continuous service of thirty years, during twenty-five years of which he had been president of the board. He has been a member of the Cornell University Board of Trustees for seventeen years.

THE SALE of the 1915 Class Book was opened at the Library Arch last week. The Cornellian sale will begin this week.

Flack is a graduate of the College of Arts and Sciences. During his undergraduate course he took part in various student activities, with both literary and athletic interests. He was editor-in-chief of the 1912 Cornellian; he was for three years a member of the varsity track team and won his "C" as a pole vaulter; he managed the varsity hockey team for a year and a half; he served on various committees, of two of which he was chairman. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi and Sphinx Head, and he was elected to the Cosmopolitan Club, Book and Bowl, and other undergraduate clubs and societies.

Since his graduation, Flack has been with Henry Holt & Co., publishers, at the home office in New York, in the capacity of personal assistant to the general manager and treasurer.

THE success of Mr. Boldt in getting gifts for the building of our new residence halls has been due in large part to Mr. Boldt's own excellent qualities, but there is one element in his method that might be made a part of campaigns to obtain funds which the University needs for other purposes. Mr. Boldt had the plans for the dormitories all made before he began to ask for money to build them. He was able to show a prospective donor where his building would stand and just what it would look like. He was able to demonstrate that it would be a beautiful and worthy structure. He had a handsome booklet printed, and a plaster model of the whole group made. No doubt these devices helped and will continue to help in interesting benevolent persons in his project to build homes for Cornell students. No doubt such a method might be used with advantage by the University in getting some other things it needs—a new gymnasium, for example. A study of the whole gymnasium question might be begun now, the site determined upon, the plans studied and perfected, and drawings made to illustrate what is needed. The College of Civil Engineering has already done that in the case of its much needed addition to Lincoln Hall. When you are asking a man for money you are more likely to get it if you can show him exactly what you are going to do with it than you are if your own ideas on the subject are vague. A university which asks a man for money for a building—or a professorship—is trying to sell him a memorial, and it should carry samples.

WE STARTED A CAMPAIGN against the word "cafeteria," and we have been driven back to our trenches. Our suggestion of "refectory" has gained no adherents. The fact remains that the University authorities are looking for a shorter and less alien word to apply to the "cafeterias" which are increasing in number under their jurisdiction.

THE INFORMATION BUREAU of the College of Agriculture, under the direction of Professor Bristow Adams, is making the college of increasing value to the people of the State through its bulletin service to newspapers and farm periodicals. The service is conducted not for the exploitation of the college but to disseminate information useful to farmers. Returned clippings show that the circulation obtained by the bureau's bulletins in New York State publications has been as follows: January, 1,195,873; February, 3,326,663; March, 3,928,709; April, 6,845,932; total for the four months, 15,297,177.

THE DEPARTMENT OF FORESTRY will offer instruction during a full summer term, beginning June 7, in addition to the regular winter terms heretofore conducted. The first six weeks of the term will be spent at Ithaca and the remainder of the time up to September 22 will be in camp on a large forest tract in the Adirondack Mountains. Because of the advantages of summer work, especially in a fully timbered area such as the Adirondacks, certain of the courses offered will be given hereafter in the summer term only.

A MEETING of the agricultural college council held last Friday was attended by Trustees T. B. Wilson, Newman, Pratt, Westervelt and Miller, Comptroller Williams, and Dean Galloway.

OPINION AND COMMENT

A Friend of "Cafeteria"

Editor, Cornell Alumni News:

Permit me,—in great haste and perturbation,—to exploit the word cafeteria, which so learned a journal as the NEWS does not have a hand-shaking acquaintance with, even editorially.

If I had the means I would think seriously of sending the author of the non-cafeteria article on page 366 to the Pacific Coast, where he would find a cafeteria in every business block of all towns of any size and sometimes more than one.

The institution is coming east rapidly and is to be found in Buffalo at least, though I did not find any in Chicago on a recent visit there. As it means the best-cooked food in variety, without service—also without tips—at a very low cost it is already the boon of the traveler and the resident who wish to feed economically.

The word itself,—what is it but coffee-tea-ria, a most obvious and legitimate aggregation? It has not yet got into the dictionaries. The 1915 Webster knows it not and the Standard misses it in a very painful way, giving us "caffetere," the keeper of a coffee house, and "caffetera," a coffee pot, calling the words Italian. A synonym "cafetera" is said to be Spanish. Let us rather tie to cafeteria than stilted "refectory." That is a term intended for Bullion and his friends.

A RIDE ON THE MISSISSIPPI

The Cornell men of St. Louis are going to have an outing on Saturday, May 29. An official notice which has blown into Ithaca announces that the bunch will embark on the magnificent propeller-driven ship Happy Hour and weigh anchor at the foot of Olive Street at one o'clock sharp for an exhilarating, bouncing, peaceful ride on the Father of Waters.

CHICAGO'S REUNION SPECIAL

The committee in charge of transportation between Chicago and Ithaca upon the occasion of the class reunions in June is not yet in a position to make a definite announcement regarding arrangements. Such an announcement may be expected, however, within the next ten days. The train will doubtless leave Chicago late in the afternoon on June 9th and arrive in Ithaca the next morning. Ithaca-bound alumni from the west will be expected to take the train at Chicago and the plans of the

NOTICE—1906

Preparations are now under way for the reunion in 1916. A committee will be appointed which will represent the different sections of the country where are the largest groups of members of the Class of 1906.

Suggestions as to ways and means of conducting a rousing reunion and as to the names of proper persons to boost the reunion will be gratefully received by the secretary.

There will be a meeting during Alumni Days this year of the members of the Class of 1906 who happen to return. At this time arrangements will be made for the next year.

C. H. TUCK, Life Secretary.

THE 1912 REUNION

Kellogg writes from Seneca Falls that there will be at least seventy-five members of the class in Ithaca for the reunion on May 22.

Malcolm Vail writes that the 1912 reunion in Chicago on May 1st was a great success. Of the forty 1912 men in Chicago, thirty turned out and the enthusiasm was hard to keep under control. Vail says that a good representation will leave Chicago for Ithaca on May 20.

New York members of the class are making reservations through Tell Berna, chief rooster, for berths out of New York Friday night.

THE REV. CARL S. PATTON, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio, will preach in Sage Chapel on May 16.

NAVY DAY CONCERT

One of the best concerts ever given in Ithaca will be given at the Lyceum Theatre on Friday night, May 21, by the Cornell Musical Clubs and the University Glee Club of New York City, an organization made up of graduates of many colleges.

SEVERAL LECTURES were given this week before the students of the department of forestry by Julian E. Rothery, a forest engineer, of New York City. He spoke on the forests of Canada, a subject with which he became acquainted while exploring the Labrador peninsula in the winter of 1912 and while making other tours in the Canadian woods. He is a graduate of the Yale Forest School and has been in the U. S. Forest Service.

THE MANAGER of cheer leaders for next year is Clarence Evans Kilburn '16, of Malone, who has been elected by the Senior General Committee. He is a member of Psi Upsilon. The office was created last year.

Cornell 8, Princeton 3

Deyo, the Princeton pitcher who let Cornell down with two hits in the game at Princeton, was batted hard in the sixth inning of the return game at Percy Field last Saturday, and Cornell came up from behind and won by a score of 8 to 3. Six hits and Princeton's loose fielding scored five runs in that inning.

Russell started the game for Cornell. He was batted hard in the first three innings and gave way to Regan in the third, after Princeton had established a lead of three runs. Regan, although he was a trifle wild, allowed only one hit during his time in the box.

Cornell's first run was scored in the third inning. Gordon walked but was out when he overslid second base on Sutterby's single to center. Clary flied out to center. Burpee reached first on Douglas's error and Sutterby went to third. On the next ball pitched Burpee started for second and on the throw to catch him Sutterby stole home.

Burpee opened the eventful sixth inning by striking out. Donovan hit through shortstop and was safe at second on Mellen's scratch hit. Bills scored Donovan with a hit through shortstop, and Clary's three base hit to right field brought in two more runs. Keating beat out a grounder to Shea. With Gordon at bat and one out the squeeze play worked perfectly. Clary set out for home with Deyo's motion. Gordon laid down a perfect bunt and both men were safe. Sutterby's Texas leaguer scored Keating a moment later. Regan came to bat with second and third occupied. His line drive to center was caught by Driggs and the latter's throw to second caught Sutterby, ending the inning.

Two more runs were added in the seventh. Donovan walked and scored when Shea let Mellen's roller go through his legs. Bills's grounder to Gill forced Mellen out at second. Deyo could not stop Clary's hit through the box and both men were safe. Keating's single scored Bills.

The team lost a well played eleven inning game to Notre Dame by the score of 5 to 2 at Percy Field last Monday. The score was tied at one run all until the eleventh. Johnson, who had allowed only two hits in ten innings, weakened at last, and a Notre Dame rally brought in four runs. Cornell started things in the last half of the inning, but could bring in only one run, after Walsh had taken Wells's place in the box for Notre Dame. Cornell's best chance to win was in the tenth inning. With two out Clary tried to score from second base on Burpee's single to center, but he was caught at the plate by Dugan's throw. Rowing

Varsity Eight Chosen to Row Against Princeton and Yale

The heavier of the first two varsity eights has been chosen to row in the triangular regatta against Princeton and Yale on Lake Carnegie next Saturday, May 15. Commodore Ellms lost his seat at stroke because of his absence from town for several days. Andrus, who took his place, stroked the winning junior varsity crew at Poughkeepsie last June. Below is given the combination and weights of the men who will row Saturday unless some unforeseen accident prevents:

Bow, G. G. Terriberly '15, weight 171; two, A. A. Cushing '17, 180; three, R. Welles '16, 184; four, J. L. Collyer '17, 168; five, J. T. Moir '16, 176; six, G. D. Stahl '17, 168; seven, J. E. O'Brien '15, 168; stroke, C. Andrus '16, 172; cox., P. A. McCandless '17, 115. Substitutes: W. V. Ellms '15, commodore, 166; G. A. Worn '17, 184. Average weight about 173; average age 22.

The freshman crew which will go to Princeton is made up as follows:

Bow, W. D. Comings; two, A. G. Fuller; three, G. C. Wykes; four, F. Nelms, jr.; five, B. Kirkland; six, J. S. Coe; seven, L. G. Brower; stroke, H. Handwerker; cox., A. S. Collins. Average weight about 174; average age 20.

Terriberly and Moir have never rowed before in a varsity, junior varsity, or freshman boat. Cushing, Collyer, and Stahl are sophomores who rowed in the 1917 freshman crew last year. Welles and O'Brien rowed in last year's varsity. McCandless steered the freshman crew last year.

Mr. Courtney has devoted much of his time of late to the rigging of the new shell which John Hoyle finished last week. The crew rowed in her last Thursday for the first time. Mr. Courtney is determined that if the crew is beaten Saturday no blame can be attached to the shell. Everyone around the boat-house pronounces her "a beauty."

The impressive victory of Princeton over Columbia and Pennsylvania last Saturday has created an atmosphere of doubt on the Campus as to Cornell's ability to win. Not for some years has there been so little confidence in a Cornell crew about to enter an early season race.

Freshman Baseball.—The freshman baseball team played a tie game, 4-4, against Tome School last Saturday. The game was called after the seventh inning.

Golf.—C. T. Lansing '16, of Tenaflly, N. J., won the University golf championship last Thursday by defeating D. D. Cooke '16 4 up and 2 to play in a thirty-six hole match.

Track

Cornell 59 1-3, Harvard 57 2-3

By the score of 59 1-3 to 57 2-3 the Cornell track team defeated the Harvard track team in a dual meet at Cambridge last Saturday. The outcome of the meet was in doubt until the last event, the pole vault. By winning all three places in this event Harvard would have won the meet, but Milton tied for second place and saved the day.

Harvard showed unexpected strength in the distances. Moakley entered Speiden and Hoffmire in the half-mile and mile respectively instead of in the mile and two-mile. Speiden was beaten in the half by Bingham's spectacular sprint, and Hoffmire's best effort was third place in the mile. This event was won by Windnagle in 4:22. Potter and Eldred in the two mile were badly beaten by Southworth of Harvard.

As was expected, Richards took three first places in the field events. Practically the only Cornell man who sprang much of a surprise was W. D. Crim '17. He had never been considered exceptionally fast, but he finished about four yards behind Willcox in the 440, which was won in 48 3-5 seconds. The summary:

One Mile Run—Won by Windnagle, Cornell, by ten yards; Kent, Harvard, second; Hoffmire, Cornell, third. Time, 4 minutes 22 4-5 seconds.

ALUMNI NOTES

'80, B.S.—In the May number of Case and Comment is an article on "Frank Irvine, Practitioner, Teacher, Judge," written by DeWitt B. Wyckoff, acting assistant professor in the law school. The article is a review of Judge Irvine's career as lawyer and supreme court judge in Nebraska, professor of law and dean at Cornell, and member of the New York State Public Service Commission.

'96, A.B.—The Rev. George Randolph Baker, of Leominster, Mass., has accepted the call of the First Baptist Church of Ithaca and will begin his work as pastor of that church on September 1st. He will succeed the Rev. Robert T. Jones, retired.

'99, C.E.—E. E. Lanpher is a division superintendent of the department of public works of the city of Pittsburgh. His address has recently been changed to 5645 Callowhill Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

'00, A.B.—The Regents of the University of the State of New York have appointed John T. Fitzpatrick law librarian in the State Library to succeed Frederick D. Colson (B.L. '97, LL.B. '98), who was appointed clerk of the State Court of Claims. Fitzpatrick has been legislative reference librarian since August 1, 1913; he was appointed assistant in the legislative reference section of the State Library in 1907. After his graduation from Cornell he attended the Albany Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1903.

The 220 Hurdles vs. The 220 Dash

IMAGINE a 220 yard race in which Cornell's runners were compelled to take the hurdles against Pennsylvania's best dash men on the unobstructed straight-away.

A poor showing even the fleetest Cornell sprinters would make in such unfair competition.

Yet a lot of businesses are making their men go over the jumps while the workers in competing institutions get the straightaway. It is no wonder then, that, under this handicap, even the best men finish 'way behind.

The "220 hurdles" of every day business are lost motions, delays, overtime, and slow, wasteful methods thrust upon the accountant, bookkeeper, statistical and filing clerks by unfitted accounting forms and devices, and filing equipment.

The Baker-Vawter straightaway is the economical, result-getting route mapped out for handling business records.

Combine your experience with Baker-Vawter's 27 years of loose leaf experience to select office supplies that fit your individual requirements.

You want the exact grade and kind which is most economical for each specific use.

No higher quality than necessary is recommended—no lower than should be used is sold.

Baker-Vawter knows what is right and how to make it at the lowest possible cost.

Over the Baker-Vawter route you get more and better results at a LOWER result-cost. Baker-Vawter products help the men on the job finish an interesting day's work on time.

And Baker-Vawter Products cost less.

No matter what your business or profession, Baker-Vawter is helping others in the same line save time and money.

PENNSYLVANIA Oilproof VACUUM CUP TIRES

THE completion and full operation of this three-quarter-million dollar plant means a hitherto unknown basis of tire manufacturing efficiency and economy.

Added to this is the absolute fact that our past years' experimentation and efforts have resulted in practically 50% more wear resistance in Pennsylvania Tires.

Considering that Vacuum Cup Tires of last season recorded an average mileage of 6,760 miles in The Automobile Club of America official test—a performance no other manufacturer has attempted to duplicate—our product for 1915 offers a basis of service economy that cannot be resisted.

Vacuum Cup Tires at prices recently prevailing for tires of ordinary quality reduce mileage cost to a point far and away below all previous expectations.
